AMMUNITION TRAIN EXPLODES

U. S., France Tell Reds Not to Switch War

Chinese POW Plan
OK Brings Fear of Indo-China Push
By JOHN HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON — (AP). President Eisenhower and French Premier Rene Mayer joined Saturday in warning Communist China against making an armistice in Korea to wage aggressive war in Indo-China or elsewhere in the Far East. They said such action would have "most serious consequences" on efforts at world peace.

The warning came—by coincidence, American officials said—at a time when Red acceptance of a proposal for exchanging sick and wounded prisoners of war had aroused cautious hope that a Korean truce agreement may be a real possibility.

The U. N. command is ready to talk with the Reds right now about exchange of sick and wounded prisoners of the Korean war but does not necessarily favor resuming full-scale armistice negotiations at Panmunjom, a high military source said in Tokyo.

Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. and U. S. Far Eastern commander, indicated he favors resuming talks with the Communists on the matter of the sick and wounded POWs, but he has not said whether he favors re-opening talks on exchange of all prisoners.

Officials said the Communists now may be talking action rather than propaganda, and that Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov's high command in Moscow may be preparing to take some positive steps for peace. But no one knew for sure, and officially there was no comment, except on the POW development.

On this, Secretary of State Dulles said "The United States government hopes that this exchange of prisoners will occur promptly."

The State Department, following top level conferences of Dulles and his aides and of Defense Department authorities, announced that it considered a Communist message to Gen. Mark Clark "an unconditional acceptance of the proposal made by Gen. Clark of Feb. 22" for exchange of sick and wounded POWs. Clark is commander of U. N. forces in Korea.

The State Department emphasized Clark had called for the exchange in accordance with a Geneva Prisoner of War Convention on a "voluntary" basis and it interpreted the Red reply as accepting this condition.

Officials said that the French-American warning to Red China has been prepared in the course of the three days of conferences here but has been reviewed by Eisenhower and Mayer at a closing White House session Saturday morning.

Clime Continues Cool and Gusty

Continued cool weather and gusty winds are in store for Long Beach today. The weatherman said skies would be partly cloudy, and the high temperature is expected to be about 64 degrees.

Skies Monday will be mostly clear with temperatures slightly higher, the bureau said. Saturday's maximum temperature was 65.

L.A.C. SAYS:

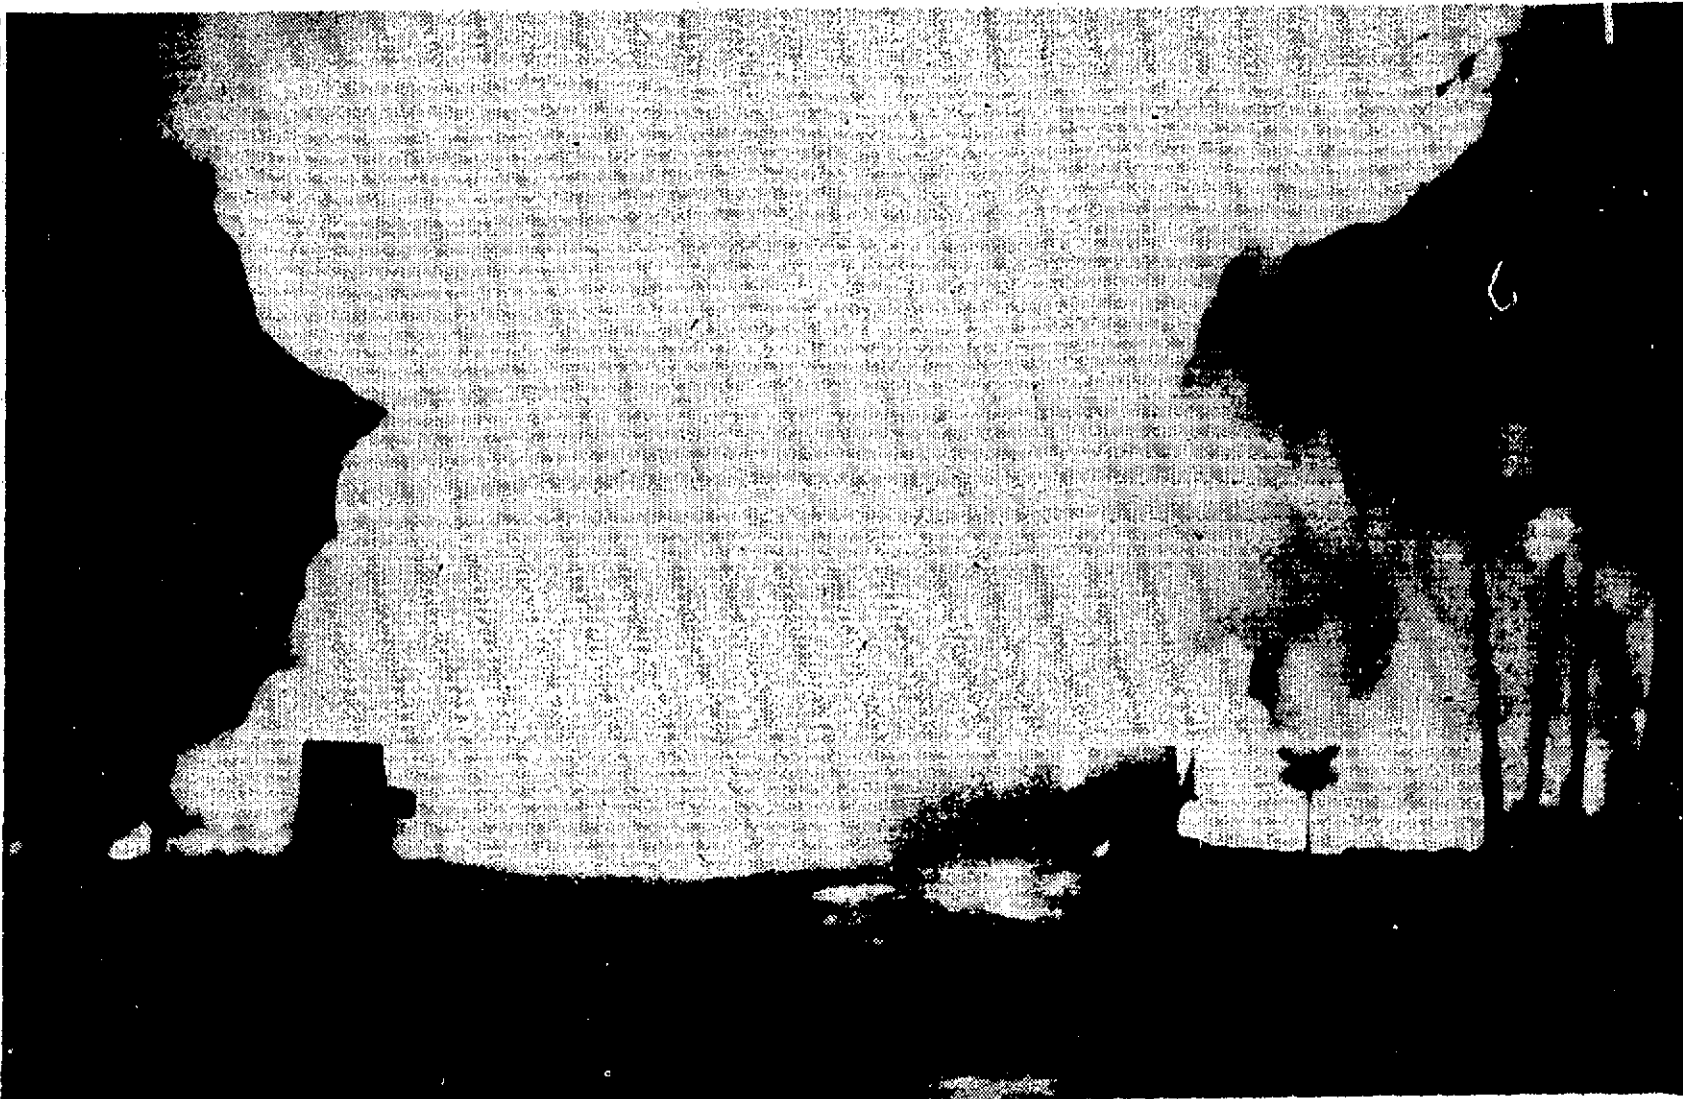

Only the Start

Release from the impounding agreement of over $80 million seems like a lot of money to a city. It is probably the greatest amount ever released at one time to any city in all history. But actually it is only the start of a flow of riches into the city treasury from oil under the ocean in front of our shores. Next Friday we will vote on setting aside some $60 million to be used on 13 city-wide permanent improvement projects.

But before we have used even half that much of the money it will be replaced by new oil income. Those who question the wisdom of voting these projects should understand that they are merely designating specific projects they favor being developed over the next several years. They need not fear we are committing even a major part of the oil money. If we can use this oil money we can use all that comes from the same source. If anything happens that we cannot use the oil money no other obligation will have been placed on the city.

Air Cut Off, Diver Dies in Dark Cove

His air and life-line severed, a Costa Mesa deep-sea diver died Saturday afternoon in the murky waters of Pyramid Cove at San Clemente Island. Fellow divers searched the gloomy depths for 45 minutes before finding the body of Burle (Bud) Catlin, 41, of 479 E. 18th St., Costa Mesa.

Easter Bunny Pops up at White House

WASHINGTON—(UP). A large, pink felt Easter bunny popped up at the White House Saturday.

A week early, the bunny nevertheless delighted the three Eisenhower grandchildren who rambled around the White House lawn.

President Eisenhower's grandchildren got the feel of the egg rolling which will be held here April 6, the Monday after Easter Sunday.

The White House laid down the ground rules Saturday for the revival of the old custom which was suspended in 1942.

Kids were told to bring their own eggs. And, for goodness sakes, make sure they are hard-boiled.

The only thing the White House will provide will be the South Lawn and music by the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine bands.

The south grounds will be opened from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. for children up to 12 years of age. They must be accompanied by adults.

Mr. Eisenhower's three grandchildren, visiting here with their mother, played briefly on the lawn Saturday with Easter baskets and the bunny. They gave photographers and reporters a preview of their Easter outfits.

Gas Company Union Counts Strike Ballots

Results of the vote by CIO Utility Workers of America on calling a strike against Southern California Gas Company will be announced today, according to officials of the union.

A strike would authorize a walkout of 1700 members of the union when the current work contract expires Wednesday. The company serves homes in Lakewood, Bellflower and Compton and portions of Orange County.

Officials of the company said that if the strike were called, there would be no immediate effect in service to homes. Only long-range maintenance and construction projects would be halted, they said.

Jim Thorpe Dies In Lomita Home

Jim Thorpe, the great athlete, is dead.

He died Saturday afternoon of a heart attack, suffered as he was eating dinner with his wife, Patricia, in their trailer home at 2442 W. Pacific Coast Hwy., Lomita. He was 64.

Artificial respiration administered by a neighbor and the work of a county fire department resuscitator squad were unable to save the life of Thorpe, one of America's greatest all-around athletes.

He was pronounced dead at 3:52 p. m. The body was taken to Gamby's Mortuary, Lomita.

It was the third heart attack suffered by the one-time all-American football star and Olympic track champion in recent months. He had been under doctor's care in Henderson, Nev., where he had lived before moving here about a year ago.

Mrs. Thorpe's screams at her husband's collapse brought the neighbor, Colby Bradshaw. He administered artificial respiration until the arrival of the Rolling Hills unit of the county fire department. Thorpe was pronounced dead by Dr. Rachel Jenkins of the Hillside Emergency Clinic, Lomita.

Three years ago, in an Associated Press poll, sports writers voted Thorpe the greatest male athlete in the first half of this century. He was far ahead of Babe Ruth, runner-up for the honor. Millions considered him America's greatest all-time athlete.

Thorpe made Walter Camp's all-American team for two years as a sensational football player for Carlisle (Pa.) Indian Institute in 1911 and 1912. In the 1912 Olympic Games in Stockholm, he won both the decathlon and pentathlon. He played professional football and baseball for 16 years.

In recent years, Thorpe had economic reverses. In 1951, it was revealed he was broke and a charity case in a Philadelphia hospital. Various groups aided him and his career was depicted in a motion picture. For the past year, he had been operating a bar in Wilmington.

Town Wrecked; Firemen Battle Raging Flames

LEWIS, Ind.—(AP). Several railroad cars loaded with ammunition exploded and blasted this coal mining town Saturday night, but the town's 275 residents apparently escaped death or serious injury. The ammunition started exploding after part of the train was derailed, and shells were still screaming through the town three hours later. Fire raged out of control through much of the town.

Probe Ghastly NYC Wreck; Death Toll 22

WASHINGTON — (AP). The Interstate Commerce Commission said Saturday night it is investigating Friday night's three-train wreck near Conneaut, Ohio.

Whether there will be a formal hearing will depend on what inspectors of the commission's Bureau of Safety find, a bureau spokesman said.

One Safety Bureau inspector from Cleveland already is on the scene, two men from here and "one from the West" are en route, the spokesman said.

If the inspectors find a formal hearing is necessary it probably will be convened at Erie, Pa., he added.

Meanwhile, at Conneaut, a grimy red-eyed band of rescue workers Saturday dug doggedly at the twisted skeletons of 19 railroad coaches in search of more victims of an unbelievable, three-train wreck.

They have found 22 bodies, and there was a possibility at least one more might be in the wreckage, Erie County Coroner Warren Wood said. One body was found late Saturday when fingers were seen sticking up from a cinder bed.

Some of the dead still were unidentified.

ELECTION PREVIEW

A preview of the "dream election" in which Long Beach voters will decide the fate of $80,000,000 in municipal projects will be found on Page A-8.

A complete rundown of the projects and a special story on the hospital proposal are included on the election page.

Portraits and stories of all 10 candidates in Friday's school board election also appear, giving Independent-Press Telegram readers full details on issues in Friday's ballot contests.

Dan Lyons, 80, lost an eye in the blast, and his daughter, Mrs. Paul Medcalf, 50, suffered cuts and bruises.

Remainder of the residents were only shaken up, though many houses were demolished.

Cause of the derailment was not determined. The train was traveling from Chicago to Bedford on the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific line.

E. W. Bevington, chief dispatcher for the railroad at Terre Haute, said only three cars of the train contained ammunition. He said no trainmen were injured.

Homers Morse, 64, and his wife, Molly, 62, first reported missing and feared dead in their burning home, later were found.

Lewis is in the southeast corner of Vigo County, 25 miles southeast of Terre Haute and 80 miles southwest of Indianapolis.

Firemen fought flames that spread over a radius of a mile. They were hampered by lack of water and the danger of the continuing explosions. Firemen from Linton, Sullivan, Jasonville and Terre Haute helped.

The first explosions shook points as far as 35 miles away. A desk officer at the Putnamville State Police post said the blast was felt there.

Windows were broken in Jasonville, nine miles away.

Vance Sappenfield, a Linton newsman spending the evening at Lyons, 20 miles away, said the explosion blew open the door of the house he was in and almost knocked the occupants from their chairs.

Sappenfield drove to the scene and then reported details to the Associated Press from Coalmont, a neighboring town.

Mrs. Bessie Welch, Lewis telephone operator, got word of the disaster out to Farmersburg after the first explosion and then had to abandon the telephone exchange as later blasts knocked out the phone lines.

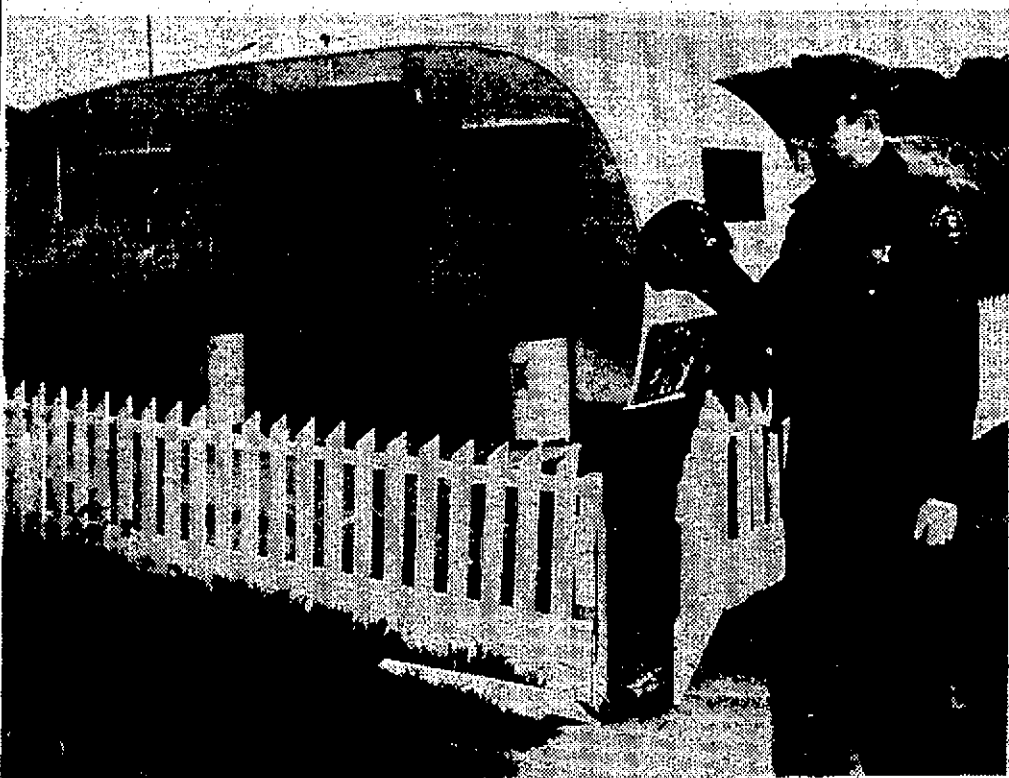

Jack Wimsey, Terre Haute Tribune staff photographer, happened to drive through the town just after the first explosion.

Wimsey said subsequent blasts blew him off the top of his automobile twice while he was taking pictures. He said one explosion tossed him 25 feet away.

The ammunition cars were en route to the Crane Naval Ammunition Depot, 30 miles southwest, for storage. The Navy Dept. said in Washington that one car was from the Joliet, Ill., Arsenal and two were from the Newport, Ind., Ordnance plant, north of Terre Haute.

The first eight cars of the 107-car train were cut loose after the

Long Beach Awake Now, Says Fortnight Article

If Long Beach ever was a sleepy resort town, that day long since has passed and it now is an up-and-coming city, the 41st in the nation, with a fine future.

So says an article, "Long Beach Legend," which will appear in Fortnight Magazine, on the news stands Monday.

The article deals with both the past history and the present-day development of the city, its industrial advantages, the harbor and the area's unlimited potentialities.

Says the author: "Wide awake promotion goes out to the 48 states cogently selling Long Beach as a desirable spot for industry."

"The unparalleled skilled labor pool, the general desirability of Long Beach as a place to live, and the great market which lies within Long Beach and environs are powerful points made by Long Beach civic groups looking toward the future."

Hundreds of industries already are on the Long Beach scene. But Long Beach may need more of them as time goes on, and the city is out to sell the city.

"They have the market and the labor pool" — which is statistical jargon for a lot of willing people who have skill, intelligence and live near by — and they have a climate and town both of which are pleasant.

"And to paraphrase the old shibboleth, it might be added that he who says 'clime doesn't pay,' doesn't know anything about Long Beach, California, rich in what it takes, financially and otherwise; lively and loaded."

Novice Motorcycle Rider Tossed, Hurt

Overconfidence was cited by police as the reason Gary Thompson, 18, of 2701 Royd St., landed in a Veterans Administration Hospital Saturday afternoon. He was treated for a bruised right wrist and skinned face and nose.

Police said he had been riding a motorcycle only a week. Saturday Thompson decided to try a little hill-climbing near Raymond Ave. between Hill and 21st Sts. The cycle spilled and Thompson went to the hospital.

BECAUSE it was an "honest mistake," Mrs. Clara Hoskins has no resentment at Republicans over the inadvertent sale of her personal coat at a GOP women's rummage sale.

But what has happened since certainly hasn't made her love the Democrats.

A story about Mrs. Hoskins' coat appeared in last Wednesday's paper. It told how she had laid the coat on a counter while inspecting some blouses, somebody picked it up and sold the $40 garment for $1 to another rummage sale customer.

That evening Mrs. Hoskins' phone rang.

"I'm the woman who bought your coat," said the voice on the other end of the line. "You're a Republican, aren't you?"

"Yes," said Mrs. Hoskins. "Well, I'm a Democrat and I wouldn't return that coat to a Republican for anything in the world."

Before Mrs. Hoskins could say a word, the other party hung up. Mrs. Hoskins has considered the possibility it was a "crank" call and not from the person who got her coat. She would like to think it was that way, but no one else has called about the coat and it begins to look as if the unidentified caller has the coat all right.

Whether she properly represents all Democrats is another thing. As one who loves Democrats, I can't go along with that idea.

IN LINCOLN PARK Friday p. m. I paused to bask a bit in the warm sun and to listen to the talk of the old boys gathered there.

The first group was going at it hot and heavy on economics. A well-dressed gent had the stage at the moment: "I tell you," he said, "that we're sittin' out here in California, doin' nothin' and enjoyin' it, through no fault of our own. We owned farms, didn't we? And the country filled up and the price of land went up. And we rented or sold out for a lot more money than we ever dreamed of. Don't tell me we made it because we worked hard or we were smart. We're just darned lucky."

There was a babble of talk, agreeing and otherwise, and I strolled over to another group where, I immediately discovered, a livelier topic prevailed. As I came up one fellow declared:

"I've gotten a lot of good dances out of her. She really whips you."

"D'ya still get 'em?" asked somebody.

"Heck no," was the answer. "I'm afraid of a heart attack."

MAN OUT in Belmont Shore has just bought a TV set and taken his little daughter off the neighborhood circuit.

It had gotten so the parents never saw the child except at dinner time. She had kids spotted around the nearby two blocks who liked the same TV programs she did. As soon as school was out, she'd be-line to the first house, pick the show she knew would be on the TV screen there, and when that was over, she'd be off to keep a TV date at another house. Home for dinner, she was soon off again on the neighborhood swing.

Dad finally learned the circuit himself. If the little gal was wanted at home, he'd look at his watch. "Let's see now," he'd say. "It's Beanie time, and that means Mary is over at the Smiths." So he'd call or go to the Smiths and get her.

So-o-o, he gave up and has just acquired a TV set so he can see his child once in a while. Unless it's happened already, as a father with a TV set, I've got news for him. He's going to see a lot of other people's kids, too. They'll be at his house, now.

DRIFTWOOD—The other day I had an item in this department about a dog hitching post in Lakewood in which I mentioned an "unspillable dog pan."

Now I'm getting calls from people wanting to know where they can get an unspillable dog. . . . Zella Moorhead, 2229 Golden Ave., has given 34 pints of blood—31 in England, 1 in Canada. 2 in U. S. A. She's aiming at 50. . . . Fella who plays at Meadowlark has solved the golfers' fatigue problem. He rides from stroke to stroke in an autoette. . . . I see where Bob Reid, the banker, has finished 30 years of service with his institution. Let's see now, bankers' hours being what they are, 30 years of banking is equivalent to about 20 of an ordinary guy's labor, isn't it? Thirty-year bankers ought to get 20-year pins. . . . Now, I'm thinking of a newspaper man who ought to get a 50-year pin when he finishes his 30-years, and if anybody offers it I'll accept it conscientiously. (Of course, we'll have to count in time drinking coffee, which is a regular part of newspaper work.)

BEHIND THE EXPECTED tax-payers suit to stop use of tide-land oil money on the uplands is supposed to be some mysterious local individual.

It is said to be just a coincidence that the suit is to be filed only three days before the city election on the 13 projects.

THIS INDIVIDUAL can also be responsible for building up a case against us in the Senate where the quitclaim bill is to be debated starting next Wednesday.

Some anti-California senator can make quite a speech telling how one of the citizens of Long Beach has gone to court to prove we have violated the trust.

WE DON'T KNOW WHAT is behind the move coming at this time, but we don't like it.

We thoroughly agree a tax-payers suit should be used to safeguard the money when and if it is released by the federal government.

BUT WE DON'T get the reason for its being speeded up, or delayed, to be filed at this particular time.

Says "H" Is Best Solution for Hospital Problem

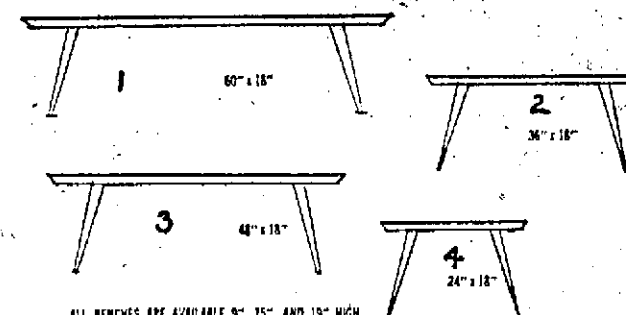

Active in the affairs of Local 148 of the UAW and the UAW-CIO-PAC, Lou Fasnacht is outspoken in his support of the proposed Municipal Health and Hospital Program which comes up for a vote next Friday, April 3rd.

"While Long Beach population has been increasing by leaps and bounds the past few years, our local hospital facilities have lagged far behind. As a result, authorities tell us that Long Beach has less than one-half the number of hospital beds a city this size should have and we are equally lacking in other necessary facilities for properly caring for our ill and injured."

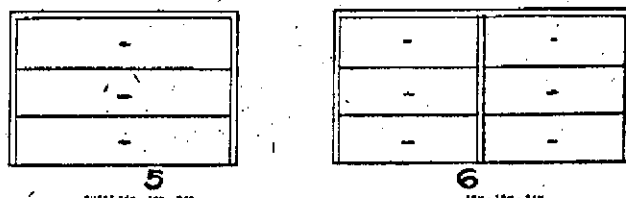

"I firmly believe that the best way to overcome this critical shortage is by voting 'Yes' on Proposition H at the April 3rd election. This measure will authorize the City Council to use part of our surplus oil millions to acquire the health facilities we need so badly. The only other method to pay for them that I can think of is with a big bond issue and that means an 'increase in our local tax rate."

"Proposition H has been endorsed by all leading organized labor groups as well as by this city's principal religious, civic, and business groups as well as by thousands of individual citizens. Only a project possessing real merit could win such unanimous support."

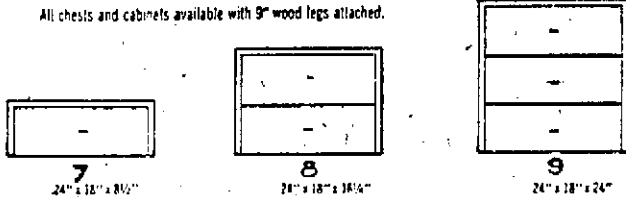

This is one of a series of statements from local men and women who are prominent in religious, business, labor and civic activities.

Ammo Train Blast Wrecks Indiana Town

derailment and taken on to Latta, the next station south. It was reported one of them contained ammunition.

First reports of the explosion came from the Public Service Co. of Indiana, which said its control-board technicians at Bloomfield and Sullivan reported an earthquake-like tremor shook their offices. The towns are 15 and 20 miles away.

State police said at least one-quarter of the town was destroyed. Almost every window was broken. Power lines went out along the telephone lines. Houses two miles away were inched off their foundations.

The Masonic Temple was turned into disaster headquarters. All available state police officers were ordered to the scene, and Naval Reservists from Terre Haute helped control the crowd of spectators.

Victim Identified as Baldwin Park 15-Year-Old Girl

A teen-aged girl killed instantly in a motorcycle crash at Buena Park which also claimed the life of 19-year-old Robert J. Blair was identified late Thursday as Miss Darlene Bolt, 15, Baldwin Park. California Highway Patrol officers said there would be no inquest into the double fatality, as there were no witnesses. The girl, daughter of Mrs. Errell Davis of Baldwin Park, was a passenger on the vehicle.

Blair, also of Baldwin Park and operator of the cycle, died five hours after the crash. Miss Bolt died instantly of a fractured skull. The crash occurred on Hwy. 39 near La Mirada Rd., north of Buena Park. Officers said the cycle apparently traveling at high speed went out of control and hit a bridge abutment.

Bridge-Crash Victim in Fair Condition

Robert Hopkins, 36, of 6525 Gaviota Ave., a service station manager, was reported in "fair" condition Saturday night in Maywood Industrial Hospital from injuries suffered when his car crashed into the Atlantic Ave. bridge over Los Angeles River early Saturday.

Compton police said Hopkins told them he fell asleep at the wheel while driving home. The car narrowly escaped plunging into the river channel.

Wrecker Goes to Work

CLEANING UP after Friday night's disastrous three-train crash, a New York Central wrecking crane digs into the mass of twisted railroad cars Saturday. More than a score of persons lost their lives when two fast passenger trains crashed into a derailed freight train near Conneaut, Ohio. An object from an east-bound train derailed the west-bound freight.—(AP Wirephoto.)

Probe Three-Train Wreck of NYC; 22 Dead, 62 Hurt

and in Ashtabula and Erie, Pa. The odds against the accident were a million to one. The trains, one freight and two passenger flyers, happened to be almost exactly at the same spot at 7 o'clock PST Friday night.

The scene was a desolate section of the New York Central mainline in far western Pennsylvania, one-half mile from the Ohio line. There are four tracks. The inner tracks are used by passenger trains. Freight trains use the outer ones.

At exactly 10 o'clock EST, an 18-inch pipe 35 feet long fell from an eastbound freight. It bent a rail on the west-bound passenger tracks.

At that instant, the west-bound Buffalo-to-Chicago express came roaring past at 80 miles an hour and hit the bent rail. The locomotive wrecked the freight and the freight cars spun from the tracks and, in turn, wrecked the flyer.

In seconds, the highlight of the St. Louis to New York Southwestern Limited split the night, flared briefly across the tangled wreckage at 80 miles an hour into the welter of twisted steel and broken bodies.

After long, anguished seconds of the sound of steel on steel, grinding and tearing itself to pieces, quiet came, but briefly.

Screams started to come from the coaches, strewn like a carelessly dumped pile of fence posts. But for a while, the numbed senses of the uninjured among the 400 persons involved in the wreck wouldn't function. For a few minutes, no one did anything.

The wrecked cars, thrashing like alligators in the rapid-fire impacts, had sheared off telegraph poles. There was no communication with the rest of the world.

A railroad man, his heart nearly bursting, ran three miles to carry word of the catastrophe and to summon outside aid.

But passengers and trainmen alike pitched into rescue efforts long before outside help could come. They pried through the mangled coaches.

About 150 passengers needed help. More than 60 later were taken to hospitals.

The rescue work went on for hours. Professional rescue men pried with crowbars and cut through metal with acetylene torches.

The spectacular crash was a complete surprise to everyone on both passenger trains, except the engine crew of the Southwestern limited—the second flyer involved. Railroad officials said there was never any hope the crew could avoid the crash.

39 Governors Assail Overlapping Taxes

WASHINGTON—(UPI). The nation's governors are almost solidly behind President Eisenhower's plan to end overlapping federal-state taxes and other duplications in the whole field of federal-state activities, a country-wide survey disclosed Saturday.

The President's program would be carried out through legislation. It is only formative now, but Mr. Eisenhower hopes to get it rolling soon through appointment of a bipartisan advisory commission made up of representatives of the government, the National Conference of State Governors and Congress.

Thirty-nine of the 48 governors polled by the United Press are for it. They hope for early forceful action even though they recognize it as a complex, long-range project which never may bear much fruit until the federal tax structure is reformed.

The other nine governors either declined comment or refused to take a stand. But most of these joined their colleagues in a loud wail over federal "encroachment" in their tax fields. They said it was time the government got out of some of them.

CRITICIZE U. S. LEVY

They were especially critical of the government's invasion of the lucrative gasoline tax field. This is one of the principal sources of state revenue, but Washington is dipping into it for about $1,000,000 annually. The states complain they are getting back only a small percentage in federal-aid-to-highways and most are ready to finance their own roads if the government will let them collect the tax.

On the same principle, some are willing to shoulder the whole federal aid burden—highways, social security, housing, health, education, etc.—if the government will give them a quit-claim on the tax sources now tapped to help finance such services.

Mr. Eisenhower apparently has something like this in mind. One of his closest advisers, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, said a few weeks ago the President was considering "re-examining" the government's fiscal relationship with the states. Dewey said that "maybe the government will want to relinquish some of its present tax sources so the states will be less dependent on federal aid."

The governors' conference has long been pushing such a plan but it made no impression on the late Truman administration.

L. B. Speaker Winner at Claremont

Philip Ogilvie, Long Beach State College student orator, won first place in the discussion event Saturday at the Claremont Men's College debate tournament.

He spoke on "How Can the Spread of Communism Be Prevented?" He also teamed with James Boxx to win third place in debate.

Other State College speakers taking part in the tournament were Robert Faircloth and Mike Coppersmith, who competed in oratory and impromptu speaking.

Twelve colleges were in the competition, sponsored by Southern California Forensic Association. It was the last tournament of the school year.

The squad was accompanied by Dr. J. A. Wagner, director of forensics at State College.

Monthly dinner meeting of Lakewood Obedience Club of California, Inc., will be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the Lakewood Country Club. Speaker will be Mrs. Peggy Parker, secretary of the Pasadena Obedience Club, according to Arthur L. Buntrock Jr., secretary of the Lakewood unit.

Cuba Hits Gambling

HAVANA, Cuba—(UPI). The Cuban government launched an intensive drive Saturday to wipe out illegal gambling and announced that eight U. S. citizens have been rounded up for deportation. The names of the eight were not disclosed.

Marines Battle Way Back Onto Vegas

SEOUL—(UPI). A plucky little band of U. S. Marines, shielded through Saturday night from swarming Chinese Reds by a curtain of artillery fire, indicated at dawn today it was once more atop bloody Vegas outpost guarding the invasion route to Seoul.

"We are back on objective—we'll dig in," read a radio message at 5:10 a. m.

The cryptic words suggested the Leathernecks were once more on the crest where they were knocked off for the third time Saturday night. But they could mean merely they were on the slope. Earlier Sunday a protective Allied wall of artillery fire killed 400 Reds trying to break through to get the Marines.

AP correspondent Forrest Edwards reported from the Western Front that a Marine major gal-

Foxy Grandma Not Scared

LOS ANGELES—(UPI). Gray-haired Mrs. Edith Macia, 70, who disclosed today she worked six years as an FBI undercover agent in the Communist Party, said she is not afraid of reprisals by Red party members.

The elderly woman recited a list of 146 names of Communists taken from the party's treasury reports before the House Un-American Activities Sub-Committee. She also testified at this morning's hearing about "hundreds of meetings" of the Southern California Party held in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Macia, the grandmother of nine, said she enlisted as an agent in Aug., 1943, and served in that capacity until Jan., 1949.

CALM ON STAND

Testifying calmly under glaring television lights in the federal building's fifth floor hearing room, she told of her experiences in the party and how she recorded the names of other members, which, she said, "was the only job the FBI asked me to do."

Her husband, Mrs. Macia admitted, "is apprehensive because we live out in the country near Placentia in Orange County but I don't think we have anything to worry about from the Communists."

Mrs. Macia said she has two sons and two daughters and nine grandchildren. "One of them, a medical corpsman with the Army in Japan," she said, "from Tombstone, Ariz., where I was postmistress for eight years. My husband didn't know about my undercover work for a while after I started, and when I told him he began to worry right away."

PATRIOTIC DUTY

"But I'm not afraid," she smiled. "I don't think anyone would hurt me. I considered this a patriotic duty and a privilege."

Mrs. Macia adjusted her thick glasses as she leaned toward the battery of microphones at the extraordinary Saturday session of the subcommittee, and identified Cyril Gerber as chairman of the Los Angeles group. "I believe he was a Los Angeles school teacher," she said.

She identified the financial secretary of the Red cell as Joe Kline, and said his wife also "was very active."

Sarah Kusnitz was recruiting secretary and Ann White was chairman of the education committee, she said.

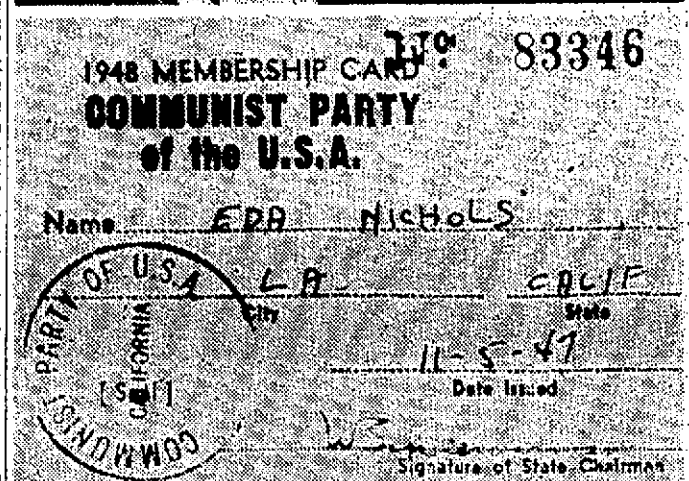

NAMES MEMBERS

Among those she identified as members of the party were Charles and Shirley Ellis, who said used the name of Stone at that time. She said Stone worked for the People's World (Communist Party newspaper) and I remember very well he told me that the women of the party should 'rise up and infiltrate churches, synagogues and homes.'

After listing all the persons she knew as party members here, Mrs. Macia explained her action by saying: "These Communists want to destroy our country and I don't want them to do it."

After being excused by the committee, Mrs. Macia declined protection, saying, "It isn't necessary."

The committee will resume its investigation into Southern California Communist activities Monday.

Cigaret Blaze Fatal to Man Alone in Home

Asphyxiated by smoke, Paul G. Williams, 48, of 2244 Easy, Ave., died Saturday night at Seaside Hospital following a fire at his home.

Firemen said Williams apparently had dozed off while lying on a couch in the front room, smoking a cigaret. He was alone in the house with his collie dog, which also perished in the fire.

Neighbors saw the smoke and called the fire department shortly after 9 p. m.

Although the flames had heavily damaged the front room and the front part of the house, Williams had suffered only slight burns around the neck, according to police.

At Seaside Hospital, attendants worked for a half hour with a resuscitator, but were unable to revive the victim. The body was taken to Loper Funeral Home.

Williams' wife, Jean, a nurse, was on duty at Harbor General Hospital at the time of the fire, police said.

A daughter, Janice, 11, was visiting neighbors next door, but was unaware of the blaze until a few minutes before the arrival of the fire department. A son, Douglas, 14, was away from home for the evening.

3 Adults, Infant Killed in Collision West of Indio

INDIO—(UPI). Three adults and a 7-month-old boy were killed early Saturday in a collision between the car in which they were riding and a heavy oil tanker on U. S. Highway 60-70-99, 17 miles west of here.

The victims, all Los Angeles residents, were identified by State Highway Patrolmen as Tom T. Ikeda, 25; Mits Masuda, 23; Mrs. Amy Hanemoto, and her infant son, Tadao Chris Hanemoto.

The car driver, Jack Matsumoto, 23, suffered serious head injuries.

The truck driver, Paul Ruys, 36, Long Beach, was unhurt. Highway Patrolman George McCord said the eastbound auto apparently skidded broadside into the path of the truck.

Fire Damages Home

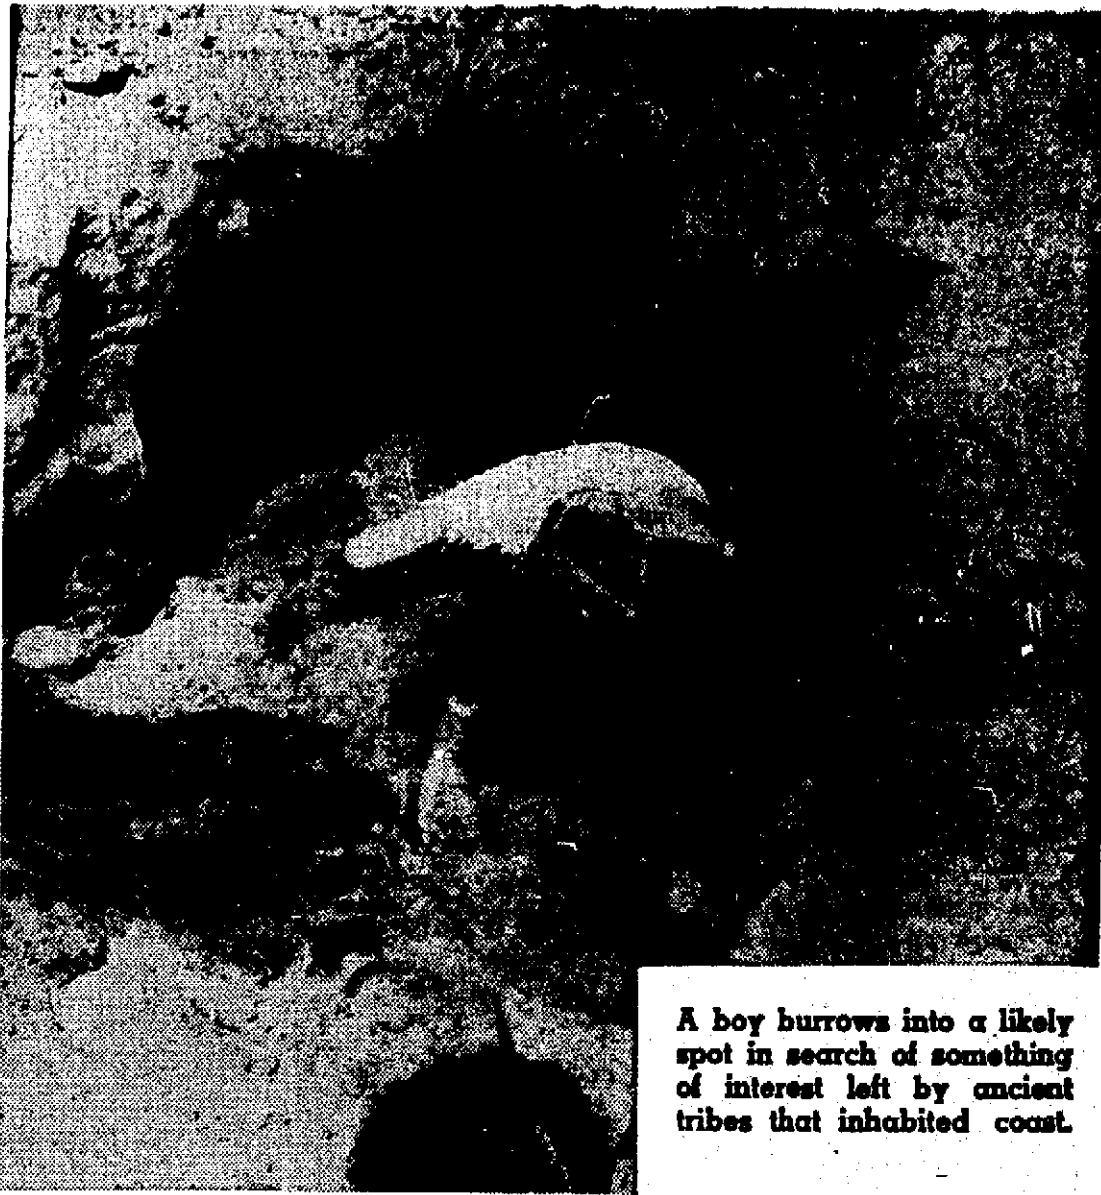

While Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Harrell, 123, Maine Ave., were away from home Saturday evening, fire damaged the kitchen and dining room of their home. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

They Dig Back 10,000 Years!

Sunday, March 27, 1966

A boy burrows into a likely spot in search of something of interest left by ancient tribes that inhabited coast.

Ten thousand years ago, the coast of Southern California was dotted with tiny villages of primitive Indians, some of whom were hunters, others fishermen. Relics of their culture came to light about 50 years ago when some of the first amateur archaeologists began digging in the region where Palos Verdes now stands. Establishing of private estates failed to halt the work of the inveterate diggers who search for arrowheads, fish hooks of stone and other implements of ancient tribes. One of these diggers is Joseph T. Cote, 1677 E. Jackson St., whose interest has led other members of his family to become "pot-hunters." He works in a Redondo site that is known to the archaeologists as Malaga Cove. He has a large collection of Indian handicraft and works in conjunction with museum scientists and archaeologists. Pictures on this page give an idea of how hobby goes.

Joseph Cote (below) displays part of the large collection of artifacts he has unearthed in several years' digging.

Mrs. Cote (above) displays stone metate found by Cote. Above, arrangement of ancient spear and arrowheads, some of obsidian and some of quartz.

LAND OF LOTUS BLOSSOMS AND UKULELES:

HONOLULU.

ALOHA, Texas, and move over. Look to your superlatives, California and Florida.

When the last road blocks are removed and Hawaii becomes the 49th state, it will be the most unusual and exotic state in the American Union.

Do we hear an argument from any chamber of commerce? Well, listen:

Hawaii will be the first and only island state, lush and green, surrounded by some of the bluest water in the world, and 2000 miles from its nearest brother. It will be the first where the Caucasian race is a minority; where television antenna share the skyline with the pagodas of Buddhist temples; a land where people with names like Kealoha and Wong and O'Brien and Yamaguchi live peacefully side by side. It is one of the few places in the world which has the good taste to avoid such harsh words as "half-breed" and "half-caste" and, instead, calls people of mixed blood "cosmopolitans."

HAWAII will be the only state in the Union with a currently active volcano and, depending on which ground rules you follow, the one with the tallest mountain in the world; the only state which doesn't have snakes and the only state which has a Polynesian motto ("Ua mau ke ea o ka aina i ka pono" means "the growth of the land is perpetuated by righteousness").

It will be the first to use hibiscus as a state flower and, while it hasn't yet picked an official bird, the island chain will have plenty to choose from since it is said to be the largest bird colony in the world. It will be the state with the oldest public high school west of the Rockies; the only state which was once a kingdom by itself; and the state with the warmest greeting ("Aloha" literally enter the native tongue are made to conform. Alcohol becomes Alakohola; California becomes Kaleponi and New York, Nu Ioka.

Hawaii is one of the most polyglot places in the world. Of its 465,325 people, 188,782 are Japanese-Americans; 91,601 are Hawaiians or part Hawaiians; 68,600 are Caucasian; 62,777 are Filipino; 32,052 are Chinese and 21,423 belong to other racial strains. Pure Hawaiian blood, which has been likened to a "stream of gold," flows in the ians. Any such person would be ridiculed out of town."

Religious tolerance? In one block of Honolulu there are a Catholic school, a Buddhist temple and a Protestant church.

Physically, Hawaii is a 390-mile chain with eight major islands, one of which (Kahoolawe) is uninhabited and all of which are fanned by moderate trade winds. The weather, the year round, is mild, pleasant and usually around 70 degrees. Youngsters swim every month of the year but most nights you

Maul, Kauai, Molokai, Lanai, Niihau and Kahoolawe, which is used as a bombing range. There are numerous islets no bigger than Laysan, which is only 1 1/2 by 1 mile wide.

SMALL AS IT IS, Laysan is said to have an estimated 10,000,000 birds of many varieties, including albatrosses which dance together, two by two; shearwaters that burrow like rabbits; rails that have only rudimentary wings and can't fly; and other types which are remarkably unafraid of man. Collectively, the Hawaiian Islands are said to form the largest bird colony in the world.

The islands also rank first in the number of flowers and plants native to them. There are about 900 species of flowering plants, 140 ferns which range from one no bigger than a finger nail to the stately tree fern 35 feet high, and numerous mosses, lichens and fungi. Some of the violets around here grow on woody stems six feet high.

Hawaii, the single island, has two breath-taking volcanic peaks. Snow-capped Mauna Kea, whose furnace was banked a long time ago, rises 13,784 feet. It is the highest island mountain in the world and, if you consider its base which begins 18,000 feet below sea level, it is the highest mountain of any kind. Before we go any further, let's get a couple of things straight. While it was developed and popularized here, the ukulele came originally from Portugal. Also, Hawaii is pronounced two ways but "Hah-wayee" seems to be preferred to "Hahvahee."

Soft and musical, the native Hawaiian language employs only 12 letters, the vowels and seven consonants—H, K, L, M, N, P, W. Every word, every name, every syllable ends with a vowel. English words which veins of only about 10,000 natives.

THE VARIETY mixes unusually well. There are a few places where Orientals can't buy real estate but generally racial tension is at a comparative minimum. Racial prejudice afflicts only a diminishing minority. Mrs. Doris Glick, sociologist at the University of Hawaii, points out:

"It would be political or business suicide to try and publicly promote racial discrimination—against Orientals or Caucas-

Altogether, the land area adds up to about 6400 square miles, a space into which you could put Connecticut and Rhode Island without crowding. The biggest island, Hawaii, embraces 4030 square miles and has 64,004 people—second largest population in the chain. Oahu has the biggest population, 325,797, and is the home of the capital, Honolulu, the mighty Naval base at Pearl Harbor and the headquarters for big business, shipping and airlines.

Floods Drive 1500 Out of Maine Homes

BOSTON—(AP). Most, but not all, northern New England rivers receded slowly Saturday after having raged over their banks for more than 24 hours under the wild impetus of a three-day rain-storm.

The roaring waters lessened their furious rush as the rain halted, but left 15 Maine communities isolated and 1500 persons homeless.

The Saco River still pounded out of bounds Saturday night as it moved toward a midnight crest, and 50 families in the Biddeford area abandoned their homes as a precaution.

New Hampshire, with 25 highways inundated Friday, reported only 10 were closed Saturday afternoon. Officials said the overall situation was improving gradually.

No additional heavy rainfall was anticipated by the Weather Bureau for the week-end.

While the slowly dropping rivers still hold secret the extent of the damage they caused, the New England division of Army Engineers credits the network of flood control dams and reservoirs with preventing a possible loss of $12,000,000.

The Connecticut River dropped considerably in New Hampshire during Saturday, and railroad traffic took on a semblance of normal routine at midday. The Boston & Maine was able to make its usual run from Boston to Montreal by way of Concord and Woodsville, N. H.

The automobile of Gov. Hugh Gregg was nearly swamped when he made a tour of the hard-hit section near Plymouth, N. H. His chauffeur attempted to ford a flooded stretch of highway, but the motor sputtered and failed.

Womans' Charred Body Found Near Prison in Indiana

MICHIGAN CITY—Ind.—(AP). Three boys found the charred body of a woman near the state prison Saturday and authorities said she apparently was tied to a tree and burned to death.

Police said several pieces of wire and plastic clothesline were bound around her waist. They believed the woman, about 45, broke away from the burning tree and collapsed nearby, starting a small grass fire.

She had dyed blonde hair and wore glasses.

Coroner Russell L. Beck said cause of death was unknown, but Police Chief Arthur L. Menke said, "This looks like a definite case of murder."

Motherless Kids Get Fine New House

MUSCLE SHOALS, Ala.—(AP). A fine new house for the seven Willis kids, left motherless and homeless by a tornado, went up almost like magic today.

Nearly 90 carpenters, plumbers and electricians put in their week end time on the job and hoped to have the house virtually finished by tomorrow.

A spontaneous outpouring of kindness in this bustling Tennessee Valley Authority center made it all possible within three weeks. Less than four full days of working time was involved because the volunteers could labor on the house only on weekends.

O'Neill Willis, 36, the widowed head of the family, brought his seven children, ranging from 2 to 15 years old, down from Wheeler Mountain where they are living with relatives to see the new house Wednesday.

"They are thrilled to death," Willis said. "It's a much nicer house than they ever had before. The girls can't wait to move in and start keeping house."

as Willis described it, on the family's former home on Wheeler Mountain, 15 miles from here.

Willis, his wife, and the youngest child, Wanda, were blown 200 yards away. When Willis came to, his wife lay dying. The other children had been flung about as the storm picked up the house and slammed it down in splinters. One of the boys, Gloyd, 6, suffered a fractured skull and is still convalescent.

The others have recovered, except Willis himself, who suffered a crushed back and gets around on crutches.

$200 Million Military Pay Saving, Korea Boost Urged

WASHINGTON—(AP). A special advisory commission reported Saturday the government can save $200,000,000 a year on its military payroll and still give troops in Korea a combat pay raise.

The "Commission on Incentive-Hazardous Duty Pay" said the Defense Dept. should:

Eliminate all extra pay for Navy men on routine sea duty and military personnel on routine foreign assignment.

Take away flight bonus pay from everyone except bona fide military aviators.

Eliminate the monthly bonus of $100 for physicians and dentists drafted for the minimum two years of duty. The report suggested the bonus should be paid only to those who volunteer for longer terms of duty.

MODIFY RE-ENLISTMENT

Modify the re-enlistment bonus, paying it only to personnel who have served satisfactorily for at least 18 months before signing for another "hitch."

Raise combat pay to equal, at least, the lowest pay rate for other hazardous duty. The minimum "hazard pay" is now $50 a month—for paratroopers, submariners and members of diving and demolition units among others.

Present law gives personnel in Korea a $45 monthly bonus if they are in combat units under fire any six days in a month. The commission said combat pay should be given also to Navy men on ships which suffer damage or casualties at any time during a month or on mine sweepers which engage in sweeping any six days a month.

Most controversial of the recommendations was that on flight pay. Congressional critics have frequently condemned "arm chair generals" and other high brass who collect the premium pay—in varying amounts according to rank—for merely flying, even as passengers, in military craft four hours monthly.

But the commission, under the chairmanship of New York Financier Lewis L. Strauss, said the major portion of the annual saving would come from abolition of bonus pay for routine sea or foreign duty. This is roughly 10 per cent of the base pay.

ABOUT 100 FEET LOWER is the twin peak of Mauna Loa, biggest active volcano in the world and largest mountain of any kind in cubic content. On its summit is a huge crater almost four square miles in area with vertical walls 500 to 600 feet high.

Economically, the islands have four principal sources of revenue. The military brings Hawaii $257,000,000 a year; sugar, $138,000,000; pineapple, $100,000,000 and tourists, $40,000,000.

Hawaii imports a lot of foods, building materials and manufactured goods. Since these things have to be shipped 2200 miles from California (many of them from Long Beach-Los Angeles Harbor), they make living costs from 10 to 25 per cent higher than on the mainland.

Salaries range widely but there's no such thing as cheap or "coolie labor." Waitresses average 65 cents an hour. Stenographers average $218 a month and one large department store starts inexperienced clerks at $1 an hour. A baby sitter in this lotus land of soft trade winds and sighing palm trees costs between 65 cents and $1 an hour.

Among the islands' dominant economic forces are the firms known as the big five—Castle & Cooke, Theodore H. Davies, C. Brewer Co., American Factors and Alexander Baldwin, whose interests range from sugar and pineapple plantations to retail and wholesale outlets and shipping and insurance.

HOWEVER, there are also many "little businessmen." Last year, a total of 31,241 businesses were licensed.

Educationally, Hawaii can hold its head high. Surveys have shown that its elementary and high school curriculum compares favorably with that of California.

Lahianaluna high on the island of Maui is said to be the oldest American public school west of the Rocky Mountains. It was founded by missionaries more than 100 years ago. During the California Gold Rush era, many well-to-do California families found it simpler to send their children to Punahou School, the oldest private school in the territory, rather than ship them around the Horn to the east coast.

Politically, Hawaii is generally Republican. Although people here don't vote as racial units, it is almost certain that when Hawaii becomes a state it will send to Congress representatives of Chinese and Japanese ancestry.

REPUBLICAN Sen. Wilfred C. Tsuiikiyama now is serving his third successive term as president of the Territorial Senate. He and Sen. William H. Heem, a Chinese-Hawaiian Democrat, are regarded as strong possibilities for the United States Senate.

Probably the best known and loved of Hawaii's political leaders is cosmopolitan Mayor Johnny Wilson, 81, of Honolulu. His blood is a mixture of Hawaiian, Tahitian, Scotch and Irish.

Historically, this is an ancient civilization. Hawaii was first discovered and settled by Polynesians, probably from Samoa, about 500 A.D. It was rediscovered in 1778 by Capt. James Cook, British explorer. He named the place the Sandwich Islands.

In 1795 a local chief, King Kamehameha I, conquered all the islands and set up a monarchy that endured until 1893 when it was overthrown and replaced by a republic. Between 1800 and 1805, he drove out the Russians when they tried to win a foothold on Kauai.

Until the early 1930s, the mainland was only vaguely aware of Hawaii as the pleasant home of hula dancers and ukulele players. Statehood would improve Hawaii's bargaining position with effective representation in Congress. At present, the lone Hawaiian delegate, Joseph Rider Farrington, can speak on the floor and serve on committees but he cannot vote.

STATEHOOD, it is urged here, would answer the expressed resentment of a majority of Hawaiian voters against taxation without representation. Last year the islands paid about $135,000,000 in Federal taxes. Nine states paid less.

The statehood fight has been led by Farrington and Samuel Wilder King, former delegate to Congress who recently was appointed Territorial Governor by President Eisenhower. They and many others argue that the objections to statehood no longer exist. Hawaii has ceased to be a "foreign" and distant land. It is now only 20 hours away from Washington by plane.

Statehood for Hawaii has been advocated by both national political platforms, by a majority of national newspapers and magazines and, in Hawaii, by both the chamber of commerce and left wing labor groups, by Buddhists, Catholics, the local Republican and Democratic parties and various racial groups.

IN 1940 a plebiscite on the islands showed 2 to 1 support for statehood. The Hawaii Social Research Laboratory reports that a vote today probably would show 80 per cent in favor.

Some descendants of native Hawaiian royalty oppose statehood for frankly sentimental reasons.

Alice Kamokila Campbell, a former Territorial senator who has royal blood, says, "I'm afraid that statehood will bring in outside influences, and outside influences will destroy the old Hawaii."

If the Hawaiian monarchy still existed, Mrs. Kapiolani Kawananakoa Field would be queen today. She is the eldest daughter of Prince Kawananakoa, late heir-apparent to the throne.

"If America wanted to do something to restore the monarchy," she says, "that would be all right. But no Hawaiian would do anything to hurt America. We love America too much."

What's in a Name?

By George Eres

YOU GET some curious answers when you start prying around for a meaning of the word "Maru" tacked onto the names of Japanese ships.

Most people have the idea that the word means "ship."

Mrs. Laura Nakanishi of the Long Beach Library staff, for instance, said she always assumed it meant ship although the Japanese word for ship is "fune."

The Japanese-English dictionary defines "maru" as "circle or whole or the name given the different divisions of a castle; also used as a title."

The Japanese consular office in Los Angeles says there's no literal translation for the word and said it's probably similar to the article "the," as in the case of Kokoh Maru (the Kokoh) or Heiyo Maru (the Heiyo). The staff man said the word probably had some historical significance that has been lost.

However, some shipping people seem to connect "maru" with the ancient good luck symbol of the eye, painted on bows of ships or the carved figure-head — a sort of charm that guides the ship out and brings it safely home.

The "maru" appears on all Japanese passenger-cargo ships. Japanese navy vessels do not carry the word.

What's meaning of word "Maru" seen on Japanese ships? That question gets some curious answers.

Ike May Pick Republicans' Next Leader

WASHINGTON — (AP). President Eisenhower probably will personally pick the next chairman of the Republican national committee and Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) predicted there won't be any fight over the choice.

The chairmanship was vacated by the resignation Friday of C. Wesley Roberts. A Kansas state legislative committee held Roberts was guilty of violating the "spirit" of the state lobbying law. Roberts, who got an $11,000 fee in the handling of a hospital sale to the state before he became GOP chairman, charged in his resignation he was a victim of a "plot growing out of a fierce factional fight in Kansas state politics."

Roberts Saturday sent a formal call to all members of the national committee to meet here April 10 "for the purpose of accepting my resignation and electing my successor."

Roberts' exit from the GOP chairmanship only about two months after he succeeded Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield in the party post stirred speculation about a long list of possible successors.

Taft said he thinks it would be all right for the committee to name an unpaid chairman "if it can find somebody who doesn't have government contracts." Roberts has been paid at the rate of $32,500 a year.

There has been talk among Republicans of getting a "big name" chairman, who would be given several administrative assistants so he would not necessarily have to devote all his time to political work.

When reporters brought up the names of B. E. Hutchinson, long-time Chrysler Motors executive, and President Charles M. White of Republic Steel, Taft said he didn't believe either could be persuaded to take the job.

The name of R. Douglas Stuart, Quaker Oats executive who has served as a financial officer of the committee, was mentioned. But Taft said he thought Stuart is likely to be named ambassador to Canada.

Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, president pro tempore of the Senate, said he thinks John Danaher, former Connecticut senator, would have strong backing in Congress for the chairmanship. McIntyre Baries, California national committeeman who is serving as chairman of the party's executive committee, was regarded as a possible choice.

Among others about whom there was speculation were former Sens. Harry Darby of Kansas and Fred Seaton of Nebraska, both Eisenhower supporters before Chicago.

ALL AT ONCE, old Nazi ammunition goes up in smoke as an unscheduled explosion wrecked the Wilhelmshaven, Germany, ammunition disposal plant last week. Tidelands Enemies Pin Hopes on High Court WASHINGTON — (AP). Opponents of legislation to give offshore oil lands to the coastal states today predicted the Supreme Court would outlaw the measure if it gets through Congress.

Both the House and Senate will debate different versions of "tidelands" legislation next week. Congressional approval is expected, although opponents were prepared to wage a bitter fight.

Both bills would fulfill President Eisenhower's campaign promise to give coastal states ownership over the seabottom lands out to their historical boundaries—three to 10 1/2 miles.

Both would confirm federal control over the remainder of the continental shelf, which extends seaward as much as 150 miles off some states. The House bill, however, would give the adjoining coastal states some rights, including taxing power, over the federal zone.

Reps. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) and Michael A. Feighan (D-O), who have branded the legislation a "give away" program, predicted the Supreme Court would declare such a law unconstitutional.

Celler said he is confident the court will rule that Congress cannot "chip away" U. S. sovereignty. Sponsors of the bills "may win the initial skirmish, but they're going to lose the war," Celler said.

The Supreme Court already has ruled three times that the federal government has a "paramount interest" in the submerged lands. But backers of the tidelands legislation were confident it would weather court attack.

Both the House and Senate versions include a "separability clause" aimed at meeting this threat. The legislation would give the states outright title to the lands within historic boundaries and separate authority to develop and produce oil and other resources in the area. Should the court knock out the title section, the bill is so worded to keep the other features in force.

House debate opens Monday and leaders said a vote may be possible on Wednesday. Senate GOP leader Robert A. Taft (R-O) said the Senate's bill will be called up next Wednesday for a "week or 10 days" of debate.

Reports Persist That Eisenhower to Call Off Grand Jury Inquiry Into Oil Monopoly

WASHINGTON — (AP). There were persistent reports here Saturday the Eisenhower administration will call off a grand jury investigation of world oil monopoly charges against five major U. S. companies.

Efforts to confirm this were unavailing. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. was keeping his plans a tight secret and Justice Department officials at the lower level said they were awaiting a "policy decision from the top."

This must come soon. Brownell is under orders from Federal Judge James R. Kirkland to decide by April 27 whether he will push the Truman-inspired investigation, drop it altogether or try to break up the alleged cartel through a civil consent decree.

President Eisenhower and Brownell have explored the international security aspects of the case with the chief executive's top defense planning group, the National Security Council, which will have a strong voice in making the decision.

The word going about is that world conditions make this an unpropitious time to press a case in which explosive international repercussions are so inherent. There-fore, the inquiry will be sidetracked. American companies accused in the case are Standard Oil (of New Business Instructors Opening State Parley

An expected 800 specialists in the business education field are filtering into Long Beach this week end for the annual convention of the California Business Education Association.

Local teachers, organized under Miss Glee Duncan, head of the business department at Long Beach City College and convention chairman, head most of the convention committees.

With business sessions getting under way today, the educators will discuss trends in business education. Most sessions will be held at the Wilton Hotel, convention headquarters for the confab which will wind up Tuesday.

The association consists of teachers of business education from the junior high school level up in addition to instructors and executives of private business colleges.

President of the state group is Dr. McKee Fisk of Fresno State College.

Swarthy Youth Beats, Violates Port Housewife

A 27-year-old Wilmington housewife was beaten savagely and raped by a swarthy youth who forced her into his car early Saturday in East Wilmington. The woman told police she was accosted by the youth as she walked through a field in the 800 block of Eubank Ave. She fought him with a stick she picked up, but he disarmed her and forced her into the car, she said. The victim finally escaped from the car and called police, who took her to Wilmington Emergency Hospital for treatment.

Bars Close as Mexico Towns Voting Today

SAN DIEGO—(AP). Some South-Californians planning to visit Mexican border towns this week end may be in for a disappointment.

Lower California voters were slated to go to the polls today to elect representatives to draw up a state constitution. According to Mexican law, all bars must be closed on election day and the preceding day.

Ten Candidates Vie for Three Seats in School Board Ballot

By HARRY FULTON

Voters of the Long Beach Unified School District, which includes Long Beach, Lakewood, Signal Hill and Avalon, will go to the polls Friday and elect three persons to serve on the Board of Education.

Ten candidates are in the running for the three school board seats. Two present officeholders, Mrs. Elizabeth Hudson and George M. Vermillion, will bid for re-election, but a third, Attorney Eugene E. Tinscher, is retiring from the board after 20 years of service.

Terms of the two other school board members, Dr. Walter H. Boyd, president, and Dr. Dwight C. Sigworth do not expire until 1955. School trustees are elected for four-year periods.

In Long Beach, Friday's school district election will be consolidated with the special municipal election on spending tidelands oil money for public improvements throughout the city. There are 298 precincts within the school district, 244 of which are in the City of Long Beach.

Throughout the district, 172,826 persons are eligible to vote in the school election. The Long Beach registration for the combined election is 138,956. Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m., and returns on both elections will be tabulated at John Dewey Continuation High School, Eighth St. and Locust Ave.

Past school board elections have been greeted by a light vote, with only 12 per cent of those eligible voting two years ago. However, Friday's special municipal election is expected to give voters an added incentive for going to the polls.

In addition to the incumbents, candidates for the school board are Bill Barbee, realtor; Marie S. Bell, homemaker-mother; Joseph R. Bjorn Dahl, general insurance manager; M. A. (Bud) Duncan, engineer; Kenneth C. Ingram, retired school employee; Rear Adm. George J. McMillin, U. S. Navy (ret.); Raymond Neveau, sales engineer; Gladys Comstock Smith, music-civic leader.

Portraits, biographical sketches and statements of each of the 10 candidates appear below:

JOSEPH R. BJORNDAHL

MRS. ELIZABETH HUDSON

GEORGE J. McMILLIN

GLADYS COMSTOCK SMITH

M. A. (BUD) DUNCAN

Joseph R. Bjorn Dahl lives at 2516 Palo Verde Ave. and was educated in Long Beach schools, Oberlin College, Ohio; Southwestern Law School, Los Angeles, and USC.

An Army, Navy, Coast Guard veteran of World War II, Bjorn Dahl has been in charge of insurance management for Rex L. Hodges Companies since 1948. He is well known as a baritone soloist, having been a church soloist here for 20 years and performing for motion pictures, radio and on the concert stage under the name of Burt Dahl.

He is immediate past president of Sons of Norway in Long Beach, a member of Optimist Club and was one of the leaders in the recent successful move to annex sections of Lakewood Plaza to Long Beach.

He said: "I humbly pledge clean, Christianlike service as a young businessman; to be alert to the problems of teachers, students and parents as well as the business of management; to maintain the high standards of education in our schools; to be sincere to the responsibilities of the office as a school board member and to be honest and diligent to the principles of right action."

Mrs. Elizabeth Hudson, 635 Terraine Ave., has been a member of the Board of Education for eight years and twice has been president of the board. She is first vice president of the California School Trustees Assn. and is a member of the Los Angeles County School Trustees Assn.

A graduate of Iowa State Teachers College, Mrs. Hudson is a former school teacher and holds an honorary membership in Delta Kappa Gamma, honor scholastic society.

Mrs. Hudson has taken an active part in the civic life of Long Beach. She is past president of Elbell of Long Beach, and was organizing president of the American Assn. for Childhood Education.

"I sincerely believe we have made wonderful progress in developing a well-rounded educational system for the Long Beach area," Mrs. Hudson said. "I hope we soon see the completion of an orthopedic school for physically handicapped children as well as development of a program for mentally retarded children."

GEORGE M. VERMILLION

Bill Barbee, 3950 Cedar Ave., has lived in Long Beach for more than 30 years and is a graduate of Poly High School. He is president of the Rex L. Hodges Realty Co.

In civic affairs of Long Beach, Barbee has been an active leader and worker for many years. He has been an officer, director and campaign chairman of the Community Chest and is a past president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and, representing the board, he serves as co-ordinator for the chamber's education committee, now studying the needs of the Long Beach Unified School District.

"I believe in fairness and equality in solving the problems of all areas within the unified school district," he said. "Fundamentals and the three Rs should be stressed, particularly in the lower elementary grades."

George M. Vermillion, 101 E. Roosevelt Rd., twice has been president of the Board of Education and has been a board member since 1941. A druggist since 1938, he owns several drug stores in Long Beach.

Vermillion has been active in civic and youth work in Long Beach. This year he served as campaign director for the March of Dimes, and he is past president of the Boys Clubs and a leader of Boy Scout activities. Vermillion is past president of the Long Beach Retail Druggists Assn. and a member of the Downtown Kiwanis Club, the North Long Beach Commercial Club, Chamber of Commerce, various Masonic organizations and Shrine.

"There is no civic responsibility greater than serving on the Board of Education," Vermillion said. "I have found it challenging, and we have several valuable programs under way which I would like to see through to completion."

MRS. MARIE S. BELL

Mrs. Marie S. Bell is the wife of Comdr. Russell Bell, USN (Ret.), and resides at 306 Euclid Ave. They have two children, Marie D. and Bill, both of whom attended local schools and now are attending college.

Mrs. Bell has a background in retail merchandising and advertising and has lived in Long Beach since 1934. She is an officer of the Long Beach Woman's Music Club and is a member of the Council of Camp Fire Girls, City College Patrons, Downtown Lady Lions. She held office in the FTA while her children were attending school here and she was cited by the Atlantic area Red Cross for organizing and training Grey Ladies for hospital work in New York in 1945.

"I have no ax to grind," she said. "I will view sympathetically the problems of teachers and classified employees. As a home-owner, I know the importance of eliminating waste without lowering standards, and as a mother I am completely familiar with the parents' viewpoint."

KENNETH C. INGRAM

Kenneth C. Ingram, 1341 Lime Ave., has resided in Long Beach for 33 years and was employed by the school district for 23 years as a gardener crew foreman. He now is retired.

He served with the U.S. Engineers Corps in Cuba for five years and is a member of Seaside Lodge 504, F. and A. M. A property owner, Ingram has two children who attended Long Beach schools and five grandchildren now attending.

"I believe improvements along the lines of economy and improved administration are possible," he said, "and I believe my practical experience in the school system will assist me in accomplishing this. I believe instruction in the three Rs is basic to all education, and we should not get too far away from that basis."

RAYMOND NEVEAU

A native of Long Beach, Raymond Neveau, 1801 Snowden St., is sales engineer for the Rossman Mill and Lumber Co., Ltd. of Long Beach and Wilmington. He is a graduate of Poly High, attended the University of Oregon and Southwestern Law School and was graduated from the U. S. Army Exchange School at Princeton.

Active in athletics while in school, Neveau is a past president of the Poly Alumni Assn., Long Beach Sports Boosters and University of Oregon Alumni Assn. and has held offices in the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Downtown Lions Club. He was instrumental in obtaining scholarships to the University of Oregon for 54 Long Beach students.

"The present school board, composed of two doctors, a lawyer, a pharmacist and a former school teacher, is overloaded with professional people," Neveau said. "For better balance, the board needs a man with a business, construction and athletic background, which I offer."

$60,000,000 ELECTION

City Votes Friday in 'Dream Poll'

13 Projects in 'Dividend' of Oil Fund

By GEORGE WEEKS

Long Beach's most fantastic election, the one that could happen nowhere else but here, takes place Friday.

This is the poll in which the voters decide whether to declare dividends that have been accumulating for 15 years or to let the oil money continue to pile up.

Like most cities, Long Beach has voted many times on proposals to issue bonds and levy more taxes. Friday's dream election will be the first concerned primarily with wholesale spending of money already in the bank.

Advance notice of the election has created incredulity and envy in municipal circles throughout the country.

"They couldn't believe we were voting on spending our reserve cash instead of asking for more bonds or taxes," said one city official returning from a national convention.

But the money is on hand — $68,665,000, in round figures, available or soon to be made available for expenditure. Thirteen of the 15 propositions on the city ballot will, if approved, authorize the City Council to spend up to $61,187,000 for specified public works.

Sponsors of the improvements regard the size of that figure as the chief hazard to an affirmative vote. It looks like a huge chunk of cash to commit at one time. And some quick arithmetic gives the impression that only $7,478,000 would be left in the available funds.

But that computation is misleading, the project backers point out. The city's oil revenue is coming in at a rate of approximately $2,500,000 monthly. Half of this income is accumulating in the Public Improvement Fund, for financing city-wide projects, and $3,150,000 is accruing monthly in the Tidelands Oil Fund, which may be used to finance shoreline improvements.

Further, construction of most of the public works on the ballot will take several years, and in the case of the civic center, as much as 50 years.

The breakdown of available funds, as reported by City Auditor John R. Mansell's office, shows $57,505,000 in the Public Improvements Fund and $11,160,000 in the Tidelands Oil Fund.

The first two projects on the ballot, Props. A and B, are designated for financing from the Tidelands Oil Fund. They are the $10,000,000 Alamitos Bay small-craft harbor and the $2,750,000 Municipal Auditorium exposition hall.

Critics argue that the $12,750,000 expenditures for these two projects are greater than the amount available in the fund from which they will be financed.

The reply from the pro-improvement group is that this condition will be reversed within a few months — long before any expenditures are actually ordered by the council.

The other propositions, all to be paid for by the Public Improvement Fund, total $48,437,000. They are:

- Prop. C—Park improvements, $3,000,000.
- D—Park land acquisition, $3,750,000.
- E—Incinerator, $1,305,000.
- F—Storm drains, $3,000,000.
- G—Branch libraries, $400,000.
- H—Health and hospital facilities, $16,382,000.
- I—Civic center, $10,000,000.
- J—Fire alarm communication building, $250,000.
- K—Municipal Airport improvements, $3,500,000.
- L—Municipal Auditorium approach, $1,850,000.
- M—DeForest Ave., $5,000,000.

All except about $20,000,000 of the oil money has been released from impounding agreements between the city and the companies which extract or buy the oil. The balance, produced by Richfield Corp., is expected to be released soon.

Overshadowed on the ballot by the public improvements are the two proposed charter amendments, Props. 1 and 2.

The first would authorize the Board of Harbor Commissioners to create administrative divisions similar to those in the general city government. The port manager's title would be changed to general manager, and the new position of assistant general manager would be authorized.

Prop. 2 merely removes the one-year local residence requirement for applicants for city positions. Nonresident appointees to city jobs would be required to establish residence here. No change is made in prior residence requirements for elective city officials and members of city boards and commissions.

The amendments were sponsored respectively by the Harbor Commission and the Civil Service Board. Neither has caused much controversy.

Sites Due to Get Approval

Two new sites for the rapidly expanding Long Beach school system in the Lakewood area are scheduled for approval by the county regional planning commission in Los Angeles Wednesday.

One is for 10.6 acres at the northeasterly corner of Albury Ave. and Los Arcos St. for an elementary school and the other is for additional acreage at Ocana Ave. and Albury Ave. The elementary school site at the first location is scheduled for approval on condition that property on three sides be improved, deeded to the county for widening of existing streets, and that 30 feet on the east side be improved and deeded for construction of a half street.

Hospital Project Largest One and Rated Most Controversial

(This is the last of a series of articles on public improvement propositions to be submitted to the voters at the April 3 election.)

By GEORGE WEEKS

Besides being the largest from a money standpoint, the health and hospital proposal on next Friday's ballot—Proposition H—stands out as having attracted more fervent support and more plain-spoken opposition than any other.

No less than 11,261 Long Beach citizens have signed cards pledging themselves to support the measure, thereby enrolling as members of the Municipal Health and Hospital Program Volunteer Committee, with campaign headquarters at 602 Pacific Ave. Mrs. Sybil W. Reed is the committee chairman.

The proposal is endorsed by dozens of civic and labor organizations, ranging from the Chamber of Commerce to the CIO. It is favored by the organized medical profession. The Citizens Committee for Public Improvements, which devoted more than a year to screening suggested projects, rated the health program as "most urgently needed."

THEY OPPOSED IT

But three of the nine city councilmen—Lyman B. Sutter, Max Livoni and Carl Fletcher—opposed it on the final roll call. A fourth, Basil P. Carleson, who voted for it reluctantly after opposing it earlier, has since reverted to his original position. He has been one of the most vigorous campaigners against the measure.

On one point the backers and opponents are agreed—that the proposition as worded leaves broad discretion in the City Council. It merely authorizes the use of up to $16,382,000 from the Public Improvement Fund for health and hospital purposes and requires that such facilities must be operated by nonprofit organizations under contracts with the city. Details are left for future council determination.

The case for the proposal was presented before the citizens' committee by spokesmen for the health division of the Long Beach Community Welfare Council, which surveyed the city's health needs in 1952.

FOR IT

The health division's conclusion was that the $16,382,000 expenditure is the minimum necessary to meet present urgent requirements. Some of the figures developed by the survey are:

At present there are only 966 licensed hospital beds in Long Beach. The current need on a basis of population, under standards approved by the State Board of Hospitals, is not less than 2011 beds. By 1970 the requirement will be 3195.

The Welfare Council's contemplates addition of 918 new hospital beds. But 475 of the 966 now available are obsolete and should be replaced. Thus if the project is carried out as suggested, the city would have only 1439 beds—barely enough for critical needs.

On the other side, the opponents level their heaviest attacks against the lack of city control over the program.

"None of us are opposed to hospitals," says Councilman Carleson. "We realize they are necessary."

opportunity to know what control is to be applied.

"The city should have a trained and competent hospital administrator to see to it that these non-profit hospitals are operated as efficiently as private hospitals, all of which show a profit. And any resulting profits should come back to the city. None of this is provided in the proposition."

"These facilities are not going to be built right away. Why not wait until a more careful program, with more controls over the public's money, can be worked out and presented to the voters?"

The answer from the health and hospital committee is that the program has already been delayed beyond the point of public safety.

"As far back as 1946-47 the need was recognized and forcefully brought to public attention by a county-wide survey conducted by James A. Hamilton, nationally recognized hospital consultant," says Earl B. Miller, one of the most active committee members.

"In 1949 a special hospital and health committee composed of leading local citizens was appointed by Mayor Burton W.

Chace to study and report on every phase of the problem. A 100-page report compiled by this committee further verified the critical shortage. It was verified once more by the Welfare Council's health division.

"The improvements contemplated by this proposition are not too lavish. In fact, the contrary is true."

WIDE DISCRETION

As for the question of controls, those supporting Proposition H point out that it is impossible from a practical standpoint for the voters to legislate details of administration. For this reason, all 13 of the ballot propositions vest wide discretion in the City Council.

The proponents make the point, too, that the democratic devices of recall and referendum will enable public opinion to assert itself, if the occasion should arise in future administration of the program.

Their final argument is that the oil money is on hand to pay for these facilities, without resort to taxation or bonds, and that no more proper and lasting use for it can be found than in the protection of public health.

CROWDED CORRIDORS—Hallways have been converted to the use of patients in overcrowded Long Beach hospitals. In some instances sections of the halls are screened off to give some privacy. Overcrowding would be eased by the hospital project in Friday's election.

Greek Vessels Cut Trading With Enemy

WASHINGTON — (UP). Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), announced Saturday that through his personal negotiation Greek owners of 242 merchant ships have agreed to cut off their trade with North Korea, Communist China and Russia's Far Eastern ports.

McCarthy told a press conference that the negotiations, carried forward in utmost secrecy, will "deal a heavy blow to the Communist cause" and speed an "honorable conclusion" of the Korean war.

As acting chairman of the Senate's permanent investigating committee, the senator also said:

"He anticipates within a few days an additional agreement with the Greek ship owners committee in London which will take 100 to 150 more merchant ships out of the Communist trade."

Agreement has been reached with Greek cargo agents operating booking offices in New York, London and elsewhere under which the agents will refuse to fix charters for carriage of goods to the same areas.

PROMISED NOTHING
McCarthy said the ship owners got nothing in return.

"We've promised them nothing," he said. Under further questioning, however, he disclosed that the owners no longer face a call by his committee for questioning in connection with the disposal of American surplus merchant vessels and use of the ships for trade with the Reds.

He attributed the agreement to the desire of the Greeks to participate in the "battle against communism." He attributed his own success in the negotiations to the fact that he went directly "to men who own the ships . . . negotiations in the past always have been at the government level."

The agreement, which he said is now in effect, covers 242 ships owned by Greeks and flying the following flags: 17 British, 34 Canadian, 51 Greek, 52 Liberian and 88 Panamanian.

He said the agreement was concluded with Manuel Kulukundis, an "important" owner and president of the Greek ship owners' New York Committee, and Stavros Livanos, who operates 36 of the 242 ships affected.

The agreement also bans cargoes carried from one Communist port to another anywhere in the world.

McCarthy claimed that about 2,750,000 deadweight tons of shipping are affected—"more tonnage than all the Communist countries, including the USSR, own themselves"—and that it would mean a loss to the Reds of somewhere between 10 to 45 per cent of their sea-borne imports.

NO FIGURES ON LOSS
He had no figures on the loss in tonnage of actual goods involved, but said this was "not too important" a point.

McCarthy asserted the State Dept. had marked up a record of "dismal" failure in seeking to stop shipments to the Reds, but added that he thought the "new team" of President Eisenhower and Secy. of State John Foster Dulles was making progress.

Asked if the State Dept. had been informed of his negotiations, he said, "We kept no one informed, the negotiations were of a delicate nature and we didn't want any interference from anyone."

Asked if the negotiations might hasten or hamper action to obtain an armistice in the Korean fighting, McCarthy said: "When you impair a nation's ability to wage war you increase the reasons why that nation should want a truce and want peace."

Asked if he had agreed to call off his investigation in return for the agreements, McCarthy said:

"No. The only interest of this committee is to make sure that steps are taken to reduce or eliminate Red China's shipments. When the shipments are discontinued, that's all we're interested in." Then he added that there was now "no reason" to call the Greek owners for testimony.

Huge Building
If spread out in the usual style of college buildings, the University of Pittsburgh's 42-story Cathedral of Learning would crowd the 42 acres of land surrounding the structure.

Better the Day Better the Deed Prelate Asserts

Monsignor O'Dwyer

By going to the polls on Good Friday, April 3rd, and casting their ballots in favor of Proposition H, the Municipal Health and Hospital Program, voters of Long Beach will be manifesting their interest not only in the spiritual but also in the temporal well-being of their fellow citizens, according to the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas J. O'Dwyer, director of the Department of Health and Hospitals of the Catholic Archdiocese of Los Angeles.

Urging all devoted Christian men and women to set aside the time for voting on this sacred day, Msgr. O'Dwyer, who has been actively engaged for many years with various local and state committees concerned with the establishment of adequate health facilities, today issued the following endorsement of Proposition H.

"The registered voters in the City of Long Beach are manifesting deep interest in all the propositions submitted for a vote on Friday, April 3rd. These propositions involve public improvements of vital interest to every resident of the community. Through the splendid services of volunteer workers, complete information is being disseminated regarding the need for these improvements. I am confident that a very high percentage of the voters will go to the polls and give their endorsement to these timely proposals.

"I wish to call particular attention to Proposition 'H' which will authorize the City Council to expend funds for additional health and hospital facilities. After very careful study, on the part of a citizens' committee, the minimum amount required to provide these facilities has been recommended to the City Council.

"For many years I have been actively identified with local and state associations and committees concerned about the establishment of adequate health facilities, particularly in the rapidly growing cities of Southern California. The needs of the City of Long Beach have been carefully reviewed. It is very evident that more than 1000 new hospital beds should be provided in the area as soon as possible. Additional facilities for the care of the convalescent and the chronically ill should be made available. The needs of sick children deserve serious consideration and the clinics and other types of hospital care required should be established as rapidly as possible. The development of hospital facilities should go hand in hand with the growth of religious and educational institutions.

"Thousands of voters will spend considerable time in the devotions held in churches and homes on Good Friday. They will understand, however, that it was mandatory that the school district hold the election on April 3rd. They will approve the action of the City Council in placing the municipal propositions on the ballot at this time in order to prevent additional expense to the taxpayers. Devoted Christian men and women will strive to set aside the necessary time for voting on this sacred day. They will thereby manifest their interest not only in the spiritual but also in the temporal well-being of their fellow citizens. They will indicate their desire to co-operate in every constructive effort for necessary civic improvement.

"I urge the voters of Long Beach to go to the polls on April 3rd and vote YES on Proposition H.

Duke to Walk Behind Coffin Moving Queen

LONDON.—(UP) The Duke of Windsor, ex-king, will walk today behind the coffin of his mother, Queen Mary, through London streets already partly decorated with the gay symbols of a coming coronation.

He was the favorite son of the 85-year-old queen, who died Tuesday. Even after he left the throne in 1936, Windsor continued to visit his mother regularly and was near her during the last days of her life.

Queen Mary's body will be taken from her Marlborough House residence to Westminster Hall—there to lie in state two days while Londoners great and humble pay her their final respects. She will be entombed next Tuesday in St. George's Chapel, Windsor Castle, beside her husband, King George V.

THREE OTHER DUKES

Three other royal dukes—Edinburgh, Gloucester and the youthful Kent—will walk beside Windsor in today's slow procession to the ancient hall adjoining the Houses of Parliament.

Family servants and troops with reversed arms also will accompany the gun carriage bearing the coffin.

Judge Upholds Reds for Jobs on U. N. Staff

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(UP) A Norwegian supreme court justice, challenging contentions by the United States and U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie, declared Saturday that American Communists have a right to work for the United Nations.

Oscar Gunderson, until recently Norway's minister for justice, spoke in a general assembly debate over Lie's policy to fire American Communists and all subversives out of the U. N. He said he supported Lie—former Norwegian foreign minister and minister of justice—on much of his personnel policy.

But he challenged Lie's right to bar Americans who are Communists solely on grounds that the American government does not allow Communists to work for it. India also attacked using U. S. government or any other host country standards for hiring U. N. employees.

Nine nations, including the United States, Britain, Norway and the other Scandinavian countries, sponsored a resolution voicing confidence in Lie's personnel policies. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate, told the assembly the United States will keep on investigating Americans employed by the U. N.

Be Your Own Weatherman

weather forecasting in the Southland one of the most important tasks facing the governmental meteorological bureau.

He said a weather forecast here affects more persons than anywhere else in the nation, an assertion which seems strange, at first blush, considering the great mass of population clustered around New York City.

But Showalter maintained his stand in face of this observation, saying the traditionally "good weather" of Southern California has resulted in more outdoor events being staged here than in any other spot in the entire nation.

"SOUTHERN CALIFORNIANS attend hundreds upon hundreds of outdoor festivals, sports carnivals and contests, concerts, picnics, to maintain a few events, during the course of any one year," Showalter said.

"For this reason the impor-

A. K. Showalter, top U. S. forecaster in this area until called east, gives amateurs a few good tips.

tance of any given forecast, as far as the public is concerned, is greater than that in other sections of the nation.

"In the midwest, for example," he continued, "relatively few outdoor activities are scheduled. People just don't expect the weather to be favorable, so they plan for indoor events."

Long Beach is a classic example of the relationship between weather and outdoor activities. Annually the greatest festival of bands in the entire nation is held here.

Billed as a musical salute to Santa Claus, the gala contest attracts scores of bands from all over the state and annually signals the official opening of the Christmas season.

Only twice in the proud history of the event has rain fallen. Considering the vast preparation and travel by participants and the yearly attendance which averages over the quarter-million mark, the part which weather plays in the success of the classic stands out in bold relief.

"WHEN THE EARLY-DAY Chamber of Commerce coined the phrase 'very unusual weather' for Southern California they spoke far more truth than poetry," Showalter said.

"Look at the geography of the region and you will learn much about the barriers against incursions of foul weather," he continued.

Long Beach is an important section of Southern California which is bounded by rugged mountains on the north, east and south. To the west is the vast moat of the Pacific Ocean.

Routes of weather invasion are clear. Either the frontal attack is from the southwest, perennial path of the tropical storms which rage in from the

Gals Go to Sea

Joyce Van Every and Martie Gulbransen display sample of fish caught off Long Beach by women anglers.

By Ken Chilcote

DEEP SEA FISHING, like many other sports, is attracting more and more women each year. In fact, so noted is the increase in women patronage on the public boats operating out of Long Beach Harbor that the landings are catering considerably to their trade.

The gals already are trying their luck as the season gets under way, but their numbers will multiply come June and vacation time.

Only a generation ago a woman on an all day deep sea fishing boat was a virtual oddity. Today the chances are that one out of every eight or nine passengers aboard will be a feminine angler and if the gain continues, landing operators and boat skippers say that within a year or so nearly one-third of their patronage may be women.

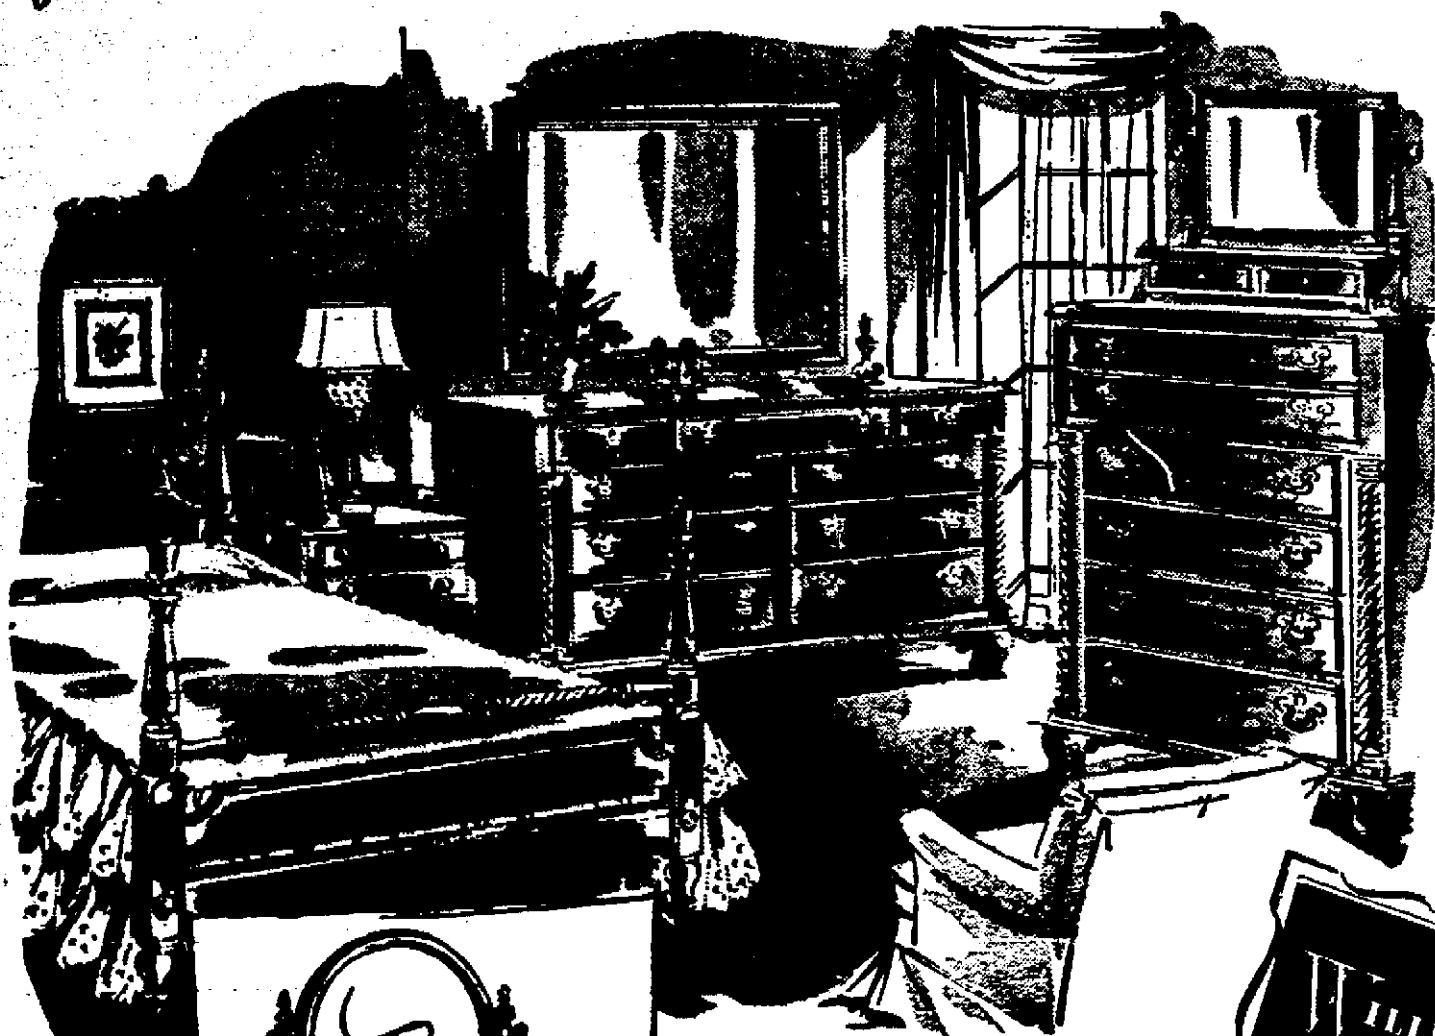

How do the male anglers feel about them?

At first there was griping but more and more the men are finding most of the women are ideal in handling a rod and line. In hookups they quickly learn how to thread their way around a boat to avoid tangles. And, one thing they really have done is to improve the galley service on most of the boats. Hot lunches from immaculate galleys are offered instead of the old lunches of a bologna sandwich and a cup of muddy java.

With the women joining in the ranks of the sportfishing enthusiasts, a few landings kept back one or two boats for all-male customers but this went by the boards last year. It seemed that many men swung away from the "stag" boats, possibly because their wives had become ardent Waltonians, too.

In the Long Beach area more than 5000 persons now can be accommodated any day on sportfishing boats. Of that number at least 2500 can be handled on 50 public boats which operate on daily schedules. The others can be taken on charter boats.

Middle-Way Solution

SOME FOLK seem to think socialization is socialization only if carried out on the national level of government. Persons who would object vehemently to attempts by the federal government to go into the medical and hospital business are now saying they'd like to see the City of Long Beach go into that business.

They think rates somehow would be less if the city should operate the hospitals which would be financed from oil revenue under Proposition H.

We have announced our wholehearted support for Proposition H, and we think it to the interest of every citizen to vote for it on April 3.

This community badly needs the hospital program envisioned in that proposal.

But we think it would be a highly questionable proposal if it did not state, as it does, that the facilities shall be operated by nonprofit organizations.

It would be unfortunate to submit a hospital program to political influences. Operating hospitals is not a municipal function, any more than it is the proper function of federal government to operate general civilian hospitals.

But this argument aside, how about the question of rates?

Would hospital service really cost less under municipal operation?

No good reason exists to believe that it would. The city still would be obligated to make the hospital program pay its way; if the program weren't self-sustaining, the costs of subsidization would fall on the taxpayer.

The simple fact is that it's going to cost so much to operate the facilities regardless of who has the responsibility. And there is small evidence that government can operate as efficiently as nongovernment organizations.

We think efficient operation of the hospital facilities by nonprofit, nonpolitical organizations will assure minimum rates.

Ideally, our hospital needs would be filled by private enterprise. But obviously private enterprise is not interested; if it were, hospital construction wouldn't be an issue. To relieve the situation we are proposing a middle-ground solution—municipal ownership, nonprofit organization operation. We are in a unique position to make such an investment; by grace of the oil money we can build the hospital facilities without taxing our citizens.

Our hospital need is critical. We have an opportunity on April 3 to do something about this crisis.

Let's not be misled by superficial and misleading arguments.

Again we urge—Vote "Yes" on Proposition H.

AN EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK

Let's Get the Truth

By JOHN S. KNIGHT
Publisher, Chicago Daily News

WHAT CAN the people believe? Last week, the country was seething over charges by Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former Eighth Army commander in Korea, that he and his troops had been seriously hampered by a shortage of ammunition.

Now, the Army says ammunition supplies in Korea are "so abundant" that shipments originally destined for the Far East are "being diverted" to other areas.

A Tokyo dispatch reports that Gen. Mark W. Clark "knows nothing" about any munitions being diverted from his Far East command.

To better understand the truth behind this mass of conflicting testimony, the following developments should be remembered.

1.—Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, said last spring that munitions were being rationed because of production lags in our factories.

2.—In January of this year, Gen. Van Fleet told Dr. Elmer Hess, an official of the American Medical Association, that "this is the first time in the history of the world that any army has had to fight, suffer and die without an objective. If I had an objective, I don't have enough men to accomplish it, nor enough ammunition."

3.—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has steadfastly maintained that the Eighth Army "has the ammunition necessary for operations on the present scale . . . that soon we shall have the amounts of ammunition necessary to give the field commanders considerable latitude in determining upon and supporting a more active type of operation."

4.—The Army appears to be substantiating Mr. Wilson's position with this (last) week's claim that the ammunition pipeline is now "filled up" all the way to the Korean front lines.

In its essence, what all this means is that we suffered an ammunition shortage in Korea due to poor planning; that the situation had not been corrected at the time of Van Fleet's forced retirement a few weeks ago; but that munitions production is now catching up with the demand.

Much of the public's anger and confusion could have been forestalled by a simple statement of fact from President Eisenhower. Instead, the facts have been obscured by a series of charges and countercharges of which more will be heard when the Senate Armed Services subcommittee conducts further hearings next week.

What are we, who lose our sons and pay for these ghastly wars, to believe about conditions in Korea and the prolonging of a bloody conflict with no definite objective in sight?

PEARSON LEAVES THE AIR: After 17 years of broadcasting, Drew Pearson leaves the air as a network reporter Sunday night. Subsequent broadcasts will be in the form of transcriptions sold to local sponsors. Pearson has hinted daily of the forces that terminated his contract with ABC and caused his sponsor to cancel. An inquiry directed to Pearson by us brought no reply.

On various occasions, Pearson has tangled with Westbrook Pegler, Fulton Lewis, Jesse Jones of Texas, Millard Tydings of Maryland, Joe McCarthy and scores of lesser lights.

While the Washington newspaper corps tends to look upon Pearson with some disdain, he has a faculty for digging up stories and information that others miss.

He has been called a liar by F. D. R. and worse by Harry Truman. Republicans, especially the businessmen and industrialists, have no use for him.

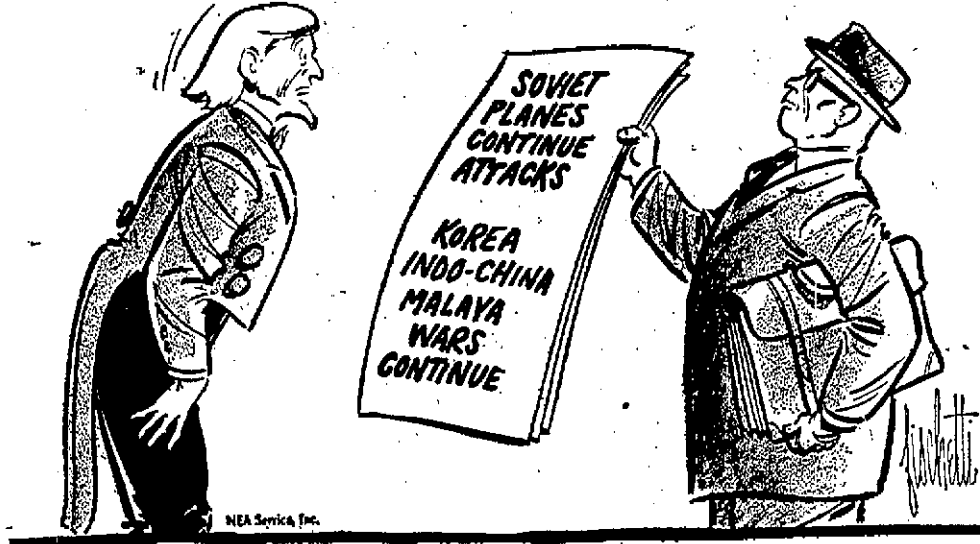

Among his colleagues, Drew Pearson is highly unpopular. A distinguished Washington bureau chief once described him as "a Round-head who believes in morality for everyone but himself."

Pearson has survived a number of slander and libel suits, most of which have been settled out of court. For reasons best known to himself, his million-dollar suit against Westbrook Pegler has never been brought to trial.

Drew Pearson's network and television shows will be missed, at least until another sponsor turns up.

So far as his newspaper column is concerned, we find it required reading even though frequently disagreeing with his views and always challenging the accuracy of his reporting.

McCarthyism—a Political Crisis

WASHINGTON—"If we have so destroyed confidence in men in the government of the United States, then God help us!"

Those were words of Sen. William Knowland spoken in the debate on the confirmation of Charles E. Bohlen to be ambassador to Soviet Russia. They are noteworthy for several reasons.

In the first place, they put movingly the real nature of the crisis in our political life today. They were uttered by the chairman of the policy committee of the Republican majority in the Senate at the beginning of the third month of a Republican administration that came into power with a great popular majority.

But, above all, Knowland's passionate invocation serves to pinpoint once again the technique used by Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) this technique has varied scarcely at all since the Senator first began to use it in 1949. That was before he had discovered the Communist menace in the State Department.

Essentially it is a technique of distortion. A little fact is merely rumor or hearsay is seized upon as the basis for flat assertions and charges that grow in magnitude as a McCarthy campaign develops. It is this method of leaping from one exaggeration to a greater distortion that overwhelms men accustomed to traditional political debate.

The technique should now be recognized for what it is. The variations since it was first employed have been few. In 1949 McCarthy set out to prove that American army officers prosecuting SS troops charged with the massacre of unarmed American prisoners at the time of the battle of the bulge had used the most-savage brutality to obtain confessions.

All evidence to the contrary was brushed aside and the McCarthy statements became more and more sweeping. He accused Americans in occupied Germany of doing what not even, in his words, the Russians would do. This happened, of course, to be a great gift to Communist propaganda in Germany. In the view of knowledgeable observers at the time, it had not a little to do with the strong anti-American attitude prevailing among many Germans.

BROWBEATER

Nothing was lacking in that first instance of the use of the now-familiar technique. Just as he did in the Bohlen matter, McCarthy proposed the use of a lie detector. He urged the lie detector for a witness, Lieutenant Perl, a naturalized American who had spent considerable time in German concentration camps. Although expressing doubt as to the usefulness of the device, the witness said he was perfectly willing to submit to it.

Then McCarthy said: "I think you are lying. I do not think you can fool the lie detector. You may be able to fool us. I have been told you are, very, very smart. I know you are a psychologist and a psychiatrist and work at it. I have been told I can get nothing from you in cross-examination and I think that is true. I am convinced you can not fool the lie detector."

The chairman of the investigating committee—McCarthy was not even a member—was former Sen. Raymond Baldwin (R-Conn.). Trying to be scrupulously fair, Baldwin pointed out difficulties in the use of a lie detector. That was Baldwin's struggle throughout the hearing for fair play.

One consequence was a harvest of publicity for the Senator almost as large as that received by the committee for its sober findings that there was little or no evidence to substantiate the charges of brutality. Another consequence, and this gets to the heart of the matter, was that Baldwin left the Senate to accept a judgeship in Connecticut. He told friends that if what McCarthy could do in the McCarthy case, he could do in the McCarthy case.

So an able and fair-minded man was driven out of active participation in political life. One can see this process going on again and again. In the Bohlen case McCarthy has moved closer to a larger target—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. He moved from point to point until he was accusing the Secretary not of mistakes and misconceptions but of deceit and untruths.

That is the steep slope which the McCarthy technique prepares for its victims. Sen. Knowland well knew this when he made his angry and anguished protest. If the technique is continued, there will be no one left who can be trusted with power in the United States except Sen. McCarthy himself.

Morse, Capehart Trade Poison Barbs

WASHINGTON—The reparations wasn't picked up by the press, but Oregon's bristled-browed Sen. Wayne Morse and Indiana's plump Sen. Homer Capehart had quite a brush the other day over Morse's request to move his seat out of Republican territory.

"I think the Independent party is entitled to have a few square feet on the minority side," he argued.

"Above ground or underground?" cracked New Hampshire's Sen. Charles Tobey, who was presiding temporarily over the Senate.

"I always work above ground," rejoined Morse. "However, I must protect myself so far as my back is concerned. That is why I would like to have a seat on the back row with my back to the wall."

"If we move the Senator's seat, as he requests," blurted Capehart, "what assurance do we have that he will not wish to move somewhere else in about 30 days?"

"I assure the Senator from Indiana that one great difference of many differences between us is that I take pride in my intellectual flexibility," shot back Morse.

"How can one entertaining that philosophy expect anyone else to believe in anything he says?" needed the Indiana Republican.

"Whenever the Senator from Oregon changes his mind on any question, he always sets forth the facts which suggest the change," snapped Morse. "I suggest to my friends like the Senator from Indiana that they get off the partisan line and substitute political principles for political expediency."

"Does that mean in the case of the independent party, which the Senator from Oregon is trying to start, that if I wanted to join the party, I would have to wait for perhaps 60 days before joining, because at the end of 60 days the Senator from Oregon might have new facts which would convince him that he should not after all start a new party?" replied Capehart, his voice dripping with sarcasm.

"I am sure my good friend from Indiana is speaking hypothetically," retorted the sharp-tongued Oregonian. "I cannot imagine the Senator from Indiana ever having the intellectual flexibility which would cause him to want to become a member of an independent party, and to place in first position an independent judgment."

"My personal opinion," Capehart rasped back, "is that the able Senator from Oregon thoroughly and completely and 100 per cent enjoys being different."

"I wish to assure the Senator from Indiana that I would not enjoy being like him. I enjoy that kind of difference," Morse replied.

That ended the debate.

NEWS CAPSULES—Anti-Ridgeway campaign—President Eisenhower is seriously disturbed by the anti-Ridgeway campaign now sweeping the French press. Ridgeway is being denounced as high-handed and arbitrary. Rumors are circulated that he is to be replaced. Suspicion is the French Army may be behind this anti-Ridgeway campaign; and like was scheduled to take the matter up personally with French Premier Mayer.

Irritable prime minister—Prime Minister Mossadegh of Iran is so burned up at Ambassador Loy Henderson that he has threatened to boot him out of the country. Henderson has been told that unless he stops seeing the Shah of Iran secretly, he will be declared persona non grata and forced to get out of Iran.

Small atomic bombs—The first atomic blast at Yucca Flat was strictly junior size—equal to about 15,000 tons of TNT. This was 5000 tons less than the first Hiroshima bomb. Yet we have not only developed atomic bombs several times more destructive, but our first hydrogen blast was actually equal to three and a half million tons of TNT.

MALCOLM EPLEY

Light Vote in Prospect for Friday

WHAT are the chances of a truly representative vote at the special city and regular school board election next Friday?

At this writing they are none too good, although obviously the issues before the voters are of such importance as to call for a unanimous turnout at the polls. In this writer's book, anything less than a 50 per cent vote in an election is not truly representative—and it seems hardly likely now that 50 per cent of the registered voters will mark ballots Friday.

For one thing, the time element is against a heavy vote. The election comes in spring vacation week in the schools, when many families take the opportunity to go on out-of-town trips. School teachers and others employed by the district like to get away in the vacation period.

Yet, considering the size of the registration (172,826) in the city and school district, absentee ballot demand has not been heavy. Something over 100 ballots were applied for at the school offices, and about 200 at the City Hall. Thus, while it looks like a week when many will be away, it also appears that relatively few have remembered to ask for absentee voting privileges.

Inadvertently, the election falls on Good Friday, which has aroused some objection on religious grounds. The City Charter sets the first Friday in April as the time for Long Beach school elections, and it happens this year to be Good Friday.

Voting in Long Beach school elections has usually been very light. Only about 12 per cent voted two years ago.

So far as the school board voting is concerned, it will undoubtedly be heavier in Long Beach precincts than usual this year because the interest in the municipal special election will pull people to the polls inside the city. Once there, they will vote on school offices as well as city issues.

The school district, however, includes not only Long Beach, but Lakewood, Signal Hill and Avalon. In those outside areas, the voting will be on school board candidates only, and special efforts to get people to the polls should be made there in order that all parts of the district will show proportionate voting strength on school board candidates.

TWO INCUMBENTS TRY

The fact that only two incumbents are running this year, with three positions open, should help stir interest in the school board contest. Eugene Tischer's voluntary retirement after 22 years of retirement the signal for a rush of candidates and 10 persons, including two incumbents, have filed for the three posts.

As for the voting on city issues, certainly consideration of $61 million worth of public projects call for a strong showing at the polls. Still, most observers of city political affairs doubt whether the voting will go over 35 per cent.

A word of caution is in order for citizens who favor the various projects on the ballot. There is a tendency among people who "go along" with an idea to ignore it on election day, while those who are opposed are more likely to go to the polls. Both sides should be fully represented next Friday, so that public opinion may be clearly and decisively expressed.

It is in order for every citizen to resolve now to vote on Friday, and to encourage his neighbors and friends to do likewise. Those of us who think the vote won't be more than 35 per cent would be happy to see our prophecies disproved.

L.A.C. SAYS:

Threatened legal action to stop the city from using this money should not change the voters' attitude. Such suits may be expected for years to come. Probably our greatest defense in a court would be evidence that the people actually control and had voted for use of the money on such worthwhile civic projects as those to be voted on next Friday.

Our real wealth that can be used for city-wide improvement has only started. It will come upon us in such great amounts we must be careful that we do not invest it unwisely by erecting projects and undertaking services which future generations will find too burdensome to maintain.

This should be of special interest to the young people. Some of them may be here paying taxes when the oil money has stopped flowing into the general funds. For that reason extreme care must be taken to study each project that may be presented. By their wisdom in voting Prop. F last November the people have control of the money in that they must approve set amounts for specified projects. But they must have proper advice and study of the projects if they are to choose wisely.

The 13 projects to be voted on Friday have been carefully considered. Of the projects, 11 were thoroughly investigated over an 18-month period by the mayor's committee under Eugene Tischer. That committee was, and still is, made up of 24 of the best citizens in our community. They represent labor unions as well as some of our most successful businessmen. They are all well known to groups throughout the city. That is the reason the projects have no organized opposition. The people trust this committee and the City Council.

The other two projects were carefully studied by other civic committees and have little opposition.

Surely this is a splendid example of democracy at work. None of this committee received one cent for the months they put in serving their fellow citizens.

If we are to be sensible we must look beyond these 13 projects. They represent only a fraction of the money that is to be used. We must not carelessly let this committee disband and leave the City Council at the mercy of pressure groups seeking to use the money for unwise purposes.

It seems apparent the people will give a big vote of confidence to this committee when they vote for the projects. That vote should also be notice to the mayor and City Council that the people want such a committee to be a permanent part of our planning program as concerns use of this tremendous inheritance.—L. A. C.

L. A. C.'s column is a regular feature of the daily Independent and Sunday Independent-Press-Telegram.

TOWN MEETING

Narcotics

TO THE EDITOR: The No. 1 menace to our way of life is the increasing use of narcotics and drugs. It strikes the young (and often innocent) first, paralyzes its victims' will power, and finally imposes upon them a living death.

Now is the time to act, for even a day's delay means some lives lost. Instead of spending a million dollars on some non-essential project, use it to clean out the vipers whose despicable trade is more devastating than any known human vice.

My solution: Through our school system organize every pupil and after informing them of the evils and dangers of narcotics, have them voluntarily sign a pledge never to use them. Also promise freedom of counsel and treatment to any addicts, and rewards to informers.

If you knew someone who always carried dynamite around, you'd never feel safe near him. Yet here we have peddlers and agents with more devilish substances, enticing and leading our young people towards ultimate doom.

Put teeth into the law. Instead of letting our young people fall into the abyss, us erect a strong fence around the edge of the cliff, in place of keeping an ambulance down in the valley.

FRED CLIFFE,
291 Lowena Dr.

Our Band

TO THE EDITOR: While we are on the million-dollar subjects, let us not forget about our own Long Beach

Municipal Band. Remember, it is still the capital of Long Beach and must have a nice hall all its own for year-around concerts.

The early pioneers of Long Beach built a special hall for their grand band concerts which attracted tourists from all over the world, but subsequent management locked the band out of its own Concert Hall, and allowed the band to stand idle for years, until it took on the appearance of being sort of moth-eaten, so to speak.

Long Beach must realize that our own band is still the biggest, the finest, and the most unique tourist drawing card Long Beach has ever had or ever will have.

MRS. A. G. WILDS,

Prop. 'H'

TO THE EDITOR: This is the first time I have ever seen all races, all creeds, and all colors united on a single project, Proposition H.

Even the union officials and bankers and businessmen and workers from all walks of life are 100 per cent behind this movement.

Let us hope that the health and welfare of our friends and our families is more important to the voters than suspicion, doubt, and the usual blindness of folks who are good citizens but who don't take the trouble to study the issues.

Proposition H is for the welfare of all people in the metropolitan Long Beach area. I hope Proposition H is unanimously approved.

lower latitudes, or they come booming over the Tehachapi Mountains to the north. Many times the trailing edge of the front sweeps like a well-ordered end run across Santa Barbara, Ventura and the Bay of Santa Monica to bring moisture to the semi-arid soil of the Los Angeles basin.

It is far and away beyond the ken of the average meteorology enthusiast to predict the arrival of a tropical storm. Considering the vast void of the Pacific to the southwest this is readily understandable.

RESIDENTS STILL SPEAK of the hard-hitting storm which lashed Long Beach in September, 1939, breaking a torrid heat wave which sent the mercury zooming to the 109 degree mark. The storm shattered shipping, drove one of Uncle Sam's heavy cruisers against the rock mole of Pier A, sent gigantic combers crashing against the beach and washed the city with a torrential downpour of warm tropical rain.

"The Weather Bureau had watched this storm as it rolled northeastward and had predicted its route to be across Baja California," Showalter said. "When the storm didn't reach Lower California it appeared that it had dissipated. What we couldn't determine at the time, but later realized full well, was that the energy-packed walloper suddenly did a reverse end-run, a sort of a Statue of Liberty play."

"It ducked back out to sea and then gathering a new head of 'steam' came barreling in on Southern California."

Like the proverbial ill wind, this storm clinched the necessity for a full-blown hurricane warning system which today is an important adjunct in the Los Angeles office of the government weather bureau.

About man-in-the-street forecasting of weather, Showalter said:

THE KEY to predicting weather or not weather fronts, loaded with rain and wind, will reach Long Beach and Los Angeles from their Aleutian Islands cradle is a pressure differential.

There are three barometer readings to be considered, he said.

"Check the barometer readings at San Francisco, Reno and Long Beach," he said.

"If the barometer is lower at Reno than at either San Francisco or Long Beach, the chances that the storm will continue southward are very slim. When the weather arrives at the Bay region under these pressure circumstances it will, in all likelihood, do a column left and roer across the Sierra Nevada, stacking layers of snow on the Donner Pass, and will rush on across the Great Basin to attack the saw-toothed mountains of the Wasatch Range."

However, if the pressure tables are turned and there is lower pressure at Long Beach than at Reno, the storm will stay on the "track" and roll on toward Southern California.

So, all you amateur weather forecasters, take courage. When you tell the little woman your predictions weatherwise, relax and take it easy. If you've checked the barometers, you're pretty much in the clear.

One thing for sure — there's no high pressure involved.

NEW! REVOLUTIONARY! Liquid Bleach in safe DRY form!

Replaces liquid bleach for laundry, kitchen, bathroom and farm use. No more clumsy jugs! Light, easy to handle!

It does everything liquid bleach will do—without the mess, the odor, the inconvenience and DANGER of splashy liquid bleaches.

Purex, one of the world's largest manufacturers of liquid bleach, has found the secret of making a heavy-duty laundry bleach in dry, granulated form. It's the biggest development in bleach making in 100 years. There's never been anything like it before!

1—Put water in washer. Your first easy step toward an angel-white, color-bright wash! PUREX DRY BLEACH gets your clothes truly antiseptically clean. You need use only half as much as liquid. Yes, PUREX DRY BLEACH takes less cupboard space, it's light, and easy to lift, measure and handle.

2—Add dry bleach and detergent. In tub or top-opening machine you put sparkling-white PUREX DRY BLEACH right into the water along with your detergent or soap. For front-door automatics—mix dry bleach in quart of hot water before adding to washer. PUREX DRY BLEACH is safer for your clothes.

3—Add clothes last. And when the job is done, you'll take out the loveliest, cleanest-smelling wash ever! Amazing new PUREX DRY BLEACH removes stubborn stains such as mildew, jam, berry and coffee. Remember, PUREX DRY BLEACH will do everything liquid can do—safer, more conveniently.

For deodorizing and disinfecting of sink, bathtub and toilet bowl you've never used anything so heaven-sent as PUREX DRY BLEACH! It's more than bleach—it's a four-way formula for super cleaning. Sprinkle it on lightly, as you would a cleanser. Crystal-dry PUREX "stays put"—foams as it cleans.

New liquid-bleach-in-dry-form is great for disinfecting dairy and hatchery equipment and other cleanup jobs. Added secret ingredient makes PUREX DRY BLEACH a disinfectant plus—a two-fisted cleanser, easy and safe to handle. And it puts an end forever to big, clumsy, easy-to-break jugs!

Woman Finds Father After 21-Year Hunt

A Long Beach woman's 21-year search for her father is finally ended.
Mrs. Edith Garland, 1223 E. 20th St., who has not seen her father since she was 10, learned Saturday morning that he is alive and residing in Seattle.
The news came in a letter from an aunt, Mrs. Theodore Nichols of Rochester, Minn., after Mrs. Garland, acting on a friend's suggestion, went to the Long Beach Public Library and checked through city directories for Rochester, where she knew her father formerly lived.

MRS. EDITH GARLAND
Search Ends in Seattle

The directory listed four Donaldson families, which is her father's name. She wrote to all four of them and one, though not related to her, relayed her letter to Mrs. Nichols.

Mrs. Garland and a brother, Richard Donaldson, three years younger, were separated from their father when their mother, following the couple's divorce, took the children with her to Oregon from their home in St. Paul, Minn., and instructed relatives not to tell Donaldson where they had moved.

Mrs. Donaldson, who remarried, was killed in a hunting accident when Mrs. Garland was 14, and the two children lived with their step-father's relatives for several years.

Mrs. Garland moved to Long Beach in 1946 and married Charles Garland, after an earlier marriage in Oregon had ended in divorce. She has three children.

Richard, her brother, remained in Oregon.

Greatly excited at the prospect of discovering a father she barely remembers, Mrs. Garland is visiting Donaldson, now a fireman for the Great Northern Railroad, in hopes a meeting can be arranged.

Legion Queen Will Rule at State Session

"Queen of the American Legion Convention" will be a new award for grace and pulchritude in the Long Beach area, entailing a new wardrobe and special honors for the chosen girl at the Department of California Legion Convention here July 29-Aug. 2, it was announced Saturday by members of the American Legion Convention Corp.

Queen candidates will be selected from among local high school, Long Beach City College and Long Beach State College coeds by the 16 Legion posts of this area and by any civic or service club desiring to compete. Determination of the queen will be by sales of tickets for a big Memorial Day patriotic and fireworks show on the evening of May 31 at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Proceeds from the ticket sales will be used to defray expenses of the convention, which it is hoped will be self-financed.

Winner of the contest will be staked to $100 worth of clothing of her own selection, will ride in a place of honor in the convention parade, and will attend all major functions of the conclave as a guest of honor.

Entries in the queen contest may be obtained at the Convention Corp. offices on the second floor of the Long Beach Municipal Auditorium, open week days from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The Memorial Show will include a $3500 fireworks display of a patriotic nature, the appearance of a massed choir composed of singers from all Long Beach Negro churches, exercises by the ritual team of the Forty and Eight, Legion honorary society; interdenominational religious services of a memorial nature, and other features. R. D. Carr of Lakewood and Charles R. Glenn of Signal Hill Legion posts, respectively, are co-chairmen of the show committee.

Plans for a parade lasting several hours and including many spectacular units have been outlined for the convention by Fred Nessler, parade committee chairman. Housing problems for out-of-town Legionnaires are under the direction of Anthony Feola, corporation president.

of Spring, long, long before our own Christian Easter. So, today, we're devoting these columns to, first of all, baking the ham properly, and then various ways of using that part which will be known as post-Easter, come Monday, April 6.

The recipe of the day comes from Mrs. Jennie Pritchard, 4133 Keever Ave. It is for ham loaf. It will be found elsewhere on this page.

And now . . . to bake the ham and then try the following suggestions for finishing it off:

TO BAKE: Wrap ham loosely in heavy paper or foil and place on rack in an uncovered roasting pan, fat side up. Insert a meat thermometer in center of thickest part of the meat away from the bone. Bake at 325 degrees F. until the internal temperature reaches 150 degrees F. This takes approximately 25 minutes per pound for half ham; 18-20 minutes per pound for a whole ham; 22-25 minutes per pound for a boneless, rolled ham.

TO SCORE: Half an hour before the ham is done, take ham from oven and remove wrapper and rind. Score fat lightly into squares or diamonds. Use kitchen cord fastened with toothpicks as guide lines for scoring.

TO GLAZE: Heat a mixture of one cup brown sugar and 1/2 cup of corn syrup and spoon over ham, a little at a time. Return to oven and finish baking at the same low temperature of 325 degrees F. Baste with the glaze occasionally.

Ham and Sweet Potato Patties
4 tablespoons margarine
1 cup ground leftover ham
1 cup mashed sweet potatoes
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed

2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1/2 cup finely crushed cornflakes

Combine ham, sweet potatoes, brown sugar and mustard. Mix well. Shape into patties. Roll in cornflakes. Pan fry in hot margarine slowly until a gold brown. Yield: 4 large patties.

Broiled Ham With Peach Halves

Use center slices cut 1/4-inch thick. If uncooked ham is used, score fat edges of ham and place on broiler set 4 inches under heat. Broil 5-8 minutes to the side. Place peaches on broiler rack around ham for last 4 minutes. Dot peach halves with butter and sprinkle lightly with brown sugar. If leftover ham is used, do not prebroil as indicated above, just proceed with the peach arrangement.

Pan Fried Ham and French Toast

Use ham cut into slices about 1/2 inch thick. Cut fat edges of ham to prevent curling and pan fry in small amount of fat, 4-5 minutes to a side. Remove to hot platter and make French toast in same pan. To make French toast: Dip slices of day old bread in a mixture of 3 beaten eggs, 3 tablespoons milk, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Fry until golden brown in 4 tablespoons of hot fat. Serve with tart jelly. Makes 4-6 pieces. If leftover ham is used, do not pan fry.

Ham Rarebit
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 pound American cheese (about 1 cup grated)
1 cup cooked ham, diced
Melt fat, add flour and mustard. Stir in milk, Worcestershire sauce and grated cheese. Heat slowly and stir until smooth. Add ham and cook over a low heat about 4-5 minutes longer. Serve on hot buttered toast triangles.

A GAIN it's almost Easter, an especially happy day for each of us. With the deeper meaning of Easter comes the blooming of springtime in our hearts as well as to the land—we feel a new surge of life within us, take on a new enthusiasm; in all, we're ready to take up life again in its own progressive, constructive way.

While the religious significance of the day is uppermost in our minds, our thoughts do turn to Easter bunnies, to new bonnets, fresh white gloves and, of course, a pot of Easter lilies. Please remember, however, that the dinner which graces your table is of equal importance to that Easter parade.

Ham, of course, is the meat selection, for it has been traditional as festive meat since festivals were given to the Goddess

Kitchen Tip:

Mrs. Pritchard's Kitchen Tip: When baking a cake calling for two eggs if you are short one, substitute a rounded teaspoon of corn starch.

Mrs. Pritchard's Ham-What-Am Loaf

1 pound ham
1 pound pork
1 pound veal
1 cup bread or cracker crumbs
2 eggs
1 cup milk
Pepper to taste
Grind ham, pork and veal—add other ingredients and mix thoroughly. Roll into a loaf and bake in moderate oven, 350 deg. F., one hour.

In the Easter Parade

Freshest fashions in the spring are always newest in the Easter Parade. The dress and jacket, close-buttoned or boxy suit, the costume-like dress, paired dress and coat all have a pretty-for-Easter air that holds through the season and, in many instances, is good for the summer, too. A point of difference with many new fashions is fabric, a point in common is the costume look. The slip of a dress that's covered up with a jacket may be in the finest of silks, the sheerest of wools or the most practical of cottons.

Soft as a dress is above Easter suit in lightweight Linton linen-and-wool and in navy-and-white mixture. Suit unites a scroll-button short jacket and slim skirt that's slightly peg-topped, with set-in pockets. Jaunty hat and furs complete the ensemble.

Complete with a vest—A Junior cut-away suit (left) of gray wool flannel has its own Tattersall-checked wool vest. It's for Easter and for the season after. With charmer hat, gloves and handbag—it's extra smart!

Make-believe bolero. Paced to spring's costume look is a one-piece dress of black faille crepe with a simulated jacket (right). Double collar of the fabric and white linen has centered bow of black and white dotted taffeta. The skirt has a center-back pleat. A sable capelet and wispy hat make up an ensemble as pert as pert can be!

Red Cross Leader Says Drive Lags

WASHINGTON — (UP) E. Roland Harriman, president of the American Red Cross, said the $93,000,000 fund drive is lagging. He urged local chapters to spur collecting efforts.

"The campaign is moving slowly," Harriman told the Red Cross's 3700 local chapters. "Unless the pace improves there is a likelihood that we will fall short of our goal."

The 1953 fund drive ends March 31. Harriman said latest reports put collections at $56,411,116.

Journey to Jerusalem

PALM SUNDAY
"Hosanna to the Son of David." Matt. 21:9.
I'm glad He had this glory day . . . His cross less than a week away . . . He rides in triumph through the gate . . . And multitudes participate . . . With palms and garments strewn His path . . . Despite the High Priest's jealous wrath . . . He does not let His coming: fate . . . Bring to His soul despair or hate . . . This day the city was His friend . . . As He approached His journey's end.

Light Plane Crashes; Cadet Escapes Death

SALINA, Kan. — (AP) A St. John's Military School cadet escaped with minor injuries Saturday in the crash of a light plane while he was making mock bombing raids during military maneuvers conducted by the school's cadets.

He was Orin Seybert, 17, of Pilot Point, Alaska. Seybert was bombing the cadets with flour-filled sacks when the plane clipped a tree and crashed.

$40,000 Goal Set in City's Cancer Drive

April fund appeal of American Cancer Society in Long Beach will be spearheaded by many civic leaders, Harold Smith, local chairman, announced Saturday.

The drive for $40,000 will include a direct mail campaign, personal solicitation for advance gift accounts and a residential canvass Apr. 20.

Among the volunteers addressing letters are William F. Prisk, Harry Buffum, Gus Leuking, George Ezell, Clint Furrer, William Grant, George Taubman, Llewellyn Bixby, Robert Armour, Ward Johnson and Mayor Lyman Sutter. The advance gifts personal solicitation will be under the Life Insurance Underwriters Assn., Don Burger, president.

The residential canvass to be known as the "Family Crusade Against Cancer" will be conducted Apr. 20 under the sponsorship of Junior Ebell. This group, through its leader, Mrs. Wilbur Seils, is soliciting volunteers and interested citizens are requested to contact her at her home or to call the American Cancer Society.

The society is carrying on research in most of the nation's medical schools, including projects at USC, UCLA and Cal-Tech. It sponsors diagnostic clinics at Seaside and Community Hospitals.

Celeste Holm Plans UN Talk

Traffic Signal Plan Up for Study

Adoption of the so-called "Modified Detroit System" of determining actual need for placing of new traffic signals at various intersections throughout Los Angeles County will be considered Tuesday by the Board of Supervisors. The advice of County Schools Superintendent C. C. Trillingham will be considered before the plan is adopted here.

Submitted by County Road Commissioner Sam Kennedy, the Detroit plan is based on a point system of grading various factors. If an intersection is found to earn less than 200 points, it will not get a signal system. Ratings between 200 and 300 indicate signals soon may be needed. All ratings above 300 points warrant new signals.

Kennedy said that the Detroit modified plan is being used successfully in Detroit, San Francisco, New York and other large areas. It would replace the present hit-or-miss system in Los Angeles County.

Supervisor Herbert C. Legg, several months ago, upon learning of so many new signals going up in his district, inquired as to what basis was being used, and the Kennedy report was in reply.

Spring Festival of Folk Dancing to Be Held Here

A Spring Festival of folk dancing is scheduled Saturday, April 11, in Municipal Auditorium, with hundreds of participants including groups from San Francisco, Ojai and Los Angeles.

Authentic -- and Lovely!

Authentic but lovely Rachel Jackson costumes worn by Susan Hayward stir up censors in "The President's Lady" set.

ful eyes, told the worriers:

"But this is authentic for the period."

As an aside, she whispered:

"As authentic as we dare be. Renie, the designer who whipped up my lovely Rachel Jackson costumes, showed me some pictures of the real thing. Wow! How those gals exposed themselves in those days!"

She went into a brief scene with her co-star, Charlton Heston, in which they bade their party guests goodbye. All the "guests" were men.

Susan nodded at the observation, commented:

"Sounds like every girl's dream — 18 men and one gal. Actually, it's a sad commentary on the snubbing the wife of the future seventh President of the United States suffered all her life. She was a fine, moral woman, completely devoted to her husband. Yet because Rachel and Andrew Jackson had married in the mistaken belief that her first husband, Lewis Robards, had divorced her, she was ostracized even after her remarriage to Jackson when Robards did get his divorce. The men-folk accepted Rachel for what she was—a victim of rumor—but the women never did. Why is it women are so cruel to other women?"

"Rachel died of a broken heart, while Andrew Jackson became President of the United States.

"No matter how you slice it, it's still a man's world."

Fireplace dining in a color
Old English atmosphere

By Eileen Ball

MOST PEOPLE, like Mr. Blandings, have a dream house. And Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Baker were no exception. Four years ago, after considerable planning and much dreaming, they got their ideal out of the realm of make-believe and onto a Garden Grove lot with a real roof on it! And no ordinary house it is, either! For, in addition to having a spacious living room, three bedrooms and four baths, this house at 12872 S. Gilbert St., has an unusual family room where every member of the household "gets into the act" of everyday living.

This room centers the house, dividing the living room and guest bath on one side and the three bedrooms on the other. Windows all along the west side of the room overlook the expanse of lawn that sets the house back from the street. Windows and French doors on the opposite wall open on a screened terrace.

The Bakers' family room is actually a kitchen, dining and leisure area combined. The kitchen section of the expansive 24 by 30-foot room is set apart from the other areas by a birch counter.

Over the kitchen sink is a window pass-through opening to the screened porch where trestle tables and benches invite al fresco dining.

Set in another corner of the family room is a huge random rock fireplace. Ranged around its inviting raised hearth are twin love seats upholstered in sturdy tweed. Mrs. Baker braided gay rugs for this area. An antique rocker provides another comfortable seat by the fire. And the whole cozy grouping is lighted by a lamp made from an old fashioned milk can.

In the corner of the room opposite the fireplace is the family's television set, a provincial console that blends beautifully with the mellow wood of the wall paneling.

BREAKFAST hour is a busy time in the Baker household, and the family finds it time-saving to dine at the handy kitchen bar. Visiting neighbors like to sit on the pull-up stools, too, for mid-morning cups of coffee.

But at dinner time the Bakers gather in the dining area of the family room which boasts a round maple table circled with captain's chairs. A matching hutch displays some of Mrs. Baker's choice pieces of antique china.

A second, more conventional living room is separated from the family room by an entry hall. Both entry and the living room are papered in a soft green provincial print paper.

340 Catalina Residents to Donate Blood

By sea and air, a Red Cross bloodmobile and its personnel will go to Catalina Island Friday as 340 residents of the resort island make their first mass donation of blood.

Registration of the donors was conducted by the Avalon Lions Club. One member, James Ford, on crutches because of a broken leg, hobbled about the village to sign up donors on pledge cards and his cast.

The final pledge was by Mayor Harvey Cowell, who signed Ford's cast in a civic ceremony last Wednesday.

The bloodmobile will leave Pier C, North 20, Friday at 4 a. m. aboard the converted landing craft Hercules. It will beach at Avalon at 9:30 a. m.

Fifteen doctors, nurses and technicians and a supervisor from the Los Angeles Regional Blood Center and seven nurse's aides and a supervisor from the Long Beach Chapter will leave aboard United Air Lines Flight 2062, which leaves Long Beach Municipal Airport at 9 a. m. and arrives at Catalina Airport at 9:20 p. m.

Donors will contribute blood, 15 each quarter hour, from 11:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Workers for Graham Brothers, Inc., and Connolly Pacific Co. will be brought in to the blood bank in buses.

The Hercules, with the bloodmobile aboard, will leave Catalina at 5 p. m., arriving in Long Beach between 11 p. m. and midnight. Blood bank personnel will leave by plane at 5:30 p. m., arriving at Long Beach Municipal Airport at 6 p. m.

Boy Wounded Seriously as Gun Goes Off

An 8-year-old Bellflower boy was wounded seriously Saturday afternoon by a .22-caliber rifle fired accidentally by a neighbor.

The boy, sheriff's deputies reported, Gerald Patrick Thomey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Thomey, 6049 Pepperwood Ave., was shot through the right hand and upper left shoulder.

Deputies said he was brought to Park Hospital, where attendants said his condition was "serious but not critical."

Det. Sgt. E. V. Carter said the shooting occurred as Robert L. Newell, 15, of 6055 Pepperwood Ave., was demonstrating operation of the rifle to the younger boy in the Newell home. He said young Newell told him he pointed the rifle at Gerald, thinking the safety was on, and it discharged.

Oil Men of 50 Nations Expected at Exposition

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) The Department of Commerce predicted that oil men from 50 countries will attend the International Petroleum Exposition at Tulsa, Okla., May 14-24.

In its Foreign Commerce Weekly, the department said the foreigners will be among 500,000 persons attending the event. A similar exposition in 1948 drew 300,000, including 15,000 oil men from 29 states and from 43 foreign countries.

Beautiful Girls, 'Little Black Books' to Figure in Midwest Vice Hearing

MINNEAPOLIS — (U.P.) Beautiful girls who earned up to $150 a night in Chicago's most lavish "call house" go to court Monday for one of the biggest vice trials in years.

The girls will be called as witnesses in the trial of Frances Elliott, 31, accused of transporting them from Minneapolis to Chicago for immoral purposes.

The case involves a vice ring that allegedly recruited coeds and other attractive young women from midwestern states, and kept tabs of the Dun & Bradstreet financial rating of its playboy customers.

Two "little black books," seized by the FBI in raid on the Chicago call house Jan. 27, list 1000 customers. After each name is noted the customer's financial status, his preference in girls, and the amounts they paid.

Some prominent persons could find themselves embarrassed, not only by being listed in the books, but by having the notation, "Sunday" after their names. Authorities said "Sunday" meant "cheap-skate."

Two other persons, Minneapolis hat operator John Gawron and divorcee Daisy Wheeler, were indicted with Miss Elliott. Both pleaded guilty when their cases came up in federal court last Wednesday.

Authorities said the sensational nature of the information contained in the little black books may have prompted the guilty pleas.

There was a possibility that Miss Elliott, too, might change her mind and plead guilty at the last moment. But her lawyer said he doubted it.

If Miss Wheeler pleads innocent and stands trial, Assistant U. S. District Attorney Alex Dim said the little black books will be introduced as evidence.

Dim said he has 45 witnesses ready to testify. Many of them are call girls, he said, recruited from Minnesota colleges. Authorities said some of them made as much as $10,000 in five months.

Miss Elliott, Miss Wheeler, 11 prostitutes and four customers were seized in raids on two Chicago apartments Jan. 27.

FBI agents said each apartment had two telephones and a secretarial service took calls when the apartments were empty. The FBI said the wife-slave ring operated behind a gift-buying gallery.

Federal authorities said the testimony might show that the ring was tied in with other groups in Iowa, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

FBI agents said most of the girls were "treated like queens" at first and were taken on a tour of swank bars. Then, when they were too drunk or tired to go home, agents said the girls were told to "go to work," and were beaten if they protested.

Long Beach CC to Attend Capital Session in April

Albert G. Davis, president, and D. W. Campbell, general manager of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, this week were selected to represent the Long Beach business group at the 41st annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Washington, D. C., April 27, 28 and 29.

"This year's meeting will present internationally known speakers from both government and business, and is expected to be among the most important ever held. Major issues raised by proposed national legislation and the new policies already announced by the Eisenhower administration will be among the topics of speakers and panel session members."

Laurence F. Lee, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the U. S., announced in extending the invitation to the local business leaders.

While in Washington, Campbell and Davis will confer with Congressman Craig Hosmer, Sens. William F. Knowland and Thomas Kuchel and officials of the Navy Department regarding local problems.

$25,000 REWARD FOR DYNAMITERS!

Southern California Edison Company offers to pay a reward of $25,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who dynamited the company's 220,000 volt transmission towers on Monday night, March 23, and Tuesday morning, March 24.

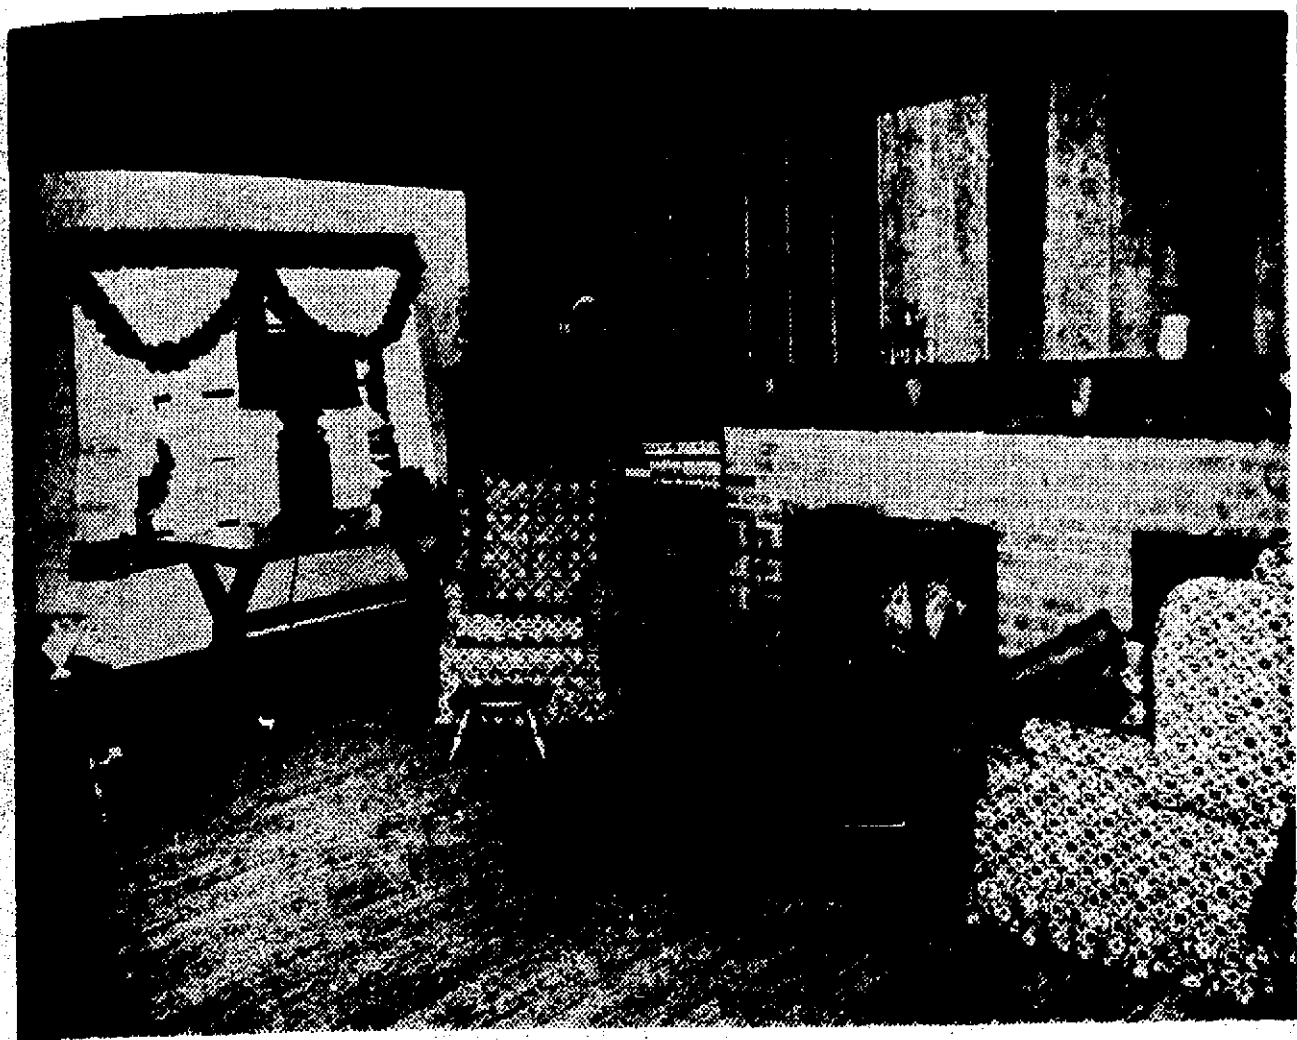

The two transmission towers which were dynamited Monday night, March 23, at 9:13½ and 9:14½ p.m., are located on the company's Chino-Pisgah 220,000 volt transmission lines (Mile 229, Tower #1) approximately four miles east of the town of Chino. These lines carry electric energy to the Edison system from Hoover Dam.

The towers dynamited Tuesday morning, March 24, at 7:36 a.m. are located on the company's Magunden-Saugus 220,000 volt transmission lines (Mile 183, Tower #1) approximately twenty-seven miles north of Saugus and three miles east of Gorman. The Edison Magunden-Saugus transmission lines carry electric energy from the company's Big Creek generating plants in the High Sierra.

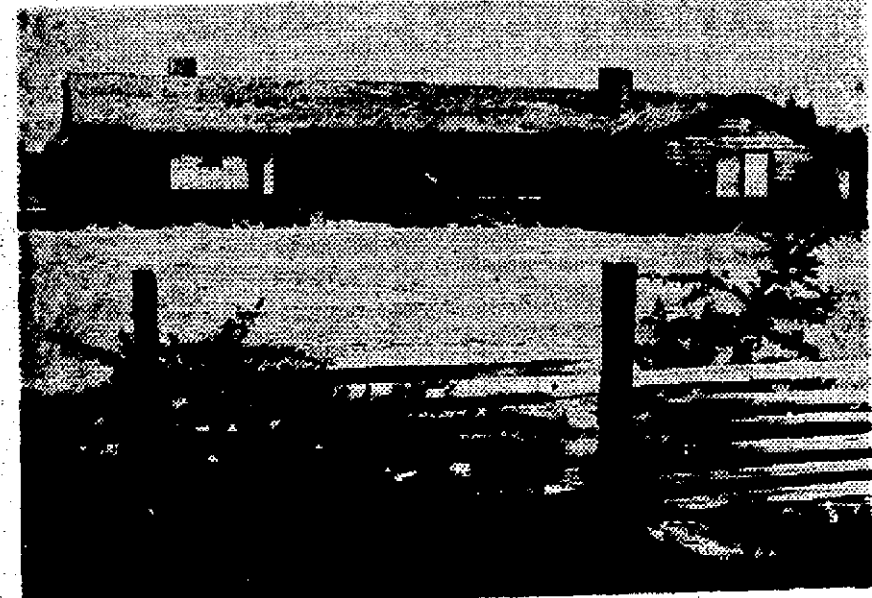

If you have any information concerning this sabotage, telephone the company collect at once, Los Angeles-Milchigan 7111.

same fabric trims the full muslin tieback curtains.

THE FIREPLACE in this room is made of used brick. The fireplace accessories, as well as the hardware on flanking built-ins, are all of black wrought iron. For a wood box, Mrs. Baker salvaged an old black iron wash tub. More wash day whimsies are the ancient flat irons that act as book ends on a near-by table.

Beyond the entry hall is the guest bath, a completely whimsical sort of powder room. It features, among other things, a polished birch counter top, a muslin skirt (to hide the efficiency of the drawers beneath) and walls papered in cranberry documentary paper.

On the other side of the Baker house, a hallway papered in a lively chintz pattern leads to the three bedrooms.

The back bedroom is the exclusive territory of the Bakers' two sons, ages 9 and 13. It is a sturdy room where no "hands-off" signs are necessary.

THE MASTER bedroom is carried out in true early American tradition. Walls and ceiling alike are papered in a small briar rose pattern. The bedspread is a white needle-tufted heirloom which overlays a green dust ruffle. The same green fabric is repeated in the ruffles on the unbleached muslin tieback curtains.

The third bedroom and its connecting bath is located on the front of the house.

Hybrid Petunia

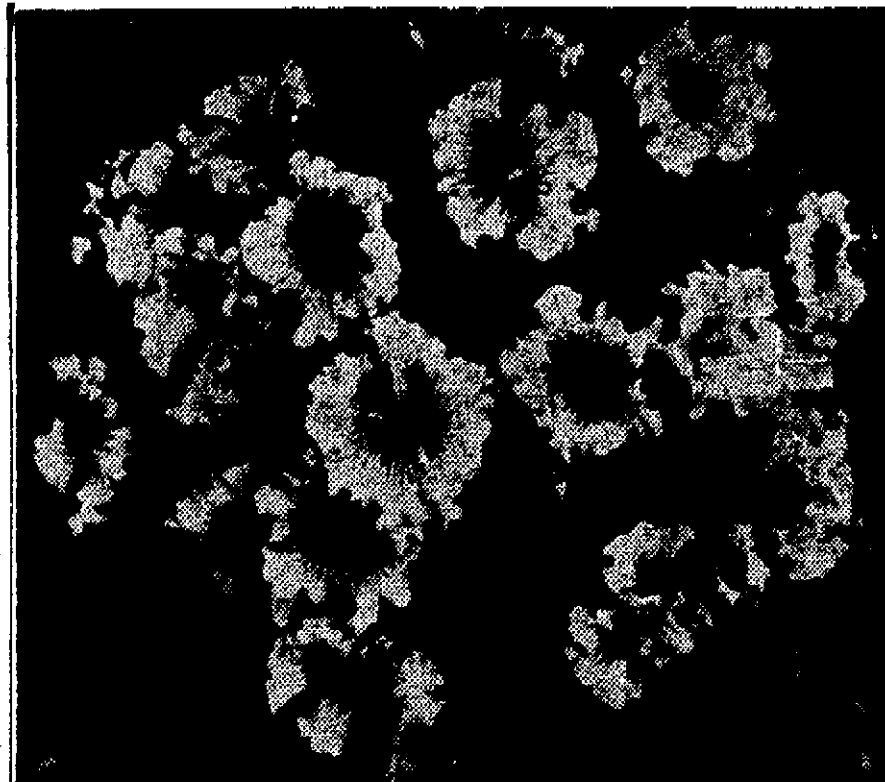

By Walter Finch

PETUNIAS are one of the least demanding of annuals. Even in the poorest kind of soil, and the hottest possible location, they will grow and bloom freely. And given the encouragement of good soil in a flowerbed, box or pot, they will respond with amazing beauty.

Hybridizers have greatly glamorized the fragrant flowers since the first petunias were discovered nearly 100 years ago in Uruguay. Today, while the chaste single flowers, which resemble small morning glories, are still popular, there are also far fancier types. In some single-flowered varieties the petals are gracefully waved or ruffled, in others they are even frilly. There also are various varieties with magnificent fully double flowers which look somewhat like African marigolds or double hibiscus.

Today's hybrid plants show improvements as striking as those in the flowers. They now range all the way from lusty growers that trail out three feet or so to compact dwarfs, under a foot tall, which still bear huge 4- to 5-inch blooms and are perfect for potting.

Plants of both dwarf and giant varieties, with single, ruffled or fully double blooms, now are generally available in flats according to the Bedding Plant Advisory Board. The colors usually offered are purple, rose, white, salmon, red and blue, with many delightful combinations of these. Because the tiny seeds are hard to handle, flat size plants are especially popular. Set them about 12 inches apart in beds now, or in pots or window boxes; they will bloom in about eight weeks and will continue to provide long-lasting flowers all through the summer.

Today's hybrid petunias ask little of the gardener and are productive of interesting flowers over long periods.

'Get a Hearse,' College Lads Advise Impecunious Students

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(AP). The strangest stunt in the Ivy League since goldfish swallowing and pantie raiding is second-hand hearse buying.

Canny college lads on some of the better campuses, Harvard, Yale, MIT, Williams and Brown among others, have discovered these bargain vehicles. Nowadays a converted hearse is apt to be carrying a gay skiing party to the mountains or a group of stags in tuxedos to a Saturday night frolic.

One Cambridge dealer has sold some 100 used hearses received as trade-ins on new models—since 1948.

He figures at least 65 of them went to college boys who use them for station wagons. The others were bought by undertakers with small businesses for whom style isn't so important.

Gil Kaplan of Miller Sales, Inc., of New England says the going price on the old hearses ranges between $150 to $400, depending on age, make and condition. Most of them have low mileage—hearses don't run up as many miles a week as a family car—and they usually are in fine mechanical condition.

Frequently college men, an often impecunious lot, pool their money for the purchase. They use them for private buses on vacations and holiday trips.

Tom Stearns of Meriden, N. H., a Harvard student, picked up an old hearse for $100, drove it to Alaska where he had a job and resold it there for $125.

"A hearse is very good—in fact, the perfect car," he said, "for somebody who doesn't care about appearance and is interested in economy and efficiency."

The Harvard Mountaineering Club has a converted hearse to

City Beauty Sponsors Tour East to Study

Beautification plans of major U. S. cities are being studied by two of the women sponsors of the "Long Beach Beautiful" campaign.

Mrs. Herbert E. Waite and Mrs. Helen Stanley Forker, two of the original sponsors of the move, left Long Beach last week for a four-week automobile tour of cities which have adopted long range beautification programs.

Their itinerary includes Kansas City, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Washington, D. C., New York City and Miami. They are making the trip at their own expense.

The two women hope to learn how the various cities adopt their beautification plans and how the park departments fit into the city governmental structure. They expect to report their findings to the city manager, mayor and City Council.

Mrs. Waite, the former Thurlayne Buffum, has lived in Long Beach since 1904. She is the sister of Harry Buffum, Mrs. Forker, for many years served as a trustee of the Buhl Foundation, which administered funds for the health, recreation and cultural advancement of Sharon, Pa.

Their fathers, Charles A. Buffum and C. H. Stanley served on

MRS. HERBERT E. WAITE
On Beautification Tour

Long Beach's first City Council under a city manager form of government. Buffum was mayor of Long Beach from 1921 to 1924. The two supported plans for beautifying Long Beach at that time, and one of their plans called for building a scenic boulevard from Long Beach, over Signal Hill, to Pasadena.

"I remember the day oil was discovered on Signal Hill," Mrs. Forker said. "I recall my father taking me to the hill and saying, 'Well, there go our plans for beautification.'"

Several weeks ago Mrs. Waite, Mrs. Forker and several other Long Beach women revived plans for citywide beautification. Recent appointees to the advisory council leading the campaign are Mrs. E. J. Bulgin, president of the auxiliary of Goodwill Industries, a member of the executive committee of the Long Beach Council of Churches and past president of the Long Beach Council of Church Women and Mrs. Charles Reed. Mrs. Reed is a member of the Recreation Commission and past president of the Long Beach PTA Council.

More than 30 organizations throughout Long Beach have endorsed the beautification program.

REGIONAL POLITICS

Six Entered In Race for City Council

By THE LOOKOUT

Although the election date hasn't yet been set, the Eighth District councilman contest is rapidly assuming the aspects of a free-for-all, with six candidates definitely in the field and many others itching to get in if they think the chances are worth it.

Saturday, however, one prospective candidate asked to have his name dropped from the list. L. A. (Bill) Roberts, member of the Civil Service Commission, said that the press of private affairs will make it impossible for him to seek the council job, though he has seriously considered making the race.

Regarded as potentially a strong candidate if he should run, Roberts threw his support to former Councilman George Ezell as he pulled out of the picture. "I think Ezell is the man for the job," he said. "He has the experience in municipal affairs, the good judgment and the integrity we want on the council."

Men who have announced their candidacies are Ted Crubley, J. Stowe Carney, Robert Dilday, Glenn Hughes, John L. Kelly and Ezell.

The election, to be held in the Eighth District only, probably won't come up until June. The council will set a date after Burton W. Chace's post becomes vacant when he is sworn in as County Supervisor April 7. Four days after the vacancy occurs all candidates must have formally declared themselves.

Assemblyman Willis W. Bradley, who is recovering from a heart attack at Oak Knoll Hospital, will get an assist with his legislative chores from a Long Beach attorney this week in Sacramento.

Atty. Milton H. Silverberg will represent Bradley in discussions of 13 bills to modify workman's compensation laws, which Bradley introduced into the Legislature. Five Assemblymen are aiding Bradley with his other legislative work.

Bradley reportedly is in good condition although doctors have advised against his returning to the Assembly at this time.

East Long Beach Democratic Club heard campaign talks by several of the school board candidates at a meeting held at the home of Gerald Desmond Thursday evening.

Keep Gardens Blooming

IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA you can garden during every month of the year. In fact, plants will flower in this area almost continuously. By careful selection you can have color and fragrance in your garden from January through December.

You might start with a low growing plant, the lobelia. This is certainly one of our best garden subjects for edging purposes. Lobelias grow rapidly from seed, a characteristic that is true of most annuals. It should be explained that an annual completes its entire life cycle in one growing season. Perennials, on the other hand, are more permanent but also take a longer time to flower.

Perhaps the best lobelia for local growing conditions is a variety named Crystal Palace. The flowers are dark blue accompanied by dark foliage. The plants hug the ground, rarely ever growing taller than four inches. Another interesting lobelia is Cambridge blue which has light blue flowers and green leaves. The plants like lots of moisture.

Marguerites and Shasta daisies flower intermittently throughout the year; frequently a few flowers will adorn the plants even in our coldest months. These plants belong to the chrysanthemum family and are extremely easy to grow.

Usually they are propagated from plants although seed is available of several strains of Shasta daisy. Marguerites and Shasta daisies want a spot out in the sun; they ask for little attention and are relatively pest-free.

One of the most dependable of all our flowering shrubs is the common geranium, botanically identified as pelargonium hortorum. These plants seem to grow like weeds. The worst thing you can do to them is coddle or pamper them. More geraniums succumb to over-watering than any other single obstacle. Geraniums serve a wide variety of uses, performing equally well in pots, for massing, as a ground cover, for bedding purposes and as specimen plants.

THE COREOPSIS is one of the few perennials that will flower the first year from seed. It is without doubt one of the easiest growing cut flowers. The golden-yellow flowers are especially radiant under artificial lighting. They will do a lot to add brilliance to a dark room. In the outdoor garden they must have a spot in the sun. The Double Sunburst is certainly the most spectacular member of this family. The flowers are large, golden yellow in tone and almost entirely double. The Mayfield giant is a single and about three inches across.

The semperflorens in begonia semperflorens indicates that the plant is always in flower. This seems to be true here in Southern California. This is a fibrous-rooted begonia and the flowers are much smaller than those of the tuberous-rooted type. Begonia semperflorens may be grown from seed or by obtaining established transplants at the nursery. Partial shade or full sun will prove ideal. Dark scarlet and pink flowers are available.

The old standby for free-flowering habits is the calendula. Its name, in fact, is derived from a Latin word indicating that the plant flowers during every month of the calendar year. Actually, the calendula is perhaps best known for its ability to bloom during our mild winters but it also performs well during the rest of the year. Orange King and Lemon Queen calendulas are for cutting purposes as well as for the outdoor garden.

Lobelia is a heavy producer of flowers, blooms appearing intermittently through almost the entire life cycle.

Four Books on Flowers

Four important books for flower lovers have just been published by M. Barrows & Co. Most helpful to the average Southland gardener are "Perennials for Every Garden," by Helen Van Pelt Wilson ($3.95), and "Annuals for Every Garden" by Dorothy H. Jenkins ($3) which discuss the site, planting and culture of a multitude of flowers that thrive in this area. Third on the list is "Gloxinias and How to Grow Them" by Peggie Schultz ($2.95). Gloxinias, beautiful and somewhat rare, are grown in pots and this book contains all the "how-to's" for successful culture. All these books are illustrated with photographs, some in full color. Fourth of these books is "Flower Arrangement Workbook" ($2.50) in which Myra J. Brooks gives 12 lessons in home decorating with flowers. Fifty-five photos make the text easier to understand.

HEAVY ON YOUR TOES?

Shari Says Dance!

Take a Tip From Teenage

By LEE CRAIG

IF YOUR CENTER OF GRAVITY is shifting south or if your friends huddle behind you in a high wind, take a tip from a teen-ager:

Dance.

That's the advice of 16-year-old Shari Stennette, Wilson High's pocket edition of Hedy Lamarr.

Shari, an emigrant from Omaha in 1942, has been dancing for seven years—with brief pauses, of course, for food, sleep and school. She's studied ballet, top, calypso, adagio and ballroom dancing.

IN A FORTHCOMING Singer workshop production here, "Music in the Air," she will try something new; a bubble dance.

Shari and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee W. Stennette, 4215 Livingston Dr., are convinced that if dancing won't help you, you're beyond aid.

"If you're fat, dancing will make you slim. If you're skinny, it builds up muscle and develops your appetite," Shari says.

NOT THAT SUCH THINGS matter to her. She has 107 pounds neatly arranged in a 5 foot, 3 inch package which automatically draws whistles.

Which brings us back to the bubbles.

"I've never tried anything like this before, but I think I can do it," the shapely little beauty said. "Right now, we don't even know where we'll get the bubbles, or what I'll wear, though I guess mother will see that enough of me is covered."

"I guess I will," Mrs. Stennette put in, rather grimly. "If you catch cold, it won't be my fault."

Shari, who hopes to make a career of musical comedy singing and dancing, will go to New York this summer with her teacher, Frances Bowling, for further study.

SHARI STENNETTE—Take a Tip From Teen-Ager

You Can Fly Overnight, See Tokyo by Afternoon

Taking off from Long Beach Municipal Airport at 6:15 a. m., a passenger can be at La Guardia Field, New York, at 8:50 p. m.

Or, with a 12:14 p. m. departure from Long Beach, an air traveler can be in Tokyo, Japan, at 2:18 p. m. the next day.

"Many Long Beach residents still are not aware that they can get connections from our airport to any point in the world," Glenn L. Arbogast, city director of aeronautics, pointed out today.

The word seems to be getting around, though. Arbogast said, for passenger traffic in and out of the Long Beach terminal has been increasing steadily over the past five years.

In 1949, Arbogast said, there were 34,100 persons who started or ended flights at Long Beach Municipal Airport. Last year, this figure had jumped to 51,579.

"With the rapid and continuing growth of the Lakewood area and also the development in Orange County, Long Beach Municipal Airport should show even greater strides in the next five years," the aeronautics director said.

Two scheduled air lines run daily flights from Long Beach—United Air Lines and Western Air Lines. United Air Lines offer a service to Catalina Island, and both offer flights north, south and east, with connecting flights to the Pacific.

Arbogast pointed out that a passenger can board United Air Lines' Flight 363, a twin-engine Convair, at 6:15 a. m., and with one change, to a four-engine DC-6B, will arrive in New York at 8:50 that same night.

Passengers desiring flights to the Far East could board Western Air Lines' twin-engine Convair, Flight 316, which leaves here at 12:14 p. m., and, with only two connections to four-engine air liners, land at Tokyo the following day at 2:18 p. m.

"The more passengers who fly from Long Beach, the better service the air lines will offer," Arbogast said, pointing out that Western Air Lines recently added another daily flight to meet the demand of air travelers here.

VOTE YES PROPOSITION B Recreation & Exhibit Hall

From TIDELAND
OIL FUNDS

VOTE YES on ALL 13 Civic Improvement Propositions

No Tax Money Required! Not a Bond Issue!
Self-Supporting, Without Any Cost to You!

What Is Proposition "B"?

Proposition "B" deals with the proposed annex to the Municipal Auditorium, to be known as the Recreation and Exhibit Hall.

What Is the Purpose of the Recreation and Exhibit Hall?

The proposed new building will augment our present inadequate Auditorium so as to house the largest conventions, shows, circuses, ice shows, and other attractions including an enlarged Miss Universe International Beauty Pageant. It will also house large religious and fraternal gatherings, plus annual Easter sunrise services.

Many of these attractions are by-passing Long Beach because of inadequate facilities. Other trade shows and exhibits which have come to Long Beach in the past, plan to go elsewhere if local facilities are not increased. These attractions not only provide entertainment and education, but bring many new dollars to our city.

What Facilities Will Be Provided?

The building will seat 15,000 people, be equipped with stage, refrigeration for an ice rink, and all modern facilities. Tentative plans call for 75,000 square feet of floor space, plus balcony.

What Location Is Best?

It is essential to connect the present Auditorium and the new annex to provide for meeting space, offices, committee rooms, banquets and entertainment. Also, it must be near the hotels. It would be economically unsound to build the Recreation Hall at any other location.

What Will the Recreation Hall Cost?

The funds for erecting the building and providing the necessary facilities will come from tideland oil revenue—money that we already have available for this purpose.

The cost of the buildings, estimated at $2,750,000, will not take one cent from upland oil revenue or funds allocated to the public improvement projects. The City already owns the land. No present taxable property will be taken from the tax rolls. It has been emphasized again and again that the Recreation Hall will not come from tax money nor a bond issue.

Will the Recreation Hall Be Self-Supporting?

Rental revenues will more than offset operation costs. Present boilers and other facilities will serve both buildings. The only added cost will be for a few minor employees.

Has the Recreation Hall Had Sufficient Long Range Planning?

This proposition has been studied for many years and has been recommended by a prominent cross-section of Long Beach business interests, labor leaders, civic-minded persons, fraternal organizations, church leaders, local newspapers, tax-paying groups and our City Council.

The City of Long Beach engaged the firm of Louis J. Kroeger to make an administrative survey. The report, dated in December, 1949, as a major recommendation said: "We recommend that the Auditorium facilities be improved."

"The park area back of the present building is seldom used. It would be possible to erect a relatively inexpensive, enclosed arena at the rear of the building, to be used for indoor sporting events, ice shows, and similar activities. Additional income produced by such facilities would soon pay the cost of the construction."

What About the Lagoon?

The proposed Hall will not detract from the lagoon, as it will be built on the land already available.

Is There No Danger From Subsidence?

Provisions have been made in the architectural plans for any possible subsidence.

Is There Sufficient Parking?

There are already more than 20 parking lots within 3 blocks of the Auditorium. Considerable additional parking space is planned for the near future. In addition, Proposition "L" specifically provides for the approach to the Auditorium and will give all needed parking space.

Is the Recreation Hall Part of Our Shore-Line Development?

The building of the Recreation Hall will positively be part of the development of our shore-line. Proposed sketches and approximate plans have been submitted to the City Council and at several public hearings.

Grow Fine Garden Gold

Annual flowers can change your garden scheme each year. This season, try growing this Golden Fleece Cockscomb.

By A. C. MacLeod

THE most wonderful thing about annual flowers is that you can change the "exterior decorating" to your heart's content. Did you have a blue and white garden last year? Then how about a red and yellow one this year? Try a new edging plant here; a new sun-lover there. Have as many cutflowers as you want. Annuals are quick growing, cover a lot of space, are infinitely varied and inexpensive when you plant them from seed.

A very unusual annual is Golden Fleece Plumed Cockscomb. Not the kind with the red "rooster's comb" but an entirely different type in the "Os-trichfeather" family. Only Golden Fleece is Ostrichfeather with a college education, for its ancestors emigrated from their native Mexico to Oklahoma and then to California, whose plant breeders proceeded to make the flowers kingsize. A big splashy plant for your garden scene, Golden Fleece grows 40 inches high and broad when mature, covered all over with huge golden plumes the size of a man's forearm on 20 to 24-inch cutting stems.

When the weather turns hot this summer, Golden Fleece's Mexican family tree comes to the gardener's rescue. This plant stands any amount of heat, and humidity, too, needs a minimum of care and suffers from no pests. Planted on a side property line, where it gets full sun, and given plenty of deep irrigation water (it likes wet feet), Golden Fleece will thrive.

The seed, though as small as Minute Tapioca, sprouts amazingly fast and from that time on growth is continuous and fast.

Along the "exterior decorating" line, here is a new combination: Golden Fleece in back, a row of the new rosy-carmine Lipstick petunias next, and then a band of the new All American winning Royal Carpet Alyssum as an edging plant.

Both Golden Fleece and Pampas Plume are fine as dried blooms for winter decoration, as well as cutflowers.

Tips on Gardening

GARDENING tips for the week . . . Cymbidium orchids are comparatively easy to grow and can be raised outdoors in a protected spot. A few of the more attractive varieties are Curlew, Lilian Sanders, Hugh Evans and Louis Sanders.

For indoor culture, the lily-of-the-valley is a most interesting plant to grow. The pips will flower in three weeks. The flowers are small, white, bell-shaped and quite fragrant.

For exotic effects plant the tropical appearing Bird of Paradise. This interesting plant with its gay color tones of blue, orange, red and yellow will prove one of the most exciting subjects in your garden. It likes a sunny spot.

BOOK REVIEWS

Through America's Heart

ONE OF THE MOST pleasant trips you'll ever take is "U. S. 40" (Houghton Mifflin, $5), a 3091-mile jaunt by auto from Atlantic City through the heart of America, over the Rockies and High Sierra, and winding up at the junction of

By Fred Taylor Kraft

Book Editor

north-south Highway 101 in San Francisco.

Original in concept, informative with carefully selected background material, profusely illustrated with striking photos by the author, and maps by Erwin Raisz, this handsome book is exactly the expert and entertaining job one would expect from the pen of George R. Stewart who already had come a long way with such fine novels as "Storm" and "Fire."

"U. S. 40" is not a guidebook in the sense that it describes what is seen by following an ordinary road map. Here the motorist escapes from the parkways, is told how highways developed from the "Dark Ages" (beginning of the automobile era), is given traffic counts as he whizzes along, and is made acquainted with place names and just enough historical background and what is seen en route to make him want not to put off pulling into a motel but to keep going, see more, be told more.

Californians may think that the book, starting on the east coast and winding up at the Golden Gate, is written backwards for them. But it really makes no difference. They'll forget that little detail once they leave Atlantic City and head for Baltimore.

Castle Come True

A father's promise to build his small daughter a real castle is made good in "My Mystery Castle," an autobiographical tale by Mary Lou Gulley (Murray & Gee, Culver City, Calif., $3.50). Miss Gulley inherited a fantastic structure near Phoenix and her story deals with the struggle to maintain it, and her refreshing naivete is equalled only by her grit and determination to hold fast to her father's dream. Incidentally, the "castle" got a five-page treatment in Life magazine.

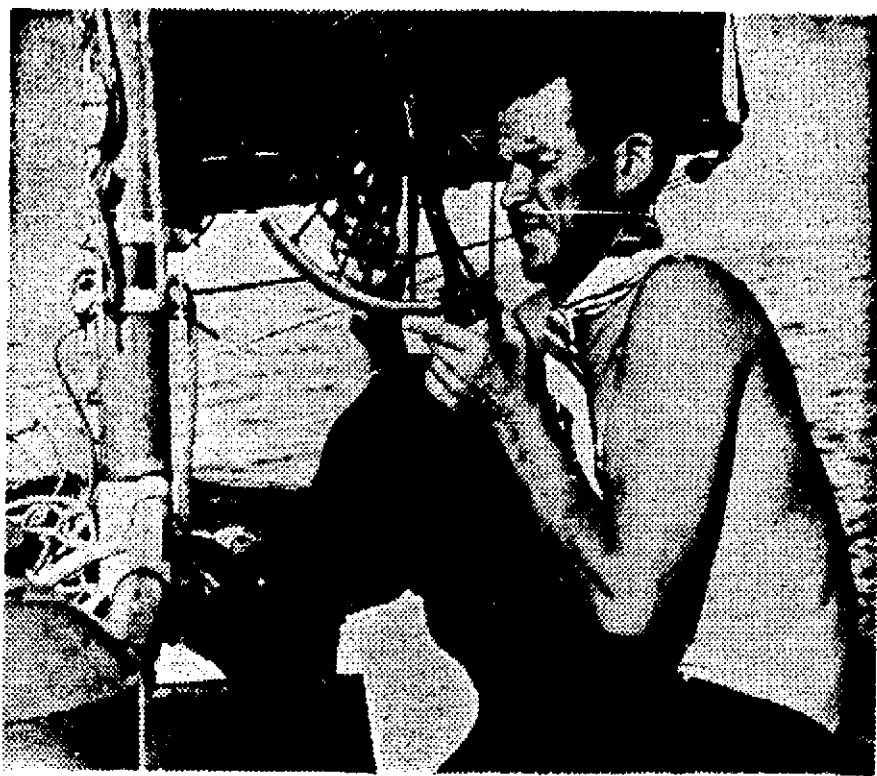

Art Instruction

A new and different approach to art instruction can be said truthfully for "Primer of Drawing for Adults," by Howard Simon (Sterling, $5). Based on visual and emotional responses, this quickened method utilizes principles of the "linear edge" and "characteristic movement" to develop a new freedom in learning to draw that attains the full measure of art as a means of self-expression.

Artist, illustrator and instructor in art at New York University, author Simon knows his field.

Here Is Shanghai

A panorama of Shanghai of the last three decades — from Gracie Gale's house and girls on Kiangse Road to Chiang Kai-shek — comes to life in "Shanghai and Beyond" (Scribner's, $4). The author is Percy Finch, long a reporter and correspondent in China, who instinctively knows what the average reader wants to learn about the Orient and take pains to lay it on the line. Here is a glimpse at life in a nervous city, its people, its intrigue and how communism came this way.

Hans de Meiss-Tenffen sailed solo across the Atlantic in a record-breaking 58 days, cruised the Indian Ocean in a square-faced dhow, dove for pearls in the Seychelle Islands, built a jungle hotel and hunted big game in Africa, became a counter-spy for the British during the war, and later parachuted into France to take part in the Resistance. He recounts his fantastic adventures in "Wanderlust" (McGraw-Hill, $4) and they are fascinating reading.

Late Fiction Shelf

Thumbnail reviews of late fiction:

"Stars in the Water," by John Appleby (Coward-McCann, $2.75). A psychological novel which probes the mind of Alan Setan who returns from two years in Africa to find himself unable to re-establish himself. Swift, sure, subtle.

"The Little Emperors," by Alfred Duggan (Coward-McCann, $3). Britain under the Roman heel of the Fifth Century. Intrigue and murder; tedious in spots.

"Mrs. Hulett," by Bertram Bloch (Doubleday, $3.50). Based on a woman's need to feel herself loved. Good light reading.

"The Tiger in Summer," by Michael Keon (Harper, $3.50). Based on real people and situations, presents Red Chinese as riding a tiger they cannot dismount. Good reading.

"The Buffalo Wallow," by

Charles Tenney Jackson (Bobbs-Merrill, $3). Enchanting picture of the life of two Nebraska boys 70 years ago. Nostalgic, humorous, superb!

"To Follow a Flag," by Will Henry (Random House, $2.75). Historical novel written around outlaw Palouse Indian chief Kamiakin, a trap Kamiakin sets for a small U. S. Army force, the beautiful daughter of a general. Lusty, swift-moving.

"The Golden Season," by Oriana Atkinson (Bobbs-Merrill) $3.50. Catskills are setting for the exciting developments of early 1800s, including western movement and war of 1812. Interestingly told with robust language.

"The Waiters," by William Fisher (World, $3.75). Frustrations, sympathetically told, form background for pattern of events which plague the lives of fictional Negroes. Graft, sex, injustice.

New Books at the Library

Han Suyin, an Eurasian woman doctor, tells the story of her love affair with Mark Elliott, an English correspondent, with charming frankness in "A Many-Splendored Thing," one of many new books at the Public Library. Other arrivals:

Biography: "The Life and Good Times of William Randolph Hearst," by John Tebbel.

Travel: "The Mary Celeste," by J. G. Lockhart.

Fine arts: "Built in U. S. A.:

For Boys and Girls

Here are new books boys and girls will like:

"The Colt of Cripple Creek," by Elisa Bialk (World, $2.50). Early teen-agers will go for this warm yet exciting tale of 11-year-old Clint Matthews and his colt, Gingerbread, in a rough Colorado gold mining town.

"The Horse With the Easter Bonnet," story by Jane Thayer, pictures by Jay Hyde Barnum. Adventures of Josie, Central Park carriage horse, will fascinate young children, draw chuckles from grownups (Morrow, $2).

"Indian Drums Beat Again," by Frances McGuire (Dutton, $2.50). Early teen-agers will thrill to young Rocky Matthews' visit to Mackinac Island and his adventures there with a young Indian, Strong Eagle.

Postwar Architecture," by Henry-Russell Hitchcock; "A Century of British Painters," by Richard Redgrave.

Useful arts: "Woodworking Machinery," by Anglo-American Council on Productivity; "Metalworking Machine Tools," by British Productivity Council.

Other non-fiction: "The Mentally Retarded Child," by Dr. Abraham Levinson; "Health Instruction Yearbook," edited by Oliver E. Byrd.

Fiction: "Great French Short Novels," edited by Frederick Wilcox Ducee; "They Died Laughing," by Alan Green; "Landfall," by Helen Rose Hull; "Day After Tomorrow," by Ruth Adams Knight; "Death by Association," by Richard Lockridge; "The Ivory Grin," by Kenneth Millar; "Saddle by Starlight," by Luke Short; "Death of an Intruder," by Nedra Tyre, and "The Weapon Makers," by Alfred E. Van Vogt.

Nothing 'Old Hat' Here

HOMBURGS MAY BE preferred by President Eisenhower, but to attract attention in the Easter Parade the ol' chapeaux ought to have a little zip. At least, that's the opinion of model Pat Behan, who wore a collection of bar utensils to a Mad Hatter's contest, and Joe McCullough, who just isn't about to get caught in outer space without a helmet to ward off stray ray blasts. Remind you of anything you've seen lately, men?—(UP Photos.)

Gains Listed in Red Cross Gift Roundup

More than $160,000, or nearly three-fifths of the $263,360 quota for the long beach 1953 Red Cross fund campaign, was reported raised by Friday in gifts and pledges, Lewellyn Bixby Jr., campaign chairman, announced Saturday.

This represents $90,170 in major gifts and $70,299 in home gifts, said Bixby. Their total of $160,469 is 59.7 per cent of the total quota.

Two major gifts divisions and two home gifts areas have reached their goals: Belmont Shore business, Omer D. Akin, chairman, 111.3 per cent; state employees, Victor Hietzel, chairman, 102 per cent; North Long Beach homes, Mrs. Burton Chace and Mrs. George Skeith, co-chairmen, 111.6 per cent, and Lakewood-Los Altos homes, Mrs. Eugene C. Hamilton and Mrs. J. G. Summers, co-chairmen, 103.6 per cent.

OVER THE TOP
Mrs. Francis J. Heusel announced 17 women colonels' divisions have gone over the top since March 22.

Leading divisions, their chairmen, percentage of quota reached, amount reported and increase over a week ago are:

Belmont Shore business, Akin, 111.3 per cent—$1336, up $106; State employees, Hietzel, 102 per cent—$510, up $7; City employees, Hal Levy, 94.8 per cent—$6185, up $2463.

Department stores, Harry Galbraith, 94.1 per cent—$12,245, up $3749. Home gifts, Mrs. Heusel, 90.1 per cent—$70,299, up $12,525. American Avenue, Gordon E. Alexander, 90.1 per cent—$2254, up $61.

Industrial Palmer Schumacher, 81.4 per cent—$4884, up $3120. Downtown business, Samuel Leddel, 80.7 per cent—$5248, up $842. Airport, Bob Cunningham, 80.3 per cent—$482, up $330.

Long Beach School District employees, Douglas Newcomb, 75 per cent—$5287, up $614. Petroleum service and supply concerns, Thomas C. White, 67.8 per cent—$3584, up $1196. Office buildings, David W. Bryant, 66.1 per cent—$6942, up $1414.

Federal employees, Howard Goodwin, 61.7 per cent—$2160, up $128. Petroleum firms, Harold E. Smith, 61.5 per cent—$6153, up $512. Special gifts, E. J. Amar, 56.2 per cent—$2250, up $1190.

North Long Beach business, Glen A. Gerken, 52.7 per cent—$1582, up $999. Corporations, H. J. DeLacy, 33.8 per cent—$19,571, up $1211. Anaheim Street, Clive Graham, 25.5 per cent—$658, up $515. Lakewood business, Don Nelson, 24.1 per cent—$482, up $482.

Automobile dealerships, H. E. Ridings Jr., 23.3 per cent—$1165, up $280. Military, 12.3 per cent—$2395, up $786. Harbor concerns, Jack Brown, 10 per cent—$100. Miscellaneous, 23.6 per cent—$4737, up $5.

Home Gifts Division: North Long Beach, Mrs. Burton Chace and Mrs. George Skeith, 111.6 per cent—$3350, up $867. Lakewood, Los Altos, Mrs. Eugene C. Hamilton and Mrs. J. G. Summers, 103.6 per cent—$6325, up $562. California Heights, Bixby Knolls, Los Cerritos, Mrs. A. A. Carrey, 92.4 per cent—$10,358, up $2380. West Side, Mrs. V. Becker and Mrs. T. J. Hand, 85.8 per cent—$11,669, up $1702.

Belmont Heights, Belmont Shore, Naples, Mrs. Norris A. Nesmith and Mrs. J. Allen Sprague, 83.8 per cent—$19,169, up $4080. Miscellaneous—$3498, up $206.

GIVING MORE

"While the campaign ends Tuesday and we're just 60 per cent up our ladder," said Bixby, "we're not worried about more than making our goal."

The reason, he explained, is that many more people are giving this year than last—and many are giving more than they did last year.

"For instance," he said, "large businesses are giving more. Sears, Roebuck and Co. more than doubled its gift in 1953 over 1952. Mytinger & Casselberry, Inc., gave 33 per cent more this year, and employees of General Telephone Co. gave 25 per cent more. The trend is upward everywhere."

Nixon Backs Ike on Bohlen

NEW YORK — (UP) Vice-President Nixon arrived by plane today for a Long Island Republican dinner and said he "goes along with the President" on Moscow Ambassador Charles Bohlen.

Nixon noted first that he had taken no part in the Senate controversy prior to confirmation of Bohlen yesterday.

The Vice-President was asked by reporters about a report that he would soon go to California for a rest because of overwork.

Nixon said there was "absolutely no truth" in the report. Arriving a short time after Nixon for the same dinner was Rep. Martin (R-Mass.), speaker of the House.

Nixon, who had stopped to give autographs to some 50 Boy and Girl Scouts from Brooklyn's Flatbush, introduced the speaker to the children, who gave Martin a cheer.

Nixon and Martin came to attend a dinner sponsored by Nassau County Republicans as a testimonial to surrogate and former Congressman Leonard W. Hall.

Hospital Steps Death Blamed on Pneumonia

EAST LOS ANGELES — (UP) The mystery death of 25-year-old Korean War veteran who died on the steps of Holy Cross Hospital here last March 1 Saturday was attributed to lumbago pneumonia. Police said the person who left Richard H. Abajian on the door step is still unidentified.

It's Fun to Be Fooled

Auto Crash Kills 3 San Fernandans

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (UP) Three failed to take a curve, finally hit San Fernando Valley men from a culvert, hurtled through the air and came to rest.

California were killed Saturday when their car went out of control and rolled over and over for more than 700 feet on U. S. Hwy. 91 18 miles south of here.

Sheriff's deputies identified the dead as Hart Robinson, 28, North Hollywood; Ralph Yobs, 28, Northridge, and Conrad Robert Holden Jr., 27, Pacoima.

A fourth occupant, Holden's wife, Marianne, 22, was thrown out of the car and taken to Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital in a state of shock but attendants said she apparently escaped serious injury.

HOUSE IN CREEK

TV, Deep Freeze Available for Fish

OSCEOLA, Wis. — (UP) Trout and other fish in Osceola Creek got a 10-room house Saturday, complete with television and a deep freeze chest.

The house toppled into the creek when a small bridge gave way. The dwelling, containing all the belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carlson, was being moved from a farm to the village of Dresser Junction, five miles away.

Cherry Blossoms 'Jump Gun,' Pre-Festival Jam at Capital

WASHINGTON — (UP) Tourists and Washington residents turned out by the thousands Saturday to see the capital's famed cherry blossoms at their prettiest.

The unpredictable trees which time the tidal basin hit their blooming peak in advance of the annual Apr. 8-12 cherry blossom festival which attracts tourists from all over the nation.

Traffic on U. S. Highway 1, which passes near the basin was clogged by sight-seers. There were more people in downtown Washington than at any time since President Eisenhower's inaugural.

American Automobile Association said it expects 40,000 out-of-town visitors this week end. An additional 100,000 Washingtonians are expected to add to the jam.

The weatherman and the U. S. Park Service were co-operating with the onlookers. The Park Service sprayed the basin trees with hormones in hope of keeping the blossoms alive until the festival.

The weather bureau forecast cloudiness and mild for today, with halmy weather continuing into this week.

The blossoms now out are single blossoms. In about two weeks the double blossoms will burst into bloom on the trees in Potomac Park, about a mile from the tidal basin, and are expected to be in full bloom for the festival.

Where Our Unwed Mothers Find Shelter

One Baby in 20 Born Out of Wedlock

By VERA WILLIAMS

California social workers say one baby out of every 20 in California is born out of wedlock.

Kathryn Lenroot of the Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C., says one out of every five babies born to mothers under 21 years of age in America are born out of wedlock.

What about the Long Beach girls and women without wedding rings on their fingers who face motherhood. What do they do? Where do they go? What do they do about their babies? How do they adjust their lives afterwards?

The problem of an unwed expectant mother who has plenty of money is one thing. She can go on a "vacation" trip to Honolulu or some other distant place and come home with a sylph-like figure, a little older and much wiser.

But how about the ones without much money, or who for some other reason have to stay home or close to home? How do they face the paralyzing fear? Who sees them through?

SHELTERING ARMS

Sheltering and understanding arms are stretched by the Catholic Welfare Bureau and the Salvation Army. The Catholic Welfare Bureau, 123 E. 14th St., takes or sends patients to St. Anne's Maternity Hospital for Unwed Mothers, 155 N. Occidental Blvd., Los Angeles. The Salvation Army, 329 Locust Ave., takes or sends patients to the Salvation Army Booth Memorial Hospital, 2670 Griffin Ave., Los Angeles.

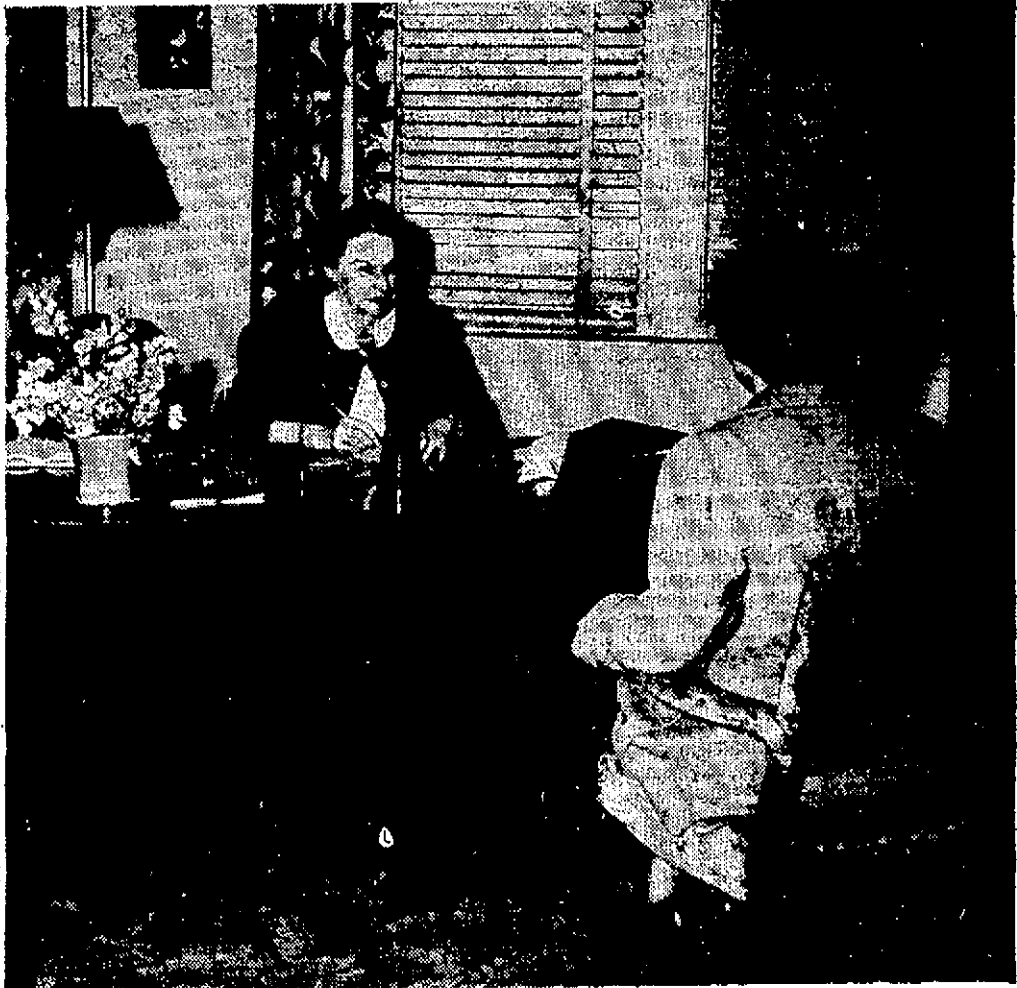

In both hospitals, in pleasant settings, the patients get care comparable to that received in high-priced hospitals. Right now in St. Anne's are seven patients from Long Beach and in Booth Memorial are five patients from Long Beach. And don't blame the Navy, either—some of the fathers are civilians. And some of the fathers are married.

Also, you needn't think that every girl who gets into trouble is young and innocent. One patient from Long Beach last year was 40 years old and had a Ph.D. The youngest was 12.

LOVE AND MONEY

Although, according to the social workers, most of the patients were or thought they were in love with the men involved, a few sought thrills or experience or luxuries or money. A few, of course, are victims of assault. If a girl is very young, the social workers usually blame her parents for negligence or lack of understanding.

In St. Anne's, operated by Franciscan Sisters of the Sacred Heart, an order of Catholic nuns, the patients are admitted all the way up her mind before the baby is born. She has a long, quiet period of reflection after the birth of the baby, and after her life has become normal to decide. About 60 per cent keep their babies.

St. Anne's is across the street from the Holy Family Adoption Service, and the Long Beach branch of the Holy Family Adoption Service has an office in the Catholic Welfare Bureau here. It should be stressed that the Holy Family Adoption Service places babies in Catholic, Protestant and Jewish homes. The natural parents—or as it usually works out, the natural mother—choose the religion in which the child is to be reared, and it is placed in a good home of that designated religion.

Anyone wishing to adopt a baby from the Salvation Army Booth Memorial Hospital must go through recognized adoption agency channels.

Clinic service. Both hospitals offer pre-natal clinic service, as well as care for the mother and child during and after delivery. Obstetricians, pediatricians and consultants work hand in hand for the long-time welfare of mother and child.

St. Anne's greatest age group is from 18 to 24; second largest from 25 to 31; third largest from 32 to 37. The Booth Memorial Hospital breaks down the figures as largest group from 17 to 30; second largest from 12 to 18; third largest from 21 to 30. The youngest mother on record is 11; the oldest is 43.

Catholic services are offered at St. Anne's; Salvation Army services at Booth Memorial. In both hospitals patients are free to attend other churches of their choice.

Many of the patients who have been in these hospitals live near you . . . and you . . . and you. You know some of them as successful wives, mothers and/or career women. Their babies in many cases are the cherished adopted little folks of your friends.

HOT ROD

Auto Flames With Gasoline in Radiator

SEATTLE—(AP). Flames shooting from the radiator of their rear-engine French automobile startled Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dixon of Tacoma, Wash., but the explanation was simple. A service station operator, confused by the unfamiliar model, put gasoline in the radiator instead of the gas tank.

FRANCISCAN SISTERS of the Sacred Heart operate St. Anne's Maternity Hospital for Unwed Mothers in Los Angeles. Sister Luella welcomes a newcomer at the Catholic institution.

$7.50 LAWSUIT LOSES $20,000

COLUMBUS, Ind.—(AP). It cost a Columbus businessman $20,000 Saturday to accuse an employe of embezzling $7.45.

Robert D. Perry of Columbus won a $20,000 judgment against James Cook, Columbus shoe store owner from Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The suit alleged malicious prosecution.

Perry worked for Cook in a store at Wabash, Ind., in 1951. Perry was acquitted of an embezzlement charge filed by Cook at Wabash.

Stage Prepared for Top-Secret A-Blast Tuesday

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—(AP). Scientists and military men hastened final preparations Saturday for another top secret atomic explosion at the Southern Nevada A-bomb test site, the third such blast of the 1953 spring series.

As with the atomic blast earlier in the past week, secrecy shrouded the preparations for the detonation expected to be touched off shortly before dawn Tuesday, the weather permitting.

The only concrete fact known was that the Army's new monster cannon was not to be fired this week.

Special Risks, Not Taxation Keeping U. S. Money at Home

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP). Harvard law school program in international taxation, Dan Throop Smith, Harvard school of business administration; and Ira T. Wender, New York attorney, completed his work on the study before being appointed as assistant to the Secretary of Treasury, and the study notes that "his status as joint author carries no implication as to the position of the U. S. Treasury Department on matters contained herein."

With a recent grant of the Ford Foundation, the U. N. said it hopes that the Harvard law school will continue to co-operate in the future studies, which will deal with tax policies of countries other than the U. S. and the effect they have on the flow and direction of foreign investment.

The survey's 80 pages on U. S. income taxation of private investment in Latin America — from which the preliminary conclusions were drawn—said that "in general, foreign investment is regarded (in the U. S.) as a new frontier and appeals only to the more adventuresome investors."

British Rush Troops to War on Terrorists

NAIROBI, Kenya—(AP). British troop reinforcements will begin arriving by air Tuesday to join the drive against Mau Mau terrorists who have killed more than 130 pro-British natives in the past two days.

Police and security forces announced Saturday that 1000 Kikuyu tribesmen have been rounded up for screening since the massacre of at least 120 loyal natives Thursday night near Nairobi. Police said between 200 and 300 had been identified as taking part in the raid on the village of Lari. Six known terrorists have been killed.

In a new outbreak last night, a band of 100 terrorists, armed with pistols and rifles, attacked a village near Nyeri and killed at least 12 native home guards. Nyeri is 60 miles south of Nairobi.

The Mau Mau is a secret native society pledged to drive the white man from Kenya and draws its members mainly from the Kikuyu tribe. The British government declared a state of emergency last October and flew in troops to augment Kenya police and home guard forces.

The new reinforcements are being flown in from Britain. Their number has not been announced. Stores and supplies began arriving by air Saturday.

Carrot King Dies After Surgery on Swallowed Bridge

LA JOLLA—(AP). John George Zenos, who rose from penniless immigrant to become a millionaire Imperial Valley farmer before he retired to La Jolla in 1941, will be buried at Inglewood.

Zenos, 62, whose one-time vast holdings in the valley earned for him the unofficial title of "carrot king," died Thursday after undergoing surgery here.

The family withheld announcement of his death until Saturday. His physicians said he swallowed a dental bridge Feb. 21. Attempts to remove it by surgery failed, the doctors said.

Mackerel Catch at Harbor Hits 1826 Tons

SAN PEDRO—Mackerel catches for the year reached 1826 tons at local canneries, according to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The total is far short of the total tonnage for the same period in 1952. A catch of 3566 tons was reported last year, according to the Fish and Wildlife Service. Most of the catch has been jack mackerel, with a few tons of Pacific mackerel.

Send Snaps to Your GI

THE THEME of this column is one that is not new, but always important — that of sending pictures to those in service. Many of us at the present time have friends or relatives who are in the armed forces, and we may forget at times what a vital part pictures play in the mail they receive.

As fine as letters are, a story is told so much better when accompanied by pictures. They may not even always be new snapshots. Oftentimes you will find extra prints of pictures you've taken some time ago will be of great interest to the person to whom you're writing.

As we all know, memories fade, even of people and places we love most. Nothing will revive and keep a memory fresh as pictures. Snapshots are also wonderful for keeping those in service up on what is happening at home; send them pictures of new buildings going up in town, a new nephew in the family, the new car, etc. For those in service want pictures, not only for themselves, but to show their friends.

By The Shutterbug

There's a woman I know who takes many such pictures and shares them as widely as possible. When she takes a roll or two of pictures, she mentally reviews her friends and neighbors. If any of them know someone in service who would be interested in some of the shots she's taken, she orders extra prints to send them. Many people have reaped the benefit of her thoughtfulness.

LONG BEACH CAMERA GUILD will have a black and white competition at Municipal Art Center at 8 p. m. Wednesday. Winners in the recent color slide competition were Leila Reichardt, first; Elva Hayward, second; Lisa Stevens, third; Bruce Mason and Elva Hayward, honorable mention. Judge was Charles Norona.

COMPTON CAMERA CLUB will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday at 1021 E. Compton Blvd., Compton. . . San Pedro Camera Club will meet at 8 p. m. Friday in Anderson Memorial Bldg., Eighth and Mesa Sts., San Pedro.

Pictures of familiar landmarks, of home and friends will keep home fresh in the minds of those in military service.

RECORD ALBUM

Musical Stampede

DANNY KAYE has been packing Broadway's famous Palace since he opened his act there several weeks ago and probably could remain indefinitely, if he didn't have other commitments.

Those who won't get around to seeing this show can get some of the flavor of it in a Decca LP, "Danny at the Palace," containing eight wacky songs.

Teen-agers and some of the oldsters, too, should be delighted with "Woody Herman and the Third Herd," an M-G-M LP. The Herd goes on a musical stampede, with Woody's clarinet hotter than ever.

Capitol has issued two fine Ray Anthony LPs with the teen-age set in mind. One is "Ray Anthony's Campus Rumpus," a collection of dance oldies such as "The Continental" and "Smoke Rings." The other is "Young Man With a Horn," showing off Anthony's trumpet playing.

Perennially popular Jo Stafford gives special treatment to eight songs on a new Columbia LP. "Jo Stafford Sings Broadway's Best," "Night and Day" and "All the Things You Are" high light this fine disk.

CONTINUING in the No. 1 spot on your Long Beach Hit Parade last week was "I'll Waltz Again With You," featuring Teresa Brewer on the vocal. Other popular platters: 2, "Doggie in the Window," Patti Page; 3, "Tell Me You're Mine," The Gaylords; 4, "Pretend," Nat King Cole; 5, "I Believe," Frankie Laine; 6, "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes," Perry Como; 7, "Your Cheatin' Heart," Joni James; 8, "Oh Happy Day," Lawrence Welk; 9, "Wild Horses," Perry Como; 10, "Gomennasai," Richard Bowers.

BRILLIANT orchestral recordings are featured this week at the Long Beach Public Library. Among the new records ready for lending are Brahms, "Symphony No. 4 in E Minor" (Toscanini conducting); Grieg, "Norwegian Dances for Orchestra" with Sibelius, "Rakastava" and "Valse Triste" (Litschauer, conducting); Haydn, "Symphony No. 43" and "Symphony No. 50" (Woldike, conducting); Mozart, "Concerto No. 12" and "Concerto No. 21" (Jensen, piano, Woldike conducting), and Shostakovich, "Ballet Suite No. 1" (Gauk conducting) with Prokofiev, "Romeo and Juliet Suite No. 2" (Mravinsky conducting).

The First Drama Quartet in "Don Juan in Hell" still has the most requests at the library. Runners-up are "Lakme," "Il Trovatore," the Morse Code, and French language records.

Identical Stamps

Two new stamps of identical design have been issued by Saudi Arabia. The main design consists of two circles surrounding a three. The circle on the left has crossed sabres beneath the tree. One stamp is red and the other is blue.

Jim Thorpe—Greatest of the Great

FABULOUS JIM THORPE, who died of a heart attack Saturday, was rated the greatest football player in history. On the left he's shown at the peak of his career in 1911-12, and at the right he gives a drop-kick exhibition at the Polo Grounds, New York, in 1948 at the age of 59. The Sac and Fox Indian played pro football through the 1937 season.

ONE-MAN TEAM

Thorpe Brilliant, Versatile Athlete

LOMITA—(UP). Jim Thorpe, who died at his home here Saturday following a heart attack, was considered the greatest all-around athlete in American sports history. He could play every game well, but won most of his fame in football and track. He was also a major league baseball player.

Thorpe received his education at Haskell Institute and Carlisle where Pop Warner urged him to try out for football. In 1911 and '12 he was chosen All-American halfback. Gridiron authorities class him as the greatest football player of all time.

The high points of his football career follow:

In 1908 he kicked three field goals, one from the 45-yard line, to beat Penn State; kicked four field goals as Carlisle beat Harvard, 18-15, in 1911; scored 25 touchdowns and 198 points in 1912, including two against Army and three against Brown. Against Springfield in the same year, he scored all his team's points as Carlisle won, 30-24.

Thorpe played pro football with the famous Canton Bulldogs and several other teams, actually continuing until the mid-thirties.

FEW RECORDS

In his extended years of amateur and professional sports, Thorpe set few records, and most of them were in the 1912 Olympic Games at Stockholm. He won the pentathlon with four firsts and a third in the five events, and the decathlon with 8412 of a possible 10,000 points.

A month after his return a charge of professionalism was placed against him on the grounds that he had played pro baseball during the summer. Thorpe immediately returned all the Olympic trophies and he was forwarded to H. K. Wieslander of Sweden, his nearest competitor. Wieslander never opened the box, but returned it with the comment: "James Thorpe is the greatest athlete in the world."

A legend suggests Thorpe was a one-man track team at Carlisle, but Lafayette Coach Harold Anson Bruce recalls that Thorpe had four teammates to help. Against Lafayette one day Thorpe won the pole vault, high jump, broad jump, shotput and low hurdles and finished second in the 100-yard dash.

PLAYED FOR MCGRAW

After the Olympics he turned to baseball and played with the New York Giants under John McGraw. His lifetime major league batting average was .252, but in 1919, his last season, he hit .327 for 62 games. Ed Roush won the National League title with .321 for 153 games. In the next two seasons Jim batted .260 for Akron of the International League and .338 for Toledo of the American Association.

BEST KNOWN for his exploits on the gridiron, Jim Thorpe performed in college days for the Carlisle Indian school under Pop Warner. He played professionally for several teams.

Ike Williams Whips Cardell

PHILADELPHIA—(UP). Ike Williams, former lightweight champion from Trenton, N. J., won a unanimous decision over Vic Cardell, Hartford, Conn., winner, Saturday night in their 10-round nationally televised bout at the Met.

Williams, who outweighed Cardell by four pounds at 152, made it his second win over Cardell. In a bout at Detroit in January, 1951, Williams won by a technical knockout in the ninth. It was the 120th win for the Trenton veteran in 144 pro battles.

Referee Dave Beloff saw Williams winning by seven rounds to two for Cardell with one even. Judge Lou Tress had it 7-2-1 also, while Judge Charlie Daggert scored it 6-5-1.

There were no knockdowns and neither principal was badly hurt although Williams suffered a cut over the right eye and Cardell had his nose bloodied in the first round.

Jim Thorpe Wins Praise From Nation

Old teammates and foes, governors and sports greats... they all had a good word for Jim Thorpe, "greatest athlete in the world," upon hearing of his death Saturday.

And the theme was consistent—"A fine man, a great athlete, an untimely death."

Here are just a few:

Pop Warner: "Jim was the greatest all-around athlete I've ever seen."

"It certainly is a shock to hear of Jim's death. Although we had not seen much of each other in recent years, I always thought of him as one of my closest friends."

"For all-around ability—football, baseball, track and field—Jim was the greatest of them all."

Avery Brundage: "Jim was one of the greatest athletes of all time."

Brundage, who was a teammate of Thorpe's on the 1912 United States Olympic team, called him "a great competitive athlete."

"I'm sorry to hear of his passing."

John A. Heydler: "Jim Thorpe's death comes as a great shock to me."

"Thorpe was a great Indian and a great all-around athlete—both amateur and professional."

Bronko Nagurski: "I knew Jim and he was a fine man." Nagurski said: "I always regretted having never seen him play, but from what I have read and heard, he was one of the greatest athletes this country ever produced."

Gov. Johnston Murray of Oklahoma: "As well as being one of Oklahoma's most famous sons, Jim Thorpe also was a favorite person with all who knew him."

Those of us with native American blood in our veins take special pride in his great triumphs."

"He was the greatest athlete of them all. He was an equally fine human being."

Thorpe's portrait hangs in the Oklahoma capital.

Bernie Bierman: "We certainly regret seeing Jim Thorpe go."

Bierman, who saw the Indian athlete at the twilight of his great career, said Thorpe was "undoubtedly one of the greatest athletes of all time."

Angels Blank Los Alamitos

FULLERTON—(UP)—The Los Angeles Angels blanked the Los Alamitos Naval Air Station baseballers Saturday, 9 to 0, apparently unaware the Air Raiders had a 16-win, 2-loss record at the time.

The Sailors were held to a meager four hits, and Angel batsmen were out getting 14 of their own.

Heavy Los Angeles batter was centerfielder Bobby Talbot, who got four for five, including a homer with one on, plus a double.

Los Alamitos plays the Long Beach Rockets at Recreation Park, Long Beach, today.

51ST SEASON OPENS TUESDAY

Seattle, Bevos Rate 1-2 in PCL Chase

By RUSS NEWLAND

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP). Pacific Coast League baseball gets under way Tuesday for its 51st season.

The big guessing contest is going full blast. Everybody wants to know the winner of this year's baseball derby.

This corner can't say for sure, but here's one prediction: Hollywood won't repeat. The Stars lost season. Bernier led the loop in runs scored with 105 and stolen bases with 65. He also hit .301.

COLE AMONG MISSING

Another absentee whose shoes may be hard to fill is Dick Cole, second best fielding shortstop of 1952 and a .286 hitter.

Manager Bragan, himself a catcher with Brooklyn and the Phillies, may take a turn behind the plate to make up for the loss of Mike Sandlock. The present Hollywood outfield has speed.

Oakland's freshman manager, Augie Galan, has solid pitching but could use a left-hander. The catching may be a bit on the weak side. The infield is OK with shortstop a questionable spot. Jim Marshall, farmed out to Nashville last season, will be at first base.

The Oaks have a strong outfield, bolstered by power hitter Bill Howerton, purchased from the Giants.

Manager Galan, promoted from coach, knows his baseball and will be an important figure in the club's success.

Los Angeles has lots of pitching but needs lots of help elsewhere. The infield is unsettled and the outfield only fair. The catching, with aging Billy Raimondi and Al Evans and youthful Elvin Tappe, is a weak link.

San Diego bought Earl Rapp from Washington. Rapp has proved he can hit in the Coast League. He had a .322 mark with Oakland in 1951.

AHEAD OF SEALS?

The Padres have a number of spots to strengthen but manager Lefty O'Doul says his San Diego entry will finish ahead of the San Francisco Seals he led for so many years before being fired.

San Francisco showed great spirit in spring training, more credit to skipper Tommy Heath. The Seals should benefit by the trade with Seattle that brought them outfielder Al Lyons and first baseman George Vico. In Dave Melton, the ex-Stanford collegian, the club appears to have a top shortstop prospect.

Sacramento has some talent but apparently not enough for new manager Gene DeSautels. The ex-Indianapolis pilot has newcomers Nippy Jones, bought from Baltimore, and Ray Dandridge, infielder from Minneapolis. Bob Dillinger and Joe Brovia are long hitters.

Seattle, winner in 1951, appears to be coming up with a well balanced club. Bill Sweet should be the manager who receives the salute.

Portland, on paper, seems to need only one more outfielder. The team was off to a slow start last season but finished strong for Skipper Clay Hopper. We pick them to finish in this order:

FINAL STANDING

1953	1952
1. Seattle	Hollywood
2. Portland	Oakland
3. Hollywood	Seattle
4. Oakland	Portland
5. Los Angeles	San Diego
6. San Diego	Los Angeles
7. San Francisco	San Francisco
8. Sacramento	Sacramento

Seattle gets the call on overall strength. It has good pitching although lacking in depth. Vern Kindsfater and Al Widmar, reliable right-handers, should be mainstays. Jim Davis and Cliff Scroggins, the latter purchased from the Red Sox via Louisville, figure to hold up the southpaw end. Bill Evans, bought from Oakland, and Art Del Duca, a holdover, will help.

The infield and catching are solid. The outfield is OK. Ray Ortega, from San Francisco in a trade, will bolster the catching.

WINNING COMBINE

Gordon Goldsberry, first baseman purchased from the St. Louis Browns last week, should make the infield click defensively. If he hits, the offense should be adequate. Artie Wilson at second, Leo Thomas at third and Merrill Combs, with Cleveland last year, should round out a winning combine.

The Seattle outfield has sharp left-handed batting power in Walt Juhnich, Jack Tobin and George Schmees, the latter from the Red Sox after a 1951 whirl with Hollywood. Clarence Maddern is a right-handed hitting veteran.

Portland has plenty of pitching strength, experienced catchers and probably the best defensive infield in the league.

It may be tough to get them through Hank Arft at first, Eddie Basinski at second, Frank Austin at short and Don Eggert at third.

The outfield is the weakest part of the Portland club.

Hollywood's new manager, Bobby Bragan, up from Fort Worth of the Texas League, has his work cut out for him. He must, for instance, find replacements for big Johnny Lindell, who won 24 games last year, and Paul Pettit, who won 15.

Also departed is Carlos Bernier, the fleet outfielder who was the league's most valuable player last year.

Advice From One Who Knows

FORMER HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION JOE LOUIS offers a few ring pointers to Jersey Joe Walcott, who meets Rocky Marciano in a return title bout on April 10. Louis and Walcott were knock-out victims of Marciano and are experts on discussing the punching power of the present champ.—(AP Wirephoto.)

Walcott's Handlers Indicate Joe Will Try for Quick Kill

By MURRAY ROSE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(UP). Will Jersey Joe Walcott come out slugging or will he try and outbox Rocky Marciano in Chicago April 10?

If the 38-year-old Jersey Joe tries for a quick kill, then fans of the nation may see another great heavyweight title fight, one that could rank with their memorable first fight. Veterans call their September clash one of the ring's all-time greats.

Walcott and his handlers try and give the impression that Joe is going to give it all in the very first round. If you remember, the old guy popped Rocky on the chin in the first round and down went the Brooklyn strong boy for the first knockdown of his career.

But Rocky got up and won on his 13th round knockout. Walcott was winning on points until the right hand exploded on his jaw.

"Joe is going to knock out Rocky within five rounds, maybe in the very first round," said

Dan Florio, Walcott's trainer and No. 2 booster. Mgr. Felix Bocchicchio is the No. 1, of course.

"Rocky was lucky to get in that punch in the 13th," continued Florio. "Joe couldn't see out of his left eye because of the cut caused by Rocky's butt. Joe was relaxed and it's not hard to stiffen a guy when he's that way."

Walcott himself says he's going to win.

"By a knockout if I can, but I'll be prepared to go the whole way if necessary."

The feeling here is that the old master boxer is going to try and outpoint Rocky. You feel more strongly than ever about that after talking to Bocchicchio.

"That Marciano can take it good," said Felix. "We didn't know how much he could take the first time. Joe hit him at least five or six shots right on the button and Rocky took it. One time Joe dug a left hook into his body and it went up to here." (Felix thrust out a hand and placed his other hand on his elbow.) "I thought it was going to go right through him."

This observer was impressed considerably by the power of Walcott's left jab. Joe was hitting as hard with his jabs as Joe Louis used to.

He's Terrific

Walcott at Peak

PLEASANTVILLE, N. J.—(UP). Skittish as a colt, Jersey Joe Walcott reached the peak of training Saturday and Trainer Dan Florio said, "he's terrific!"

I don't see how he can miss."

Ex-champion Walcott, 38, reached the peak with seven rounds of sparring against three mates—the most leather-tossing he has done in any session since he started grooming for his return title bout with Rocky Marciano at Chicago April 10.

The Junior Rose Bowl game appears doomed in its present form—that of featuring intersectional college teams.

It is heard that the State Junior College Federation already has voted in secret session to withdraw support of the game.

The die was cast some time ago when the federation was asked to declare itself on the Junior Rose Bowl game as well as contests of a similar nature... and voted 37-16 against such affairs.

According to our good friend Rube Samuelson in Pasadena, the State Federation will withdraw its junior colleges from intersectional football competition as it has in other sports... and eventually sponsor a Southern California vs. Northern California playoff for the state championship.

The federation, Rube says, already has a schedule worked out for a statewide football playoff involving eight conference champions. The playoffs would start late in November and require three week-ends to determine a champion.

The existing contract between the junior colleges and the Pasadena Junior Chamber of Commerce expires after the 1953 game in December.

BEGINNING IN 1954, the final state championship playoff game will be played alternately in the north and south. This would replace California junior college participation in the Junior Rose Bowl game.

Samuelson also states that the Los Angeles Coliseum, rather than the Rose Bowl, ultimately will be the site of the championship game when held in the South.

However, this situation will not lead to the Junior Rose Bowl game disappearing from the sports scene, Rube points out.

In fact, the Pasadena Junior Chamber of Commerce, originator and sponsor of the game, has for some time been exploring the possibilities of staging a Junior Rose Bowl game featuring a different format... such as the junior college teams from other sections of the country or preferably two small four-college teams.

Rube suggests a "junior grade" East-West game patterned after the Shrine classic held annually in San Francisco... and featuring teams of seniors from small colleges or "Little All-Americans."

MANY EXPERTS conceded the National League pennant to Brooklyn when the Dodgers succeeded in acquiring pitcher Russ Meyer the past winter in a complicated four-club deal.

Even though some officials of the Philadelphia Phillies admit they are disgruntled over the fact Meyer was dealt off to Brooklyn by the Milwaukee Braves.

The Braves, who acquired him from the Philadelphia Phillies, are not at all displeased with the deal.

Although Meyer was the Phils' fourth starter last season, O'Neill says he wasn't dependable. "I never started him with any degree of confidence," he declares.

"He wouldn't or couldn't field his position. He beat himself. He fought himself and upset the other players."

"He was a bad man to have on the club."

The record more or less backs up O'Neill's viewpoint. Meyer failed to pitch 500 ball for the Phils in the last three campaigns. He won only nine the year the "Whiz Kids" won the pennant on the hurling of Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons and Jim Konstanty.

In 1951 he won only eight and last year had a 1-10 mark.

The Phils, according to O'Neill, are very happy over the deal with the Braves that gave them Earl Torgerson for Meyer.

THERE ARE ONLY 14 players in the major leagues today with lifetime batting averages of .300 or better. Judging by batting standards of the past, only Stan Musial's .346 is impressive.

The complete list includes such American Leaguers as Dale Mitchell, .317; Johnny Mize, .313; Barney McCoskey, .312; Billy Goodman, .311; Johnny Pesky, .310; Orestes Minoza, .303; Roberto Avila, .301, and George Kell, National Leaguers.

At least three or four of the above are expected to drop out of the .300 class before they conclude their major league careers.

EDDIE YOST, star third baseman of the Washington Senators, has asked baseball writers to refer to him in the future as Ed and not Eddie. "Why does a ball player have to have a name making him sound like a little boy?" he asked. One scribe disgustedly pointed out that many greater and older players never objected to being called Eddie, Billy, etc.

Sugar Ray Robinson recently climbed 21 floors of a Chicago office building to testify in the anti-trust boxing suit. Elevators make him sick, he says.

Harry Rubin, promoter of the local wrestling shows, is proudly showing friends the certificate of appreciation he received recently for his whole-hearted cooperation in entertaining veterans now hospitalized.

NEYLAND FINISHED AS ACTIVE GRID COACH

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—(UPI). Tennessee's Gen. Bob Neyland won't admit it, but it appeared Saturday his doctors have decided he is through as an active football coach.

A statement said they have advised him against coaching again for an "indefinite period," and obviously he is taking that advice.

The fabulous Neyland, whose teams have won more major college football games than those of any other man in history, has been ailing for a year.

He took a year's leave as head coach last month and entered Washington's Walter Reed Hospital for an extensive physical checkup. He has an impairment of the liver.

Eli Swimmers Dethrone Buckeyes in NCAA Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—(UPI). Yale's well-balanced swimming team dethroned Ohio State as the NCAA team champion Saturday night, the Eli squad scoring in 12 of 14 events.

The deposed Ohioans won six of the 14 championships, three in record time, while Yale and Michigan annexed three each of the individual events.

Yoshio Oyakawa, Ohio State's Hawaiian sophomore star, was the 30th annual meet's individual standout as he broke the record in both the 100 and 200-yard backstroke and then led the Buckeye 300-yard medley relay team to another record.

Oyakawa and Yale's Jimmy McLane were the only double winners in the annual championship races. Wayne Moore gave the Eli team its other first in the 440-yard free style.

McLane captured the 1500-meter and 2200-yard free style events for its first major victories as a collegian.

Michigan, which set a record last night in the 400-yard free style relay, finished third in the team race with 39 points.

The final night of the three-day program provided some of the finest thrills the NCAA has ever offered. Oyakawa opened the program by going the 100-yard backstroke in 56.9 seconds to break the NCAA mark of 57.3 set a year ago by Ohio's Jack Taylor.

In the long-awaited 300 yard medley relay duel between Yale and Ohio State, the Ohioans led all the way with Oyakawa going the backstroke in 57.3 seconds, Jerry Holm in the breaststroke in 60.1 and Dick Cleveland the free style leg in 49.8 for a 2:47.2 mark which bettered the recognized world record by 1.9 seconds and snipped 1.7 seconds off the NCAA mark.

Yale's best event was the 440-yard free style in which it took first, second, fourth and fifth for 17 points.

Regan, six-foot, two-inch star of Seton Hall's national invitation tournament champions, was voted the game's most valuable player award by the basketball writers covering the game.

Regan, who led Seton Hall to a 77-67 victory over the Huskies in the final game, was named MVP of the tournament.

Globetrotters Tackle College Stars Today

NEW YORK—(UPI). The fourth annual "world series" of basketball pitting the Harlem Globetrotters against the College All-Stars begins its coast-to-coast tour in Madison Square Garden today with afternoon and night games scheduled.

The teams will make a 19-day trek around the country, with stops at Raleigh, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Detroit, Hershey, Laramie, Cleveland, Toronto, Buffalo, Boston, Denver, Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The Globetrotters, coached and owned by Abe Saperstein, also have scheduled an after-

WHO SCORED FASTEST TITLE FIGHT KO?

NEW YORK—(UPI). Who accomplished the fastest knockout in a heavyweight title fight? Joe Louis? Jack Dempsey? Jim Jeffries?

All wrong. Tommy Burns holds the record, according to Nat Fleischer's Ring Book. The Canadian stowed away Jim Roche in 1:28 of the first round in Dublin, Ireland, May 17, 1908.

It's a trick question that comes up often in taproom arguments. Few ever answer it correctly. The "catch" in the question is "title" fight. Dempsey flattened Carl Morris in 14 seconds and Fred Fulton in 18 3/5 seconds but both were scored in 1918, a year before the Manassas Mauler became champion.

There have been one round kayos in championship fights in every other division:

Light Heavyweight: Gus Lesnevich over Billy Fox in 1:58.

Middleweight: Al Hostak over Freddie Steele in 1:43.

Welterweight: Jimmy McLarnin over Young Corbett III in 2:37.

Lightweight: Tony Canzonieri over Al Singer in 1:06.

Featherweight: Freddie Miller over Joe Girones in 2:30.

Bantamweight: Terry McGovern over Pedlar Palmer in 1:15.

Flyweight: Jackie Paterson over Peter Kane in 1:01.

ALTHOUGH HE RANKS with the all-time greats, Joe Louis was knocked down often. His trainer and advisor, the late Jack Blackburn, always tried to convince him to take a count.

"Chappie," he once said, "The next time you're down, stay there and make the most of the time they give you. Don't get up until the man says nine."

The Brown Bomber always promised to obey instructions. Then he went against fat Tony Galento. Joe was pounding the walking bear barrel when suddenly Tony nailed him with a left hook. Down went Louis. Before the referee could pick up the count, Louis bounced up and began hammering Tony again.

Between rounds, Blackburn gave Louis a furious scolding. "Why didn't you stay down and take a nine count?" snarled Blackburn.

Louis smiled at Blackburn and said calmly: "What for? Why should I let him get all that rest?"

SLAPSY MAXIE Rosenbloom the former light heavyweight champion, was kidding Max Baer, the ex-heavyweight king about the shelling he took from Louis.

"Boy," said Slapsy, "he gave you a good belting."

"Yeah, go on and kid me," replied Max. "Just the same I gave that Louis a terrific scare."

"Sure, sure," said Slapsy with a grin. "You sure did. For a while he must-a thought he'd killed you."

Wiesner Sets High Jump Mark SC Spike Stars Nab Close Win

Navy Star Hits 6-10 3/4 at Chicago

CHICAGO—(UPI). Navy dentist Ken Wiesner set a new world indoor high jump record of 6 feet, 10 3/4 inches Saturday night in the premier performance of the 17th annual Chicago Daily News Relays before 16,702 fans.

Wiesner's leaping high lighted the 19-event program which included eight events for individuals.

Harrison Dillard, the Olympic dash champion in 1948 and hurdle champion in 1952, posted a double win, gaining the 60-yard high hurdle championship for the seventh straight year with a time of :07.3 and capturing the 50-yard dash in :05.4.

Mal Whitfield, the 800-meter champion at the last two Olympics, also was a double winner. He first captured the 600-yard run in 1:09.7, a new meet record, and then came back to win the 1000-yard run in 2:13.0.

TIMED AT 500

He was timed at 500 meters during the 600-yard run, at 1:02.9, equalling the world record he set for that distance Feb. 28.

Three meet records were set. Whitfield at 600 yards, Wiesner for high jump, and by Illinois' two-mile relay team which won in 7:39.2.

Len Truex, a former Ohio State athlete who had the best indoor time of the season, 4:07.8, two weeks ago, won the featured Bankers Mile in 4:10.9, edging FBI man Fred Witt by only a yard.

Truex ran into difficulty in the mile and had to turn in a 59-second last quarter to win in 4:10.9. Truex led the first few laps and then yielded to John Ross of Michigan. In turn Ross was displaced by defending champion Warren Druetzler.

FADED FAST

Druetzler faded fast however, and Witt, who was never in first place, finished fast to beat Ross by a good margin and press Truex at the finish.

Bob Richards won the pole vault for the fourth straight year, leaping 15 feet, 3 inches. Don Laz, another former Illinois athlete, was second at 14 feet, 9 inches.

Horace Ashenfelter, the Olympic steeplechase champion, competing for the New York Athletic Club, won the two-mile run for the second time, beating three-time winner Curtis Stone easily.

Ashenfelter had a lead of more than 80 yards at the finish over runnerup Kikuo Moriya of Wheaton College and was timed at 9:08.5. Stone finished fourth.

Richards' 136 Sets Spa Pace

PALM SPRINGS—(UPI). Ted Richards of Long Beach fired a five under par 67 Saturday to take the lead after the second round of the Thunderbird Invitational Golf Tournament.

His scores for the two rounds were 69-67-136. Strong winds hampered many players but didn't seem to bother Richards.

Bob Reed, Montebello, moved into second place with 67-70-137, followed by Bob Ross Jr. of San Francisco, with 70-69-139, and Bud Holscher, Los Angeles, 71-68-139.

Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, who tied with Reed Friday on the first round 67s, shot 76 Saturday and dropped into a tie for 13th place at 143.

Gene Littler, San Diego, who won last week's amateur tournament over the O'Donnell course here, landed well down the list with 73-71-144.

Gene Andres of Long Beach had a 71 for a 141 total and Jim Ferris carded a 72 for a 142.

Venturi Golf Victor

STANFORD—(UPI). Ken Venturi of San Jose State won the Northern California Intercollegiate golf championship Saturday by defeating Fred Brown of Stanford on the 19th hole.

Ernie Beck of Penn. Larry Hennessy of Villanova, Richie Regan of Seton Hall and Norm Grekin of La Salle.

After the Garden opener, Meyer and Russell also will have Darrell Tucker of Utah State, Jim Breder of Illinois, Bob Rousey of Kansas State and Norm Swanson of Detroit on their squad.

Saperstein named a 10-man squad to face the collegians. It includes: Goose Tatum, Marques Haynes, Pop Gates, J. C. Gilpin, Josh. Grider, Babe Fressley, Elmer Robinson, Sam Wheeler, Clarence Wilson and Johnny Wilson.

Four Birdies Earn Snead 2-Stroke Edge Over Oliver

GREENSBORO, N. C.—(UPI). Slammin' Sammy Snead came through with four birdies for a four-under-par 66 Saturday to widen his lead to two strokes at the halfway point of the $10,000 Greensboro Open golf tournament.

The long-driving Snead, from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., was under pressure all the way from portly Ed (Porky) Oliver of Palm Springs, Calif. Oliver fired a 31-36-67 for a 135 total. Snead's 66 combined with his 67 gave him a 133.

Snead was only in trouble once. On the par-four 11th, his booming tee shot landed in the woods. Instead of playing it safe, Snead chosed to gamble. He sliced one out between the trees and it rolled up to the edge of the green, where he sank it for a par-four.

Oliver started out in winning form as he shot an eagle-three on the par-five fifth hole, but coming in he ran into trouble. He bogied the par-four 15th when he got too much dirt on an approach shot and had to take two putts. He was in the woods again on the 17th, but a neat recovery brought him in easily in second place at the midway point of the tournament.

Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., put together five birdies for a 33-33-66 and third place with a 132.

Tied for fourth with 137s were Skeet Riegel, Tulsa, Okla., with a 35-33-68 Saturday; Art Wall, Peconic Manor, Pa., with a 32-35-67, and Fred Wampler, Indianapolis, with 35-33-68.

The best round of the day, however, came from tempestuous Tommy Bolt of Maplewood, N. J., who broke Snead's old tournament record for the par-70 Sedgefield course here with a 33-32-65, which gave him a two-day total of 140.

Defending champion Dave Douglas was far down the list with a 142.

Bevo Sizzles in Exhibition

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(UPI). The West All-Stars, led by two Kansas Staters, defeated the East All-Stars Saturday night in a rough second annual shrine basketball game, 91 to 77.

Bevo Francis, Rio Grande's sensational scorer, gave an impressive exhibition between halves for a crowd of 5000. Francis hit 48 per cent of his display shots which were poured in from all angles.

In the game for the benefit of crippled children in Shrine hospitals, Dick Knostman and Bob Rousey of Kansas State, with a total of 47 points, paced the West-ers all the way.

Decker, making his first league start after transferring from Long Beach City College, was tough in the pinches and yielded only five hits to the Broncos.

At Bovard Field, Stanford whipped SC, 5-2, as Jack Shepard and Ray Swats hit home runs for the Indians.

National Handball Championship to Brady

HOUSTON, Tex.—(UPI). Ranganey Bob Brady of San Francisco, the 1951 AAU handball champion, Saturday won the U. S. National Handball Association championship by beating Walter Piekman of Buffalo, N. Y., 21-10, 18-21, 21-16.

The pickup combination of Sam Haber, Chicago, and Harry Dreyfus, St. Louis, Mo., took the doubles crown by beating Harold and Earl Srenco of St. Louis, 9-21, 21-19, 21-11.

In the masters tourney, Robert Kender and Ray-Laster, Chicago, defending champions, beat George Brotmarker, Los Angeles, and Bart Hackney, Long Beach, Calif., 21-16, 21-15, for championship.

UCLA Rout Cinder Foes

LOS ANGELES—(UPI). UCLA, sweeping three events, won an easy victory Saturday in its opening triangular track meet of the home season against Santa Barbara, UCLA and Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo.

The Bruins garnered 117 2/5 points, the Gauchos 26 1/5 and Cal Poly 12 2/5.

UCLA took all events except four, with sweeps in the 220, 440, 880 and 1760, and discus, and low hurdles, shotput and discus, and the 100-yard dash and the 220 in 10.1 and 21.4, and Dave Rosenbloom capturing both hurdles events.

Hugh Nutini of Santa Barbara took the half mile in 1:56.7, and the mile in 4:24.4. One new meet record was set when UCLA's Len Eilers pole vaulted 14 ft. 1 in. to break his own 13 ft. 7 1/2 in. record of last year.

Clyde wetter, UCLA's candidate as the smallest shotputter in major competition, took his specialty with a 50 ft. 5 in. mark.

In This Corner

with DICK ZEHRM

"Beat Hollywood and pick up the Pacific Coast League marbles."

That's how the PCL race opening Tuesday looks to Chuck Stevens, now embarking on his 17th season in organized baseball and his fifth year of service with the Stars.

Chuck has gained a small amount of forecasting fame, in case you have forgotten. He picked 'em Hollywood, Oakland, Seattle and Portland in that order in 1952, and that's exactly how they finished.

Now he looks at the impending pennant chase from his vantage point at first base and foresees Hollywood, Seattle, Oakland and Los Angeles, in that order.

"Seattle appears to be the favorite because the Rainiers have a good solid club of experienced performers," he offers. "The Suds have a fine infield and a solid outfield. In Vern Kinsdatter, Al Widmar, Steve Nagy and Bill Evans the Rainiers have a front line pitching staff that will cause everybody trouble."

"If Portland hadn't swapped Joe Brovia to Sacramento for Glenn Elliott, I'd pick the Beavers to finish fourth," he says. "The Beavers picked up strong pitching, but lost their power. Joe was the kind who could break up a tight ball game with his long blasts. I think Portland will miss him enough so Los Angeles may be able to sneak into the first division."

Blond-topped Chuck, who is beginning his 13th season of triple A ball or better, is naturally moved by a bit of loyalty to select the Stars to come home first, yet backs it up in authoritative manner with the following observation:

"Our club, which opens with an afternoon-evening double bill Tuesday at San Diego, has fine speed, good power, strong pitching, but most important is the fact that we'll have a strong bench. In a long 180-game schedule, a team is only as strong as its reserves, especially along about August and early September."

THE BENCH, if you haven't heard, includes Stevens. This is the first time in his long and laudable career that he has been consigned to secondary consideration on opening day.

He's taking it in stride. Backing up the club on opening day will be Stevens, Gene Handley, Frank Kelleher and Johnny O'Neill, who in the past few seasons have contributed a great, great deal to two Twink pennants.

Hollywood's new manager, Bobby Bragan, is going in the two openers with Dale Long at first, Monte Basgall at second, Jack Phillips on short, Don Dahke at third, and an outfield composed of L. Walls, Tom Saffell and Ted Beard.

If the new blood—Long, Phillips, Dahke and Walls—doesn't make good in the first few weeks, look for Stevens and company to take over as the first line of defense while relegating the youngsters to the splinter brigade.

Red Munger, Mel Queen, Red Lynn, Pinky Woods, Erv Dusak, Jim Walsh and Joe Muir represent Hollywood's first-flight flingers. Muir is the only southpaw with experience. Bragan and Eddie Malone will share catching duties.

In his new role as first base insurance, Chuck expects to see lots of pinch-hitting action when the situation calls for a swinger from the port side.

"This I like," he quips. "I've always had a yen to step into the breach when the pressure is on. It's fun to break up a ball game."

"OAKLAND HAS virtually the same club it had a year ago, and you know how tough the A's were to handle," he reminds you. "They lost Frankie Gilbert at first, but they picked up a carbon copy in Jim Marshall, who hit about 25 or more home runs in the Texas League last season. They've still got the power well distributed up and down their line-up."

"Los Angeles I don't think is going to overpower its opposition this season, as it has done for many years. Instead, with a good strong pitching corps I wouldn't be a bit surprised to see L.A. make it hot for everybody. The Angels may win a lot of close ones that they lost last year. They have made us like it already this season."

"The second division appears right now to include Portland, San Francisco, San Diego and Sacramento. I don't think the tailenders of '52 have strengthened enough to disturb the top four."

At 34, Stevens figures he has three or four more years of AAA ball left, and then he'd like a fling at managing. Although in his new role as bench strength he won't be the fixture he has been around first base for the Twinks the past four seasons, Stevens doesn't expect to be swapped or sold by the Stars this year. He frankly figures he'll be scooping 'em down from all directions as a regular before too long. And here's why, he says:

"Hollywood has a very pliable ball club this year. Phillips can play third, short or first. Handley can handle third or second. O'Neill can play either shortstop or second. There are all kinds of possible infield combinations, and a few interesting combinations can be worked out in the outfield. Bench strength makes these shifts possible to the extent that they will pay off over the long haul. "I'll take Hollywood or Seattle. You can have the rest."

Lemon Tops Giants, 6-2

TUSCON, Ariz.—(AP) Bob Lemon pitched five innings of shutout ball and Harry Simpson banged out two home runs to give the Cleveland Indians a 6-2 triumph over the New York Giants Saturday.

Lemon allowed the Giants only four hits in his five-inning stint while his teammates pounded Max Baer and Larry Jansen. It was Cleveland's fifth win in seven starts against the Giants.

Shortstop Dick Cole of the Pittsburgh Pirates suffered a painful but apparently not serious injury when he was struck about the right eye by a line drive off the bat of George Metkovich in an intra-squad game in Havana, Cuba.

Four U. S. Cities Ready to Hold 1956 Olympics

NEW YORK—(AP) Four American cities are ready to snatch up the 1956 Olympic Games if they are taken away from Melbourne, a United Press survey revealed Saturday.

Another is on a standby basis, willing to take the games but not pressing for them.

The International Olympic Committee meets April 17 at Mexico City, Melbourne, previously awarded the 1956 games, will present its report—and claim that government financing will permit the Olympiad to go on as scheduled.

San Francisco, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Chicago are anxious to get them, and Philadelphia may even send a man to Mexico City to make an all-out pitch. New York claims it can take over if Melbourne is abandoned.

International Olympic president Avery Brundage said Minneapolis and Detroit also want the games, but spokesmen for those cities denied they were still interested in the 1956 games—although they once were.

Rome will make a bid for the games, too, and stands a good chance because its Olympic Committee automatically collects money from the National soccer football betting pools.

Corcoran Signs as PGA Promotion Head

GREENSBORO, N. C.—(AP) Fred Corcoran, 33, has signed a three-year contract as promotion director of the Professional Golfers' Association tournament bureau, it was announced Saturday.

PGA president Horton Smith of Detroit and tournament committee co-chairman Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., made the announcement. He said Corcoran will devote his efforts to public relations "along with the development of radio, television and other tournament projects and innovations for the benefit of sponsors, players and spectators."

CC Trips El Camino In Azusa Finals, 6-3

Long Beach City College banged out five runs in a big third inning Saturday and went on to dump El Camino, 6-3, in the championship battle of the Southern California Junior College Baseball Tournament in Azusa.

It was the third tourney title for the Vikes and gave them permanent possession of the Chicago Cubs championship trophy. Long Beach also won the annual event in 1947 and 1950.

Centerfielder Benny Souder's single started things off for the locals in their big third stanza that saw the first five Vikes hit safely. Marlan Coughtry, Jerry Mitchell and Charlie Lehmkuhl followed with singles and Bob Selsor cleared the sacks with a long triple.

Selsor and Rusty Fairly, who drew a walk, then put the finishing touches on El Camino hopes by executing a surprise double steal. Selsor crossing home with the fifth Vike run.

Coach Joe Hicks' Viking nine broke the tourney record for runs scored by crossing the plate 54 times in four games. Summary:

Stanley Cup Play Resumes

CHICAGO—(AP) The Chicago Black Hawks need to end a 10-game playoff losing streak to Montreal tonight if the Hawks plan to stay in the running for the Stanley Cup this year.

Another defeat would about close the door for Chicago's chances to rally and down the Canadiens in order to advance to the final round against the winner of the Detroit-Boston series.

Boston's fans will be getting their first glimpse of the series "A" Cup playoffs when the Bruins take on the Motor City club to night.

Long Beach City College and St. Anthony's will be the only athletically active schools this week, both having scheduled one baseball game and one track meet.

The Vikings face Orange Coast in a double-header at home Friday with the first game starting at 1 p. m. Long Beach's track squad travels to Santa Barbara Saturday night to take part in the annual Santa Barbara Relays.

St. Anthony's hosts St. Monica's baseball team Tuesday at 3 p. m. while the Saint JV's venture to St. Monica. St. Anthony's tangles with Cantwell in track Wednesday at 3 p. m.

MANILA—(AP) Phil Rizzo of Brooklyn won the Philippine middleweight championship by hammering out a 12-round unanimous decision over Boy Brooks at Rizal Stadium Saturday night.

Rizzo weighed 156 pounds and Brooks 155.

DRESSSEN HITS ROOKIE JACKPOT FOR 1953

By LEO H. PETERSEN

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP) Manager Chuck Dresssen of the Brooklyn Dodgers appears to have hit the rookie jackpot for 1953.

It seems certain that five players who were not even on the Dodger spring training roster will make the grade, and even more important, four of them are pitchers—the department which has been a Dodger headache over the years.

Making the picture even brighter is the fact that Dresssen can carry three of the pitchers all season without having them count in his roster limitation, for they are returning servicemen.

Those pitchers are Ronald Lee, a crafty lefthander who compiled a brilliant 14-4 record and a 2.20 earned-run mark with Montreal in 1950; Robert Milliken, a big fast-balling righthander who won 12 with Fort Worth in 1949; and Glenn Mickens, also a righthander who has had just one season of experience in organized ball.

The fourth hurler who looks like he will stick is John Podres, a young lefthander who was so impressive last spring. Podres had a 21-3 record with Hazard (Ky.) in 1951, his first season in organized ball, but hurt his back just before the season opened last year and was sent to Montreal. His record there was not impressive—five victories against the same number of defeats—but he never fully recovered from the back injury until this winter when he took a series of treatments in Brooklyn.

The prize rookie of the lot is likely to be James (Junior) Gilliam, the fleet-footed Negro infielder who was named the most valuable player in the International League last season. Gilliam probably will open the season at second base with Jackie Robinson shifting to third. The only question is his hitting and Dresssen said flatly: "If he only hits .260 he'll be my second baseman this year."

Most experts agree that Gilliam right now is as good a fielder as there is in the majors. He has quick, sure hands, pivots perfectly on the double play, and has a rifle-shot arm.

As for his hitting, he batted .361 last season with Montreal in 151 games, driving in 112 runs. He is a switch hitter who also can play the outfield and is only 24 years old.

"I'm sure no club in the majors has come up with such fine young prospects," Dresssen exclaimed. "They should make it a lot easier for us this year."

'Dancer in 3 Jamaica Starts

NEW YORK—(UP) The New York racing season opens at Jamaica Wednesday, with Native Dancer, the 1952 "horse of the year" and current favorite for the Kentucky Derby, slated to run three times during the Golden Jubilee meeting.

As usual, the accent will be on 3-year-old racing during the first session of New York's 187-day season with interest reaching a new high this year. For it was at Jamaica on Oct. 22 that Native Dancer last sported Al

Vanderbilt's famed cerise and white diamond silks and it will be at Jamaica on April 13 that the "gray ghost from Sagamore" is expected to return to the racing wars.

Since he returned to New York from Santa Anita where he spent the winter, Native Dancer has enchanted the clockers, but the "big question" will not be answered until he answers the bugle for the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, May 2.

His first start—if the race falls—will be in an overnight six-furlong sprint. Then comes the $30,000 Gotham at a mile and a sixteenth on April 18 and the $100,000 Wood Memorial at a mile and an eighth on April 25. That still leaves another eighth of a mile to go before Native Dancer proves he can go a mile and a quarter.

His current odds in the winter book—5 to 2—indicated he is expected to pass the test with flying colors.

Curragh King Sincerely Whips Danee by Head in Portola 'Cap

Oaklawn Winner

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—(AP) E. M. Goeman's Curragh King, a Kentucky Derby candidate, flashed across the finish line one and three-quarters lengths ahead of the field to win the $10,000-added Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park Saturday.

C. H. Everitt's Supreme Bub, the favorite, finished second by six lengths over Henry Forrest's Wisno.

Curragh King, ridden by Johnny Adams, came up from second place in the stretch and crossed the wire in 1:40 3/5 for the mile and furlong event. He paid $5.40, $3.00 and $2.40.

SAN BRUNO — (AP) Sincerely, taking command in the early part of the home stretch, beat out favored Danee Saturday to win the $15,000-added Portola Handicap at Tanforan.

Tut-Tut-Tootie raced third. Time for the six furlongs was 1:11 and 3/5.

Danee, the even-money favorite and high-weighted at 124 pounds, broke on top and set all the pace until the field had rounded the turn for home. Johnny Longden was in the saddle.

Sincerely, with Willie Shoemaker in the stirrups at 114 pounds, closed the gap and forged ahead to win by a head.

Calumet Farm's Lap Full, the second money choice, was fourth. Sincerely, from Biff's Stable owned by W. W. "Tiny" Naylor of Beverly Hills, paid $12.40, $4.60 and $3.60. Danee returned $3.20 and $2.60. Tut-Tut-Tootie paid $8.20.

Luck O' Irish Prevails in Aintree Race

AINTREE, Eng.—(UP) The luck o' the Irish prevailed in the world's toughest horse race Saturday as Early Mist—Irish bred, Irish owned, Irish trained and ridden by an Irish jockey—pounded home a 20-length winner in the historic Grand National Steeplechase, the key to the Irish Sweepstakes.

Thirty-one horses started and only five finished.

The rest, including highly favored Little Yid, spilled disastrously about the treacherous course as a quarter-million persons looked on. The only American horse entered, John Hay Whitney's Old Kentucky, was a last-moment scratch.

Early Mist, a 20-1 shot, tumbled at the first jump last year. But he was off with the leaders Saturday and thundered into first place at the 17th jump of the 30-jump grind when front-running Ormande hit the fence and sprang to the turf. Early Mist won by 20 lengths with 18-1 Mont Tremblant second and 33-1 Irish Lizard third, four lengths behind.

The only other horses to finish the four-mile, 856-yard race were Overshadow and Senlac Hill.

Early Mist, bred in Ireland, sold for only 250 guineas ($735) as a yearling. But he cost Irish Company Director J. H. Griffin 5300 guineas ($15,562) when he got him. The profit is still a good one. First place was worth 9431 pounds ($26,406.80), and Griffin smilingly admitted he had placed "a good bet" at early 33 to 1 odds.

The big gelding carried 156 pounds against the whopping 176 to 1 odds by top-weighted Mont Tremblant. That weight may have cost Mont Tremblant the race.

Huge Softball Program Set

There's softball in the local athletic air as the opening call for team entries is sounded by the Recreation Commission in both men's and women's leagues today.

One of the largest city-wide recreational programs in the far west, the Long Beach show is expected to begin on several diamonds on Monday, April 27, according to Rod Ballard, supervisor of Municipal sports for the Recreation Commission.

The women's leagues, with Mae Mathers in charge, will begin on Tuesday, April 26.

Facilities are available to accommodate 180 teams in the men's leagues, with the bulk of play, as usual, tabbed for the Recreation Park and Park Ave. Field enclosures where 12 games can be played each night.

Also available are diamonds at Admiral Kidd Park, Truman Boyd Manor, and possibly Houghton, Silverado and Pan-American Parks.

Deadline for entries has been set for April 17, or when 180 teams have signed for play, whichever is reached first. Practice periods will be available after April 6.

Rockets Resume Series With Los Alamitos Today

Los Alamitos Naval Air Station son will start his usual lineup of Al Zigelman, catcher; Bob Deck, first base; Skip Rowland, second base; Whitey Thomson, shortstop; Frank Estes, third base; and an outfield of Don Taylor, George Selfridge and Ev Pearson.

If the Rockets win today the third game of the series will be played later in the season. The Rockets will be idle on Easter Sunday and return to action on April 12 against Bobby Sturgeon's Edmonton, Canada team of the Western International League. Sturgeon's nine will do its spring training in Compton.

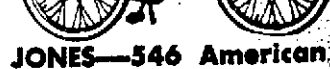

Bill Feistner's locals will counter with Rex Cecil on the mound. The Rockets lost pitchers Chuck Adams and Chuck Winslow to the California League last week, but expect some help from two unknown Navy hurlers currently in port.

Rocket field manager Walt Car-

Fridley, Jones Among Nine Indians Trimmed

TUCSON, Ariz.—(AP) The Cleveland Indians reduced their roster to 32 men Saturday by sending nine players back to their minor league base at Daytona Beach, Fla.

The list was composed of pitchers Bill Abernath, Sam Jones and Jake Striker; infielders Joe Macko and Harry Malmberg; and outfielders Jim Fridley, Al Smith, Herb Adams and Mike Lutz.

Fishin' Around

By DONNELL CULPEPPER

Fresh-water bass fishing takes the spotlight of outdoor interest this week as several lakes reopened in Southern California.

And there were tremendous reports from Lakes Mead, Havasu and Mojave, as well as the Colorado River from Havasu southward.

The outing bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California said that its scouts had picked up some interesting reports, from Mead and Havasu. A Pomona angler topped the list of catches with a nine-pounder in Havasu, but bass weighing from five to eight pounds were the rule, not the exception, on the lakes and along the Colorado River. In fact, several arrests were made by DFG men where anglers had taken more than the limit of 10 fish.

Walter T. Hoffman of Long Beach fished at Shortie's Camp on the Colorado and came home with a limit. Walt said that he'd never seen such terrific bass fishing.

Meantime, Lake Wohlford reopened Friday for the summer season. Lake Sherwood, in the Malibu area, reopened Saturday. Lakes San Vicente and Hodges will reopen Wednesday. Other openings are scheduled as follows:

► Puddingstone Dam, May 23; Railroad Canyon, Friday, April 10, and Morena Dam (San Diego County), May 6, shore fishing only.

HUNGRY CATFISH

Incidentally, Walt Hoffman sent along a clipping taken from the Needles paper. Walt says he was told that the event really occurred near Shortie's Camp. Here's the story:

"You may have heard the story about the man biting the dog. It made the headlines in all the big and little newspapers. Now we have another one for the columns of the Desert Star that if released to the press wires might make the headlines.

"Last Saturday a couple were at the Needles Point Pharmacy where they bought bandages, ointment, etc. Mr. Hillgard noticed that the lady was limping slightly and inquired if she had been injured. And then came the story:

"The couple had heard about the great fishing in the Colorado River and came here to try their luck. Apparently the lady had one foot dangling in the water when the big catfish decided to take a nip at it. Result: a deep gash in the leg. The husband, verified the story because he saw the catfish make the attack. The chances are it was one of the horns that did most of the damage, but nevertheless the fish bit the woman. And up goes the reputation that the fish are plentiful in the Colorado River and they are hungry enough to eat human beings."

WITH THE CLUBS

The nominating committee of the Long Beach Casting Club has submitted this list of 1953-54 officers:

George E. Scheffler, president; Lewis Clark, first vice president; Roy Mabey, second vice president; J. O. Gregg, corresponding secretary; Lee Moran, recording secretary; Edwin L. Bradley, treasurer; and William T. Waters, captain. Nomination in the LBCC is tantamount to election.

The LBCC will have its annual banquet and installation Saturday, April 25, at the Lafayette Hotel.

The Long Beach Rod and Gun Club has set up a seven-event charter schedule for ocean fishing parties this summer, with the dates as follows: April 12, May 17, June 21, July 12, Aug. 9, Aug. 30 and Sept. 27.

The LBCC met last week for dinner at its clubhouse, 3333 Pacific Ave., and heard a talk by Eddie McEwen, skipper of the Fisherman (Pacific Landing).

SUNSET GUIDEBOOK

Now comes a complete map guidebook for the millions who flock to Southern California's recreation-rich coast to boat, fish, swim and explore.

"Sunset Sportsman's Atlas—Southern California Coast," by C. E. Erickson ($1.50, Lane Publishing Co., Menlo Park, Calif.), was published last week. The new book, third in the authoritative Sunset Sportsman's Atlas series, spans the Southland coast, offshore waters and islands from above San Simon in the north to Santo Tomas Anchorage below Ensenada, Mexico.

Its 32 color pages are packed with long-range and close-up maps and of information that is vital to every sportsman or layman who wants to make the most of this vast sea and sand playground.

Like the other Sunset Sportsman's Atlases (Colorado River and Lake Mead; San Francisco Bay and Delta Area), the new book comes in a waterproof vinyl plastic case which makes it possible to open the book to the desired page, insert it in the "see-through" case and use it without wetting or soiling the maps.

SALMON DERBY

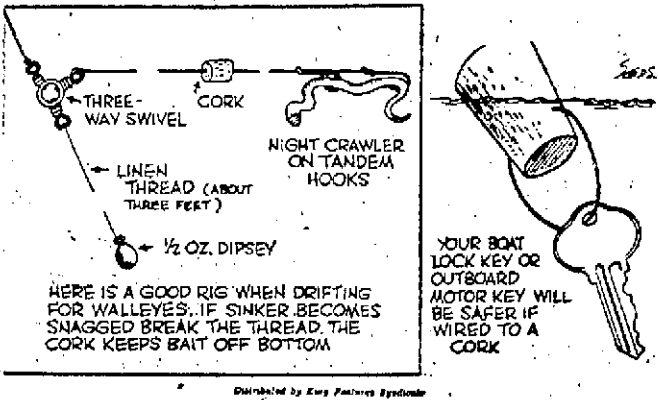

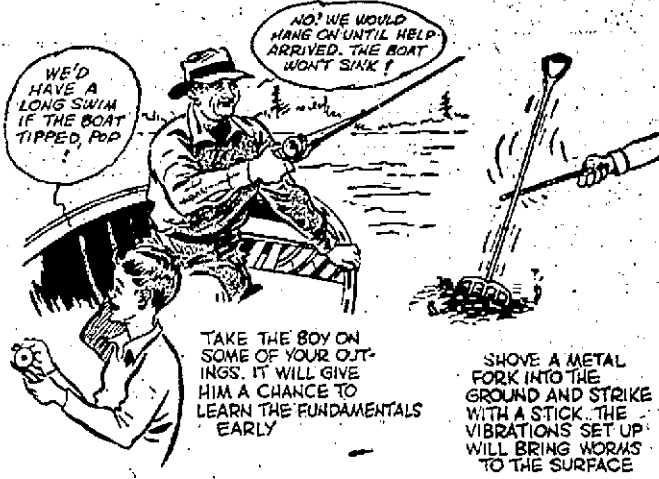

The second annual King Chinook Salmon Derby, May 2 to Aug. 2, at Monterey, is exciting anglers everywhere due to the early arrival of the King Chinook Salmon in Monterey Bay. This early arrival of salmon is said by old-timers to indicate a record-breaking run.

The derby is sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Sportsmen's Conservation Club and will be run differently this year. Due to numerous requests from fishermen everywhere, there will be two derbies: 1. The qualifying derby, May 2 to July 30. 2. Derby days (grand fish-off derby), Aug. 1 and 2.

For further information on the derby you may write: Salmon Derby, P. O. Box 388, Pacific Grove, Calif.

PLYMOUTH

ANNOUNCES NEW

LOWER PRICES!

Now! Greater Values Than Ever!

Substantial Reductions on All '53 Models!

Effective immediately, the retail prices of all 1953 Plymouth cars are substantially reduced, bringing you the greatest Plymouth value in history!

When the 1953 Plymouths were introduced last fall, even though completely new and advanced in design, they were priced on a "hold-the-line" basis. We emphasized then our constant aim of quality, performance, safety and comfort, at decreased rather than increased prices. And we pinned our faith on volume to achieve this objective.

The removal of production controls has made it possible to produce Plymouth cars at the highest rate in many months. Now that higher volume is being achieved and we may reasonably expect it to continue, we are lowering prices accordingly.

Price reductions apply to the entire Plymouth line — all nine body types. Your nearby Plymouth dealer will be glad to give you complete details about the new prices.

Plymouth, long famous for greater value, continues to bring you the quality features of high-priced cars — now at even lower cost to you!

Montgomery's Other Skills Keep Him From Performing

By MARK BARRON

NEW YORK—A man of 1001 interests—it is difficult to decide whether Robert Montgomery is producer, director, commentator, actor or soldier-sailor in his case. He was in the Navy.

The probability is that you will seldom see Montgomery as a performer in the future although he still has the appearance and knack of acting to play suave, humorous.

mindful young men. He has played on Broadway stages and in the many motion pictures.

Montgomery has returned to Broadway, but finds that now he is an executive rather than the young actor who once haunted stage doors for a chance meeting with a stage director and lived in Greenwich Village. In those days the

Wagner Group to Sing Here

The Roger Wagner Choral singers who will appear in Poly High School Auditorium Friday evening, April 10, presenting Rodgers & Hammerstein music, have been officially invited to sing at the Coronation Festival in London.

Upon conclusion of its current concert tour, the Choral will return home to Hollywood to prepare for departure on May 29 on a European tour which will also include a concert in Paris.

"Rodgers & Hammerstein Night" features the music from Oklahoma, "The King and I," "Carousel," "South Pacific" and "State Fair." This marks the fifth season that this Choral has performed Rodgers and Hammerstein, having been heard in concert at the Hollywood Bowl with this popular program for four seasons.

Presented by Producer Sam Kerner, the noted actor Edward Arnold narrates the program and the soloists under Wagner's baton include David Street, Jean Determan, Katherine Hilgenberg and John Lombardi. This is a War-Hazelton attraction.

Girl, 2, Revealed Molester Victim

Compton police announced Saturday that the 2-year-old Compton girl found Friday, dazed and bleeding, wandering in the North Long Beach area was definitely the victim of a molester.

Physicians at Seaside Hospital, where the tot was taken after she was found by Mrs. Edward Perry, 6281-Lemon Ave., said the child was not seriously injured.

Her parents said the girl was missing for more than two hours before her discovery less than a mile from her south Compton home.

The child assertedly told her mother that "a man picked me up in a car and hurt me."

Garden, Easter Films Ready for Branch Libraries

Color films for everyone interested in architecture or gardening will be shown at two branch libraries this week, according to Nina Boyle, film librarian.

The program is scheduled for 8 p. m. Thursday at Alamitos Branch Library, 1836 E. Third St. and at 8 p. m. Friday at Bret Harte Branch Library, 1408 W. Willow St.

Films to be shown are: "Architecture West," "In Virginia Gardens" and "Living Jewel."

Free movies for children will be featured at an Easter program at 10:30 a. m. Monday at Bret Harte Branch.

All children in the neighborhood are cordially invited, according to Mrs. Virginia Jordan, children's librarian.

Films to be shown are: "Animals Unlimited," "Through the Grand Canyon by Boat," "Alive From the Deep," "Stars and Stripes" and "Fiddle De Dee."

Series of Story Hours to Open

The first of a series of story hours for pre-school children will be offered at 10:30 Tuesday at Alamitos Branch Library, 1836 E. Third St. by Mrs. Mildred Martin, children's librarian.

Mothers bringing their children to the story hour are invited to attend a book review and film showing to be presented at the same hour by Betty Reid, branch librarian.

Africa will be the theme of Miss Reid's program. Following the screening of the film "Animals Unlimited," she will review recent books including: "The Curve and the Tusk" (Cloete), "Hunter" "Heaven Has Claws" (Doyle).

Wide Selection Left in New Unit

Anticipation of another banner day at Carson Park Mutual Homes has been predicted by the builders of the beautiful tract in Lakewood. Thousands of interested home-makers went to Lakewood last week end to take advantage of the opening of the newest section, unit seven.

There still is a wide selection of homes. Buyers have seven basic models and 21 attractive exterior from which to choose. The builders of Carson Park Mutual Homes, who declare they have built more homes in the past 10 years than any other builder in the country, recently released results of a poll of 400 persons already moved into the new community.

Principal features cited by the new home owners included overall excellence of planning, varied and attractive architecture, convenience of purchasing plans and practicality of floor plans.

Another point stressed by 400 buyers was the fact that the homes are FHA inspected and can be purchased under an FHA-approved financing plan. Veterans of both World War II and Korea can buy any two-bedroom home for $295 down and any three-bedroom home for $495 down, even though they have already used all their GI benefits. Down payments of $595 for any two or three-bedroom home are available to nonveterans.

Other home features include bay windows, steel sash windows, sheltered entrance porches, hardwood floors, full double garages, front, side and rear landscaping, rock wool insulation, 37,000 BTU dual floor furnaces, electric bathroom heaters, hardwood slab doors, wardrobe and walk-in closets, rubber tile floor with cove base in bathroom, glass-door stall shower, chrome accessories and hardware and large living room.

Sales headquarters for Carson Park Mutual Homes at 6741 E. Carson St. will be open daily from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

New Homes Contain Over 42 Features

Forty-two luxury features are "standard equipment" in the new Brookhurst Electric Award subdivision now under construction in Garden Grove by Henry C. Cox and Affiliated Companies, builders of beautiful Brookhurst Estates. This third group of homes is being built at the request of many prospective home owners, who were unable to secure homes in the first Electric Award development, which sold out in 10 days. The second group was advertised on March 15 and sold out in one week.

These gracious homes offer landscaped one-third acre building sites, radio-controlled door on the two-car garages, paved and roofed terraces, exterior and interior plants.

Baths are lavishly tiled and gay with colored fixtures. Pullman lavatories feature full-length mirrors, and showers are glass enclosed. Electric exhaust fans keep both baths and kitchen comfortable. Kitchens are true work-savers, offering built-in Thermador electric range and oven, an abundance of convenient hardwood cabinets, and cove base linoleum for ease of maintenance.

Electric Award homes have touchplate switches with a six-point master panel located in the master bedroom. This panel controls the exterior floor lights, entry, bath, hall and room lights, plus an outlet in the kitchen for the automatic coffee maker.

Other standard equipment, usually classed as strictly de luxe, comprises cornice boxes with drapery hardware, sliding glass walls, fireplaces, some with barbecues, an abundance of tile in kitchens, and the unstinted use of Philippine mahogany for all exterior siding and interior paneling. All interior finish and doors are hardwood.

Tiffany Homes
Open Today in Garden Grove

Opening today in Garden Grove is the first unit of Tiffany Homes. They contain three bedrooms and double garages.

This development, built in an orange grove, features breakfast bar, hardwood kitchen cabinets, glass enclosed bathtubs, electric fans in kitchens and thermostatically-controlled heat.

Ad Executive to Address Ad Club

Advertising executive Peggy Seals will be the guest speaker at the regular Thursday luncheon meeting of the Long Beach Ad Club in the Lafayette Hotel April 2.

Miss Seals will speak on the subject of "Printing and Promotion." President Gene Curtis will preside, and chairman of the day will be Helen Perkins.

The Ad Club will observe this Thursday's meeting as "Ladies' Day," and women guests of the members will be the guests of honor.

Typical Model

WIDE SELECTION of home designs, of which typical model is pictured here, is available in newest Carson Park development in beautiful Lakewood.

Kitchen is Busiest Room in House and Least Safe

The busiest room in your home—the kitchen—is also the least safe.

One of six fatalities from exposure to fire, one of seven fatal falls and one of every 10 deaths from all types of accidents in the home occur in the kitchen. Often the condition which caused the accident existed for years unnoticed, before it caused a serious mishap or even death.

Safety engineers therefore recommend that every family make careful, periodic checks to eliminate kitchen hazards. A few minutes, or a few dollars, spent eliminating an unsafe condition can save discomfort and grief in any household.

A cluttered kitchen is nearly always an unsafe one. Install extra base and wall cabinets at the spots they are needed, and be sure that things are stored where first used. Only items that are seldom used should be stored in hard to reach places.

Watch out for surfaces that collect grease. The area back of and over the range can be made safer by installing an easily cleaned material such as clay tile, which withstands heat and can be cleaned in a jiffy with a damp cloth.

Wall cabinets too high from the floor cause strain for the homemaker must stand on tiptoe or use a step-ladder to reach a top shelf. A space of 15 inches between base and wall cabinets is sufficient—consider remodeling your cabinets if it is much greater.

Electric appliances should be beyond reach of the sink, to prevent shocks. A serious accident can result when someone makes contact with an electrical circuit under wet conditions.

Check the sanitary condition of counter tops and drainboards. A very satisfactory material for replacing them is clay tile, which won't loosen at seams or be damaged by water or heat.

Keep kitchen knives and tools sharp. Dull knives may slip or slide and so cause injuries. Discard crockery that has large cracks, and repair or get rid of pots and pans with loose handles.

California Records All Time High of Over 100,000 Realty Licenses

At the end of World War II there were fewer than 39,000 real estate licenses in California.

Today, however, the state has over 100,000. A report from the State Division of Real Estate said it was an all-time high.

In the first six months of the 1952-53 year, more salesmen's licenses were issued than for all of last year.

Real Estate AND BUSINESS NEWS

Homeowners Should Take Stock of Needs

Home owners, like businessmen, need to take stock periodically and to gauge as accurately as possible the future of their property.

Houses grow old not only through neglect but equally through lack of foresight in planning improvements for them. This month is a good time to appraise your home realistically and to map out at least one project for 1953 that will help keep it youthful and trim. These major check spots are suggested in a Tile Council of America modernization report:

The kitchen. It should have plenty of wall and base cabinets, plenty of work surfaces faced with such easily cleaned and heatproof materials as clay tile, and modern appliances. As the work center of the house, it deserves first consideration.

The furniture. Perhaps it's become dated and worn without your noticing. Five years is considered the average life of living room furniture, 10 that of the bedroom and 12 that of the dining room.

The bathroom. Walls and floor should be checked for damage by steam and water. Installation of colorfast clay tile will eliminate need for redecorating permanently.

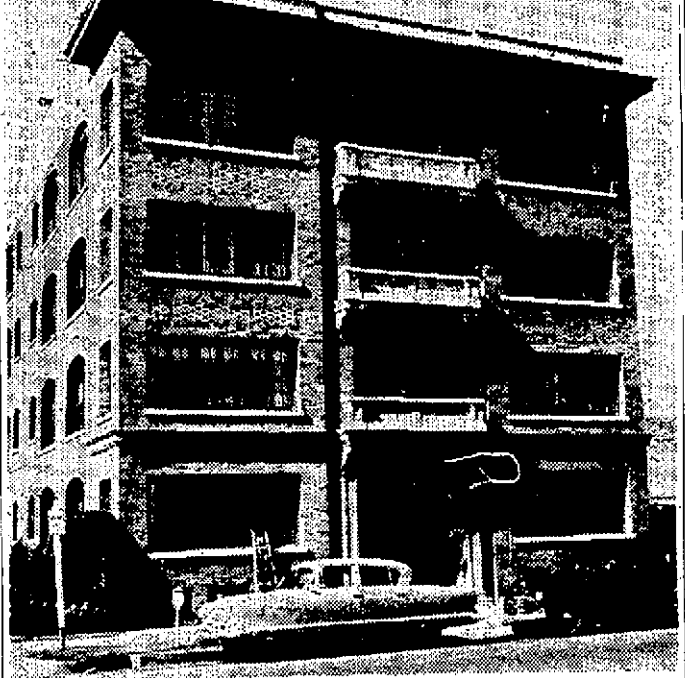

The heating plant. Don't wait for a major breakdown to find out its real condition. Check its efficiency by checking your fuel bills against those of friends with homes of the same size.

The porch. Such improvements as new screens, good furniture, an attractive floor of weatherproof clay tile and a good paint job can often double its usefulness as a family gathering spot.

The laundry. Don't let your wife cripple along with outmoded equipment. If you can relocate the laundry on the first floor instead of in the basement, you'll also cut down the drudgery of wash day.

Living room fireplace. An outmoded or badly proportioned fireplace can drag down the appearance of any home. Maybe a bold new design for it is the thing your house needs most in 1953.

'Own-Your-Own'

Wagner Nursery Open at 365 Cherry Avenue

A notable addition to the preschool educational facilities for girls and boys has been announced in the opening of the Wagner Preschool and Day Nursery, 365 Cherry Ave. Housed in a brand new structure of modern design, the school represents many years of planning by its director, Mrs. Eleanor Wagner, who conducted a piano studio for several years in Lakewood Village.

Training in music, personality, dramatics and arts and crafts is given to girls and boys aged 2 to 6 years by a professional staff of teachers. A restful color scheme of rose and green adds to the attractiveness of the large, well ventilated classrooms. A plastic curtain separates the nap room from the general play room. Wash rooms are equipped with child's size bowls and closets.

Happy Homes Is Fast-Selling Tract

More than 100 dwellings have been sold in the latest Happy Homes development of Ed Krist, it was announced yesterday by the builder whose current development is situated in Artesia at Elaine Ave. and Artesia Blvd.

Non-veterans, as well as veterans, may purchase the two-bedroom homes still on the market for $7495 with no down payment other than prepaid insurance and other costs totaling $397. Monthly terms are $59.95 for principal and interest.

All buyers are assured immediate possession of the homes, which are typified by an exhibit dwelling, equipped by the Paradise Furniture Co., and open every day of the week until 7 p. m.

Features reportedly acclaimed by purchasers as contributing to the functional living and low maintenance cost of the Happy Homes include gently sloping, lifetime roofs, permanent asbestos-cement siding, showers over tubs, formica drainboards and covered carport.

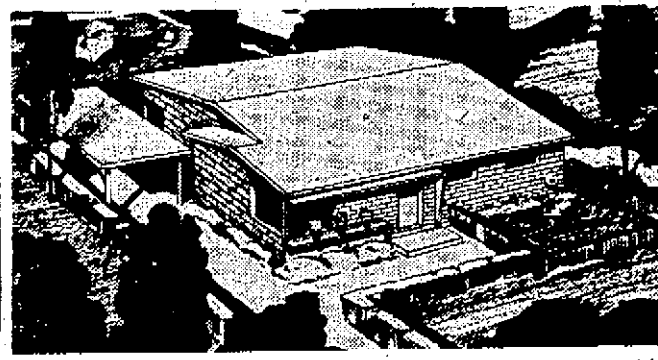

Also included in the price of each home are lawns and shrubs, with the spacious yards allowing ample room for such recreational activity as badminton, volleyball and gardening.

Just across the street from a grammar school, the new Happy Homes community is also close to other schools as well as to shopping, major employment centers and public transportation.

Ed Krist, one of the Southland's best known builders, has been identified for the past 30 years with the construction of more than 6000 Happy Homes. His developments have always been in the moderate price field and have favored dwellings of functional California contemporary design.

The latest of his communities may be reached by taking Firestone Blvd. to Pioneer Ave. and turning south to Artesia Blvd., then two blocks east to the property.

Happy Homes Community

GENTLY SLOPING ROOFS and permanent asbestos-cement siding are identifying characteristics of the latest Happy Homes community in Artesia at Elaine Ave. and Artesia Blvd. The two-bedroom dwellings are priced at $7495.

Along REALTY ROW

By NEWT TODD... Realty and Building Editor

A 2000-year-old idea and a 7000-year-old material are getting together for 1953 home comfort. Radiant heating, on the up-trend in American home building today, was thought up by the Romans, who piped warm air under the floors of their baths. Clay tile, acknowledged to be an ideal flooring for conducting radiant heat, first was made when, in the earliest days of man's history, a lump of clay was thrown on a crude fire. The resulting hard material later was perfected in the kilns of Babylon and Egypt, where the beautiful product was used for palaces and temples, many of which are still standing today.

It remained for the 20th century to take two old inventions and combine them, so that 1953 finds hundreds of thousands of homes the country over equipped with radiant heating installed under floors of conductive material like tile.

Three other trends—these latter being the innovations of beauty and comfort loving contemporary Americans—also have been responsible for the combination of radiant heating and durable tile which resulted in modern housing concepts. One of these is the preference for the step-saving, cost-saving, basementless house. In this type of architecture, no basement heating plant is needed. The conventional boiler or furnace, using any type of fuel, may be situated anywhere in the home.

The second trend is toward increased ease of maintenance and washability of homes in an almost servientless age. A floor like clay tile, which is not only an excellent conductor of heat but also requires only a light wiping to keep it clean, rates high in favor with architects today for almost every room in the house.

Last, but not least, current interior designing frowns on ordinary radiators which take up wall space and floor space. Radiant heating is completely concealed, leaving walls to decoration, windows, and adroit placement of furniture.

LONG BEACH LITHO, INC., will move their offset printing plant and offices to this new tilt-up concrete building at 1345 Cota St. about June 15. The firm's present location is 1615 W. 17th St. Millie and Severson, contractors, will begin work on the new structure tomorrow. Donley and Treadway are the architects and engineers. The lease was arranged by Bill Brooks, industrial realtor. "Woodie" Moore is president. Building will contain 10,000 square feet.

When it comes to building wood fences, landscaped yards, huge garages, insulated ceilings, thermostat controlled heat, stand and colored bath fixtures, extra large mirrors in the bathrooms, and, of course, garbage disposal units.

His current group of homes in Stratford Square combine all the features of his original postwar homes, but at the same time many features, both interior and exterior, have been added to keep pace with the rapidly changing home building industry.

Among the features that are included in the purchase of the homes are beautiful prime red-

Name Lloyd Leedom to Educational Group

Past president of the Board of Realtors was appointed to the National Association of Real Estate Board's Committee on Education this week. The appointee, Lloyd L. Leedom, plans to attend the committee's meeting in Chicago in May.

The committee's prime purpose is to establish and further educational courses on the university and college level, relative to professionalizing the real estate industry. Throughout the United States there are only 48 colleges that have accredited courses in real estate and business administration.

Chapman Manor Is Luxurious

Chapman Manor homes are a far departure from the boxlike structures usually associated with economy-priced homes, yet with all their picture-book charm, livability, and use of quality materials throughout, Chapman Manor homes start at $8845 (plus impounds) with a down payment as low as $895 for a gracious two-bedroom home with two-car garage.

Chapman Manor homes incorporate such luxury features as sliding glass walls, with sliding screens. The soft gleam of Philippine mahogany paneling enhances the beauty of these homes. For convenience and livability, all Chapman Manor homes offer work-saving galley kitchens with built-in Thermador range and oven, double sink, garbage disposal, electric vent fan, and easy to clean, latest type, wall and desk covering materials. Also featured in these value-wise Chapman Manor homes are Pullman lavatory cabinets.

For the larger family, choosing a Chapman Manor site, there are spacious de luxe four-bedroom homes with forced air heat and two baths for $10,995. All terms are available to non-veterans as well as veterans. Prospective home owners are invited to visit the six beautiful Chapman Manor model homes, two of which are completely furnished by the Santa Ana Furniture Co., and are open to visitors from 10 a. m. to 7 p. m. daily and Sundays.

J. N. Page, vice president, will preside.

Orange Gardens Opens Today

The gala opening of Orange Gardens Unit No. 2 in Garden Grove is scheduled for today. Two beautifully furnished model homes will be open to the public all day Sunday and daily thereafter from 10 a. m. to 7 p. m. Interior decoration on these homes was handled by Brent Williams, popular Long Beach decorator. Williams also served as color consultant to the Lenney organization in planning interior color schemes for the balance of the homes in this development.

Orange Gardens Unit No. 2 includes two-bedroom, two-bedroom and den and three-bedroom homes. All these homes have many features not normally found in other homes in this price range. Among the outstanding features are the low, ground hugging lines, the insulated natural rock roofs and the wide concrete driveways.

Inside, you'll find that the homes have been well planned and that they have been well decorated. You'll find bedrooms with large wardrobe closets, commodious living room and conveniently arranged kitchen and bathroom. All plumbing features are Crane. Forty-gallon water heaters have been included in every home. All homes are connected to sewers. Every detail of construction shows that quality materials and quality workmanship have been employed. Although the gala opening today is right on schedule, it is interesting to note that the homes are already nearly half sold.

7 Members Join Santa Ana Board

At formal installation ceremonies Wednesday morning at the breakfast meeting of the West Orange County branch Santa Ana Board of Realtors in the Greenbrier, Frank Pope Jr. installed the following new members of the local realtor group: R. A. Brock, Wilton Gale, Mary Burt, Florence Launt, Anthony Vigelis, L. W. Schauer and W. L. Birdwell Sr.

Guests attending were Frank Pope Sr. of Santa Ana, Warren Hill of Carl Mook's office, John McInnis of Frank Abbott's and Walt Bressel of Power Realty.

A new committee was formed at the directors meeting to handle planning and zoning. Membership is composed of Charles Pich, O. T. Smith, R. A. Brock, Tom Gardner and Tom Youmans.

Dick Marvin of Orange County Title Co. spoke on what his company is doing to stimulate interest in the contest sponsored each year by the state association among high school students in the writing of an essay titled, "Why I Want to Own My Own Home." His company intends to award loving cups to individual winners in each of the seven boards in the county with a grand prize of $50 to the county winner.

Ethics, Conduct

A meeting designed to set up standards by which realtors and their personnel will be guided in professional ethics and conduct will be held April 9 at Lakewood Country Club for all realtors and salesmen of the Board of Realtors. The planning for this "Organizational and Public Relations" meeting was announced by Harold Steele, officer of the Board of Realtors. Reservations may be made in advance.

Plane Talk

By DON BRACKENBURY

THE 12TH ANNUAL Holiday on Wings, sponsored by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be Saturday and Sunday, April 11 and 12. The flight this year is to Furnace Creek, Death Valley.

All Southern California fliers are invited, but must make advance reservations with the Los Angeles Jaycees. Already, all space in Furnace Creek Inn is reserved. Some space is available at the Furnace Creek Ranch.

Social activities include a dance Saturday night, golf, tennis, horseback riding and swimming. Have not heard final plans on the aviation activities as yet.

ONE OF THE REAL veterans at Long Beach Municipal Airport is back at an old stand. Harvey Martin, who became associated with flying activities here in the '20s as an associate of Earl Daugherty, has joined Baker Aircraft Sales as a sales representative for Piper aircraft.

Martin first became associated with Piper planes in 1935 and held the distributorship until John V. Baker bought it in 1949.

ESPECIALLY INTERESTING in light of the recent announcement of the proposed merger of Flying Tiger Line and Slick Airways, is today's meeting of the Southern California Aviation Breakfast Club. The club is meeting at Slick's hangar at Lockheed Air Terminal, Burbank, at 10:15 a. m.

Following breakfast as guests of Slick, President Thomas L. Grace will make a short talk, show some colored movies and then take the aviation clubbers on a tour of the air freight line's facilities.

AIR-O-CRATS, East Long Beach Airport flying club, got a big boost in membership this past week. Fifteen members joined the club, which now boasts a roster of more than 100. The club currently has nine aircraft.

THE 16-MM. SOUND motion picture which John Raymond, USC cinema department, made of last year's All Women's Transcontinental Air Race is now completed. Entitled "Cleared for Takeoff," the film is available for showings to aviation and civic organizations.

Barbara London, chairman of the Long Beach Chapter, Ninety-Nines, says the film is excellent. It was paid for by the Ninety-Nines, who sponsor the race, so there is no commercial advertising. Any group desiring the film is asked to get in touch with Mrs. London, 624 Armando Dr.

THINGS HAVE QUIETED down at Compton Airport this week, but Al Gabari reports that last week's hangar dance, sponsored by the Flying Derby Club, was a big success. More than 300 persons attended.

SALES OF THE NEW Fletcher "jet cooling" kits for Navions will be handled by nine newly appointed distributors, one of them Long Beach Aeromotive, the Fletcher Corp. announced this week. The Fletcher cooling system is CAA-approved for 185, 205 and the new 225-horsepower Continental engine.

IF YOU THINK learning navigation hard, how about a man who had to pick it up at the same time he was learning English? He is Olofur Bachman, a native of Reykjavik and one of Iceland's leading electronics engineers. He currently is studying instrument flying with Bruce Phillips at the Aircraft Associates Flying School.

He needs the instrument training because his job calls him to fly all over the North Atlantic.

Bruce, by the way, teaches commercial and private ground school Tuesdays and Thursdays and air line transport and instrument Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

IMPERIAL COUNTY Airport and its new administration building will be dedicated April 12 and the affair has been designated Air Transportation Day. Wiley E. Corn and William Kerrigan, co-chairmen for the event, claim that Imperial County has more interest per capita in private aviation than any community of similar population. They invite all fliers to drop in.

WALT WEHNER, just back from United Air Lines' annual stem-wide management meeting, reports UAL plans for a 60 per cent increase in passenger-mail-cargo capacity by the end of 1955. More than 300 top UAL officials from 78 cities on the 13,250-mile system attended.

United currently has orders pending for 30 Convairs and 25 of the new DC-7s, and ground facilities planned total about $85,000,000.

STOREY-RICKETTS, LOCAL HUDSON DEALERS EXPAND—In line with Hudson's announcement of the new "wonder car" the Hudson Jet, which will be sold in the low-priced field, thus expanding Hudson's sales market to cover 94 per cent of the entire automobile industry, the firm of Storey-Ricketts in Long Beach has expanded their operation to cover four separate and distinct locations on American Ave.

The main new car showroom will be located together with the general offices at 750 American Ave. At 712 American Ave., they will have a full line of Hudson Hornets, Super Wasps, Wasps and Jets in all colors, models and styles.

The main used car department will be located at 830 American Ave., where full facilities for reconditioning of used cars and display and sales of used cars are available.

The fourth location has just been completed at 2055 American Ave., where a beautiful new car showroom for the display of new Hudsons and a large used car display lot is also available together with used car reconditioning and new car get-ready facilities in the rear. This gives Storey-Ricketts over 650 feet on American Ave., making it by far one of the largest automobile establishments in the city of Long Beach.

LOCALS IN ECONOMY RUN—Long Beach will have two entries in the 1953 Mobilgas Economy run from Los Angeles to Sun Valley next month, it was disclosed today by officials of the sponsoring General Petroleum Corp. The run will start April 20 and the full entry list will be announced later this week.

Meanwhile it became known that the Storey-Ricketts agency at 750 American Ave. has entered a Hudson Jet in the low-price division for automatic drive, and Severin Motors, Inc., of 630 American Ave., has entered a Nash Rambler Super in the special lightweight class.

Five price classifications have been established for entrants in the annual stock car economy marathon in both standard and overdrive and automatic transmission divisions. In addition to competing for honors in their own price range, all cars will vie for the sweepstakes trophy which will go to entrant posting the best economy record as computed on a ton-mile-per-gallon basis by the AAA.

The actual cars taking part in the strenuous competitive grind are picked at random by AAA officials, without advance warning to the entrant, and then placed in impound to await the start of the run. This year's course to Sun Valley has not yet been announced, but it will be changed from the 1952 route to the Idaho spa. Once again the run will carry through three days, finishing at Sun Valley April 22.

Canada to Get U.S. TV TORONTO (UPI)—A 162-foot tower, rising above a 14-story building, will serve as the Toronto end of a microwave relay bringing United States television programs to Canada.

Skipper Irons Shirt on Good Ship Ajax

By GEORGE ERES

Independent-Press-Telegram Harbor Editor

There's no squawk from the captain's cabin of the passenger-cargo ship Ajax about whether the skipper's shirts are laundered properly.

The skipper does his own laundry. On a makeshift board in his cabin, Capt. E. W. Studley, was polishing off a few handkerchiefs. "Oh, the Press?"

(The captain, it developed, was bitten by the Press on a previous voyage.) "Excuse me a minute," he said, left his cabin and returned a few seconds later with a damp shirt which he spread on his ironing board and began "doing up."

WHILE THE CAPTAIN stroked away with his electric iron ("American made," he explained, "he related how he didn't believe much in discussing the firm's business with the press. ("We don't want our competitors to know our business.")

The captain, however, was perfectly willing to discuss his recent reading, Kenneth Roberts' "I Wanted to Write," a copy of which lay next to a package of cigarettes ("American brand—have one," he offered.)

While ironing away on his shirt ("American made," I bought it in New York about five years ago—you make good shirts") Capt. Studley explained that his previous experience with some Australian newspaper people was not too happy.

"We took a chap on a voyage—I was first officer at the time—it cost him nothing. It was something worked out by the company after a contest in England. This chap was first in his class; top grades; son of a bank president. "He was signed on as a midshipman, though of course he knew nothing of the sea. He had a time of it with some of the crew members he bunked with before he came 'round.

"When we got to Australia these newspapermen—they came around just like you, looking for something to print. You know, 'tell us what happened on the voyage; something interesting must have happened.'

"Well they got onto this 18-year-old chap and talked to him. "He talked to them—about politics! It was his impression that the government ought to nationalize the shipping industry!

"Well, now our company is a private firm and we want it that way. And here was this young fellow, knowing nothing at all about shipping, but being a guest of the line giving out an interview saying that shipping ought to be owned by the government.

"We didn't know about it until later when the firm officials suggested that we take a look at the interview that had been printed. "The chap had told them all about how he wanted to go into politics and told them it was his ambition to be prime minister."

Capt. Studley tucked down his radio (playing American jazz) a bit. "I've no objection to your talking to members of the crew," he said. "Just so you get your news about the firm's business from the agents. And don't use my name."

THE AJAX, a Blue Funnel Line ship, came into port with a cargo of 500 tons of frozen tuna from Japan, a "dab of rattan" from Hong Kong and some general cargo and she carried a passenger list including 47 Chinese from Hong Kong bound for Jamaica. The Chinese, according to Funch, Edye Co., agents, range from six months to 84 years old. "They're for the most part going to visit relatives in Jamaica where many Chinese are in trade, in the textile industry and on the plantations.

"We had a couple of cases of measles among the youngsters," said Alexander McKenzie, chief officer on the Ajax. "I think they're over it now."

McKenzie explained that the Chinese were all being held aboard the ship while she's in port because they have no visas. Many of the Chinese employed their time fishing with hand lines from the Ajax, tied up at Pier A. (She arrived last Sunday and was scheduled to sail Friday.)

HONG KONG, a regular port of call for the Ajax, is quiet, at least on the surface. "Everything's quiet and you don't get much evidence of the Chinese Communist operations going on elsewhere on the mainland," according to McKenzie.

WHEN IS A HOUSE A HOME?

It's a funny thing about our houses. They seem to look and feel just like home.

They're not the houses of the future nor even the houses of tomorrow. They're not glamorized or loaded with fads that will be out of date in a few years.

Ours are just sound, substantial and appealing houses, planned and built with all the improvements that make living pleasanter and easier. They're the kind of house your family can grow up in—the kind of house that will take on your own personality and truly become your home. If you like modern, your home will look modern. If you prefer traditional, your furniture will be completely at home, too.

In other words, we're planning and building houses with your needs in mind. We're building the best way we know how and evidently we're doing a good job.

Your overwhelming approval and acceptance of our houses is not only most gratifying, it is the only answer we need.

Thank you.

Easter Eve Solemnity Rite Scheduled at St. Barnabas

By JOHN W. TEED
Press-Telegram Church Editor

St. Barnabas Church will be one of 10 churches in the Los Angeles archdiocese which will observe the restored Easter Eve Solemnity, known more familiarly as the Easter vigil service on Holy Saturday night starting at 8 p. m. it was announced Saturday by the chancery office and Rev. Thomas J. Foley, pastor of St. Barnabas parish.

Pope Pius XII published on Feb. 9, 1951, his first decree on the restoration of the Easter Eve Solemnity. His first great pastoral purpose was to restore the Solemn Paschal Vigil to its primitive splendor, with a full measure of profound reverence to all its holy rites, old and new. His second was to correct the conditions under which the feast of Easter is celebrated. The experiment has enjoyed great success and, in January, 1952, Pius extended the Solemnity for three years more.

At St. Barnabas Church, as in the other churches, the ceremony will begin at 8 p. m. in the Lenten key with the darkened church and empty sanctuary, the consecrated Host being on the side Altar of Repose awaiting Easter morning. First, outside or in the vestibule, the new fire will be struck from a flint, then blessed, a symbol of the Resurrection. Then the Paschal candle will be blessed, lighted and carried in procession to the sanctuary. From this "Lumen Christi" or Light of Christ, the candles of the faithful and the church lights will be lighted. Next the Exultet will be sung and the Prophecies or lessons will be read. These were once the final instructions for those about to be baptized. Following the blessing of baptismal water, all those present at St. Barnabas each with a lighted candle, will renew their baptismal vows.

Australians to Hunt Uranium in Antarctic

CANBERRA, Australia — (AP). Australia plans a 1954 expedition to the Antarctic mainland. It will seek uranium and other minerals. Foreign Minister Richard Casey explained there is a geological similarity between the Antarctic and parts of Southern Australia where uranium has been found. Australia claims title to 2 1/2 million square miles of Antarctic territory.

People Here May Get Up to $1,000 Cash to Pay Bills

A new "Pay-All-Your-Bills" Plan is now being offered by Aetna Finance Co., 142 American Avenue.

The plan enables worthy families or individuals to borrow $100 to $1,000 cash to pay accumulated bills.

One convenient payment a month may be arranged which may be less than present combined payments. For example, one payment a month of $19 a month for 18 months will pay bills amounting to $277.45.

Persons wishing to take advantage of this new plan are requested to contact Aetna Finance Co., 142 American Avenue, Long Beach.

SALESMEN

WE SEEK MEN OF UNUSUAL CALIBRE

One of America's largest distilleries is offering you an opportunity to sell its products in your own territory. This is a unique chance to develop a profitable business with an established product.

An intensive orientation and training program will prepare you for the job. Selling experience is not necessary. You may advance as quickly as your ambition and aptitudes indicate.

If you have a strong personality, a determination to succeed and a desire to work over 32 hours a week, you will be given the opportunity to work with our company.

Our is a merchandising and promotion-minded organization with plenty of experience in the management of men who put it to good use.

Married men preferred. Some travel required. IN LONG BEACH AREA, we are seeking men with a minimum of 1 year's experience in sales. Send complete resume enclosing recent snapshot or photo to: SALES MANAGER, RHEEM MANUFACTURING CO., 4361 FIRESTONE BLVD., SOUTH GATE, CALIF. 90260. We will contact you if we are interested. Springtime Parties; Coeds Vacationing

By BETTY CAREY
Independent Women's Editor

It's the spring of the year; the bird's on the wing and up where he's winging he's apt to spot Bindy Ott on her rosy pink cloud. This is not an unusual atmosphere for a pretty bride-elect whose wedding is to take place on June 20 to John Vosburg.

Yesterday at the Virginia Country Club the first of a whirl of parties planned for Bindy was hosted by Betty Barbee, her aunt, and was a morning brunch and china shower. Nancy Ott, Bindy's mother, received with the hostess and honoree.

Others assisting were Bobby Thompson, Ann Thompson, Sally Nesmith, Carrie Vignolo, Margaret Stinson, Alice Neighbors, Pat Van de Water, Barbara Pumphrey, Joan Parks and Susan Taylor.

Another sure sign that spring is upon us is the arrival home of the gay younger set from colleges and universities for Easter vacation. Home from Stanford is Joanne Kerr, who's a freshman at "the farm." With her as houseguests she brought Ann Holtzworth of Salt Lake City, Lynn Lercara of Piedmont and Nancy McDonald of Lewiston, Idaho.

Other Stanfordites enhancing the scenery are Sandy Gillespie, Joyce Penn and Carol Kellogg. Carol and her mother, Stella, whipped down to Palm Springs to take advantage of the sun-prene weather for a few days. At 4 p. m. this afternoon there's apt to be a traffic jam on El Roble in the general vicinity of Carolyn and Don Raney's house. Carolyn has sent out invitations to 250 friends to come and meet Rolan Mattson, hat designer extraordinary, and see his collection of suit, daytime and cocktail hats. Carolyn and Rolan have mutual friends in Connecticut, hence on his arrival here they got together to compare notes, and presto! the idea for the showing evolved.

While sipping punch the guests will be able to watch Phyllis London, Marilyn Mead, Fran Cowley and Mrs. Erling Faust, who will model the elegant chapeaux throughout the house and patio. Mattson uses all Italian and Swiss straw, the flowers are French imports and the whole hand-draped and manipulated. He has worked with Lynne Nuttrix, designer with Lily Dache, and we won't be surprised if we see some of his enchanting creations enhancing Long Beach coiffures in the Easter parade.

At a beautifully appointed luncheon party at the Virginia Country Club on Thursday, sustaining members of the Junior League chose Ola Murphy as their new chairman, with Elma Miller as secretary-treasurer and Blanche Clock as social chairman. Leila Davidson relinquished her gavel to Ola, and others outgoing were Dorothy Mullarkey and Alice Wallace.

A regal address, 2432 King's Road, is on the mailbox at Mary Jane and Don Brewster's new home high atop a cliff overlooking the Balboa Bay Club. They also have their summer entertaining solved because down below near the water they have a second smaller beach cottage for the expected overflow guests. Of course Donnie, 10, and Marley, 6, have made the move with their parents from 1400 Marshall Pl.

In Sun Valley

Spending Easter vacation at Sun Valley, Idaho, are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crawford of 3401 E. Ocean Blvd. and their sons, Jack, who finishes USC in June, and Don, who is a senior at Wilson High. They left Saturday by train and will enjoy the skiing and outdoor sports for ten days.

the Virginia Country Club were Gladys and Dr. Walter Furie, who are now ensconced in their smart home in the dashing new apartment house at 1800 E. Ocean Blvd. that has caught everyone's eye of late.

Winging in from Mexico City last Monday were Louise (Bel-lows) Kruttschnitt, her daughters, Marie and Louise, and baby son, Julius III, for a visit with Louise's mother, Daisy Bel-lows, at 3111 E. First St., and to renew many old acquaintances. Louise's husband arrived yesterday and they'll remain until Easter.

Linking arms with Lady Luck and whipping off to Las Vegas this week end were Janet and Ed McKenzie with Pasadena's Betty and Tom Vail.

Young Christopher (Kit) Lewis is fully cognizant of having reached his seventh year, what with two celebrations in his honor. On Wednesday, parents Hattie and Hal hosted at a family dinner, and yesterday they made the grand gesture of inviting Kit's entire room from Longfellow for luncheon. Setting off for Friday for a leisurely 10-day motor trip through Arizona will be Marion and Burns Chaffee and Ann and Murray Williams. They'll tarry with friends at a ranch near Yuma and go also to Tucson and Tombstone to inspect its famed Boothill cemetery and Birdcage Theatre, and brush shoulders with the ghosts.

Spring Comes to Capital at Guggenheim Bulb Reception

By VIRGINIA WELDON KELLY
Press-Telegram Washington Correspondent

In the spring the fancy of Col. and Mrs. Robert Guggenheim turns to a "bulb" reception so that their hundreds of friends may see the early blossoms in the gardens of their home, Firenze House.

By design all of the first blossoms are on the "gold standard." Thousands of bright gold jonquils shared honors with green gold lavishly blossoming forsythia on the many acres of the rolling and velvety green lawns.

Only the sounds of the "deep" country can be heard at Firenze House although the estate is situated in the heart of Washington.

For the party, Mrs. Guggenheim—who is considered one of Washington's most beautiful women—wore a frock of taffeta printed in gray and rose.

The hosts received in the drawing room. Guests then gathered on the terrace to view sweeping hillside gardens. Later chill winds caused the throng to congregate in the house where masses of butter yellow tulips, daffodils, and potted azaleas blended with the muted tones of the rare Persian rugs and the "old Masters" on the walls.

None of the guests appeared to be counting calories as they sampled the luscious layer cakes—foot high devil's food, angel food, and "gold cake" with drift of fresh coconut—that competed for attention with sandwiches of many kinds and little cakes.

Among the guests were the Korean Ambassador and Mme. Yang; the Philippine Counselor and lovely Madame Gamboa (who wore a pale yellow ensemble with a picture hat laden with roses). Also, Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper and his dainty wife wearing a cocktail suit of gold silk—the material had

CITY'S FIRST LADY, MRS. LYMAN SUTTER

Meet Long Beach's New First Family, the Lyman T. Sutters

There's been a constant stir lately in the large two-story home at 1821 E. Ocean Blvd. where the Lyman T. Sutter family lives. They have suddenly been planted firmly in the public eye as the city's first family.

Since Tuesday when Sutter was chosen mayor to replace Burton W. Chace, now a county supervisor, the family has been busy adjusting to its new role in the civic limelight.

"I'm just going to take it in my stride," Mrs. Sutter says in her soft, friendly voice, "and hope that I can be half as gracious as Mrs. Chace has been."

The complications of their new life should not bother the Sutters, for they have always been a busy family. During the years when he was city prosecutor and a councilman, Mayor Sutter usually found time to take part in numerous civic activities and to follow his favorite hobby, taking colored movies. His principal subject to film has always been his son, Lyman Jr., and he keeps a library of 16-mm. reels dating back 13 years to the boy's birth.

Mayor Sutter has also been active in Boy Scout work, the YMCA and several city clubs and lodges. Lyman Jr., a seventh grader at Will Rogers School, is the image of his dad, according to Mrs. Sutter. He also has his special hobby, building model airplanes and power gliders.

The interior of the Sutter home reveals one of the favorite avocations of the city's new first lady, who collects antiques to complement the elaborate Louis XV decor throughout the home.

Another of Mrs. Sutter's interests is music, particularly sacred songs, though she likes all types of classical music. She has a trained soprano voice and at one time sang on a local radio station and with the choir of First Christian Church and First Congregational Church. She still sings and plays the piano for her own amusement.

Her club affiliations are PEO, Lawyers Wives, Wanderlust Club and PTA.

Mrs. Sutter, who was born in Republic City, Kan., has lived in Long Beach for 30 years. She met Mayor Sutter, a native of Burlington, Iowa, when he opened his law office here in 1932 after he was graduated from Harvard Law School.

Since the couple's marriage, Mrs. Sutter has been perfecting a recipe for the mayor's favorite dessert, devil's food cake topped with thick fudge frosting with vanilla ice cream on the side.

"When I finally perfected the recipe," Mrs. Sutter said, "Lyman asked me not to serve the cake so often anymore. It's still his favorite dessert, but he said he thought we'd better start watching our waistlines."

Mrs. Heedwohl Is Hostess

Roses from her own garden were used by Mrs. Leslie J. Heedwohl to decorate her home, 3800 Weston Pl., for a bridge luncheon Wednesday afternoon.

Guests and members of her bridge club attending were Mmes. J. Stowe Carney, Raymond Cary, Rufus Davis, Joseph Fellows Jr., Logan Goodknight, Francis Settle, Gus A. Walker, W. E. Wilkinson, Harry Newton, Manning S. Moore, Frank Reagan, Ryan G. Whisenant and Mrs. Barney Whisenant of Ft. Worth, Texas.

Lord Dunsany, Master of Fantasy, Content With His Fame, but Says America Forgot Him

By SUE ROBERGE

"America first discovered my stories but America has forgotten me," claims Edward John Moreton Drax Plunkett, 18th baron of Dunsany.

But say a simpler name—merely Lord Dunsany—to a lover of the fantastic and he not only won't have forgotten but will assert that Dunsany is the equal of Poe in writing weird, eerie and supernatural tales.

Dunsany is an imposing figure befitting his ancestral lineage. His white beard and mustache are a lovely match for his rugged features, and his great height seems startling in a man of 74 years. But as he sat in a drawing room chair of Dr. Dennis Smith's Palos Verdes home where he is a house guest, his manner was easy and informal, his eyes kind and thoughtful.

Like his forerunner Poe, Lord Dunsany writes poetry as well as short stories.

"Isn't it rather curious," the Irish peer gestured with his huge hands as if they, themselves, could weave a verse or a fantastic story, "to consider the enormous progress of transport, surgery, artillery and electricity in the last 100 years or even the last 50—but poetry started with absolute perfection 3000 years ago with Homer. I doubt if even Shakespeare achieved more than Homer."

With one hand still weaving circles in the air and the other clamped emphatically on his rich, white crown of hair, he built a Dunsanian analogy:

"It's as though the Queen Mary started perfectly on her maiden voyage the day Columbus discovered America."

Dunsany composed most of his verse during World War II, the time he considers the most inspirational of his long career. "Those were days," he mused, "things were most intense—war life was more densely packed than now."

Another great stimulus to writing, he has found, is travel. He has often left his 13th century castle in County Meath, near Dublin, to roam the world and to hunt big game in Africa. This is Dunsany's third trip to America after an absence of 30 years and his first visit to California.

After arriving on the Queen Mary he flew directly westward and saw while flying over Arizona "rose-red uninhabited cities and a landscape of natural statues carved by the wind."

Dunsany may not be a "believer in fairies" as a national magazine asserted last week, but his eyes are elfish beneath snowy brows. They are constantly twinkling and seem to have a privileged glimpse into the marshy land of Gaelic sprites or into any other world of fantasy Dunsany might choose to seek out.

Why does he go beyond reality in so much of his writing? "Because," he said, "I've always preferred the big thing.

Why shoot at a rabbit when you have a chance to shoot at a tiger? If you have a big theme, it's like carving an idol out of jade rather than soapstone."

But writing about the wild and fantastic presents a problem. "If you handle the incredible, you must make it credible, or your readers will not be interested," Dunsany said. His gnomish gaze became more intense:

"I never hunt for an idea. It must come to me and I must be struck by the wonder of it."

He then writes it down rapidly, usually at one sitting. "That's why I don't like to write novels," he continued. "When writing a novel you have to live like a writer."

In the long years before his writings became famous, Dunsany carried this thought with him: "I shall consider that I have achieved fame when my reputation reaches Shoreham." Shoreham is a village one-half mile west of his ancestral estate.

"My success traveled eastward," he said, "and eventually completed the circumference of the globe—less one-half mile—to the village of Shoreham. And then I was content that at last I was famous."

For some young writer who is waiting for his fame to travel eastward around the earth and back to Long Beach, he had this bit of advice:

"Whatever your star be, be guided by it without deviation."

Spending this Easter vacation week with the Milton McGrews, 42 Kennebec Ave., are their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Robertson of La Jolla.

Chi Omegas to Celebrate at Spring Eleusinia Luncheon

Chi Omega Alumnae and the active chapters from Gamma Beta at UCLA, and Phi at USC, will meet to celebrate Founders' Day at the annual Chi Omega Spring Eleusinia. The event will be luncheon at the Sierra Room of the Statler Hotel, April 11.

Mrs. Louis K. Sims, chairman of the Chaplain Service Corps of Southern California, will speak to the Chi Omegas. Mrs. Sims was chosen one of the 10 outstanding women in Southern California in 1951, for her civic work, and received a special citation from the United States Navy for reactivating the Chaplain Service Corps for the Korean conflict.

The Chaplain Service Corps sends tape recorders, records with public address systems, harmonicas, trans-oceanic radios, books, magazines, playing cards, stationery, candles and other necessities and luxuries to our boys in Korea.

The program for the afternoon will be opened by Mrs. Junius Oldham, with a speech or welcome. Toastmistress will be Mrs. Neill Hunter. The two active chapter presidents, Miss Sally Richardson of Gamma Beta, and Miss Kitty Radigan of Phi, will speak on campus activities.

Co-ordinating Council groups acting as chairmen are: Candlelight service honoring Chi

Kelso Home Party Scene

Hosts Thursday evening at a surprise party honoring Lt. Comdr. Stanley J. Kelso, who has just returned from two and one-half years in Korea and Tokyo, were Mr. and Mrs. J. Everett Houser in their home, 3945 Myrtle Ave. The officer and his wife Naomi reside at 3935 Myrtle Ave. and guests were friends of long standing.

Enjoying the welcoming home party were Messrs. and Mmes. George Green, Leroy Leatart, Charles Jennings, Ted Swenson, Noel Guertin, Frank Stewart, Lyle Huggins and Don Gilroy. During the evening canasta was played.

Dinner Party Series Begins

Entertaining at the first of a series of dinner parties were Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Avery of 4440 Myrtle Ave.

On the buffet were pink tulips and ranunculus, white stock and blue iris.

Bidden were Messrs. and Mmes. Clare D. Hamman, Herbert Fielding, Elmer Decker, Frank Richey, Lynn Hossom, Kenneth Wing, Dr. and Mrs. William Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ivey of Inglewood, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schell of Los Angeles, and the hosts' daughter, Miss Anne Avery.

Farewell Event

Mrs. William Marks and Mrs. Curtis Fuller entertained in the home of the former at a farewell party honoring Mrs. Hugh Denton, who with her sons, Don and Gary, will join Mr. Denton in Tulsa, Okla., where they will make their new home. Guests were Mmes. John Catti, Jack Ross, Woodrow Catti, George Hoffman, Asher Jones, Charles Kohlhaas, Max Conaway and Evelyn LaFay.

THE THREE MAJOR PROJECTS of the Long Beach Branch of the Women's Auxiliary to the Los Angeles County Medical Association depicted in the pictures concern the Workshop group whose main concern is furnishing layettes for needy new mothers, assisting with the Long Beach Mental Hygiene Clinic and the presentation of plays before the Parent-Teacher Association units. Shown above are a few of the Workshop members, left to right, Mrs. James Hoover, chairman; Mmes. Clifford Cole, Kirt Parks, Dwight Sigworth and Maurice Lang, welfare chairman. This year the members have completed eight layettes and by May hope to reach their goal of 12. They are presented to the Juvenile Department. (For additional photo see Page E-2.)

REALIZING THAT SOUND mental health is the basis for good physical health, wives of medical men in the county are presenting plays that dramatize the emotional climate that is ever present in all homes. Working on these plays, left to right, are Mmes. Kenneth Bradenburg, Leslie Esposito, Russell Fisher and M. John Rowe Jr. The three plays, directed by Mrs. Fisher, are "Scattered Showers," which concerns the pre-school child; "Fresh Variable Winds," a portrayal of the elementary school child, and "High Pressure Area," the problems of adolescence. Members of the Auxiliary take the roles in the plays which were written by Nora Sterling. At the conclusion of each play, local doctors act as moderators for a discussion period. (All staff photos by H. S. Melvin.)

DURING THE eight years that the Long Beach Mental Hygiene Clinic has been operating, it has tried to meet the ever-increasing psychiatric needs of the people. Pictured above are Mrs. James Keipp, president of the Long Beach Branch of the Women's Auxiliary to the Los Angeles County Medical Association, writing a check for $500 to help in refurbishing the Mental Hygiene Clinic. It will be given to Dr. Milton Katz, above, vice president of the clinic, while Mrs. Lee Wiltse, ways and means chairman of the branch, looks on. The clinic offers psychiatric service to adults and psychiatric and guidance service to children and their parents so they may live more harmoniously with themselves and others.

Norwalk Folk Rush to Hills, Orange Groves for Homes

By ELEANOR ZIMMERMAN

One would think that "thar's gold in them thar hills" the way Norwalk folk are flocking to the orange groves and rolling hills east and north of town to "get away from it all."

Latest structure to begin taking shape is that of the J. Paul Madsens, who home will face on Ocaso.

The Arthur Kulzers near by and facing on Imperial, are entertaining at leisure—the garden section of the Woman's Club enjoyed the country hospitality last week.

Enjoying their second month of tranquility are Cliff and Tink Smith who settled on Quail Lane.

And farther down the Lane, Dorothy and Carlos Evans entertained at dinner for Judge

Mildred L. Lillie preceding her speaking engagement at Parish Hall before the Junior and Senior Woman's Clubs last week. Jeneane Evans, Alice Callaway (prexy of the Juniors) and Pat McKinney, also of the Juniors, were present. Mrs. Evans is president of the Seniors.

A popular local couple who are moving a little farther away are Nolan and Dorothy Rasher on Lindale, who will leave the first of April with their three children. They plan to live at 15th and Pacific in New Westminster with Dorothy's mother, Mrs. Iva J. Heil.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hildebrandt on Exelsior Drive, and his sister and brother-in-law, the T. W. O'Donnells on Fairford, celebrated their mutual wedding anniversary recently with a "dinner out" and an evening at the Ice Show. The foursome, who proudly proclaim a total of nine children, had a double wedding at Belleville, Kas. 12 years ago.

An intriguing weight-losing contest is in progress on Devlin St. where Betty Kratt and Fern Benjesdorf are trying to out-loose each other. Loser buys a big dinner for winner—who's losing, eh?

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitney were hosts to 35 guests at a cocktail party last evening honoring Shirli Santos, recording star, at their home on Ferina. Miss Santos, a resident of Whittier, sang several selections including "I've Got to Keep My Eagle Eye on You," a jump song composed by Whitney and soon to be recorded.

Last Sunday was a big day for Norwalk's church people. Members of many denominations gathered to wish a great future for the anticipated Mission Covenant Church in groundbreaking ceremonies at Little Lake Rd. and Fairford St. And the sight of the wonderful Christine Nelson in her wheelchair, celebrating her 107th birthday in a perky black straw with crisp white flowers was a joy to behold. We couldn't help but feel that this gracious lady's blessing will start her new church on to a glorious future.

PTA Delegates Plan State Conclave Here April 28-30

Planning committee for the convention of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers met for an all-day session in the parlors of the Lafayette Hotel in Long Beach. The state convention will be held in Long Beach, April 28, through 30. More than 4000 delegates are expected.

Fifty-one conferences have been planned for their information. Luncheons, dinners and tours will prove relaxing and enjoyable.

Those attending the meeting were Mmes. J. F. Snowden, C. H. Culbertson, G. J. Golden, Marvin Owen, Harvey Dye and Robert Fudge from State Congress. First District was represented by Mmes. Everett Findlay, E. H. Galbraith, Kenneth Goodban, Ray Reese, H. A. Spurgin, E. G. Kemp, L. K. Nelson, C. F. Rees, Charles Burks, Gordon Bannister and Walter Smith, president.

The committee from Long Beach Council were Mmes. John Koekkoek, president; Albin Larson, A. V. Laughlin, J. D. Hickman, M. M. Travis, Edward Bragg, Eugene Courtner, C. W. Hackett, C. R. Fromlath, B. W. Neumaier and Stanley Domgaard.

Milletts Move to New Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Millett, 2750 Oregon Ave., and their children, Howie and Ronnie, are moving this week to Albuquerque to make their home.

Millett has been publicity director of the Long Beach Philharmonic Orchestra Assn. and Mrs. Millett has been serving as ward organist for the LDS Fourth Ward, which meets in Town Hall until the new stake and ward chapel is built at 37th and Elm Ave.

Their new address will be 533

Cagua Drive SE, Albuquerque, and they invite all of their Long Beach friends to stop in to see them on their cross country trips. The Milletts will build and operate a new drive-in restaurant under the name of Howard's on Hwy. 66.

Pre-Easter Club Calendar Includes Talk by Legislator

By RUTH REECE
Press-Telegram Club Editor

Most important announcement on the club calendar for this pre-Easter week comes from the Democratic Women's Study Club which will have as its speaker at a luncheon Wednesday in the Marine Room of Winton Hotel, Clyde Doyle, congressman from the 23rd District. A member of the Un-American Activities Committee, he is here at this time to attend meetings of this committee in Los Angeles.

The morning session will open with a business session at 10:30 a. m. when propositions on the ballot for the April 3 election will be discussed. Candidates for election to the school board will speak briefly. Reservations for the 12:30 p. m. luncheon must be made by Tuesday evening. President of the club, Mrs. Walter Williams, invites the public to attend.

Dolores Davis, lovely California coloratura soprano, will present the program for Ebell Club tomorrow in the auditorium. Very young and very pretty, she has a voice of exceptional quality and purity. She will appear with Don Scharlin, flutist, and Ernest St. John Metz, pianist, in an Easter repertoire. Mrs. Wilbur Lee Candy will preside.

Group R, Mrs. Walter M. Killingsworth, chairman, will serve the luncheon before the program.

An unusual program will be presented at North Long Beach Women's Club as a feature of its mother-daughter day celebration Wednesday in Houghton Park Clubhouse. Mrs. Vinton Park, president, will welcome members and guests.

"The Life of Christ in Art" will be given by Oswald Leonard Jackson who will show the development of man's ability to draw and paint from the cave-man's early attempts to the ultra-modernist's pictures. By means of many illustrations from the various schools of painting, Jackson will take his audience on a journey through the centuries to show the influence of the times on the great masters. Hostesses for the social hour which starts at 12 o'clock will be Mrs. Alice Hawkins, chairman of Group Seven, and members of the committee, Mmes. W. W. Sanders, Arthur Lay, R. C. Auth, F. C. Wagner, R. L. Prince, Mae Herscher, Charles J. Horn, Frank Hoenke, Albert J. Schustak, Manuel Castro, Alvin Odell and Frank Young.

Sister Elizabeth Kenny Auxiliary has scheduled its second annual "Luncheon Is Served" benefit for the Sister Kenny Polio Hospital for noon Tuesday in Linden Hall. Mrs. Abraham Green, general chairman, will be assisted by Mmes. Clara Condit, Walter D. Brown, Lois T. Mathewson, Connie Le LaBarre and the president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Philip M. Thompson.

Also assisting as hostesses will be Mmes. Fred R. Schwarz, Frank Ellsworth, Mark Kendall and Lester Cooper. In charge of reservations is Mrs. Eugene

O. Holabird, 4623 Harvey Way, assisted by Mmes. Richard Kowal, Lester R. Mondotte, Gertrude M. Winslow, Alex Johnson and William N. Biancagniel.

Canasta and bridge will follow and door prizes will be distributed.

Featuring a meeting of the Licensed Vocational and Practical Nurses' Association set for 7:30 p. m. April 8 at 921 Pacific Ave. will be a talk by Lt. Fred Good of the narcotic division of the Long Beach police department who will tell of the illegal use of drugs and equipment and will illustrate his remarks with pictures.

President of the organization, Bernice M. Von Zeditz, will review "Laws Pertaining to the Nurse," which reveals that in the near future all who nurse for hire will be required to be licensed by the state and that all eligible practical nurses will be required to take a state examination to obtain a license and title as "Licensed Vocational Nurse."

Hostesses for the meeting will be Mmes. Hester Quinn, Frances Hatch, Teckla Nelson and Alva Kane. Interested nurses are invited.

NEW PRESIDENT of Junior League of Long Beach, installed at a recent meeting, is Mrs. Donnell V. Davis, an active member of the league since 1949. She resides with her husband and three children, Donnell, Aileen and Margaret, in the family home at 2606 E. Second St. Before her marriage and subsequent move to Long Beach, Mrs. Davis was a student at Wellesly College, Mass. Her term of office is for a year.

Cancel Luncheon

The cookbook luncheon by Assistance League of Long Beach scheduled for Friday has been cancelled due to Good Friday and local elections. The last luncheon of the season will take place May at the clubhouse with Mrs. Jack Reid chairman. The event is open to the public and reservations may be made with Mrs. Reid.

Monday Dinner

Wide Awake Rebekah Lodge No. 71 will serve a cafeteria dinner Monday in Machinists Hall at 6:30 p. m., to be followed by a card party.

Game Night

Canasta, bridge, pinocle and 500 will be featured games at a card party by the American Legion Auxiliary of Bellflower April 8, at 8 p. m. in the American Legion hall, 9914 Arkansas Ave. The affair, which will be open to the public, will be attended by many of the members of post and auxiliary according to Mrs. Dorothy Mitchell, who will be chairman for the event. She will be assisted by Mrs. Jack Sorenson and Mrs. Norene Lough.

Represents Alumnae

This week end Mrs. Walter P. Havekors of 790 Terraine Ave. is the delegate of the Long Beach Chapter of Delta Gamma Alumnae to the biennial Province Conference of the sorority at the Delta Gamma House of USC.

Meetings have been Friday and Saturday, and today the concluding banquet is for 300 delegates and visitors at the Statler Hotel. The banquet is sponsored by the Southern Council of Delta Gamma Alumnae of which the Long Beach chapter is a member.

Mrs. Havekors will return home this evening, and on Thursday will give a report of the conference at the meeting of the Long Beach Alumnae in the home of Mrs. William A. Wilson, 234 Corona Ave.

DAR Project Told Chapter

Mrs. John C. Champieux, chairman of the administration board of the DAR Neighborhood Center in Los Angeles, was guest speaker at a luncheon meeting of Western Shores Chapter in Lafayette Hotel, with the regent, Miss Marguerite Patterson, presiding.

Mrs. Champieux told of the work at the center, where underprivileged children from 5 to 16 years of age are taught sewing, woodwork and ceramics, along with Americanism and good citizenship. This center, the speaker pointed out, is the only one of its kind in the United States supported by the Daughters of the American Revolution, and is strictly a California project, established and maintained by DAR chapters throughout the state.

Mrs. Nathaniel Buckmaster, who attended the recent DAR state convention in San Francisco, reported on that event, and Mrs. Edward H. Lichty read the president general's message. Visitors introduced were Mrs. George Berger of Azusa, and Mrs. L. A. Raney of Columbus, Neb.

Farewell Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bustamante were hosts at a farewell dinner party in the Riviera Room of Villa Riviera Hotel in honor of Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Robert E. Childers of 2310 Montair Ave., who are leaving for military duty in Alaska. Also attending were Comdr. and Mrs. S. A. Bentley who are leaving for Kodiak, Alaska. Both commanders will be on duty at the 17th Naval District.

A GROUP of Whittier College friends were invited to a buffet dinner last evening by Chaplain and Mrs. W. R. Hall of Lakewood to announce the engagement of their daughter, Adnee Mathews to Roger A. Weiss son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weiss of Whittier. Both young persons are graduates of Whittier College. The popular bride-elect a graduate of Wilson High is now teaching at Palo Alto. Assisting her mother as hostess at the event was Mrs. James M. Crawford. The wedding is planned for autumn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Albert Browning

Brownings Fete Golden Year

To compliment Mr. and Mrs. Charles Albert Browning who were married 50 years ago in Grand Junction, Colo., a reception and dinner party was given in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Browning of this city.

For the occasion the Browning home was arrayed with bouquets of white stock, yellow ranunculuses and jonquils. Centering the lace-covered table was a bouquet of white stock and golden ranunculuses, white candles in silver candelabra and a white wedding cake decorated with yellow rosebuds. More than 125 guests were present.

Later in the evening the immediate family and relatives gave a dinner. Attending were the honored guests, other children, Mrs. Charles Pryor, Everett Brown, Mrs. George Wallace; grandchildren, Charles Edward Pryor, Roger Browning, Roy Wallace, Kent Browning, Sue Ann Browning, Karen Browning, Mrs. Dora Hatfield and great-grandchild, Steven Pryor.

AT A buffet dinner for family and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clement Kissel of 1239 E. 10th St. announced the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Genevieve Webb, to Archie James MacMillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Waller of San Diego. Both young persons attend USC, where she is in the senior class and affiliated with Delta Zeta. Her fiancé has served in the Navy. A June wedding is planned.

Cleaning Trick

Wallpaper can be cleaned with a stale loaf of bread. Cut off crusts and rub out end of bread against wall. As soil accumulates on bread, shave it off with a sharp knife. Eraser-like commercial wallpaper cleaners are available.

NOW IS the Time TO START DANCING

Honeymoon at Desert Resort

First Presbyterian Church formed the attractive setting for the evening wedding of Miss Barbara Rae McDowell and Calvin Stewart Burns. Dr. Reuben F. Pieters performed the service.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. McDowell of 1141 E. Carson St. was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a gown styled with a Chantilly lace bodice and a bouffant skirt and train of nylon tulle over taffeta. A bonnet of satin and seed pearls caught her veil, and her bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Proceeding the bride up the aisle was Miss Martha Wade, maid of honor; Misses Catherine Just and Carolyn Mason, bridesmaids; and Miss Carla Erwin, flower girl. William Woods served the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were Thad Long, Walter Remer, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom.

A graduate of Polytechnic High and City College, the bride is a past honored queen of Bethel 77, Order of Job's Daughters and a member of Bettina Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Burns of Huntington Park, is a graduate of City College where he was president of the Engineers and attends USC.

Campus Club Names Staff

Students of Pomona College and of the graduate school of Claremont College spoke to the Long Beach Council of Women's Campus Club of Pomona College at a luncheon meeting of the club in the home of Mrs. C. L. Lovitt, 659 Clairborne Pl. Assistant hostesses were Mmes. W. R. Atkinson, Frank E. Esterlin, C. M. Fowler, and Mark Thornton.

Mrs. Edward F. Baker, chairman of the nominating committee, reported names of officers for the coming year, who were then elected. Mrs. D. J. Duffield is the new chairman; Mrs. Lowell Hill, recording secretary; Mrs. C. M. Fowler, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Mangold, treasurer; Mrs. Michael J. Sadoski, finance; Mrs. W. R. Atkinson, hospitality; Mrs. Mark Thornton, assistant hospitality; Mrs. Alva M. Johnson, membership; Mrs. Vernon Shepherd, press; Mrs. Milton Silberberg, telephone; Mrs. Frank E. Esterlin, china; and Mmes. A. J. Jones and C. C. Carpenter, area co-ordinators.

Joan Kirkley Becomes Bride of Ernest Leroy Richards

Carrying a cascade bouquet of lilies of the valley and stephanotis centered with orchids, Joan M. Kirkley walked up the aisle of First Baptist Church to become the bride of Ernest Leroy Richards. Dr. Winfield Edson officiated at the evening vow exchange.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reo Heath of 5141 El Cedral St., the bride chose a gown fashioned with French lace bodice and a satin skirt ending in a cathedral train. Her fingertip-length veil was held by a French cut crown, and she was given in marriage by her father.

Attending the bride were Miss Joanne Lance, maid of honor; Mmes. William Nicolai, Duane Danielson and Douglas Aiken, bridesmaids; and Kathy Sather, flower girl. Earl Richards was best man, and seating guests were Paul Richards, William Nicolai and William Hutchinson. John Reed was ring bearer. A reception followed at Allen Center.

A graduate of San Pedro High School, the bride received both B.A. and B.S. degrees from the University of Redlands and did graduate work at U. of C. at Berkeley and Long Beach State College. She is a teacher in the Los Angeles City Schools, president of Beta Lambda Mu, and a member of AAUW and B&PW Club.

Her husband, son of Mrs. Alma Richards of 2924 E. 63rd St. and the late Ernest L. Richards Sr., is a graduate of Wilson High, USC and City College and did graduate work at University of Arizona at Tucson. He is affiliated with the Order of DeMolay and 20-30 Club and is employed by a petroleum corporation.

ENGAGEMENT of Juanita Pilgrim and William Henry Buchanan III was announced at a joint meeting of TNT and Hammurabi by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. C. H. Pilgrim, of 1655 E. 53rd St. Both young persons attended Jordan High and LBCC. The bridegroom-elect, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Buchanan of 6317 St. Louis St., is in the Naval Air Cadets. Wedding date has not been set.

ANNOUNCEMENT is being made of the betrothal of Jetty Lee Clark and Danny Estes by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Clark of 1624 E. 65th St. Miss Clark attended Jordan High and LBCC. Her fiancé, son of Thurman E. Estes of Owensboro, Ky., is stationed in Florida with the Navy. No date has been set for the vow exchange.

Phi Mus Plan Installation

Phi Mu Alumnae members of the Long Beach Association gathered in the home of Mrs. William E. Webb, 279 Nieto Ave., recently. Assisting Mrs. Webb during the evening were Mrs. Charles Hastings and Mrs. Earle Thompson.

Mrs. Lee R. Denny opened the meeting by welcoming Mrs. Lura Gray, an alumna of UCLA, into the group. Several committee reports were given: Mrs. Charles Hastings, membership; Mrs. William Fraser, Panhellenic, and Mrs. Terence M. Lee, program. At the conclusion of the reports, a talk on "Fraternity Education" was given by Mrs. Webb. Plans were announced by Mrs. E. W. Sweezy that the annual installation of officers for the coming year will be April 9 at the home of Mrs. Lee R. Denny, outgoing president, 4241 Vista Ave. Those to be installed are president, Mrs. E. W. Sweezy; vice president, Mrs. Terence M. Lee; secretary, Mrs.

Mrs. Delmar Dean Stanton

Dorothy Moon Weds Lt. Delmar Stanton

St. Martin of Tours Church in Brentwood was the setting Saturday afternoon for the formal marriage of Miss Dorothy Diane Moon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Everett Moon of Woodland Hills, and Lt. Delmar Dean Stanton, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Stanton of 1515 Loma Ave. Father Augustine C. Murray officiated at the ceremony in the presence of many friends of the popular young pair.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautiful in a waltz-length gown of Chantilly lace styled with circular skirt and fitted bodice. The skirt, which flares from beneath tiny lace scallops just below the waistline, is over white tulle and satin. Her illusion veil was held by a lace crown and she carried a bouquet of white tulips and vermillion.

Attending the pair were Miss Barbara Libbin, maid of honor, and Bartholomew Singletary, best man. Charles Everett Moon Jr. and Robert Wilson were ushers.

The Garden Room at the Bel-Air Hotel was the scene for the reception after which the pair left on a wedding trip to Ojai Valley.

The former Miss Moon is a graduate of UCLA with her bachelor of science degree in home economics and is affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta and Omicron Nu. Her husband, also a UCLA graduate, has a degree in business administration and is a member of Sigma Nu.

Hints to Wife Help Spouse Sell House

Putting your house up for sale? Give it a beauty treatment first!

There are many ways a homemaker can aid her husband and real estate agent when it comes to selling the home. Here are some:

1. Be sure all the curtains and furnishings are spotless and the house neat as an imported French gown.
2. Gleaming surfaces attract buyers like flowers attract bees. Make certain that the clay tile in the kitchen is freshly wiped. It takes only seconds and the results are attention-getting. Clean the range, too.
3. Have all your attractive lamps lighted, if it's evening when the potential buyer appears. A gloomy interior is discouraging.
4. Don't allow clutter. During the period the house is up for sale, be careful to have toys, magazines and other trivia well out of sight.
5. You may take chances on a stairway familiar to you, but your "guests" don't know their way around. If a flight of steps looks dangerous, that's a bad influence on people looking at a house. Keep all articles off the steps and be sure the area is well lighted.

Jack Newgent, and treasurer, Mrs. Louis D. Pate. Those appointed to assist with the installation are Mmes. Verne Hepp, Frank Dunn Jr. and Harriet Benson.

Watch Is Eye-Catcher

By GAILE DUGAS

The primary purpose in buying a watch is to be able to tell the time. But women know that a watch can be a great deal more than just a time-piece.

It can be a conversation piece, a dazzling piece of jewelry, a fashion accessory. It should be all of these things and a dependable time keeper, too, in order to earn its place in a woman's wardrobe.

One young New York designer is doing just such watches at budget prices. Many of them can be worn interchangeably as bracelets, lapel pins or even stood on a curio shelf. Some of them are designed for the tailored woman, others are definitely ornamental. But all of them are practical since they keep accurate time.

The coronation influence is seen in a jeweled coach with antique gold-plated case. This is a pin-on watch and highly ornamental. In the same feeling of elegance is a bracelet with watch concealed in a pearl-studded acorn.

For a teen-ager, there's a tiny alarm clock watch that comes in bracelet or lapel form. Since it has three tiny ball feet, it can be used on a night table.

Also for teen-agers is the bracelet with real hour-glass appended. A watch is set into one end of this glass. A third watch with youthful appeal is a bracelet with a tiny globe of the world attached. The globe snaps open to reveal a watch. And there's a tiny book with watch inside that comes in both lapel and bracelet form.

Get-Together for Auxiliary

An orchid, yellow and green color scheme formed an Easter motif for a bridge luncheon Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Victor K. Hart, 3228 E. First St. Entertaining were members of auxiliary to Children's Memorial Hospital for its junior group. Nightingales, and its guilds, Las Madras, Northern Lights and Fiorella.

Receiving invitations were 134 women.

At each quartet table was a deep emerald colored glass vase holding flowers in pastel shades. Jonquils, stock and other spring flowers filled a silver epergne on the dining room table.

Miss Virginia Hester

Hesters Announcing Virginia's Betrothal

Chaplain James M. Hester, USN (ret.), and Mrs. Hester of Long Beach are announcing the engagement in New York City of their daughter, Virginia, to Eric James Laddley of Newark, N. J., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Laddley.

Miss Hester was graduated from Wilson High and Scripps College in Claremont, Calif. While residing here, she was a member of Bachelorettes. She also was graduated from the Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers in New York, and served three years in the Navy, being separated as a lieutenant.

Laddley was graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. During World War II, he served in the Navy in the South Pacific, and in Washington, D. C., on the staff of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy. He holds a lieutenant's commission in the Naval Reserve.

Fun Party for Yacht Members

More than a hundred members and guests of the Corsair Yacht Club met recently for the club's traditional annual Shipwreck Dance at the Signal Hill Clubhouse. Participants in every conceivable type of nautical costume initiated the opening of the yachting season. There was dancing to the music of Andy's Hot Shots, refreshments in the form of a beach barbecue. The hilarious affair marked the first event on the Corsair Yacht Club calendar and will be followed by a series of family cruises and beach picnics.

A June wedding is planned, after which the couple will live in New Jersey.

Shower Fetes Bride-Elect

Miss Barbara Midwood, who will wed Wayz Middough April 18, was feted at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Gilbert Range and Mrs. Russell T. Uhlis at the Range home, 1945 Pacific Ave.

Peach blossoms were used in decorating for the fete. Invited were Mrs. Olga Day, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. Way Middough, mother of the future bridegroom; Mmes. Oscar Contrato, Don Newhouse, Edward N. Berbari, Frank Pio, Nancy Rider, Nick Ratelle, Pat McHale, Bill Metz, Phyllis Marquardt, Mary Willingham, Cecelia McMillin, Norma Glone, Jeanne Berberet, Michael D. Ricca, Irving Cooper, Mary Louise Brannan, Mary Cooper, Katie Bell; Misses Jo Ann Skougard, Connie Black, Janet Greenlee, Hazel Daniels, Ann Bishop, Darlene Dobbins, Lisbeth Luke and Gloria Nikcevic.

Mister Bunny Plans Visit With Tiny Tots at Fort MacArthur Easter Sunday

By VIRGINIA NEWTON

It's Sgt. Bunny, USA, who is planning on reporting in for Sunday duty come Easter over at the Army post, Fort MacArthur, when the annual Easter egg hunt will be staged. This year Mister Bunny plans on running the show in three sections according to the age of his guests, and there'll be prizes for those finding the most eggs. Also Bunny Rabbit is hiding special gold and silver eggs. Assisting the rabbit will be members of the Officers Wives Club and the Ladies Auxiliary.

Mrs. J. H. Brandt entertained at a delightful supper party recently honoring Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Leser of Philadelphia, who are the houseguests of their daughter, Mrs. R. C. Hammond. Visiting with Mrs. Brandt for a few days, while the USS New Jersey was here, and to be with Capt. C. L. Nelson, was the naval officer's son and daughter-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. John Cummings and two children.

Members of Navy Doctors' Wives Club, please note, that the luncheon meeting has been changed to Tuesday, April 14, at 12:30 p. m.

April 17 is the evening dinner party of the Officers Wives Club and their guests will be held at the Officers Club, Allen Center. Chairman is Mrs. Harold Lerner, assisted by Mmes. Elvory Carr, George W. Davis and W. W. Weber.

Much ado about helping folks is the daily theme of the busy Navy Thrift Shop over at the Long Beach Naval Station and come March 30 the group will hold an important board meeting at 10:30 a. m. at the shop. There is still a definite need of helping hands in the sewing room and if you can't stay and sew, call the shop for sewing to take home.

Former residents, Maj. and Mrs. Albert Tatkin and children Fredericka, Nick and Tommy have returned to their home here after two years' duty and residence at the Wright-Patterson Air Base at Dayton, Ohio, where the major was attached to the Air Materiel Command.

Mrs. Lynn Owens left last week with her two children for San Francisco where they will embark for Japan, where a happy reunion will take place with Air Force Capt. Owens, who was formerly stationed at the Long Beach Air Force Base.

Several nice parties have been given for new residents Mr. and Mrs. Archie McKell from Boston, Mass., who have purchased a new home in Lakewood. Lt. and Mrs. William Paulick entertained at a dinner party in their honor. Coming up from San Diego soon to see them will be their son, Lt. Martin McKell and family.

Col. and Mrs. Ronald Wilson of Lakewood Plaza had as their house guest recently the colonel's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson from Oregon. The Wilsons recently moved from Westminster to their home in Lakewood.

New president of the popular Nautical Club, Mrs. Robert Lynn, announced at the board meeting Monday at her home that the officers had voted to have the members and guests bring to their next luncheon party in April old garments or cannot goods for a collection to be sent to the Indian children of the St. Christopher's Mission.

About the cutest incident of the week was watching those pretty cruiser wives, Mrs. Flagg and Mrs. Quinn, trying to help their boys officially launch the Flagg boys' new boat over in the bay. There was much tugging and pushing to get the vessel into the water. Finally off went the four young boys for a sail with the 4-year-olds, Mike Flagg and Kevin Quinn, wrapped up in life jackets. Mrs. Claude Flagg entertained at a man size supper for the young sailors following the trip down the bay.

On April 11 the 253rd Infantry Regiment of the 63rd Infantry Division will hold a regimental dinner party at the Officers Mess at Fort MacArthur. That afternoon the ladies of the 63rd will hold a tea and card party in the clubrooms of the Officers Mess.

Formerly of Fort MacArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walker, now out of the service, are residing in Artesia, N. M.

Before leaving they were honored by the Ordinance Section, who gave a farewell party and shower for the recently married couple.

There was a flurry of exciting discussion at the first official meeting of the Officers Wives Club of the Long Beach Pacific Reserve Fleet at the home of Mrs. Robert Lynn last Wednesday when plans made included a good old-fashioned box supper for the members and their husbands in April.

Officers present were president, Mrs. Anthony Mack; vice president, Mrs. Edward Kemmer; secretary, Mrs. William Davis; and treasurer, Mrs. E. T. Bedell.

PLANNING to wed July 12 are Sandra Lee Sawyer and Ralph Lawrence. Their engagement is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sawyer, of 2010 Atlantic Ave. She is a student at Polytechnic High, a member of Libra and Order of Rainbow for Girls. Her fiancé, a student at LBCC, is a member of Engineers and Order of DeMolay. His mother is Mrs. Helen Lawrence, 1215 Market St.—(Gainsboro photo.)

Informal Dinner by Nielsens for Chace and Hahn Families

By IOLA MASTERSON

The newest and the youngest county supervisors—our own good lookin' Burton Chace and Kenneth Hahn—got together Monday night to talk things over. But the talk concerned the gay and informal hospitality of Frances and Niels Nielsen, where they joined other members of the Nielsen clan for golden fried chicken and an evening as far removed from politics as an evening can get.

Polly Chace was there, too, as well as Coni Chace, Margaret and Ken Davidson, John Nielsen and his fiancée, Eileen Young. The family style, informal evening was possible because the Nielsens are long-time close friends of both the Chaces and of the Hahns. Mrs. Hahn (Ramona) couldn't be there because the youngsters had the flu.

Qualifying, right on down the line, for licenses as "Tugboat Annie's" are members of the City College Faculty Wives who became seasoned sailors Wednesday during a regular meeting which they combined with one of those worthwhile and enjoyable harbor tours.

"Captain" May Ruwe presided during the brief business meeting sandwiched in between sandwiches and neck crannies, and cute "first mates" Fay Barrus and Olive Wheeler composed the planning crew.

A few sports car enthusiasts—about 20,000 of them—throttled their way down to Palm Springs last week end for the races (held at the airport) and you can be sure the Long Beach MG Club as well as a mess of other locals interested in the low and the little jobs were on hand, too. For instance, Doc Earl and Peggy Gates drove down in their Mercedes Benz, Bill Gray wheeled a sleek Riley with his Dad and a friend as passengers. MG Club proxy Max Briney was there, so was Chet Lancaster, Douglas Bailey, the Bob Lockness, Milt Anderson and Dan Dickinson—a very busy man, one of the officials, no less.

Helping support baseball, as she is played in Long Beach, were Jimmy Heartwell and Way Middough plus a grandstand full of other people when the Beavers and the Angels faced each other last home plate nine times week ago yesterday.

If you think spring has busted out all over, you ought to see little Nancy Niver. Only in her case it measles and they arrived in full blossom last Wednesday. For the next couple of weeks, at least, parents Gladys and Bill, will be keeping an eyes-out-the-corner watch over son, Tommy. They've even rehearsed a few groan variations in case the worst comes to the worst and is there any doubt?

Head waiters in Hollywood were snapping their fingers more than somewhat Saturday night in the interest of keeping visiting Long Beach people happy. At Perino's alone, frinstance, were Myrtle and Harry Hachmeister, Nancy and Bill Brooks, and their mutual friend from Pittsburgh, John Church. At another table were Eleanor and Joe Ball and Alma and Elmer Decker. After dinner we don't know what the D's and the B's did but we do know that John Church and his friends went on to Ciro's for dancing and floor show watching.

Lady golfers, now that spring has sprung, are out in full force again with a determination that bodes no good for the records of Patty Berg or Babe Zaharias. Gertie Guertin and Mary Alice Johnson (who are by no means beginners at the game) have joined the Women's Golf Club at Recreation and are part of the regular foursome with Vivian West and Barbara Craig. Other faithful golfers of the season are Margaret Simpson, Pat Van de Water, Libby Spawr, Kay Smith, Verla Browning and Nell Taylor.

We were just barely beginning to get acquainted with Frank Bonham, new head man of Monsanto, when piff, off he whizzed again for old home town of Springfield, Mass. But he'll be back. He only went east to wind up personal business affairs and escort wife, Betty, and their four young 'uns through the wide open spaces on route here, which should be in about six weeks.

Big fun of the week was picking up the phone on Tuesday and discovering that the voice at the other end belonged to Virginia Copeland Capostosto, here briefly en route from New York to her home in Manila. Her husband, Al, planned to pick up a later flight out of New York but Virginia came early in ordered to enjoy a little visit with her mother here.

Far as we're concerned, Dot and Hal Howard can hang up some kind of new world's record for speed. They sold their home in the Rogue River country and arrived in town last Sunday. By Tuesday they had purchased a home in Lakewood, their furniture had been ordered out, and by today they'll most likely be all settled.

Roy McCullough is building a new garage at his and Marge's Bay front home, only the floor is made of salt water, not cement, and besides it's for a boat, not a car and it's called a slip not a garage and it makes ship to shore communications from their living room as easy as eating an orange!

PLANNING THE YEAR AHEAD for the PEO Reciprocity Bureau of Long Beach which represents the 24 PEO chapters in the city are these officers of the bureau. Standing is Mrs. J. Roscoe Howell, president, and from left, Mrs. P. J. Powell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Roy Harmon Wolfers, vice president; Mrs. A. B. Good, recording secretary, and Mrs. J. K. Goossen, treasurer. At a luncheon yesterday in Assistance League clubhouse, the retiring presidents of the Long Beach chapters entertained the incoming presidents. Next meeting of the bureau is set for April 28.—(Steff photo.)

Letter to Children

Be Cheerful in Obedience; Give Friends a Helping Hand

By ANGELO PATRI

Dear boys and girls:

Very often you fret, scold, and even rebel against the rules of your parents and teachers. You think they spoil your fun. You can't live alone! You could not do very much without your father and mother. You would not have much fun without your playmates. Learning would be slow and difficult for you if there were no school and no teachers. We all live together, adults and young, and we must conduct ourselves so as to get the most possible good from life.

When mother or father protests against your loud voices, you should be sorry, never resentful. Noise gets on the nerves of grownups. You can have just as much fun at your games without yelling. Remember, a pleasant, modulated manner of speaking will be appreciated as you grow up—and you will benefit.

It is natural for you to want to be first. You want to be president of the class or captain of the team. You want your mother's attention and perhaps you want to be of a certain importance. But you must earn that distinction. Try to be helpful of others.

Open the door for the classmate whose arms are full. Teach the fumbling lad how to throw the ball. Give the slow boy a lift. Smother your complaints and speak cheerfully. Nobody needs the company of a Gloomy Gus. Speak well of others, or keep silent, and stand up for what you know is right. Do what the greatest Teacher who ever lived told you to do: Love your life that you may gain it.

You understand, girls and boys, that you would never be happy if you had to live alone. Whether you make people happy or sad by your actions or speech, may decide your own success. Being unselfish buys happiness for you.

Bear in mind that you are as dependent on others as they are on you, and that the rules that sometimes may seem to cramp your style are what help make for an enjoyable association. When you are told to do this, and stop that, when you are told, "No," when you want it to be "Yes," just remember that you are being helped to live in peace and happiness with others. And remember, too, that while virtually everybody wants to be first, if you are second, or third, or even further behind, take it cheerfully—be a good sport.

Does your child have bad eating habits; is he a food fuser? Dr. Patri explains the importance of good eating habits for good health in his booklet No. 308, "Feeding Children." To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to him, care of this paper, P. O. Box 98, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Bad Posture Causes 'Hump'

By ALICIA HART

The word "dowager" carries with it a picture of queens, duchesses and society leaders, all dignified and elegant. But when that word is coupled with "hump," all the dignity falls away, leaving nothing but the thought of "old."

The dowager's hump, a lump of fat over the backbone just below the base of the neck, is caused by habitually faulty posture, both standing and sitting. Years of typing, writing, sewing or reading with the head bent forward and the bones out of alignment, cause this fault.

An habitually depressed mood, causing a woman to carry her head drooping forward as she walks, may also contribute.

To massage away the lump of fat, use firm finger strokes up-wards as far as the hairline. Follow each stroke by letting your head fall back to relax it. You can't, of course, expect quick results.

To Hear Scholarship Student

National Council of Jewish Women will give a salad luncheon at Temple Israel April 4 at 12:15 p. m. Mrs. Monica Mohl-lever, council scholarship student at USC, will speak.

Born in Wilna, Poland, the speaker was admitted to the Wilna University medical school. Her studies were interrupted during the Nazi occupation years. In 1947 she went to Israel for a year prior to coming to United States.

Mrs. Mohl-lever was district supervisor in social work with handicapped people in the department of rehabilitation in the ministry or social welfare in Jerusalem.

Mrs. Mohl-lever was district chairman for the luncheon, and the meeting will be conducted by the president, Mrs. Max Coonen.

Diversity Keynote for Informal Entertaining by Suburbanites

By DONNA RAY HALE

Parties were the main topic of conversation this week in Downey with a wide variety of additional events scheduled on the social calendar. One of the most colorful of these took place at the home of Mrs. Roc Cutri on Rives Ave. when 100 guests gathered for a Chinese luncheon with tables set in the garden and around the pool. Large sprays of lantern plant set in the planter wall provided decorative motif. The menu featured Chinese dishes. Mrs. Cutri and those assisting her in hostess duties were gowned in Chinese costume. Following the luncheon, a swimming team from Downey Union High School gave an exhibition of swimming and diving in the pool. Those attending from Downey were Mmes. Joseph Desimone, John MacInnis and Joseph Shovlin. The event was a ways and means project of the Italian Woman's club, whose president is Mrs. Bert Wallis of Los Angeles.

A gay group journeyed to Clock Country Club in East Whittier for a semiformal dinner dance last evening following an event of significance to members of Gamma Chapter, Theta Chi Epsilon Sorority. This was closed full-membership ceremonies at 6 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Jack Snow on E. Second St., and pledge ceremonies for two new members, Mmes. Edwin Rowe and Paul Kemmling. Mrs. Daniel Edderts, director, who conferred the full membership degree, chose a street-length gown of Coronation pink faille with sequin and seed pearl embroidered neckline. This costume was accented by chocolate brown accessories and a white and gold stole. Mrs. Arlo Kinsey of Norwalk, who inducted the pledges was gowned in an off-shoulder ballerina length gown of black nylon lace with rhinestone accessories. Mrs. William Shaw, president, chose a strapless aqua gown of ballerina length and rhinestone accessories.

Mrs. Florence MacLane entertained with a birthday party at her home in honor of members of Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary 3322 who observed their birthdays from September to April 1. In addition to the cutting of the traditional cake, the social evening included the revealing of secret pals. Those whose birthdays were honored included Mmes. Ruth Lett, Venus McElroy, A. R. Brown, Edythe Corlew, Lucy Downey, Edith Poole, Mary Ann Fortner, Elenore Amidon, June Pollard and the hostess.

Winter sports were enjoyed by a party of Downeyites who traveled to Mile High resort near Twin Peaks in the San Bernardino Mountains last week end under auspices of the 20-30 Club. Leaving about noon Saturday, the group enjoyed tobogganing at the resort and dancing in the evening. They returned Sunday. Those making the trip were Messrs. and Mmes. Jim Stone, R. C. Bynum, Doug Morrow and Messrs. Chuck Swope, Ed Lewis and George Thorpe.

Several local women attended the tour to Casa Alvarado in Pomona, sponsored by the California History and Landmarks Department of California Federation of Woman's Clubs. A program was presented by the Padua Hills players and Isabel Lopez de Fages told the history of Casa Alvarado. Downeyites making the trip were Mmes. A. M. Bojanover, John MacInnis, Lloyd Lynd, C. Curtis, Charles Sardou, H. M. Dyr and R. D. Chambers.

Miss Patricia Balfour

Patricia Balfour Plans May Wedding

Friends and relatives of Miss Patricia Elaine Balfour and Robert Charles Stephens were entertained at a party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dunbar Saturday when their betrothal was announced by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Frances Balfour of this city. She also is the daughter of the late James E. Balfour.

A graduate of Jordan High and the Los Angeles County General Hospital School of Nursing where she was vice president of the senior class and treasurer of Philatheans, an honor organization, she is now a surgical nurse at Community Hospital. Her other affiliations include Newman Club of Long Beach and Catholic Nurses Association.

Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Stephens, formerly of Long Beach, now of Corona, attended LBCC and will be graduated in June from Long Beach State College.

The couple plan to marry May 9 in St. Mathew's Catholic Church.

Caring for Your Child

Nursing Baby Doesn't Seem to Affect Mother's Bustline

By BEULAH FRANCE, R. N.

Q. "I want very much to breast-feed my first baby who'll be born next month. But my sister, who had her second child three months ago, has lost her figure and looks terribly flabby. She didn't nurse her baby either. Don't you think this is strange?"—Mrs. W. C.

A. Another reader wrote that after her first baby's birth her breasts stayed firm, but after the second one arrived she suffered the same trouble as your sister. Yet she did not nurse this last infant either.

So it is quite evident that breasts may lose their beauty after childbirth even though the infant is bottle-fed. Such loss is due to neglect during pregnancy.

With this thought in mind I advise you to breast-feed your baby since you want to do so. It's an experience which I believe every mother should have even if for only a short time.

The other reader asks for exercises to make the breasts firm again. I, in turn, recommend that she and you as well as any other expectant mother wanting help with this problem study that excellent book entitled, "The Hygiene of the Breasts."

Its author, Clifford F. Dowkontt, M. D., is a widely known physician and surgeon who has specialized in breast care and breast beauty. His simple, easy-to-read and easy-to-follow directions are illustrated with drawings which make it impossible to misunderstand instructions. It contains fine advice, fascinating facts, tips on how to retain or regain a lovely figure and what to eat or not to eat to help you reach the girlish figure goal.

Dr. Dowkontt gives details about exercises for good posture, attractive carriage and bust development. He also tells about changing "fashions in breasts," not in North America alone but in many other countries.

Instructions are included for care of the baby's breast, too, and for those of the growing girl also.

Ask Beulah France to help you with your child care problems. Write her in care of the Press-Telegram, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope for her reply.

Ebell Club Groups to Gather During Week

The following departments and groups of Ebell Club will meet this week:

Music and drama, 10 a. m., Monday, auditorium. Mrs. Gustav C. Berg, chairman; "The Musical Art of the Dance."

Group W, 12:30 p. m., Wednesday, luncheon at the clubhouse; hostesses, Mmes. L. J. Rodman, A. J. Beeson, Clara Fay, Fred James, James B. Murray and H. N. Stringer.

Group S, noon Friday, luncheon at the home of Mrs. Melvin Killingsworth, 3933 Falcon; hostesses, Mmes. Richard E. Barton, James W. Foasberg, J. Sydney Jackson, Donald Morgan and Harold Sorenson. Ebell Juniors' meeting has been postponed until a later date.

Ebell Juniors have postponed April 3 meeting until April 8; Dr. Ian G. MacDonald of the California Cancer Commission to speak in auditorium at 2 p. m.

Lady Lions

Downtown Lady Lions will have a luncheon Friday at Lakewood Country Club, with Mmes. Charles P. Morton, Ed Murray and Warren P. Isham as hostesses. Plans will be made for the participation in the joint city-wide Lady Lions dinner April 30 at Lakewood Country Club.

Easter Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smithers of 5601 Daggett St. left Saturday for Phoenix and Safford, Ariz., to spend the Easter vacation with Mrs. Smithers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Ridgway. Accompanying them are their sons, David and Jack. On the return trip the Smithers will stop in Tucson to pick up their son, Bill, a University of Arizona student, who will return with them and spend a week. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and has been nominated for membership into Alpha Zeta of Phi Delta Kappa, men's professional educational fraternity.

SPRING WAS FITTINGLY ushered in Tuesday at a lovely tea given at the Villetta, Portuguese Bend estate of Mr. and Mrs. Kelvin C. Vanderlip. Glimpsed in the garden during the social gathering were, left to right, Mmes. J. Holt McCracken, Kelvin C. Vanderlip, Arthur W. McKelvey, Ralph Jester and Marianne Picters, a student at Palos Verdes College. The tea complimented the committees and hosesses of the fourth annual Homes Tour of Palos Verdes Peninsula. The tour is a benefit of Palos Verdes College, sponsored by the Advisory Council of the college, and will take place Saturday and Sunday, April 25 and 26, from noon until 5 p. m. Honored guests at the tea were the owners of the four homes to be shown on the tour, Mmes. Roland G. Swaffield, Arch Ekdale, William C. Reist and Eli Hedley.

Why Grow Old?

Your Eyes Are Expressive, So Keep Them Attractive

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

People have always recognized the fact that large, expressive beautiful eyes are a great asset. The ancient Egyptians were so imbued with this idea that they slit the eyes of their little daughters at the outer edges in order to make them look bigger (the eyes, not the daughter). This seems a bit drastic. Thank heavens, today we have beauty aids which do much more for us than the knife!

Mascara and a fine line drawn along the edge of the upper lids or at the corners of the eyes can add tons of beauty to a face because they highlight the eyes. However, if you do not use mascara or an eyebrow pencil you should remember that lashes and brows require grooming and some special attention in order to be attractive.

Today let us consider the brows. Not long ago many women tweezed their brows to a fine line with a very high arch. Today the trend in cosmetic use is toward an enhanced but natural effect. Women now realize that their natural brow line gives their face individuality and that Mother Nature probably knew what she was doing. Usually eyebrows are in perfect symmetry with the bony arch of the eye socket.

Therefore the wise woman just takes out the stray hairs, those which blur the natural line of her brow. You should begin on the underneath side of the brow. Some experts tell us never to remove hairs from above the brows. However, I do not think this is practical because stray hairs do grow above the brow and if we are to emphasize the natural line and look well groomed we must remove these hairs. However, do not dig into the natural line.

Many women are troubled with unruly hairs, which although growing in the natural brow line, protrude from it in a prickly manner. These hairs can be trained. Use one of the lash pomades on the brows. This can be used at night and it gives the brows a sheen in daytime. Take a small brush and sweep the brow hairs upward. Then level them off at the top line with the brush. This pomade will hold the hairs in place. A bit of pomade applied to the upper lids also gives a dewy, soft appearance to them when they might otherwise appear dry.

When removing stray hairs never pull them against the way they naturally grow or at right angles. Pull in the direction in which the hair grows. There are all kinds of tweezers. Some women prefer blunt ends and others prefer rounded ends. It seems to me that the blunt ends are much more effective. There is one kind which has small handles like scissors and which is easy to handle because it has a curved center so that you can see what you are doing. Your brows are a focal part of your face. Keep them well groomed and shining!

If you would like to have my leaflet about makeup send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 50 to Josephine Lowman in care of the Press-Telegram.

Restore Soul by Rebuilding Faith

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

If you were reared in a good home but have drifted away, you'll sooner or later suffer a nostalgia for idealism. So read this Case Record and follow its suggestions if you wish to restore your soul by rebuilding faith and idealism.

Case F-396: Don G., aged 38, is a wealthy bachelor.

"Dr. Crane, I'm fed up with life," he announced as he slumped down into a chair. "What's the point of going on? I've been everywhere and have tasted every amusement and every variety of liquor from Russia to the South Seas."

"I've been a typical playboy, and have had my fill of women. Now life nauseates me. My friends are all married. They seem fairly happy with their wives and children. And it puzzles me."

"For I cannot see how any man can be content with one woman. And why will a fellow tie himself down to one little section of the globe?"

"Since I am fed up with life and have no further goals, I see no point in living. I'm considering suicide. Can you give me a logical argument for staying here till old age descends upon me?"

Don's case is one of the most tragic in life. It illustrates what we psychologists call a nostalgia for idealism.

As a boy, Don had had the typical high ideals of the usual adolescent. He had then fallen in love with a girl whom he had met at the age of 16.

Don worshiped her, though he was too shy to tell her and never even attempted to kiss her. For he kept her on a pedestal.

Just her glance or the sound of her merry laugh would enchant him. Maybe you cynical divorcees can't imagine that men go through a worshipful stage with reference to femininity, but it is true.

Later in college, Don met another girl. She was the first one he had ever kissed. She was thrilling, intoxicating. He wanted to marry her at once. But his father disapproved and sent him on a long business trip to South America.

In his despondency, Don began drinking and gambling. But with the passing of years, he began feeling panicky. For his idealism was fading. He found love too mechanical.

So he became nauseated with women. He was fed up with living.

Without consciously knowing what ailed himself, he suffered from a nostalgia for idealism, or a homesickness for his boyhood outlook on life and femininity.

Many a husband and prominent business executive, after the age of 40, develops a purely idealistic fixation on a young girl not out of her teens.

It is partly true, to his subconscious wish to return to the state of idealism and faith of that earlier period in his life.

So I planned a rigid six-month course of action for Don. I selected a girl who had physical beauty, plus religious faith and idealism. She was truly a very charming young woman.

I introduced Don and had him consciously woo her, but not according to his former wolfish policy.

Idealism is contagious and faith will stimulate the arsenal of faith. Our good emotions need to be exercised daily to keep them strong. That's why church attendance is so vital!

"Act the way you'd like to be and soon you'll be the way you act," is one of our axioms of applied psychology. (This column runs daily in the Long Beach Independent.)

Juniors Name New Roster

The home of Mrs. Leland Finley, 435 Dawson Ave., was the setting for a luncheon Friday when guests were officers of Eboli Juniors Department of Eboli Club. Mrs. Walter Yaisli, president, read the report of the nomination committee.

Names presented for next year were as follows: President, Mrs. Wilbur Seils; vice presidents, Mmes. William A. Nesbitt, Frank E. Bader and John E. Roggeveen; recording secretary, Mrs. Philip B. Putnam; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Glenn Giffin; and treasurer, Mrs. Harry Stafford.

Mrs. Ray Parker, ways and means, reported on the recent fashion show, and Mrs. Roggeveen outlined final plans for the Easter party for children of members at 10 a. m. April 2 at the clubhouse. The Greenbrier Inn in Garden Grove was chosen for the luncheon April 16 when officers will honor the executive board of Eboli Club.

Another April event will be the brunch and card party for members and friends at 10 a. m. April 23 at the clubhouse. The combined committees of Mmes. Leland Finley, Arthur R. Hooker Jr., Ray Parker and George S. Hedley Jr. will handle the event. Discussed was the spring dance May 16 and the installation luncheon on May 22.

DISTINCTIVE SILKS and LINENS

That solemn expression is disarming. Chef of the Week Don O'Donnell was apparently camera shy, for presiding over the range had nothing to do with it. His interests in "black dirt" range from the property itself to the "gidgets" which explore it. His Spiced Corned Beef is interesting, and in keeping with his heritage, too.—(Photo by Jasper Nutter.)

Chef of the Week

Corned Beef Is Delectable as Cooked by Don O'Donnell

By MILDRED K. FLANARY
Press-Telegram Home Economics Editor

When an Irishman goes into action... anything can happen, and today's chef of the week, Don O'Donnell, is no exception. Early in life our "chef" took seriously Horace Greeley's advice (you know about heading west) and started his trek from Bayonne, N. J., at the age of 13. He made the leap to Boise, Idaho, and remained there until he had "mastered" all of it thoroughly. His appointment as northwest representative for the Presto-Lite Co. eventually took him to Seattle, Wash., but our sunny Southern California finally proved irresistible, and in 1924 he planted his roots here. His interests lay in Signal Hill area, and they were many and varied. They ran the gamut from property and oil investments to the manufacture of oil well specialties... the most recent of which was the O'Donnell Pre-Pak Co. He left the "Hill" unto its own and retired about two years ago.

Traveling and colored movies rate equally among his hobbies, and he and Mrs. O'Donnell have covered every state in the Union, every province in Canada and Mexico. A cycling trip around South America, accompanied by his movie camera almost made world history; but as we said at the start, Irishman O'Donnell went into action. Today he's giving an Irishman's version of spiced corned beef. SPICED CORN BEEF Place a five-pound brisket of corned beef in cold water and bring to a boil. Drain thoroughly and start again in cold water, permitting it to simmer about three hours. Add the following ingredients and boil again for at least another hour, or until meat is tender. 5 medium onions 2 cloves garlic 1/2 cups brown sugar 2 tablespoons pepper 1 tablespoon each, Worcestershire and A-1 Sauce 1/4 cup vinegar 2 teaspoons dry mustard 1 teaspoon chili powder 1/4 teaspoon each cayenne pepper and allspice. If possible, cook in the morning, allowing it to stand about two hours after ingredients have been added. Then continue the cooking until done.

BETROTHAL of Donna Cloninger to Eugene Willoughby is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cloninger, of Artesia. She is a senior at Excelsior High School and her fiance, serving with the Navy, is of Plant City, Fla. A June wedding is planned.

PIANIST CONNIE LU BERG will be guest artist at the Friday evening Forum Club session in the Wedding Chapel in the Sky, Villa Riviera Hotel. Speakers will be Phyllis Stanick, who will talk on "Mundane Astrology," and F. W. Forrester, "Mineral Therapy." Kenneth Fenske will give a program of organ music prior to the 7:45 p. m. session. There will be a social hour and open house in charge of Dr. C. Richard Minugh and J. Leigh Denton.

No Tears for Bridge Expert

"Shed a tear for the poor experts," writes my friend Larry Hirsch, the best bridge player in the dress industry and points West. "The expert surely loses the small slam on this hand, while any palooka makes his contract with an overtrick."

"I had the South hand, and West opened the seven of diamonds. East put up the queen of diamonds, and I won with the king. As you can see, my only problem was how to play the trumps.

"If the trumps were 3-2, the safest play is to bang down the ace and king. One trump trick may be lost, if the queen doesn't happen to fall, but this trick can easily be spared."

"This line of play will lose the contract, however, if West has four trumps to the Q-10. If this is the situation, declarer's correct play is to begin the trumps by laying down the king, followed with a finesse of dummy's nine."

"After a careful consideration of the various possibilities, I took the second trick with the king of spades and then finessed dummy's nine of spades as the third trick. East naturally won with the queen of spades and returned a diamond. West ruffed, and my slam went down the drain."

"Do you have the crying towel ready for the expert, or can you see any way for declarer to know that this is the time to bang the trumps out rather than to try a safety play?"

The safety play is dangerous only if West has led a singleton diamond (there is no danger if he has led a doubleton) and if West has exactly three trumps headed by the ten or by the queen.

The expert would assume that the 4-1 trump break is more probable. And he would lose his slam most scientifically. The average player would not worry about such fine points, and he would make his slam most comfortably.

Who would trade comfort for science?

Picturesque Film Transplants Secretaries to Europe

By ANNE GILCHRIST

Legal Secretaries traveled to Europe Friday night, with the aid of motion pictures and the narration of Manola Smith. The pictures were taken by Manola and her husband, Irving, during their tour of the Continent last year and have captured the charm and the color of the countries visited.

The movies were part of the program presented at Legal Secretaries regular dinner meeting held at Victor Hugo and over which President Julia Hurley presided. An additional feature of the program was the movie, "On Freedom's Shores," shown by Bob Metzger of the Harbor Commission and telling of tideland oil.

Evening's hostesses were Hazel Roberts, Eva Tichenor, Tina Waldbott, Frances Meagher, and Dorothy Meuser. Door awards were donated by Edna High and Beverly Arbuckle. Business discussion of the evening concerned delegates to the state convention and nomination of new officers.

John Hersey, fashion co-ordinator for Bufiles, wrapped up a neat package of fun and fashion good sense when he appeared before Progressive Business Women at their regular monthly dinner meeting and spoke to them on the subject, "What's What in Fashion." He used several attractive hats to demonstrate points about the use of costume accessories.

Grace Richardson also appeared on the evening's program and gave a succinct commentary on "Women in the News." President Mildred Da Sar presided and in turn presented Laura Moore who introduced the music for the evening which was provided by Agnes Burchfield, soloist, accompanied by Delphia Knowles. Margaret Ward was dinner hostess of the meeting.

Board of directors of Insurance Women's Club held regular business meeting at the home of Jeanne Carlin, 439 St. Lewis, last Thursday evening. President Marguerite Otto and her board made gay plans for a "little" Easter style show to be a highlight of the next dinner meeting which will take place at Victor Hugo on April 2. Guest speaker of this meeting will be Bill Wilson.

Dorothy Garman (secretary, U. S. Navy Infirmary) was $10 richer and considerably happier Tuesday after she had received the monetary award plus words of praise from Capt. M. C. Heine at a Shop Committee meeting. Dorothy's award was presented to her by the Navy for "beneficial suggestions" she had made.

The bright lights of Las Vegas were viewed last week end by Elizabeth and Stan Dik and Cleo and Bruce Willis who traveled over to the desert city for a couple of days of relaxed fun.

Another Las Vegas visitor of last weekend was Betty Mahoney.

Gertie Dragoo, who underwent surgery at St. Mary's Hospital, was allowed to return to her home last weekend and is recuperating nicely.

You'd get a valuable answer from Betsy Ross if you should happen to ask her, "Does the flu make you feel pretty bad?" She's been off duty from Desmond's Women's Shop this week.

"Jo" Knoerr, new president of the California State National Secretaries Association, attended an NSA meeting of the Pasadena chapter last week in a semi-official capacity to observe activities in the Rose Bowl city.

Scenes in Mexico were shown on the screen by Manola Smith at the Long Beach National Business and Professional Women's Club meeting Monday at the YWCA.

Structure of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs and the technique of building up leadership, good citizenship and many other requirements for successful living were outlined by Kathleen Head at the business session conducted by Eve Tichenor.

Delegates appointed to attend the Sierra Mar District of California Federation of B&P Clubs convention April 18 and 19 at The Huntington in Pasadena, were Manola Smith, Kathleen Head, Ivy Muchmore and Eve Tichenor.

Refreshments were served by Margaret L. Smith, Vinnie Neudeck, M. Jay Jones and Eve Tichenor.

JAY RICHARD KENNEDY: "I was sitting with some hobos near a fire . . ."

He Remembers 'Joe'

WHEN Jay Richard Kennedy was 12, he ran away from Chicago. He had been living there, but he really didn't have a home. Young Jay was an orphan.

Hopping freights and trucks, he worked his way West. First, he husked corn in Kansas.

Then he pushed on to San Francisco and the Pacific Northwest. All the time, he lived in hobo jungles, finding work where he could.

● One night, he was sitting around a fire with other hobos. One of them, "a fellow I remember only as Joe," says Kennedy, "came over to me. I guess I was 15 at the time."

● The fellow named Joe said to young Kennedy, "This is no life for a boy like you. Go to school, settle down. Read the great books."

He Started Reading

That was Kennedy's turning point.

"Joe introduced me to reading," says Kennedy. And what happened then is an amazing success story.

Kennedy read everything he could lay his hands on. He developed a special interest in economics.

He came East, worked as a bricklayer. By 1927, he had saved $2,000. With his "book-learned" economics, he turned $2,000 into $22,000 by wise investing.

● He emerged from the '29 crash in good shape and set up an investment counseling firm, and later became a partner in a brokerage business.

● But then came the big surprise. Two years ago, at the age of 47, Kennedy started something new. This month, a novel, "Prince Bart"* is on sale for the first time. The author? Jay Richard Kennedy, a hobo turned financial expert—and now he's turned writer.

New medical findings revealed!

You can be “STARVED” for the right kind of sleep...

if you aren't getting the “sleep food” you need!

RECENT MEDICAL STUDIES indicate that a vital substance in your bloodstream may have a lot to do with how well you sleep. This vital substance is known medically as blood sugar. It is an important source of nourishment for the brain.

At bedtime and especially during the long nighttime hours, your supply of blood sugar may become seriously lowered. Thus, your brain and nervous system are affected. You may feel too nervous to go to sleep . . . too restless to sleep well. You are “starved” for blood sugar—your body's vital “sleep food.”

How you can help your body get the “sleep food” it needs!

Drugs or sleeping pills can't supply “sleep food.” And sweet, sugary foods and drinks provide only a quick jet of sugar that is too quickly burned up. But here is a delicious, drugless way to help you get needed “sleep food.” This sleep-aid is a Postum “NIGHTCAP”—a delicious drink made with Instant Postum and hot milk, taken shortly before bedtime.

Your Postum “Nightcap” is good-tasting and safe—contains no drugs to harm you. Moreover, your Postum milk drink gives you easily digested nourishment that is slowly converted into blood sugar. Thus, it helps assure the slow, steady flow of vital “sleep food” to your brain. That's why a Postum “Nightcap” helps you get refreshing sleep—the kind that leaves you rested, looking and feeling like new!

So safe, so easy—why not try it?

Every night before you retire, fix yourself a Postum “Nightcap.” Just stir a rounded teaspoon of Instant Postum in a cup of hot milk. Try this for just 10 days. Then see if you aren't sleeping better—feeling fresher—looking like a new person! Get Instant Postum now, and start the 10-day test tonight!

Are Postum “Nightcaps” really effective?

Doctors have always known that a warm milk drink is an effective aid to sleep. The recent blood sugar studies offer additional reason why. As your own doctor can tell you, the Postum “Nightcap” is ideal: a warm relaxing drink that tastes good . . . and Postum contains no caffeine, no drugs of any kind.

Postum is an ideal mealtime beverage, too. No caffeine—no drugs —no chance for “coffee nerves.”

The “SLEEP-FOOD” Nightcap for sleepless Millions!

Tax on Bachelors?

That's what an Arkansas legislator found out. He introduced a bill to put a $750

SNOWED UNDER . . .

Rep. Bruton, worn after sleepless weekend, plows through irate letters.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.

IT WAS A NORMAL DAY in the State Legislature.

In the House, members were putting aside their newspapers before starting debate on a highway matter.

Then the clerk rose to read the calendar.

Hoarsely, he intoned:

"... HB 237 (Bruton). Levies an annual tax of $750 on Bachelors, proceeds to be deposited in Child Welfare Fund. (Calendar) . . ."

He droned on, citing the text of other bills:

Members heard something about "bachelors" and "taxes." They decided to check later on what Jim Bruton, the freshman member from Conway County, was up to.

Then It Happened

THEN Bruton coyly referred HB 237 to the Committee on Conservation of Natural Resources. Business rolled on.

But within hours the peace—and even the dignity—of the Arkansas Legislature dangled in shreds and tatters.

And 24 hours later, Jim Bruton, who prides himself on a sense of humor, was the groggiest man between West Memphis and Fort Smith.

Newspapers and radio commentators had a field day. Arkansas got national publicity—and the U.S. got a new lesson on an old idea: you can't joke about taxes.

- It all started last month when the legislative session was already a few weeks old.

"We had a bill coming up about a three-day waiting period before marriage," says Bruton. "We were kidding one of our bachelor legislators who said he was looking for a chance to talk some girl into marrying him."

- "Then someone brought up a Bachelor Tax Bill. I introduced it just for laughs to brighten up a dull day."

Headlines Roared

WHAT was the bill?

Written originally (so one rumor goes) by an outsider with a taste for practical jokes, it provided that every bachelor—defined as any man over 21 unmarried or not living with his wife—was liable to pay $750 a year to the State. The money was to be used for the care of illegitimate children.

In the press, it burst with the flare and brilliance of the A-bomb over Hiroshima.

"$750 TAX ON BACHELORS URGED"

"MEN OF ARKANSAS ALERT TO DANGER OF BACHELOR BILL"

It's No Joke

bite on wifeless men . . . and then came the explosion!

In the heat of the squabble, this cartoon appeared in the Arkansas Gazette.

"BACHELOR GIRLS OBJECT TO TAX ON THEIR PREY"

Radio commentators had themselves a laugh over Arkansas bachelors—but by nightfall a more serious response could be heard.

• "Eight bachelor girls of Greater Little Rock," reported the Arkansas Gazette, "have

THE LAW? COULD BE . . .

ILLINOIS: bill was introduced to put cats on leashes.

MASSACHUSETTS: legislators considered a bill to ban lady wrestlers.

NORTH DAKOTA: it is illegal to dance in the dark, sell candy cigarettes.

GEORGIA: bill asked new word, "and/or," to replace "and/or." It was defeated.

CONNECTICUT: bill was offered to tax each adult $2 on his birthday.

called an indignation meeting to protest the Bachelor Bill.

• "They have organized a society named A.P.A.S.B.B.H.A.U.W.—the Association for the Prevention of Alarming and Stamping Bachelors Beyond the Hopes of Arkansas' Unmarried Women."

The fat was in the fire—and Jim Bruton, who still couldn't believe that his joke had misfired, was getting scorched by flying grease.

Phone calls, telegrams and letters came sizzling in.

Over the weekend, Bruton had more than 300 letters, scores of telegrams and at least 100 phone calls from 32 states.

Soon he was red-eyed from lack of sleep caused by constant demands for explanation.

► One man wrote: "If Mr. Bruton meant this as a joke, I, for one, fail to get the humor."

► Irate Arkansan said: "I've heard everything now. I refer to this preposterous proposal to tax bachelors $750 per year. It would mean a mass exodus of countless men . . ."

► A letter-writer who called himself "Frightened Bachelor" really had his wind up: "I work in a grocery, and after taxes I make about $1,800 per year. If $750 were deducted, that would leave me $850 for a whole year."

► Another citizen wrote: "All bachelors would be forced into marriage to keep from violating the law, including our harmless and law-abiding old grandpas without wives."

But one newspaper scented a plot. "We harbor a dark suspicion," said an editorial, "that it is really the 'bachelor girls' who are behind this bill. The incentive to flee into wedlock is bound to be stronger than the incentive to flee the state, since a bachelor who gives up the unequal struggle not only escapes the tax, but picks up a $600 Federal exemption with—if all goes well—more to come."

• Though much of the comment was tongue-in-cheek, there was an undercurrent of seriousness. It became clear to Jim Bruton that taxes—mentioned for laughs or otherwise—are a touchy subject.

• One opinion pointed the moral: "We have only this mild admonition for the solons: in the future, it might be well to bear in mind that taxes are no longer funny."

And another: "A solemn fact looms from the indignation caused by this proposal. It is that the citizen takes a deadly serious view of taxes. He's in no mood to joke about them."

• And another: "We had occasion to observe the reaction of some of our local fellows who would have been forced to pay for their single blessedness—and none of them was laughing."

Meanwhile, Rep. Bruton, no foe of bachelors, kept trying to explain that the whole thing was a joke.

The father of two children, he is known as a hard-working, conscientious legislator. Sympathetic colleagues said he did his best to keep an innocent prank from snowballing into an avalanche of angry public opinion.

"Let's Forget It"

WHILE the storm against the Bachelor Bill raged at its height, Bruton, wan and hollow-eyed, got up on the floor of the House.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I beg leave to withdraw Bill 237." Humbly, he added: "I'd rather not hear any more about it."

And in a public letter of apology he added: "To those who, alas, took me seriously and to those who happily saw the Bachelor Bill as the joke it was intended for—let's forget it. Keep your $750 a year, bachelors! And let me keep my peace."

"I really learned a lesson from all this," he says. "I've learned you can't fool around with the taxpayers."

RILLA WOLFE, student:
"I laughed when I found it was a joke. But such a tax surely isn't a good idea. A bachelor has to spend a lot of money. I go steady and I know it costs my boy friend quite a lot."

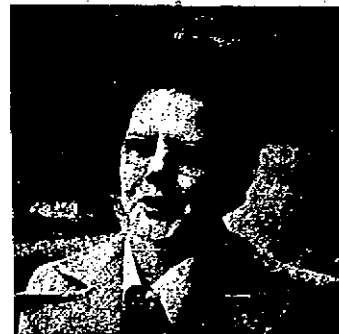

JIM SHEPPARD, cab driver:
(married, 3 children)—"$750 is not too much for a single man. I don't think Bruton should be criticized. The way the world is now it needs people who can dream up a good gag."

MRS. MURRELL WATKINS, writer:
"I never felt it was such a 'luxury' to be a bachelor. They aren't secure at all; they have too many worries. They shouldn't be taxed."

BURNETTE EDWARDS, rail worker & bachelor:
"That guy Bruton seems to be out of his head. He'd drive all the young fellows out of Arkansas. The whole thing's unjust, to say the least."

MRS. MILDRED BASSETT, mother:
"A man shouldn't have to pay extra for being a bachelor. And I certainly don't think it's good politics to discuss a bill and then call it a joke."

How to Solo

Holding plane's wings steady, co-ed Janet Cooper lifts Cub off airfield in first solo

Flying's no harder than learning to drive a car, says Janet Cooper. And she's just proved it!

By LOUIS COOK

APONTIAC, Mich. BLUSTERY, biting northwest wind whipped across the Municipal Airport here.

A thousand feet above the runways, pilot-instructor Floyd Dandison took his hands off the controls of a midget J-3 Piper Cub plane.

Behind him, a pretty University of Detroit senior named Janet Cooper grasped them. Coolly, she steered for the north boundary, then turned back across the wind.

Dandison peered back at her over his shoulder. Janet smiled.

"Now?" he shouted above the roar of the motor.

"Now!" she answered.

Dandison took over again and aimed for the runway. On the ground he hopped out—and Janet reached for the throttle.

In doing so, she began a flight that may make aviation history.

For Janet had had only a little over five hours' flight instruction before her first, all-important solo. (Pilots usually require at least eight hours, often 10, before they take off on their own.)

Good Landing

AND JANET's plane was unique—the first ever controlled by a brand-new system consisting of two simple levers—control stick and throttle.

"I didn't have a chance to be scared," said Janet of her first solo flight.

"The Cub was simply a little livelier

in One Day

flight. Plane's new-type controls may revolutionize private flying, increase safety.

because Floyd wasn't up front."

"Before I knew it I was 140 feet up and ready to make my left turn.

"I made one circle, then came in for my landing.

"As I came down I was just a little to one side on the runway, but I had plenty of room. I pulled back on the stick, and the plane settled. It was a good landing."

• Janet's success was a great thrill for her. And for scholarly, balding Dr. Frederick W. Ross, of Detroit U.'s aeronautical engineering department, it was a day of triumph.

• For Dr. Ross had made this unusual claim: learning to fly is no more difficult than learning to drive an auto—if you use the new controls!

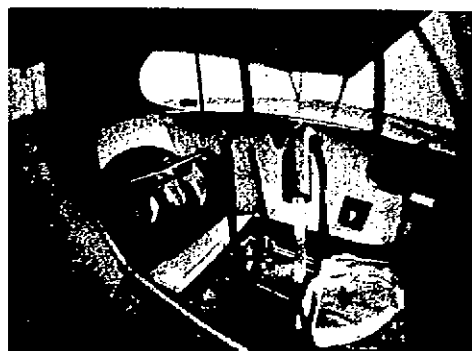

Janet had been his "guinea pig." And her success—she was ready to solo after only 3½ hours' instruction, but decided to wait a little longer—may be the beginning of a big new trend to simpler planes—and more pilots.

"I believe it's possible to learn to fly in just one day with Prof. Ross's method," said Janet.

"And if you had two days? Why, flying would be a breeze!" ■

COCKPIT of Ross plane shows control stick, throttle, no pedals. That makes learning easy.

"I wish Laura would clean her windows with Windex Spray—I can't see who she has in for bridge today!"

It always pays to keep Windex Spray on hand! It's the quickest, easiest, thriftiest way to make windows, mirrors, all glass surfaces simply sparkle. Whisk! Spray it on. Swish! Wipe it off lightly. Leaves no waxy dust to clean afterwards like some cleaners. No pail, no sponge, no roughened hands. Costs so little—only a fraction of a cent a window, even less in the big moneysaving 20-oz. bottle. Goes so far! Get Windex Spray today at your grocery, drug or hardware store. Also sold in Canada.

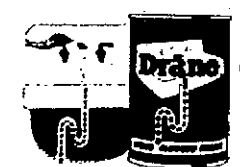

So quick, easy, thrifty it outsells all other glass cleaners combined!

"I'll pick up the rest later. I just remembered this is the day of the week I put Drano in all the drains!"

Better to get the groceries later—than to leave dangerous sewer germs lurking in every drain. No liquid disinfectant can budge the muck they breed in. It takes Drano to unclog drains and keep them running free and clear. Use Drano once a week—every week. Won't harm septic tanks. Makes them work better. Get Drano today, at your grocery, drug or hardware store. Also available in Canada.

There's nothing like it... to keep drains free-running.

3 generations

why

All over America, three generations in the same families have chosen Maytags. Mrs. C. D. Chapin, Columbiaville, Michigan, belongs to a three-generation Maytag family. Her Maytag has a big double-walled tub, Roller Water Remover, Gyrafoam washing action, and Sediment Trap.

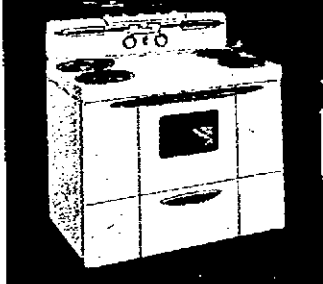

Maytag is the Automatic for you

"I grew up with Maytag washers," says young Mrs. Leon Martin of Detroit, Michigan. "So, of course, only the Maytag Automatic could be my choice." She shows her new washer to Mother, Mrs. C. D. Chapin, Columbiaville, Michigan; and Grandmother, Mrs. George Dewey, Detroit, Michigan.

"... washes clothes as clean as my Maytag conventional," says Grandmother, Mrs. George Dewey. Yes... only the Maytag Automatic has famous Gyrafoam washing action... the agitator action originated by Maytag. Clothes get cleaner as gentle water currents wash out even the most stubborn dirt. Safety Lid... open it—washing action stops; close it, washing resumes. It's "children-proof." No bolting down... perfectly balanced. Adjustable legs fit uneven floors.

"I like the way I can wash everything from nylons to blue jeans," says Mrs. Martin. That's because the Maytag Automatic lets you vary the washing time. Completely automatic operation... even turns itself off. Up-and-over rinse flushes dirt away from clothes not through them. Thorough spin-drying leaves clothes fluffy, with no hard-to-iron wrinkles. Built by Maytag... and that means many extra years of dependable, trouble-free performance and cleanest clothes.

A NEW GARBO?

NEW YORK.

PEOPLE who know Janice Rule (left) say she's like Greta Garbo.

Miss Rule, they claim, has two big Garboish characteristics:

First, she is dignified and will not be a party to outlandish publicity stunts.

And second, she has perfect beauty.

• Miss Rule points out that the great Garbo had to pose—as a publicity gag—in a track suit when she first came to this country from Sweden.

"I realize how she felt," says Miss Rule.

Not on a Pumpkin

So it's not likely that you'll be seeing Janice Rule, the slim 21-year-old actress from Chicago, posing atop a pumpkin or feeding bananas to a gorilla. (PARADE photographer David Preston had a hard time getting her to pose on a rooftop for today's cover photo.)

• On the beauty side, Miss Rule has been selected one of the world's 10 most beautiful women by Tony Beauchamp, photographer-husband of Sarah Churchill.

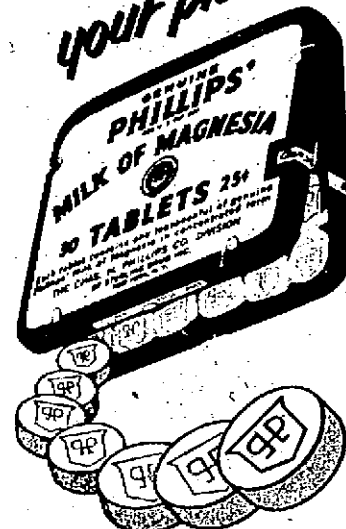

You may ask: Can she act like Garbo?

• Well, at her tender age, she's already appeared in four movies* and is now starring in one of Broadway's biggest hits, "Picnic," by William Inge.

JANICE RULE: she would rather dance than talk, rather wear slacks than a dress, rather NOT get wound up in crazy publicity stunts.

HE CAN CRACK PEANUTS

Bojo is an elephant with an educated trunk...

NEATLY avoiding ragged edge of fence, Bojo reaches over, takes an orange from zoo visitor.

LOS ANGELES.
THE ELEPHANT in these pictures can actually separate the shells from the peanuts. No one at the Los Angeles Zoo can explain why, but here's what Bojo sometimes does: He takes the peanut in his trunk, smacks it against a metal cross bar of his enclosure, breaks the shell and eats the peanut—only. As a matter of fact, Bojo is quite a finicky eater. He'll take an apple or an orange out of your hand, but he won't eat anything if you offer it in a paper bag!

GIRL puts her hand right up to trunk to feed Bojo peanuts.

TICKLING Bojo's trunk made child gurgle happily.

NOT AS BRAVE as girl (above), boy backed off from the trunk.

NEW IDEA FOR YOUR MENU . . .

IT'S THE last week of Lent. Are you at a loss for menu ideas? If so, try this brand-new recipe for lunch or supper. Tuna Roll-Ups are packed with flavor, rich, satisfying and economical.

LENTEN SUPPER

*Tomato Juice
Saucy Tuna Roll-Ups
Cucumber and Radish Salad
Orange Chiffon Pie
Tea or Coffee*

SAUCY TUNA ROLL-UPS

2 7-ounce cans tuna	2 tablespoons butter or
$\frac{1}{2}$ cup mayonnaise	margarine, melted
$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon Tabasco	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup evaporated milk
1 tablespoon lemon juice	1 can cream of mushroom soup
6 $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch-thick slices	1 1-lb. can peas, drained
very fresh bread	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup sliced pitted ripe olives (optional)

Drain and flake tuna. Combine mayonnaise, Tabasco and lemon juice; add to tuna and mix well. Trim crusts from bread; roll bread with rolling pin. Brush one side with melted butter. Turn bread over and spread each slice on unbuttered side with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup tuna mixture. Roll as for jelly roll; fasten with toothpicks. Bake in hot oven, 400°F., 15 minutes. To make sauce, combine evaporated milk with mushroom soup in saucepan. Add drained peas and sliced olives. Heat to serving temperature. To serve, spoon sauce over hot tuna rolls. Makes 6 roll-ups.

New from Betty Crocker! CHOCOLATE BROWNIE PIE

Baked in extra-flaky STIR-N-ROLL CRUST made with Wesson Oil

My, what heavenly pie! You bake the rich brownie filling right in the pie crust. And my, what flaky-flaky crust you get with Wesson Oil, the modern liquid shortening! Stir-N-Roll pastry is so fast, so sure, with Wesson shortcuts. Wesson pours to measure, stirs in fast—no spooning-out or cutting—in solid shortening. Pie dough rolls out easily between waxed papers. Here's flakier crust, with the extra delicacy of milder Wesson Oil!

America's No. 1
Salad Oil and Liquid Shortening

CHOCOLATE BROWNIE PIE

developed by Betty Crocker staff of General Mills, Inc.

STIR-N-ROLL PASTRY FOR 9-IN. ONE-CRUST PIE:

Preheat oven to 375° (quick moderate).

Mix together:

1½ cups sifted Gold Medal Flour
1 tsp. salt

Pour into one measuring cup (but don't stir together):

½ cup WESSON OIL
3 tbsp. cold whole milk

then pour all at once into flour.

Stir until mixed. Press with hands into smooth ball. Flatten slightly. Place between 2 sheets of waxed paper (12 in. square). Roll out gently until circle reaches edges of paper. (Waxed paper will not slip while rolling pastry if table top under paper is slightly damp.) Peel off top paper. If dough tears, mend without moistening by pressing edges together...or by pressing a scrap of pastry lightly over tear. Lift paper and pastry by top corners; they will cling together. Place paper-side up in 9-in. pie pan. Carefully peel off paper. Gently ease and fit pastry into pan. Build up fluted edge. Pour in filling (see recipe below).

*If you use Gold Medal Self-Rising Flour, omit salt in pastry and bake in slow moderate oven (325°).

CHOCOLATE BROWNIE FILLING

Melt together over hot water:

2 sq. unsweetened chocolate (2 oz.)
2 tbsp. butter

Beat thoroughly with rotary beater:

3 large eggs
½ cup sugar
the chocolate mixture
¾ cup dark corn syrup

Mix in: ¾ cup pecan halves

Pour into pastry-lined pan. Bake 40 to 50 minutes in quick moderate oven (375°) just until set. Serve slightly warm or cold garnished with ice cream or whipped cream. Serves 8 to 10.

To use cocoa, omit chocolate and sift ½ cup cocoa with the sugar. Then add ¼ cup melted butter to the egg and sugar mixture.

when you add to your wardrobe

CHICAGO.

I was talking guns the other day. Shotguns. Strange for a fashion editor? Yes—and particularly strange for me, because I've never wielded anything more deadly than a paring knife.

But the lady I was talking with knows as much about guns as any woman in America.

More important, she knows about clothes—and that's what I really wanted to chat with her about.

• She's lovely, vivacious Carola Mandel, wife of Col. Leon Mandel, department store owner here.

Mrs. Mandel, whose slim, Latin loveliness (she was born in Cuba) makes you think of a fine painting, today is No. 1 skeet shooter in the U.S.

But long before her husband first gave her a gun, Mrs. Mandel had been known as one of the best dressed women in the land.

A Good Eye

So I asked Mrs. Mandel: "Is choosing your clothes anything like aiming a gun?"

"It certainly is," she said. "Every woman ought to have a good eye and take careful aim when she buys her clothes. And I'll tell you why.

"Too many women have 'hit-or-miss' wardrobes. The real secret of buying clothes is to get just a few well-chosen costumes you can wear for all your activities."

"How does a woman do it?" I asked.

• "First, she should dress according to her own type," Mrs. Mandel told me. "That holds no matter what her budget or where she lives.

• "Take me, for instance. I always have one well-cut tailored suit, and one basic black dress.

"I can vary these two costumes with different accessories to suit almost any informal occasion.

"But when I want to look more dressed up, I wear a criss-cross satin gilet in two contrasting colors. This gives any suit sparkle and shine.

"I've a drawer full of scarves. I like them tucked into suit or dress necklines, or tied like belts."

"What's your advice for a woman who wants a bull's-eye wardrobe?" I asked.

Listen to Your Husband

"WELL," she replied, "I'd say there are four points: 1. 'Don't worry only about today's fashions. Be sure what you get looks well on you.

2. 'Listen to what your husband, your friends, even your children say about your clothes. When they admire something, you can be pretty sure it's right for you.

3. 'Choose clothes to fit—not just your figure, but the other clothes in your closet. Buy things that can be worn with what you already have.

4. 'Above all, plan your purchases. Decide very carefully what you lack, then go out and buy just that.

"That's why I say buying clothes is like target shooting. You need a good eye and careful aim!"

It's Much Smaller than a Tennis Court:

Experts try out a "Florida tennis" court. The new court (marked in wide white lines) was laid out on one half of an ordinary tennis court (thin white lines). Because it's narrower, it's cheaper, easier to maintain, yet gives you lots of fun.

MORE FUN FOR YOUR FAMILY

● Now Mom & Dad—even Granddad—can play tennis and other games with the kids. . . .

This is the first of a series of PARADE articles on new ways to have more fun with your family.

By EDWARD D. FALES, JR.

Fun for

Now, an all-family game of

GAINESVILLE, Fla.

THE PEOPLE IN THE PICTURE at left are playing "Florida tennis," a new backyard game you can play regardless of age.

Furthermore, they're playing on a new kind of court that you can build in your own yard. It's called a "Florida tennis" court—but it's good for a lot more than tennis.

It's really an all-purpose family—or neighborhood—sports court.

With the help of a friend or two, you can build such a court for about $250. The price may run a little higher, or a little lower, depending on where you live.

It's only 13½ feet wide, less than half as wide as a tennis court.

► The exciting thing about such an all-purpose court is the number of uses it has:

Old or young, you can play TENNIS with the kids and the neighbors.

Or, you can change nets and play a modified game of BADMINTON or VOLLEY BALL.

You can even set up DUCKPINS and bowl!

With a hard composition surface (red or green) which $250 should buy, you can lay out a SHUFFLEBOARD court.

If you spend more money and make your court of concrete you have:

► A PATIO for dining, relaxing under sun umbrellas—even for parties and square dancing.

► A PLAY AREA where the kids can rollerskate,

WHY FLORIDA tennis is played with little running. Dr. Keith holds two rackets to show how one player can span the entire court. It took TWO girls to span even HALF of ordinary tennis court, as shown in photo. Center white service line has been added here; its use is optional.

EVEN SIX can play. Here a "triples" team plays, each one taking turn at ball.

DR. HENRY DEURLOO takes Coach Bill Potter's pulse after the new game.

NO STRAIN: 63-year-old Dr. Keith battles a much younger player. Here he ran a few steps. The rules now eliminate most running.

YOU at 15 or 50!..

tennis . . . and an all-purpose sports court you can build for $250 or less ride bikes, play when the grass is wet.

▶ A HOME BASKETBALL COURT (if you put up end posts that are removable).

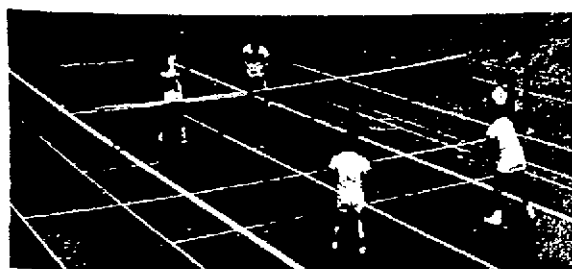

The first all-purpose family court was laid out recently at the University of Florida here. It is still being tested by the University's physical education experts, in cooperation with PARADE's Family Fun & Recreation Dept.

It is 78 feet long. (Further tests may indicate that even for tennis such a court might be as short as 60 feet.) In many homes it can be built in driveways.

Back of the tests here are two ideas:

1—Few people get the fun they should from their own yards.

2—Millions of us resign ourselves to getting soft and pudgy. The sad fact is: tennis and other sports, as played in the past, have simply been too tough for many people after the early twenties.

HOW badminton is played on new court.

And so a University group* went to work to see if anything could be done—in an age of older people—to create safer outdoor sports.

Its studies began with tennis—one of the finest of all games. Could a tennis game be invented that people of all ages could play?

▶ The only danger in tennis—if your health is average for your age—is in running. So to eliminate running, the experts did these things:

▶ First, they split an ordinary tennis court in half and trimmed off the outside "alleys."

▶ They chose a net that you can set at different heights—at will, depending on your age and skill.

▶ They made one important rule that eliminates strenuous running: the ball must always bounce before being hit.

Next, with a doctor present, they began their playing tests with a 63-year-old tennis player. He was matched to play an athletic young woman (see photo above).

The older man was Prof. Gerald M. Keith, retired, an engineer, formerly of Yale, M.I.T., and Florida.

Dr. Keith's pulse was ticking at 76 when he arrived at the courts.

But after just five minutes of tennis on a regular court, Dr. Keith's pulse was slamming at a dangerous rate (for his age) of 140. (Too much running was hurting him).

Then Prof. Keith put in five minutes of lively tennis on the new and narrower court.

* The Research Council of the College of Physical Education & Health.

▶ This time his pulse ticked along at a steady—and safe—104!

He played part of two days without feeling ill effects.

But suppose YOU are middle-aged?

One of Florida's coaches is 41. His name is Jim McCachren. Jim's "resting pulse" was normal at 76. Regular tennis shot it up to 96.

But "Florida tennis" left his pulse throbbing away at a calm 84. Yet he's a fast, hard player. (You see him serving on the opposite page.)

Mothers, fathers and children as young as 7 tried "Florida tennis." On the narrow court, kids quickly developed amazing control over the ball.

Commented Prof. Herman Schnell, head of the Dept. of Required Physical Education in this University of 9,000:

▶ "Why, I had stopped playing 'singles' in tennis, because I'm over 40.

▶ "But I find I can play 'singles' in this new game without any strain at all."

The University is continuing its studies.

In the meantime, the University's experts and PARADE feel that "Florida tennis" and its all-sports backyard court offer a world of new fun to American families.

● FOR FREE INFORMATION about "Florida tennis" and the all-sports court send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Family Fun, PARADE, Chrysler Bldg., 405 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N.Y.

... how she works so well with her husband

NEW YORK.

WITH THE SUCCESS of TONY CURTIS and JANET LEIGH, ANNE JEFFREYS and ROBERT STERLING, I thought I'd pay a visit to REX HARRISON and LILLI PALMER and try to find out what makes husband and wife teams tick.

"If you'll pardon me a few moments," Rex said, "Lilli will do the talking for the family." Miss Palmer, co-star with her husband in the Broadway play, "The Love of Four Colonels," said, "All right, start asking questions."

"How is it possible," I asked, "for a couple of talented and temperamental people to live together, work together and practically be together around the clock and still stay married?"

• "I think it's the most natural thing in the world," she replied.

"You share the same ups and downs, the same worries, the same moments of exhilaration, the same upsets. Working together makes it easier to live together. Besides," she said, "Rex takes a night off a week to go out with the boys!"

"Now that you've talked about husband and wife working together in show business," I said, "do you intend to become inseparable partners, professionally?"

Miss Palmer shook her head. "No, I don't think so," she mused. "Our friend LAURENCE OLIVIER gave us some advice on that subject. 'Don't keep teaming up forever,' he said. 'If you keep playing together, people won't be satisfied seeing you separately.'"

I asked one more question: "Do you or Rex ever get mash notes, invitations to have cocktails or dinner with some unknown admirer?"

"No," she said, "I don't recall ever having received any such notes."

Not a Second Look

JUST THEN, Rex strolled in and we popped the same question.

His answer was the same. "No. As a matter of fact," he said, "that's one of the things I like about New York. You can go almost anywhere and nobody gives you a second look."

"In Hollywood, you can't step outdoors before a crowd assembles to gape."

• "I wish you'd find out if other actresses get any backstage mash notes," Miss Palmer concluded. "I'd be awfully disappointed if it turned out that we were being neglected. It would alarm me!"...

Tampax is so dainty in tub or shower

Perhaps you didn't know that this form of sanitary protection could be worn in your bath

Compared with a few years ago, more women now take their baths as usual during "those trying days" each month.... Two things have changed. Physical training authorities now approve of it in normal cases. And Tampax has been invented for internal absorption, so it need not be removed in either your shower or tub! You can wear Tampax in swimming, too—no embarrassment, no offense to anyone.... Perfected by a doctor, Tampax is made of surgical cotton compressed in applicators for quick insertion. No belts, pins or external pads. No odor. Easy disposal. Month's supply will fit in your purse. Sold at drug stores and notion counters in 3 absorbency-sizes (Regular, Super, Junior) for varying personal needs. Tampax Incorporated, Palmer, Mass.

IT MADE HISTORY...

San Diego remembers when a prince met a girl

RECENTLY, 1,200 people danced here in the shadow of history.

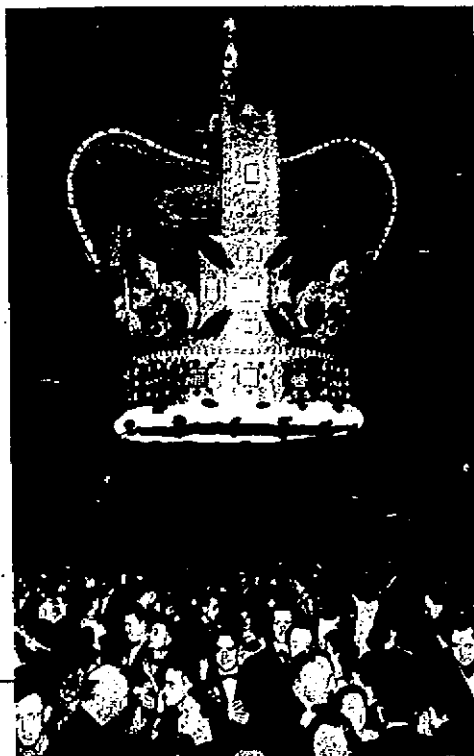

They were guests at the 33rd Annual Hotel Del Coronado Charity Ball—this year, a "Coronation Ball" made striking by a huge velvet crown poised overhead.

And some of the older guests remembered a similar night 33 years ago.

• The guest of honor then was a boyish looking British prince—Edward of Wales, later Edward VIII.

And one of the guests was a slim, attractive Navy wife named Wallis Warfield Spencer. The prince met Mrs. Spencer. Years later, in 1937, he married her—and gave up his crown.

Said one dancer here: "Just suppose they'd never met! There probably wouldn't be a Coronation this year!"

GOOD FOOD

• Here's the secret millions of folks have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the modern chewing-gum laxative. Yes, here is why FEEN-A-MINT's action is so wonderfully different!

Doctors say that many other laxatives start their "flushing" action too soon... right in the stomach where food is being digested. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion, flush away nourishing food you need for health and energy. You feel weak, worn out.

But gentle FEEN-A-MINT, taken as recommended, works chiefly in the lower bowel where it removes mostly waste, not good food! You avoid that typical weak, tired, run-down feeling. Use FEEN-A-MINT and feel your "peppy, energetic self—full of life! Get FEEN-A-MINT! No increase in price—still 25¢, 50¢ or only 10¢.

Tiny Alice Bauer, and a

SARASOTA, Fla.

How does a girl pick a husband?

"When you're a woman golfer, it's easy," says pretty, pint-sized Alice Bauer Hagge. "You get a man out on the fairway, and you soon learn what he's really like."

Alice, one of the nation's top dozen women golfers, ought to know. She spent six months playing exhibition matches against a big strapping, blond fellow, Bob Hagge, before she decided to marry him last December.

It all started at Lake Hills Country Club in St. John, Ind., last spring. Alice and her famous sister, Marlene, were playing there on an exhibition tour.

• Their father, Dave, spotted Hagge, a six-foot, six-inch, 225-pound Hoosier, on another fairway. "He was just a good par golfer," says Bauer, "but I saw possibilities in him."

• Bauer didn't have any trouble persuading Hagge to join his family on their circuit of women's golf tournaments. And it wasn't only because Hagge loves golf.

Recalling his first meeting with Alice, Hagge says, "It wasn't quite love at first sight, but I was plenty fascinated."

"We Couldn't Beat Each Other"

ALICE liked Bob, too, but she admits that their romance started only after an exhibition match at Saugatuck, Mich., when they tied. "We couldn't beat each other," she says, "so we decided to join forces."

More seriously, Alice claims that she found then that Bob is different from the ordinary man who "can't compete with a woman on his own ground because he has such an enlarged ego."

Hagge, in fact, spends his time trying to build his wife up, rather than compete with her. "She's the only one convinced she isn't good," he says.

"I'm always afraid I can't do what I'm trying to do," Alice admits. "I'm not a good example of Daddy's teaching."

Together, however, the Hagges feel they can lick the world. The two 25-year-olds say they'll soon be able to challenge any man-and-woman team in the country.

On the fairways, they work hand in glove. When Alice is nervous, Bob is steady. When he's angry, she's calm.

• It's only at the dinner table that they disagree. "That boy can put away more food!" Alice complains. "And he likes his steaks raw. Definitely raw! I'd rather have something like cucumbers and sour cream. My attitude toward food grieves him."

• No matter what their own fortunes on the links, the Hagges already have plans for a family of golfers. "We want enough," says Bob, "to make up the United States Ryder Cup team. And that would take five steadies and at least three subs."

BOB HAGGE and his wife interrupt golf for a kiss. Their romance started on the fairway.

They Dig Back 10,000 Years!

Ten thousand years ago, the coast of Southern California was dotted with tiny villages of primitive Indians, some of whom were hunters, others fishermen. Relics of their culture came to light about 50 years ago when some of the first amateur archaeologists began digging in the region where Palos Verdes now stands. Establishing of private estates failed to halt the work of the inveterate diggers who search for arrowheads, fish hooks of stone and other implements of ancient tribes. One of these diggers is Joseph T. Cote, 1677 E. Jackson St., whose interest has led other members of his family to become "pot-hunters." He works in a Redondo site that is known to the archaeologists as Malaga Cove. He has a large collection of Indian handicraft and works in conjunction with museum scientists and archaeologists. Pictures on this page give an idea of how hobby goes.

A boy burrows into a likely spot in search of something of interest left by ancient tribes that inhabited coast.

Polyglot Hawaii—49th State?

HONOLULU.

ALOHA, Texas, and move over. Look to your superlatives, California and Florida.

When the last road blocks are removed and Hawaii becomes the 49th state, it will be the most unusual and exotic state in the American Union.

Do we hear an argument from any chamber of commerce? Well, listen:

Hawaii will be the first and only island state, lush and green, surrounded by some of the bluest water in the world, and 2000 miles from its nearest brother. It will be the first where the Caucasian race is a minority; where television antenna share the skyline with the pagodas of Buddhist temples; a land where people with names like Kealoa and Wong and O'Brien and Yamaguchi live peacefully side by side. It is one of the few places in the world which has the good taste to avoid such harsh words as "half-breed" and "half-caste" and, instead, calls people of mixed blood "cosmopolitans."

HAWAII will be the only state in the Union with a currently active volcano and, depending on which ground rules you follow, the one with the tallest mountain in the world; the only state which doesn't have snakes and the only state which has a Polynesian motto ("Ua mau ke ea o ka aina i ka pono" means "the growth of the land is perpetuated by righteousness").

It will be the first to use hibiscus as a state flower and, while it hasn't yet picked an official bird, the island chain will have plenty to choose from since it is said to be the largest bird colony in the world. It will be the state with the oldest public high school west of the Rockies; the only state which was once a kingdom by itself; and the state with the warmest greeting ("Aloha" literally means love, goodness, kindness, sympathy and affection).

Before we go any further, let's get a couple of things straight. While it was developed and popularized here, the ukulele came originally from Portugal. Also, Hawaii is pronounced two ways but "Hah-wayee" seems to be preferred to "Hahvahee."

Soft and musical, the native Hawaiian language employs only 12 letters, the vowels and seven consonants—H, K, L, M, N, P, W. Every word, every name, every syllable ends with a vowel. English words which enter the native tongue are made to conform. Alcohol becomes Alakohola; California becomes Kaleponi and New York, Nu Ioka.

Hawaii is one of the most polyglot places in the world. Of its 465,325 people, 188,782 are Japanese-Americans; 91,601 are Hawaiians or part Hawaiians; 68,600 are Caucasian; 62,777 are Filipino; 32,052 are Chinese and 21,423 belong to other racial strains. Pure Hawaiian blood, which has been likened to a "stream of gold," flows in the ians. Any such person would be ridiculed out of town."

Religious tolerance? In one block of Honolulu there are a Catholic school, a Buddhist temple and a Protestant church.

Physically, Hawaii is a 390-mile chain with eight major islands, one of which (Kahoolawe) is uninhabited and all of which are fanned by moderate trade winds. The weather, the year round, is mild, pleasant and usually around 70 degrees. Youngsters swim every month of the year but most nights you

Maul, Kauai, Molokai, Lanai, Niihau and Kahoolawe, which is used as a bombing range. There are numerous islets no bigger than Laysan, which is only 1½ by 1 mile wide.

SMALL AS IT IS, Laysan is said to have an estimated 10,000,000 birds of many varieties, including albatrosses which dance together, two by two; shearwaters that burrow like rabbits; rails that have only rudimentary wings and can't fly; and other types which are remarkably unafraid of man. Collectively, the Hawaiian Islands are said to form the largest bird colony in the world.

The islands also rank first in the number of flowers and plants native to them. There are about 900 species of flowering plants, 140 ferns which range from one no bigger than a finger nail to the stately tree fern 35 feet high, and numerous mosses, lichens and fungi. Some of the violets around here grow on woody stems six feet high.

Hawaii, the single island, has two breath-taking volcanic peaks. Snow-capped Mauna Kea, whose furnace was banked a long time ago, rises 13,784 feet. It is the highest island mountain in the world and, if you consider its base which begins 18,000 feet below sea level, it is the highest mountain of any kind. You can ski up on Mauna Kea within sight of means love, goodness, kindness, sympathy and affection).

THE VARIETY mixes unusually well. There are a few places where Orientals can't buy real estate but generally racial tension is at a comparative minimum. Racial prejudice afflicts only a diminishing minority. Mrs. Doris Glick, sociologist at the University of Hawaii, points out:

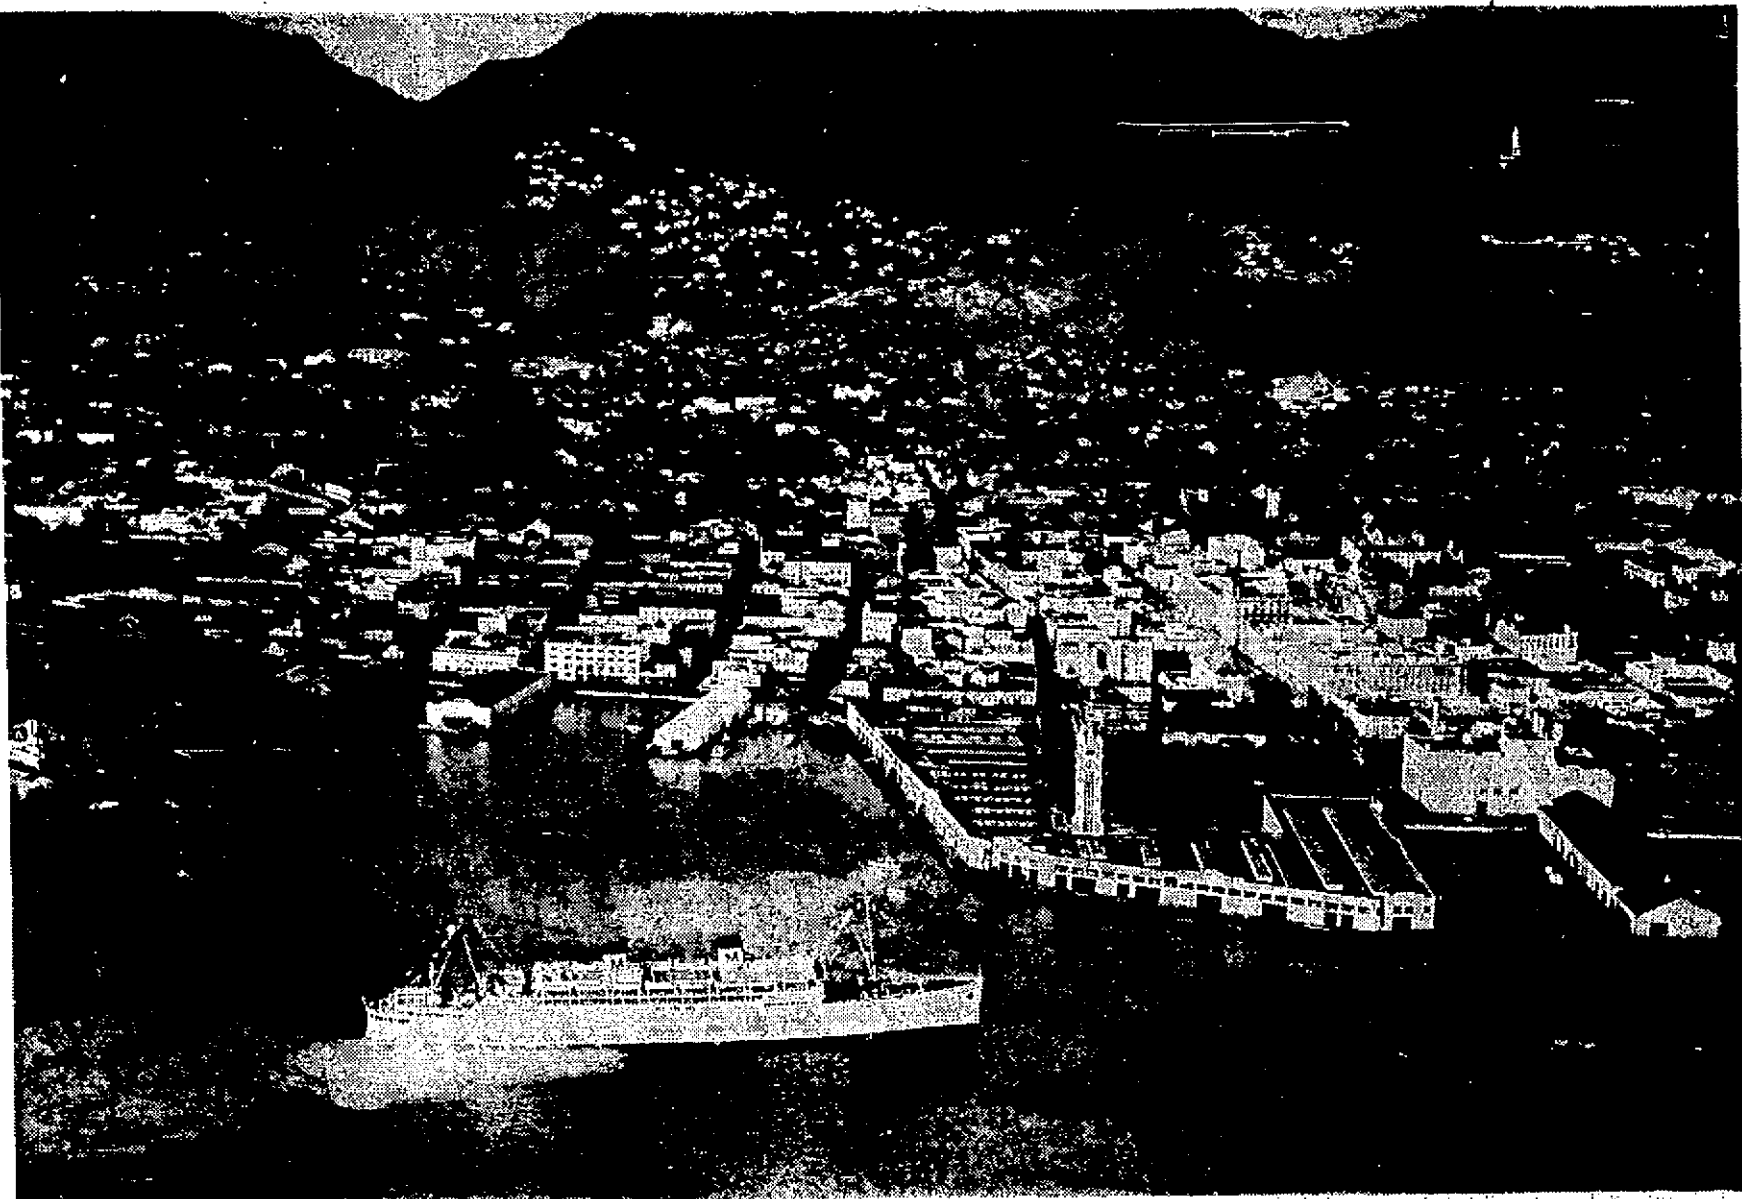

"It would be political or business suicide to try and publicly promote racial discrimination—against Orientals or Caucascan use a blanket or two.

Altogether, the land area adds up to about 6400 square miles, a space into which you could put Connecticut and Rhode Island without crowding. The biggest island, Hawaii, embraces 4030 square miles and has 64,004 people—second largest population in the chain. Oahu has the biggest population, 325,797, and is the home of the capital, Honolulu, the mighty Naval base at Pearl Harbor and the headquarters for big business, shipping and airlines.

The other major islands are swimmers and surf-riders in the blue water below.

ABOUT 100 FEET LOWER is the twin peak of Mauna Loa, biggest active volcano in the world and largest mountain of any kind in cubic content. On its summit is a huge crater almost four square miles in area with vertical walls 500 to 600 feet high.

Economically, the islands have four principal sources of revenue. The military brings Hawaii $257,000,000 a year; sugar, $138,000,000; pineapple, $100,000,000 and tourists, $40,000,000.

Hawaii imports a lot of foods, building materials and manufactured goods. Since these things have to be shipped 2200 miles from California (many of them from Long Beach-Los Angeles Harbor), they make living costs from 10 to 25 per cent higher than on the mainland.

Salaries range widely but there's no such thing as cheap or "coolie labor." Waitresses average 65 cents an hour. Stenographers average $218 a month and one large department store starts inexperienced clerks at $1 an hour. A baby sitter in this lotus land of soft trade winds and sighing palm trees costs between 65 cents and $1 an hour.

Among the islands' dominant economic forces are the firms known as the big five—Castle & Cooke, Theodore H. Davies, C. Brewer Co., American Factors and Alexander Baldwin, whose interests range from sugar and pineapple plantations to retail and wholesale outlets and shipping and insurance.

HOWEVER, there are also many "little businessmen." Last year, a total of 31,241 businesses were licensed.

Educationally, Hawaii can hold its head high. Surveys have shown that its elementary and high school curriculum compares favorably with that of California.

Lahianaluna high on the island of Maui is said to be the oldest American public school west of the Rocky Mountains. It was founded by missionaries more than 100 years ago. During the California Gold Rush era, many well-to-do California families found it simpler to send their children to Punahou School, the oldest private school in the territory, rather than ship them around the Horn to the east coast.

Politically, Hawaii is generally Republican. Although people here don't vote as racial units, it is almost certain that when Hawaii becomes a state it will send to Congress representatives of Chinese and Japanese ancestry.

REPUBLICAN Sen. Wilfred C. Tsukiyama now is serving his third successive term as president of the Territorial Senate. He and Sen. William H. Heem, a Chinese-Hawaiian Democrat, are regarded as strong possibilities for the United States Senate.

Probably the best known and loved of Hawaii's political leaders is cosmopolitan Mayor Johnny Wilson, 81, of Honolulu. His blood is a mixture of Hawaiian, Tahitian, Scotch and Irish.

Historically, this is an ancient civilization. Hawaii was first discovered and settled by Polynesians, probably from Samoa, about 500 A.D. It was rediscovered in 1778 by Capt. James Cook, British explorer. He named the place the Sandwich Islands.

In 1795 a local chief, King Kamehameha I, conquered all the islands and set up a monarchy that endured until 1893 when it was overthrown and replaced by a republic. Between 1800 and 1805, he drove out the Russians when they tried to win a foothold on Kauai.

Until the early 1930s, the mainland was only vaguely aware of Hawaii as the pleasant home of hula dancers and ukulele players. Statehood would improve Hawaii's bargaining position with effective representation in Congress. At present, the lone Hawaiian delegate, Joseph Rider Farrington, can speak on the floor and serve on committees but he cannot vote.

STATEHOOD, it is urged here, would answer the expressed resentment of a majority of Hawaiian voters against taxation without representation. Last year the islands paid about $135,000,000 in Federal taxes. Nine states paid less.

The statehood fight has been led by Farrington and Samuel Wilder King, former delegate to Congress who recently was appointed Territorial Governor by President Eisenhower. They and many others argue that the objections to statehood no longer exist. Hawaii has ceased to be a "foreign" and distant land. It is now only 20 hours away from Washington by plane.

Statehood for Hawaii has been advocated by both national political platforms, by a majority of national newspapers and magazines and, in Hawaii, by both the chamber of commerce and left wing labor groups, by Buddhists, Catholics, the local Republican and Democratic parties and various racial groups.

IN 1940 a plebiscite on the islands showed 2 to 1 support for statehood. The Hawaii Social Research Laboratory reports that a vote today probably would show 80 per cent in favor.

Some descendants of native Hawaiian royalty oppose statehood for frankly sentimental reasons.

Alice Kamokila Campbell, a former Territorial senator who has royal blood, says, "I'm afraid that statehood will bring in outside influences, and outside influences will destroy the old Hawaii."

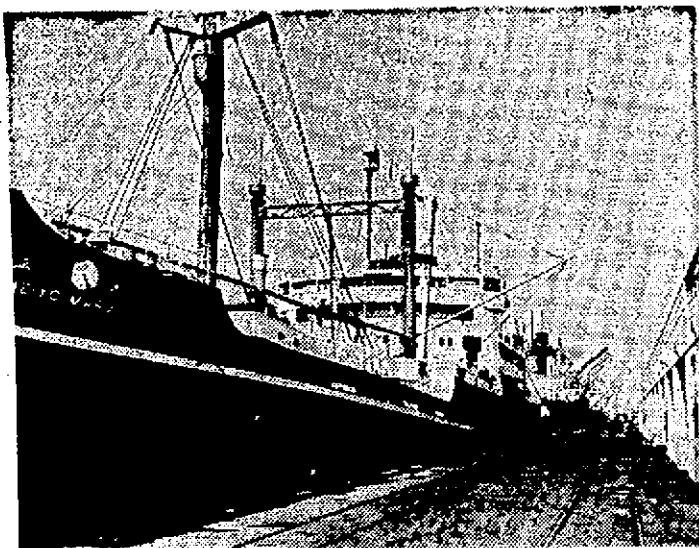

If the Hawaiian monarchy still existed, Mrs. Kapiolani Kawanakoa Field would be queen today. She is the eldest daughter of Prince Kawanakoa, late heir-apparent to the throne.

"If America wanted to do something to restore the monarchy," she says, "that would be all right. But no Hawaiian would do anything to hurt America. We love America too much."

Jitterbug and Charleston may come and go elsewhere, but the hula still is the dance all over Hawaii.

What's meaning of word "Maru" seen on Japanese ships? That question gets some curious answers.

What's in a Name?

By George Eres

YOU GET some curious answers when you start prying around for a meaning of the word "Maru" tacked onto the names of Japanese ships.

Most people have the idea that the word means "ship."

Mrs. Laura Nakanishi of the Long Beach Library staff, for instance, said she always assumed it meant ship although the Japanese word for ship is "fune."

The Japanese-English dictionary defines "maru" as "circle or whole or the name given the different divisions of a castle; also used as a title."

The Japanese consular office in Los Angeles says there's no literal translation for the word and said it's probably similar to the article "the," as in the case of Kokoh Maru (the Kokoh) or Heiyo Maru (the Heiyo). The staff man said the word probably had some historical significance that has been lost.

However, some shipping people seem to connect "maru" with the ancient good luck symbol of the eye, painted on bows of ships or the carved figurehead — a sort of charm that guides the ship out and brings it safely home.

The "maru" appears on all Japanese passenger-cargo ships, Japanese navy vessels do not carry the word.

How Long Beach had June weather in January is shown by this official U.S. weather map. High pressure over Nevada and in San Francisco area acted as bumper to fend off an approaching 'front,' inducing desert air to flow here and give Long Beach 86 degrees weather.

SO YOU want to be your own weather forecaster. Well, go right ahead, mister.

Barring a few holds here and there, your chances for success in this area are rated as fairly good by no less a personage than (until recently) the government's official No. 1 weather prognosticator for this area, that poetry-minded meteorological seer, A. K. Showalter.

Showalter, who was so good Uncle Sam beckoned him to Washington, D. C., for some intricate research, told this writer that weather forecasting in the Long Beach-Los Angeles area was a contest of wits, by gosh and by darn.

Said Showalter: "Two weeks after I arrived in Los Angeles I figured the best thing to do was to throw away the 'book.' Everything I had learned about weather didn't seem to apply to forecasting for Southern California."

Showalter made a quick run down of the items which make weather forecasting in the Southland one of the most important tasks facing the governmental meteorological bureau.

He said a weather forecast here affects more persons than anywhere else in the nation, an assertion which seems strange, at first blush, considering the great mass of population clustered around New York City.

But Showalter maintained his stand in face of this observation, saying the traditionally "good weather" of Southern California has resulted in more outdoor events being staged here than in any other spot in the entire nation.

"SOUTHERN CALIFORNIANS attend hundreds upon hundreds of outdoor festivals, sports carnivals and contests, concerts, picnics, to maintain a few events, during the course of any one year," Showalter said.

"For this reason the importance of any given forecast, as far as the public is concerned, is greater than that in other sections of the nation.

"In the midwest, for example," he continued, "relatively few outdoor activities are scheduled. People just don't expect the weather to be favorable, so they plan for indoor events."

Long Beach is a classic example of the relationship between weather and outdoor activities. Annually the greatest festival of bands in the entire nation is held here.

Billed as a musical salute to Santa Claus, the gala contest attracts scores of bands from all over the state and annually signals the official opening of the Christmas season.

Only twice in the proud history of the event has rain fallen. Considering the vast preparation and travel by participants and the yearly attendance which averages over the quarter-million mark, the part which weather plays in the success of the classic stands out in bold relief.

"WHEN THE EARLY-DAY Chamber of Commerce coined the phrase 'very unusual weather' for Southern California they spoke far more truth than poetry," Showalter said.

"Look at the geography of the region and you will learn much about the barriers against incursions of foul weather," he continued.

Long Beach is an important section of Southern California which is bounded by rugged mountains on the north, east and south. To the west is the vast moat of the Pacific Ocean.

Routes of weather invasion are clear. Either the frontal attack is from the southwest, perennial path of the tropical storms which rage in from the DEEP SEA FISHING, like many other sports, is attracting more and more women each year. In fact, so noted is the increase in women patronage on the public boats operating out of Long Beach Harbor that the landings are entering considerably to their trade.

The gals already are trying their luck as the season gets under way, but their numbers will multiply come June and vacation time.

Only a generation ago a woman on an all day deep sea fishing boat was a virtual oddity. Today the chances are that one out of every eight or nine passengers aboard will be a feminine angler and if the gain continues, landing operators and boat skippers say that within a year or so nearly one-third of their patronage may be women.

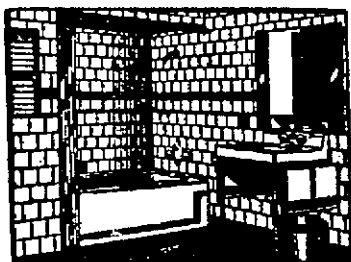

How do the male anglers feel about them?

At first there was griping but more and more the men are finding most of the women are ideal in handling a rod and line. In hookups they quickly learn how to thread their way around a boat to avoid tangles. And, one thing they really have done is to improve the galley service on most of the boats. Hot lunches from immaculate galleys are offered instead of the old lunches of a bologna sandwich and a cup of muddy java.

With the women joining in the ranks of the sportsfishing enthusiasts, a few landings kept back one or two boats for all-male customers but this went by the boards last year. It seemed that many men swung away from the "stag" boats, possibly because their wives had become ardent Waitonian, too.

In the Long Beach area more than 5000 persons now can be accommodated any day on sportsfishing boats. Of that number at least 2500 can be handled on 50 public boats which operate on daily schedules. The others can be taken on charter boats.

lower latitudes, or they come booming over the Tehachapi Mountains to the north. Many times the trailing edge of the front sweeps like a well-ordered end run across Santa Barbara, Ventura and the Bay of Santa Monica to bring moisture to the semiarid soil of the Los Angeles basin.

It is far and away beyond the ken of the average meteorology enthusiast to predict the arrival of a tropical storm. Considering the vast void of the Pacific to the southwest this is readily understandable.

RESIDENTS STILL SPEAK of the hard-hitting storm which lashed Long Beach in September, 1939, breaking a torrid heat wave which sent the mercury zooming to the 109 degree mark. The storm shattered shipping, drove one of Uncle Sam's heavy cruisers against the rock mole of Pler A, sent gigantic combers crashing against the beach and washed the city with a torrential downpour of warm tropical rain.

"The Weather Bureau had watched this storm as it rolled northeastward and had predicted its route to be across Baja California," Showalter said. "When the storm didn't reach Lower California it appeared that it had dissipated. What we couldn't determine at the time, but later realized full well, was that the energy-packed wallop suddenly did a reverse end-run, a sort of a Statue of Liberty play.

"It ducked back out to sea and then gathering a new head of 'steam' came barreling in on Southern California.

Like the proverbial ill wind, this storm clinched the necessity for a full-blown hurricane warning system which today is an important adjunct in the Los Angeles office of the government weather bureau.

About man-in-the-street forecasting of weather, Showalter said:

THE KEY to predicting weather or not weather fronts, loaded with rain and wind, will reach Long Beach and Los Angeles from their Aleutian Islands cradle is a pressure differential.

There are three barometer readings to be considered, he said.

"Check the barometer readings at San Francisco, Reno and Long Beach," he said.

"If the barometer is lower at Reno than at either San Francisco or Long Beach, the chances that the storm will continue southward are very slim. When the weather arrives at the Bay region under these pressure circumstances it will, in all likelihood, do a column left and roar across the Sierra Nevada, stacking layers of snow on the Donner Pass, and will rush on across the Great Basin to attack the sawtoothed mountains of the Wasatch Range.

However, if the pressure tables are turned and there is lower pressure at Long Beach than at Reno, the storm will stay on the "track" and roll on toward Southern California.

So, all you amateur weather forecasters, take courage. When you tell the little woman your predictions weatherwise, relax and take it easy. If you've checked the barometers, you're pretty much in the clear.

One thing for sure — there's no high pressure involved.

NEW! REVOLUTIONARY! Liquid Bleach in safe DRY form!

Replaces liquid bleach for laundry, kitchen, bathroom and farm use. No more clumsy jugs! Light, easy to handle!

It does everything liquid bleach will do—without the mess, the odor, the inconvenience and DANGER of splashy liquid bleaches.

Purex, one of the world's largest manufacturers of liquid bleach, has found the secret of making a heavy-duty laundry bleach in dry, granulated form. It's the biggest development in bleach making in 100 years. There's never been anything like it before!

1—Put water in washer. Your first easy step toward an angel-white, color-bright wash! PUREX DRY BLEACH gets your clothes truly antiseptically clean. You need use only half as much as liquid. Yes, PUREX DRY BLEACH takes less cupboard space, it's light, and easy to lift, measure and handle.

2—Add dry bleach and detergent. In tub or top-opening machine you put sparkling-white PUREX DRY BLEACH right into the water along with your detergent or soap. For front-door automatics—mix dry bleach in quart of hot water before adding to washer. PUREX DRY BLEACH is safer for your clothes.

3—Add clothes last. And when the job is done, you'll take out the loveliest, cleanest-smelling wash ever! Amazing new PUREX DRY BLEACH removes stubborn stains such as mildew, jam, berry and coffee. Remember, PUREX DRY BLEACH will do everything liquid can do—safer, more conveniently.

For deodorizing and disinfecting of sink, bathtub and toilet bowl you've never used anything so heaven-sent as PUREX DRY BLEACH! It's more than bleach—it's a four-way formula for super cleaning. Sprinkle it on lightly, as you would a cleanser. Crystal-dry PUREX "stays put"—foams as it cleans.

New liquid-bleach-in-dry-form is great for disinfecting dairy and hatchery equipment and other cleanup jobs. Added secret ingredient makes PUREX DRY BLEACH a disinfectant plus—a two-listed cleanser, easy and safe to handle. And it puts an end forever to big, clumsy, easy-to-break jugs!

A GAIN it's almost Easter, an especially happy day for each of us. With the deeper meaning of Easter comes the blooming of springtime in our hearts as well as to the land—we feel a new surge of life within us, take on a new enthusiasm; in all, we're ready to take up life again in its own progressive, constructive way.

While the religious significance of the day is uppermost in our minds, our thoughts do turn to Easter bunnies, to new bonnets, fresh white gloves and, of course, a pot of Easter lilies. Please remember, however, that the dinner which graces your table is of equal importance to that Easter parade.

Ham, of course, is the meat selection, for it has been traditional as festive meat since festivals were given to the Goddess of Spring, long, long before our own Christian Easter. So, today, we're devoting these columns to, first of all, baking the ham properly, and then various ways of using that part which will be known as post-Easter, come Monday, April 6.

The recipe of the day comes from Mrs. Jennie Pritchard, 4133 Keever Ave. It is for ham loaf. It will be found elsewhere on this page.

And now . . . to bake the ham and then try the following suggestions for finishing it off:

TO BAKE: Wrap ham loosely in heavy paper or foil and place on rack in an uncovered roasting pan, fat side up. Insert a meat thermometer in center of thickest part of the meat away from the bone. Bake at 325 degrees F. until the internal temperature reaches 150 degrees F. This takes approximately 25 minutes per pound for half ham; 18-20 minutes per pound for a whole ham; 22-25 minutes per pound for a boneless, rolled ham.

TO SCORE: Half an hour before the ham is done, take ham from oven and remove wrapper and rind. Score fat lightly into squares or diamonds. Use kitchen cord fastened with toothpicks as guide lines for scoring.

TO GLAZE: Heat a mixture of one cup brown sugar and ½ cup of corn syrup and spoon over ham, a little at a time. Return to oven and finish baking at the same low temperature of 325 degrees F. Baste with the glaze occasionally.

Ham and Sweet Potato Patties
4 tablespoons margarine
1 cup ground leftover ham
1 cup mashed sweet potatoes
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed

2 teaspoons prepared mustard
½ cup finely crushed corn-flakes

Combine ham, sweet potatoes, brown sugar and mustard. Mix well. Shape into patties. Roll in cornflakes. Pan fry in hot margarine slowly until a gold brown. Yield: 4 large patties.

Broiled Ham With Peach Halves

Use center slices cut ¼-inch thick. If uncooked ham is used, score fat edges of ham and place on broiler set 4 inches under heat. Broil 5-6 minutes to the side. Place peaches on broiler rack around ham for last 4 minutes. Dot peach halves with butter and sprinkle lightly with brown sugar. If leftover ham is used, do not prebroil as indicated above, just proceed with the peach arrangement.

Pan Fried Ham and French Toast

Use ham cut into slices about ½ inch thick. Cut fat edges of ham to prevent curling and pan fry in small amount of fat, 4-5 minutes to a side. Remove to hot platter and make French toast in same pan. To make French toast: Dip slices of day old bread in a mixture of 3 beaten eggs, 3 tablespoons milk, and ¼ teaspoon salt. Fry until golden brown in 4 tablespoons of hot fat. Serve with tart-jelly. Makes 4-6 pieces. If

Ham Rarebit

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1½ cups milk
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

¼ pound American cheese (about 1 cup grated)

1 cup cooked ham, diced

Melt fat, add flour and mustard. Stir in milk, Worcestershire sauce and grated cheese. Heat slowly and stir until smooth. Add ham and cook over a low heat about 4-5 minutes longer. Serve on hot buttered toast triangles.

Kitchen Tip:

Mrs. Pritchard's Kitchen Tip: When baking a cake calling for two eggs if you are short one, substitute a rounded teaspoon of corn starch.

Mrs. Pritchard's Ham-What-Am Loaf

1 pound ham
1 pound pork
1 pound veal
1 cup bread or cracker crumbs

2 eggs
1 cup milk
Pepper to taste

In the Easter Parade

Freshest fashions in the spring are always newest in the Easter Parade. The dress and jacket, close-buttoned or boxy suit, the costume-like dress, paired dress and coat all have a pretty-for-Easter air that holds through the season and, in many instances, is good for the summer, too. A point of difference with many new fashions is fabric, a point in common is the costume look. The slip of a dress that's covered up with a jacket may be in the finest of silks, the sheerest of wools or the most practical of cottons.

Soft as a dress is above Easter suit in lightweight Linton linen-and-wool and in navy-and-white mixture. Suit unites a scroll-button short jacket and slim skirt that's slightly peg-topped; with set-in pockets. Jaunty hat and furs complete the ensemble.

Complete with a vest—A Junior cut-away suit (left) of gray wool flannel has its own Tattersall-checked wool vest. It's for Easter and for the season after. With charmer hat, gloves and handbag—it's extra smart!

Make-believe bolero. Paced to spring's costume look is a one-piece dress of black faille crepe with a simulated jacket (right). Double collar of the fabric and white linen has centered bow of black and white dotted taffeta. The skirt has a center-back pleat. A sable capelet and wispy hat make up an ensemble as pert as pert can be!

ful eyes, told the worriers:

"But this is authentic for the period."

As an aside, she whispered:

"As authentic as we dare be. Renie, the designer who whipped up my lovely Rachel Jackson costumes, showed me some pictures of the real thing. Wow! How those gals exposed themselves in those days!"

She went into a brief scene with her co-star, Charlton Heston, in which they bade their party guests goodbye. All the "guests" were men.

Susan nodded at the observation, commented:

"Sounds like every girl's dream — 18 men and one gal. Actually, it's a sad commentary on the snubbing the wife of the future seventh President of the United States suffered all her life. She was a fine, moral woman, completely devoted to her husband. Yet because Rachel and Andrew Jackson had married in the mistaken belief that her first husband, Lewis Robards, had divorced her, she was ostracized even after her remarriage to Jackson when Robards did get his divorce. The men-folk accepted Rachel for what she was—a victim of rumor—but the women never did. Why is it women are so cruel to other women?"

"Rachel died of a broken heart," while Andrew Jackson became President of the United States.

"No matter how you slice it, it's still a man's world."

SUSAN HAYWARD stopped the self-appointed censors with one sentence on 20th Century-Fox' "The President's Lady" set.

Family Living Built In

An unconventional kitchen, this! Tucked away in a corner of the Baker family room, it is bounded only by counter.

The Andrew Baker family dreamed for a long time of a home out of the ordinary. Now it is real; no longer a dream. Above, a view of intriguing corner of the "family" living room.

Fireside dining in a color
Old English atmosphere

By Eileen Ball

MOST PEOPLE, like Mr. Blandings, have a dream house. And Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Baker were no exception. Four years ago, after considerable planning and much dreaming, they got their ideal out of the realm of make-believe and onto a Garden Grove lot with a real roof on it! And no ordinary house it is, either! For, in addition to having a spacious living room, three bedrooms and four baths, this house at 12872 S. Gilbert St., has an unusual family room where every member of the household "gets into the act" of everyday living.

This room centers the house, dividing the living room and guest bath on one side and the three bedrooms on the other. Windows all along the west side of the room overlook the expanse of lawn that sets the house back from the street. Windows and French doors on the opposite wall open on a screened terrace.

The Bakers' family room is actually a kitchen, dining and leisure area combined. The kitchen section of the expansive 24 by 30-foot room is set apart from the other areas by a birch counter.

Over the kitchen sink is a window pass-through opening to the screened porch where trestle tables and benches invite al fresco dining.

Set in another corner of the family room is a huge random rock fireplace. Ranged around its inviting raised hearth are twin love seats upholstered in sturdy tweed. Mrs. Baker braided gay rugs for this area. An antique rocker provides another comfortable seat by the fire. And the whole cozy grouping is lighted by a lamp made from an old fashioned milk can.

In the corner of the room opposite the fireplace is the family's television set, a provincial console that blends beautifully with the mellow wood of the wall paneling.

BREAKFAST hour is a busy time in the Baker household, and the family finds it time-saving to dine at the handy kitchen bar. Visiting neighbors like to sit on the pull-up stools, too, for mid-morning cups of coffee.

But at dinner time the Bakers gather in the dining area of the family room which boasts a round maple table circled with captain's chairs. A matching hutch displays some of Mrs. Baker's choice pieces of antique china.

A second, more conventional living room is separated from the family room by an entry hall. Both entry and the living room are papered in a soft green provincial print paper.

The living room is carpeted in a green tweed rug flecked with red. The colors are further carried out in twin wing chairs upholstered in a red, green and yellow print. The same fabric trims the full muslin tieback curtains.

THE FIREPLACE in this room is made of used brick. The fireplace accessories, as well as the hardware on flanking built-ins, are all of black wrought iron. For a wood box, Mrs. Baker salvaged an old black iron wash tub. More wash day whimsies are the ancient flat irons that act as book ends on a near-by table.

Beyond the entry hall is the guest bath, a completely whimsical sort of powder room. It features, among other things, a polished birch counter top, a muslin skirt (to hide the efficiency of the drawers beneath) and walls papered in cranberry documentary paper.

On the other side of the Baker house, a hallway papered in a lively chintz pattern leads to the three bedrooms.

The back bedroom is the exclusive territory of the Bakers' two sons, ages 9 and 13. It is a sturdy room where no "hands-off" signs are necessary.

THE MASTER bedroom is carried out in true early American tradition. Walls and ceiling alike are papered in a small briar rose pattern. The bedspread is a white needle-tufted heirloom which overlays a green dust ruffle. The same green fabric is repeated in the ruffles on the unbleached muslin tieback curtains.

The third bedroom and its connecting bath is located on the front of the house.

Hybrid Petunia

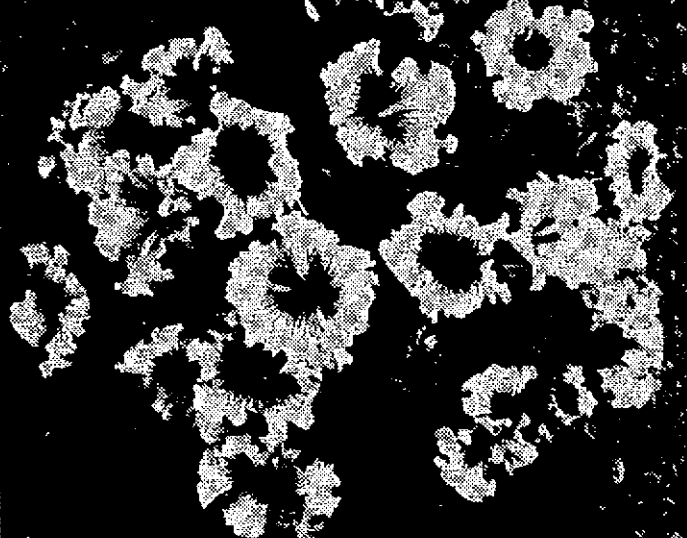

By Walter Finch

PETUNIAS are one of the least-demanding of annuals. Even in the poorest kind of soil, and the hottest possible location, they will grow and bloom freely. And given the encouragement of good soil in a flowerbed, box or pot, they will respond with amazing beauty.

Hybridizers have greatly glamorized the fragrant flowers since the first petunias were discovered nearly 100 years ago in Uruguay. Today, while the chaste single flowers, which resemble small morning glories, are still popular, there are also far fancier types. In some single-flowered varieties the petals are gracefully waved or ruffled, in others they are even frilly. There also are various varieties with magnificent fully double flowers which look somewhat like African marigolds or double hibiscus.

Today's hybrid plants show improvements as striking as those in the flowers. They now range all the way from lusty growers that trail out three feet or so to compact dwarfs, under a foot tall, which still bear huge 4- to 5-inch blooms and are perfect for potting.

Plants of both dwarf and giant varieties, with single, ruffled or fully double blooms, now are generally available in flats according to the Bedding Plant Advisory Board. The colors usually offered are purple, rose, white, salmon, red and blue, with many delightful combinations of these. Because the tiny seeds are hard to handle, flat size plants are especially popular. Set them about 12 inches apart in beds now, or in pots or window boxes; they will bloom in about eight weeks and will continue to provide long-lasting flowers all through the summer.

Today's hybrid petunias ask little of the gardener and are productive of interesting flowers over long periods.

Keep Gardens Blooming

IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA you can garden during every month of the year. In fact, plants will flower in this area almost continuously. By careful selection you can have color and fragrance in your garden from January through December.

You might start with a low growing plant, the lobelia. This is certainly one of our best garden subjects for edging purposes. Lobelias grow rapidly from seed, a characteristic that is true of most annuals. It should be explained that an annual completes its entire life cycle in one growing season. Perennials, on the other hand, are more permanent but also take a longer time to flower.

Perhaps the best lobelia for local growing conditions is a variety named Crystal Palace. The flowers are dark blue accompanied by dark foliage. The plants hug the ground, rarely ever growing taller than four inches. Another interesting lobelia is Cambridge blue which has light blue flowers and green leaves. The plants like lots of moisture.

Marguerites and Shasta daisies flower intermittently throughout the year; frequently a few flowers will adorn the plants even in our coldest months. These plants belong to the chrysanthemum family and are extremely easy to grow.

Usually they are propagated from plants although seed is available of several strains of Shasta daisy. Marguerites and Shasta daisies want a spot out in the sun; they ask for little attention and are relatively pest-free.

One of the most dependable of all our flowering shrubs is the common geranium, botanically identified as pelargonium hortorum. These plants seem to grow like weeds. The worst thing you can do to them is coddle or pamper them. More geraniums succumb to over-watering than any other single obstacle. Geraniums serve a wide variety of uses, performing equally well in pots, for massing, as a ground cover, for bedding purposes and as specimen plants.

THE COREOPSIS is one of the few perennials that will flower the first year from seed. It is without doubt one of the easiest growing cut flowers. The golden-yellow flowers are especially radiant under artificial lighting. They will do a lot to add brilliance to a dark room. In the outdoor garden they must have a spot in the sun. The Double Sunburst is certainly the most spectacular member of this family. The flowers are large, golden yellow in tone and almost entirely double. The Mayfield giant is a single and about three inches across.

The semperflorens in begonia semperflorens indicates that the plant is always in flower. This seems to be true here in Southern California. This is a fibrous-rooted begonia and the flowers are much smaller than those of the tuberous-rooted type. Begonia semperflorens may be grown from seed or by obtaining established transplants at the nursery. Partial shade or full sun will prove ideal. Dark scarlet and pink flowers are available.

The old standby for free-flowing habits is the calendula. Its name, in fact, is derived from a Latin word indicating that the plant flowers during every month of the calendar year. Actually, the calendula is perhaps best known for its ability to bloom during our mild winters but it also performs well during the rest of the year. Orange King and Lemon Queen calendulas are for cutting purposes as well as for the outdoor garden.

Lobelia is a heavy producer of flowers, blooms appearing intermittently through almost the entire life cycle.

Four Books on Flowers

Four important books for flower lovers have just been published by M. Barrows & Co. Most helpful to the average Southland gardener are "Perennials for Every Garden," by Helen Van Pelt Wilson ($3.95), and "Annuals for Every Garden" by Dorothy H. Jenkins ($3) which discuss the site, planting and culture of a multitude of flowers that thrive in this area. Third on the list is "Gloxinias and How to Grow Them" by Peggie Schultz ($2.95). Gloxinias, beautiful and somewhat rare, are grown in pots and this book contains all the "how-to's" for successful culture. All these books are illustrated with photographs, some in full color. Fourth of these books is "Flower Arrangement Workbook" ($2.50) in which Myra J. Brooks gives 12 lessons in home decorating with flowers. Fifty-five photos make the text easier to understand.

Simply scatter BUG-GETA Pellets wherever snails and slugs hide. A few minutes—a few handfuls per week—that's all it takes. BUG-GETA Pellets are economical, too—actually go four times farther than old-fashioned meal-type baits.

Kill Crab Grass this Easy Way! Simply pour ORTHO Crab Grass Killer into your ORTHO Lawn Spreader and wheel it across your lawn according to label directions. It's economical, too. A four pound box treats about 1200 square feet.

Build your home on a SOUND FOUNDATION with BAXCO PRESSURE TREATED LUMBER!

DO YOU KNOW?
your foundation in the average home must support 50,000 pounds

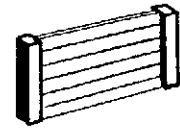

Safeguard

these foundation "WEAK SPOTS" against

TERMITES · WOOD-ROT · EARTHQUAKE DAMAGE

ARE YOUR FENCE POSTS ROTTING OUT?

Then replace them with Baxco Pressure Treated Chemically Preserved Posts

They can be stained or painted and will last for years.

*The added cost is only 3 to 4 Cents (per board foot)

Every year thousands of home owners are faced with huge, sudden repair bills, caused by termites or decay. Working unseen, in the wooden foundation members under the house, these wood-destroyers often go undetected for years. Then damage repairs can run into hundreds of dollars.

BE SAFE—and insist on Baxco Pressure Treated "Chemically Preserved" Foundation Lumber up to and including the first floor joists—it will add less than one half of 1% to your total building cost

GET ALL THE FACTS! FREE!

Write today for your copy of "Friendly Advice," the informative folder that tells you the true facts about termites and decay-damage in California.

Grow Fine Garden Gold

Annual flowers can change your garden scheme each year. This season, try growing this Golden Fleece Cockscomb.

By A. C. MacLeod

THE most wonderful thing about annual flowers is that you can change the "exterior decorating" to your heart's content. Did you have a blue and white garden last year? Then how about a red and yellow one this year? Try a new edging plant here; a new sun-lover there. Have as many cutflowers as you want. Annuals are quick growing, cover a lot of space, are infinitely varied and inexpensive when you plant them from seed.

A very unusual annual is Golden Fleece Plumbed Cockscomb. Not the kind with the red "rooster's comb" but an entirely different type in the "Os-trichfeather" family. Only Golden Fleece is Ostrichfeather with a college education, for its ancestors emigrated from their native Mexico to Oklahoma and then to California, whose plant breeders proceeded to make the flowers kingsize. A big splashy plant for your garden scene, Golden Fleece grows 40 inches high and broad when mature, covered all over with huge golden plumes the size of a man's forearm on 20 to 24-inch cutting stems.

When the weather turns hot this summer, Golden Fleece's Mexican family tree comes to the gardener's rescue. This plant stands any amount of heat, and humidity, too, needs a minimum of care and suffers from no pests. Planted on a side property line, where it gets full sun, and given plenty of deep irrigation water (it likes wet feet), Golden Fleece will thrive.

The seed, though as small as Minute Tapioca, sprouts amazingly fast and from that time on growth is continuous and fast.

Along the "exterior decorating" line, here is a new combination: Golden Fleece in back, a row of the new rosy-carmine Lipstick petunias next, and then a band of the new All American winning Royal Carpet Alyssum as an edging plant.

Both Golden Fleece and Pampas Plume are fine as dried blooms for winter decoration, as well as cutflowers.

Tips on Gardening

GARDENING tips for the week . . . Cymbidium orchids are comparatively easy to grow and can be raised outdoors in a protected spot. A few of the more attractive varieties are Curlew, Lillian Sanders, Hugh Evans and Louis Sanders.

For indoor culture, the Lily-of-the-valley is a most interesting plant to grow. The pips will flower in three weeks. The flowers are small, white, bell-shaped and quite fragrant.

For exotic effects plant the tropical appearing Bird of Paradise. This interesting plant with its gay color tones of blue, orange, red and yellow will prove one of the most exciting subjects in your garden. It likes a sunny spot.

NEW! Giant Canadian Tree Tomato

Grows 6 to 8 feet tall. Heavy producer! Large fruit nearly seed-free. Acclimated to Long Beach area.

BOOK REVIEWS

Through America's Heart

ONE OF THE MOST pleasant trips you'll ever take is "U. S. 40" (Houghton Mifflin, $5), a 3091-mile jaunt by auto from Atlantic City through the heart of America, over the Rockies and High Sierra, and winding up at the junction of

By Fred Taylor Kraft
Independent-Press-Telegram
Book Editor

north-south Highway 101 in San Francisco.

Original in concept, informative with carefully selected background material, profusely illustrated with striking photos by the author, and maps by Erwin Raisz, this handsome book is exactly the expert and entertaining job one would expect from the pen of George R. Stewart who already had come a long way with such fine novels as "Storm" and "Fire."

"U. S. 40" is not a guide-book in the sense that it describes what is seen by following an ordinary road map. Here the motorist escapes from the parkways, is told how highways developed from the "Dark Ages" (beginning of the automobile era), is given traffic counts as he whizzes along, and is made acquainted with place names and just enough historical background and what is seen en route to make him want not to put off pulling into a motel but to keep going, see more, be told more.

Californians may think that the book, starting on the east coast and winding up at the Golden Gate, is written backwards for them. But it really makes no difference. They'll forget that little detail once they leave Atlantic City and head for Baltimore.

Castle Come True

A father's promise to build his small daughter a real castle is made good in "My Mystery Castle," an autobiographical tale by Mary Lou Gulley (Murray & Gee, Culver City, Calif., $3.50). Miss Gulley inherited a fantastic structure near Phoenix and her story deals with the struggle to maintain it, and her refreshing naivete is equalled only by her grit and determination to hold fast to her father's dream. Incidentally, the "castle" got a five-page treatment in Life magazine.

Art Instruction

A new and different approach to art instruction can be said truthfully for "Primer of Drawing for Adults," by Howard Simon (Sterling, $5). Based on visual and emotional responses, this quickened method utilizes principles of the "linear edge" and "characteristic movement" to develop a new freedom in learning to draw that attains the full measure of art as a means of self-expression.

Artist, illustrator and instructor in art at New York University, author Simon knows his field.

Here Is Shanghai

A panorama of Shanghai of the last three decades — from Gracie Gale's house and girls on Kiangse Road to Chiang Kai-shek — comes to life in "Shanghai and Beyond" (Scribner's, $4). The author is Percy Finch, long a reporter and correspondent in China, who instinctively knows what the average reader wants to learn about the Orient and take pains to lay it on the line. Here is a glimpse at life in a nervous city, its people, its intrigue and how communism came this way.

Hans de Meiss-Teffen sailed solo across the Atlantic in a record-breaking 58 days, cruised the Indian Ocean in a square-faced dhow, dove for pearls in the Seychelle Islands, built a jungle hotel and hunted big game in Africa, became a counter-spy for the British during the war, and later parachuted into France to take part in the Resistance. He recounts his fantastic adventures in "Wanderlust" (McGraw-Hill, $4) and they are fascinating reading.

Late Fiction Shelf

Thumbnail reviews of late fiction:

"Stars in the Water," by John Appleby (Coward - McCann, $2.75). A psychological novel which probes the mind of Alan Setan who returns from two years in Africa to find himself unable to re-establish himself. Swift, sure, subtle.

"The Little Emperors," by Alfred Duggan (Coward-McCann, $3). Britain under the Roman heel of the Fifth Century. Intrigue and murder; tedious in spots.

"Mrs. Hulett," by Bertram Bloch (Doubleday, $3.50.) Based on a woman's need to feel herself loved. Good light reading.

"The Tiger in Summer," by Michael Keon (Harper, $3.50). Based on real people and situations, presents Red Chinese as riding a tiger they cannot dismount. Good reading.

"The Buffalo Wallow," by

Charles Tenney Jackson (Bobbs-Merrill, $3). Enchanting picture of the life of two Nebraska boys 70 years ago. Nostalgic, humorous, superb!

"To Follow a Flag," by Will Henry (Random House, $2.75). Historical novel written around outlaw Palouse Indian chief Kamiakin, a trap Kamiakin sets for a small U. S. Army force, the beautiful daughter of a general. Lusty, swift-moving.

"The Golden Season," by Oriana Atkinson (Bobbs-Merrill) $3.50. Catskills are setting for the exciting developments of early 1800s, including western movement and war of 1812. Interestingly told with robust language.

"The Waiters," by William Fisher (World, $3.75). Frustrations, sympathetically told, form background for pattern of events which plague the lives of fictional Negroes. Graft, sex, injustice.

Send Snaps to Your GI

THE THEME of this column is one that is not new, but always important — that of sending pictures to those in service. Many of us at the present time have friends or relatives who are in the armed forces, and we may forget at times what a vital part pictures play in the mail they receive.

As fine as letters are, a story is told so much better when accompanied by pictures. They may not even always be new snapshots. Oftentimes you will find extra prints of pictures you've taken some time ago will be of great interest to the person to whom you're writing.

As we all know, memories fade, even of people and places we love most. Nothing will revive and keep a memory fresh as pictures. Snapshots are also wonderful for keeping those in service up on what is happening at home; send them pictures of new buildings going up in town, a new nephew in the family, the new car, etc. For those in service want pictures, not only for themselves, but to show their friends.

By The Shutterbug

There's a woman I know who takes many such pictures and shares them as widely as possible. When she takes a roll or two of pictures, she mentally reviews her friends and neighbors. If any of them know someone in service who would be interested in some of the shots she's taken, she orders extra prints to send them. Many people have reaped the benefit of her thoughtfulness.

LONG BEACH CAMERA GUILD will have a black and white competition at Municipal Art Center at 8 p. m. Wednesday. Winners in the recent color slide competition were Leila Reichardt, first; Elva Hayward, second; Ilsa Stevens, third; Bruce Mason and Elva Hayward, honorable mention. Judge was Charles Norona.

COMPTON CAMERA CLUB will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday at 1021 E. Compton Blvd., Compton. . . San Pedro Camera Club will meet at 8 p. m. Friday in Anderson Memorial Bldg., Eighth and Mesa Sts., San Pedro.

Pictures of familiar landmarks, of home and friends will keep home fresh in the minds of those in military service.

RECORD ALBUM

Musical Stampede

DANNY KAYE has been packing Broadway's famous Palace since he opened his act there several weeks ago and probably could remain indefinitely, if he didn't have other commitments.

Those who won't get around to seeing this show can get some of the flavor of it in a Decca LP, "Danny at the Palace," containing eight wacky songs.

Teen-agers and some of the oldsters, too, should be delighted with "Woody Herman and the Third Herd," an M-G-M LP. The Herd goes on a musical stampede, with Woody's clarinet hotter than ever.

Capitol has issued two fine Ray Anthony LPs with the teen-age set in mind. One is "Ray Anthony's Campus Rumpus," a collection of dance oldies such as "The Continental" and "Smoke Rings." The other is "Young Man With a Horn," showing off Anthony's trumpet playing.

Perennially popular Jo Stafford gives special treatment to eight songs on a new Columbia LP. "Jo Stafford Sings Broadway's Best," "Night and Day" and "All the Things You Are" high light this fine disk.

CONTINUING in the No. 1 spot on your Long Beach Hit Parade last week was "Til I Waltz Again With You," featuring Teresa Brewer on the vocal. Other popular platters: 2, "Doggie in the Window," Patti Page; 3, "Tell Me You're Mine," The Gaylords; 4, "Pre-tend," Nat King Cole; 5, "I Believe," Frankie Laine; 6, "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes," Perry Como; 7, "Your Cheatin' Heart," Joni James; 8, "Oh Happy Day," Lawrence Welk; 9, "Wild Horses," Perry Como; 10, "Gomennasai," Richard Bowers.

BRILLIANT orchestral recordings are featured this week at the Long Beach Public Library. Among the new records ready for lending are Brahms, "Symphony No. 4 in E Minor" (Toscanini conducting); Grieg, "Norwegian Dances for Orchestra" with Sibelius, "Rakastava" and "Valse Triste" (Litschauer, conducting); Haydn, "Symphony No. 43" and "Symphony No. 50" (Woldike, conducting); Mozart, "Concerto No. 12" and "Concerto No. 21" (Jensen, piano, Woldike conducting), and Shostakovich, "Ballet Suite No. 1" (Gauk conducting) with Prokofiev, "Romeo and Juliet Suite No. 2" (Mravinsky conducting).

The First Drama Quartet in "Don Juan in Hell" still has the most requests at the library. Runners-up are "Lakme," "Il Trovatore," the Morse Code, and French language records.

Identical Stamps

Two new stamps of identical design have been issued by Saudi Arabia. The main design consists of two circles surrounding a three. The circle on the left has crossed sabres beneath the tree. One stamp is red and the other is blue.

Americans are discovering the one wine everybody likes!

Spaghetti served with Vino da Tavola is a new flavor treat. It's wine like you've never tasted. Mellow! Rich! Smooth! An all purpose wine that's a joy to connoisseurs and beginners alike.

Tuna's tastier with Guild Vino da Tavola, too. You get a different taste experience when you serve this pure grape wine. If you feel that ordinary table wines are too sour, try mellow, smooth Vino da Tavola.

With meat? Everything from baked ham to barbecued hot dogs tastes better with Guild Vino da Tavola. Folks who never liked dinner wines before enjoy the brilliance and friendly flavor of this distinctive wine.

Get the best! Bring home Guild Vino da Tavola, the original red checked label wine made only by Wine Growers Guild. It's the one great wine that goes good with all food. One wine with universal taste appeal. So rich and mellow it was judged the finest red table wine at the 1952 California State Fair. Bottled in all sizes.

New FAB WASHES WHITER

WHITER WITHOUT A BLEACH THAN ANY OTHER PRODUCT WITH A BLEACH!

BLEACH IF YOU LIKE! BUT WHETHER YOU DO OR DON'T... FAB WASHES CLOTHES WHITER THAN ANY OTHER PRODUCT WITH A BLEACH!

AND FAB WASHES CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP ON EARTH!

Nothing whitens like Fab! You'll actually find that Fab washes most of your clothes whiter without a bleach -- whiter than any soap, whiter than any washing product known with a bleach in the wash water.

If you add a bleach to Fab for your few stained, extra-soiled clothes, they'll come whiter, too -- far whiter than with any other product and a bleach. For new Fab's exclusive whitening action is not affected by bleach.

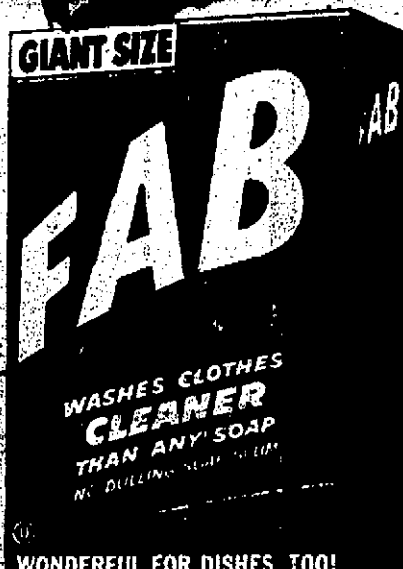

What's more -- Fab outcleans any soap! Washes out dirt; leaves no dulling soap scum. And Fab gives you the sweetest-smelling wash in the world!

SAVE WORK! SAVE HANDS!

Fab immediately loosens dirt and keeps it floating in the wash water. No soaking is needed! No dulling soap scum to rinse out -- even in hardest water. And Fab is wonderfully mild to hands!

CUT DISHWASHING TIME IN HALF!

Fab soaks, dishes, glasses, pans and pans shiny clean! It's a bit of food clings, the dishcloth whisks it off. Just a quick rinse and dishes drain sparkling clean. No hard scouring, no wiping -- with Fab!

WASHABLE COLORS LOOK BRIGHTER, TOO!

FOR THE LAST TIME... WON'T YOU BABY-SIT WITH VERONICA'S COUSIN?

NO! BUT I'LL GIVE YOU A TIP! IF HE ASKS FOR A DRINK OF WATER, DON'T GIVE IT TO HIM!

HMMM! JUST LIKE JUGHEAD SAID....

JUGHEAD JUST DOESN'T HAVE ANY PATIENCE WITH KIDS!

I'LL FIX HIM!

RIGHT THROUGH THE ADHESIVE TAPE!

I THINK THERE'S SOMEONE AT THE FRONT DOOR, COUSIN VERONICA!

GOT HIM A DRINK OF WATER, DIDN'T YOU?

only from the NEW TONI TRIO can you choose the permanent most natural for you--

All hair is divided into three--when it comes to waving. (1) Hard-to-wave hair needs urging. (2) Easy-to-wave hair needs pampering. (3) Normal hair should avoid both extremes. No one lotion can give the most natural wave to all three types. That's why Toni created three custom-made permanents so you can choose the Toni best for you. You'll have soft, deep waves that are in to stay--the natural kind you wish you'd been born with. No first-day frizz with Toni. And Toni's exclusive Permafix neutralizer makes your wave last longer. So choose from the new Toni Trio the one Toni most natural for you.

Your Choice of 3 Toni Home Permanents--one's a "natural" for you

1. Regular Toni for normal hair
The most natural Toni ever for normal hair. And Regular Toni holds a set longer, too! Millions of women prefer it.

2. Super Toni
for hard-to-wave hair
Takes beautifully, and lasts longer on hair that resists ordinary permanents. Ideal for a "curlier" permanent, too.

3. Very Gentle Toni for easy-to-wave hair
Extra mild yet gives a wave that's in to stay. Also for hair that's bleached, tinted or hair with some natural curl.

the new children's permanent by TONI
Whether she's 2 or 12, Toni guarantees that Tonette Home Permanent will give every little girl a wave that "takes" beautifully every time and stays beautiful all the time--or your money back. New simplified process means less work for Mother, less sitting still time for daughter.

It's a wonder! New and different DETERGENT OXYDOL!

Actually
Beats the Sun for getting clothes
white!

HERE'S PROOF:
Now... an Oxydol wash-dried indoors is whiter than any wash dried outdoors in brightest sunshine

It's Procter & Gamble's latest miracle—this great new detergent Oxydol! Contains a new kind of whitening ingredient never before used in a leading soap or detergent!

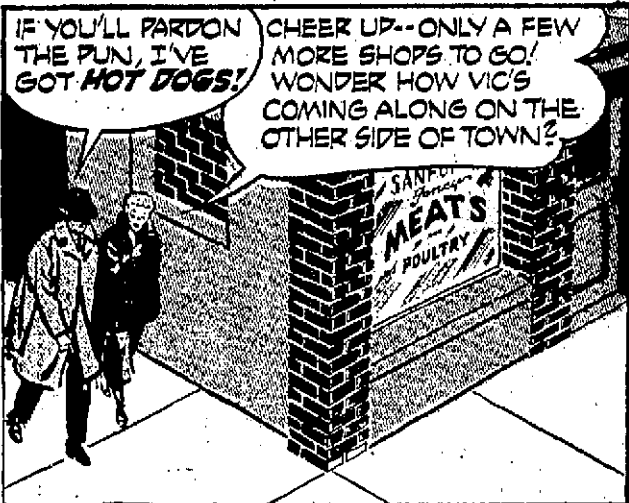

Tests using leading suds prove—an Oxydol wash dried indoors is whiter than any sun-dried wash! So much whiter you can easily see the difference!

Now—rain or shine—you'll always have gloriously fresh, clean, WHITE washes with Oxydol! The freshest, whitest, brightest clothes possible—and wonderful safety for colored washables, too!

WHY WAIT! TRY THIS NEW OXYDOL NEXT WASHDAY—AND SEE!

Great Combination!

Kellogg's
FROSTED FLAKES

Some cereals have won applause
Just for the morning meal;
How different with new Sugar Flakes
They've also snack appeal!

These golden flakes of corn delight
Young after-school stampedeers,
The TV gang sure loves 'em,
The frosting "sends" young feeders.

They're bigger flakes!
They're crisper flakes!
They're Kellogg's Sugar Frosted Flakes!

So Mom, you'd better play it safe
And buy this double treat:
Serve Frosted Flakes for breakfast,
At snacktime, just repeat!

GRRREAT for breakfast! GRRREAT for snacks!
